This page contains a list of names, possibly referencing individuals or organizations. It also contains some text that appears to be part of a newspaper or magazine article, discussing social and administrative matters at a university, along with advertisements, recipes, and notices. The text is not entirely clear due to the formatting and style, which suggests it was meant to be read as part of a larger context, possibly a magazine or newspaper page. The content includes mentions of social events, administrative positions, and educational activities. The text also contains some advertisements, recipes, and notices. The overall context suggests it is part of a larger publication, possibly related to university life.
WILL PRESERVE
DUNE PARK REGION

PROF. HINNICK SEES LOSS TO AMERICA BY POLLUTION OF CYPRUS LANDS

The movement to establish a national park for the preservation of the Sara lands along Lake Michigan in northwestern Illinois, southwestern Indiana, and southwestern Michigan
has the support of Prof. Bohumil Hinlick, head of the department of biololgy at the university.

Professor Hinlick has recently been making a study of the vegetation of the area concerned and knows it well. He describes it as being covered with sand dunes varying in height up to a hundred feet. As the sand shifts with the wind, it is stormed by powerful gales and gradually piles up. Eventually the vegetation is choked, a weakness in holding of the dunes together, and the wind gradually wears the dune away. So those who believe that the vegetation is being destroyed should hold to their belief, and the state of the dunes today shows that the wind shifts. Great trees are sometimes buried and later uncovered as bare trunks.

The movement to establish a national park for the preservation of the Sara lands along Lake Michigan is expected to influence this summer's Farmer's institute at Mount Morris.

Professor Shimek, head of the department of botany, lectured at the Farmer's institute at the club Wednesday evening. He will lecture on Friday before the Women's Club at Great Lakes.

The effects of this movement in southern Illinois and northeastern Indiana, and southwestern Michigan are of interest to the class of 1922.

Professor Shimek gave a luncheon at the club Wednesday noon. The first Wednesday of every month was arranged for the preservation of the Sara lands along Lake Michigan.

With the passing of the management of class functions into the hands of the faculty, all graft and political machine methods were supposed to have been eliminated. Were they? Has some organization instructed you how to vote or are you INDEPENDENT? Why not use your own judgment and vote for the better candidate.

You can't think if you have to think of your pen

But you've got to think of a steel pen. For it's scratch, splutter, blot, thoughts gone and temper lost.

But with a Conklin you write unconscious of your pen, with a point that fits your hand exactly. Fills itself in 4 seconds, can't leak or blot. You can find out for yourself, at your dealer's, $3.50, $5, $7 and up.

ECONOMICS EXPERTS MEET HERE TODAY

INSTRUCTORS IN ECONOMICS AND SOCIOLoGy MEET FOR FIRST ANNUAL CONVOLUTION OF INSTRUCTION

The annual meeting of instructors in economics and sociology will be convened in Iowa City on Friday afternoon and held until late at night. The meeting will be held at the Hotel State, and the faculty of the College of Law will be present. The meeting will be held at 2 p.m. and will continue until 10 p.m.

DISSIDENCE IN ECONOMICS

The meeting will be called to order by President Homer G. Lambert, who will outline the program for the meeting.

At 2 p.m., a discussion will be held on the topic of "The Future of Economics." The discussion will be led by Dr. Edward A. Brown, who will present his views on the subject.

At 3 p.m., a panel discussion will be held on "The Role of Economics in Society." The panel will consist of Dr. Brown, Dr. John H. Hungerford, and Dr. Robert W. McIlwain. The panel will discuss the role of economics in society and the challenges facing the field.

After the panel discussion, there will be a roundtable discussion on "Economic Policy and the Future." The roundtable will be led by Dr. Brown and will include members of the faculty and graduate students.

The meeting will conclude at 5 p.m.

DRAMA

The opera "La Traviata" will be performed by the Iowa Opera Company at 8 p.m. at the Iowa Theatre. The opera will be directed by Professor E. C. Smith and the orchestra will be conducted by Professor J. B. L. Knight.

The opera is set in Paris during the mid-1800s and tells the story of a woman named Violetta, who falls in love with a young man named Alfredo. The story is tragic, and the opera ends with a tragic ending.

The opera will be performed by a cast of 50, including a chorus of 20 and an orchestra of 30.

POLITICAL SCIENCE CLUB IS TWENTY YEARS OLD

The 20th anniversary of the foundation of the Political Science Club will be celebrated on Friday evening, October 9. The club was founded by Professor G. E. C. Smith and has been in existence for 20 years. The club has grown from a small group of students to a large organization with over 100 members.

The club will meet at 7 p.m. in the Iowa Hall of Science. The meeting will be followed by a reception at 8 p.m. at the home of Professor G. E. C. Smith.

The reception will be attended by members of the faculty, students, and friends of the club.

FORD NORTHWESTERN ATHLETIC CONVENTION

A. J. Elliott, western secretary of the executive committee of the T. M. C. A., will be at the hotel on October 8 and 9. He is scheduled for a talk on "The Future of Athletics" at 8 p.m. on October 8 and 9.

The convention will be held at the hotel and will include a series of meetings and a social event.

FOOTBALL MEN SEEK ELIGIBILITY BLANKS

There is no professional sporting event in the city this week, but football fans can seek eligibility blanks at Professor Brownell's office in the law building.

In order to be eligible for the team, men must meet the eligibility rules as set forth by the NCAA. Men who have not taken part in any athletic activity during the current academic year have experienced confusion in obtaining eligibility blanks.

Professor Brownell will be in his office from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m., from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m., and from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. Men who wish to seek eligibility blanks should visit Professor Brownell's office during these hours.

RAIL WHEELS OPERATE

Robert E. E. Fife, 1814 graduate, in electrical engineering, is employed as a special engineer by the Kansas Gas and Electric Company.

The company has its plant at Lone Elk, and Fife is in charge of the operations of the plant.

RAILWAY HIDE FOR PRIZES

"Marmalade of Iowa" will be the subject of a thesis by Dr. Bert H. Spence. The thesis will be presented at the annual meeting of the Iowa Academy of Science on November 15.

Dr. Spence will present his research on the production and uses of marmalade in the state at the meeting.

"Marmalade of Iowa" will be the title of the meeting, and the author will discuss the history and uses of marmalade in the state.

The meeting will be held at the University of Iowa College of Agriculture and will be attended by members of the faculty and students.

FREE MEALS IN KITCHEN

The Iowa State University kitchen will provide free meals to students who are enrolled in the economy course.

The meals will be served from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 4 p.m. to 5 p.m. The meals will include a variety of dishes, and students are encouraged to attend.

The meals are sponsored by the economy course and are intended to provide a nutritious and affordable meal for students.
