IOWA DOWNS PURDUE IN FIRST CONFERENCE GAME

PROFESSOR BOSE AND HINDU POET ARE OLD FRIENDS

SIR RABINDRANATH TAGORE WHO SPEAKS HERE THURSDAY IS WONDERFUL MAN

Native of India, who is studying School Systems of America, is One of Most Popular Men Among People of India.

No one at the University is better qualified to describe the personality and the work of Sir Rabindranath Tagore, the Hindu poet who comes to Iowa City to lecture, Thursday, October 26, than Dr. Sudhindra Bose of the department of political science. Dr. Bose is a native of the same part of India as Tagore. He attended Tagore's famous school at Bolpur, a suburb of Calcutta, and he went to school with Tagore's son. Bengali, the tongue in which Tagore writes, is the native language of Dr. Bose as it is of ninety million inhabitants of Bengal.

"Tagore and Kipling, while both great interpreters of India, differ widely," Dr. Bose said in an interview yesterday. "Kipling says 'East is East, and West is West, and the two shall never meet.' Tagore says 'East is East and West is West, and the two bid it should be otherwise but twain shall meet. Kipling is imperialistic. Tagore believes in humanity above nations, races, and creeds. Tagore is the more popular in India.

Nobel Prize Winner

"In India Tagore was a great man long before he was known to the outside world. Indeed, he was not known outside until he took the Nobel prize in 1913. 'Gitanjali' (Song offering) was his first work to appear in English. It was published by a patriotic Hindu society after Macmillans had refused it. Now Macmillans publishes all of Tagore's works.

"Tagore is now on his second visit to America. He was here in 1912 to study the school systems of this country. He is a great admirer of American methods, and he follows the idea that the people of India must take the best wherever they find it and adapt it to their country. His school has an American standard rather than a British standard. It is blacklisted by the English government.

ENGINEERS PLAN ANNUAL STUNTS

COMMITTEES FOR PARADE AND OTHER ACTIVITIES APPOINTED

At a meeting of the students of the college of applied science Friday night the following committees to be in charge of the various activities of the engineers this year were appointed:

The toe of Elwood Davis (Davie) is a factor that must be considered by Iowa's opponents. He dropped a pretty one over the bars yesterday and was a formidable defensive power.

Parade—William Dong, Louis Tickin, Leo Sharp, and Howard Gore.

Exhibition—Paul McCann, J. E. Jaquis, C. F. Hanf, and Fred Jones.

Dance—Harold Swanson, H. R. Miller, John McLaughlin, and D. Shenk.

Banquet—W. Yager, Fred Sargent, and Fred Brown.

William Weber was elected vice-president because Allen Wallen, who was elected at the annual election is now on the Mexican border. William J. Brush, president of the association is expecting to be called to the front at any time. He is second lieutenant of company "A".

The last part of the meeting was devoted to giving Iowa yells.

William Howard Taft has been made an honorary member of Yale's Republican club.

Secretary of War Baker told Yale students last Friday that "Wilson is a sure winner next month."

Leland Stanford has received $10,000, military equipment for its cadet corps.

Presidential straw vote at New Hampshire stood: Hughes, 222; Wilson, 205.

A. V. Jenkins, (Jenk) quarterback, who executed a sensational 90 yard run through the entire Purdue team for a touchdown. His headwork throughout was commendable.

COMMERCIAL CLUB SECRETARIES END FIRST CONFERENCE

UNANIMOUS PRAISE FOR THE UNIVERSITY AND THE EXTENSION DIVISION

Earl Browning Leads Round Table Discussion in Last Session Yesterday Morning—Attend Purdue Game as Guests of Iowa City Club

A general Round Table discussion led by Earl S. Browning of Iowa City occupied the final session of the convention of Commercial club secretaries in the liberal arts building Saturday morning. Some of the main topics under discussion were those of the work of the extension division in the commercial and industrial survey, led by Charles F. Kurtz of the extension division, and the perpetual inventory system, led by L. S. Benedict.

About fifteen secretaries attended the discussion, some having been forced to leave town before the close of the convention. The majority, however, stayed over for the Iowa-Purdue game in the afternoon, at which they were the guests of the Iowa City Commercial club.

The convention is considered by all to have been a great success. In speaking of it, H. W. Raymond of Chariton, a '16 graduate of the law school, said "The convention has proved a very helpful and valuable institution to all of us. It makes us realize what a really important profession a commercial club secretaryship is. We are hoping to make it a semi-annual affair."

John Wunderlich of Cedar Rapids, known as the 'grandfather' of the convention, said, "I believe it a great opportunity for the secretaries to meet thus at the University to discuss their problems. It is to be hoped that when all return to their homes, they will use their influence to see that the extension department of the University gets proper treatment in the legislature. I have found the opportunities offered by the division, in the way of short courses and speakers to be eminently worth while."

The Harvard faculty has forbidden men to take feminine parts in student dramatics.

Four former Wisconsin students are at present detained in European prison camps. Two were undergraduates last year.

Game Replete with Thrillers—Laun Races for Touchdown After Receiving Forward Pass—Second Iowa Score Results From Fumbled Punt

JONES SAVES TRICK PLAYS

By combining strong offensive play with a defense which withstood the hardest hammering of the Purdue backs, Iowa buried the Indiana Boilermakers yesterday afternoon by a score of 24 to 6, outclassing O'Donnell's men everywhere.

Twice Iowa held Purdue within the 5 yard line and on one other occasion on the 12 yard line. The sole touchdown made by the Old Gold and Black followed a pass from Van Aken to Hake which made 25 yards and resulted from use by Purdue of trick plays from a punt formation. Allen made the score, but the Purdue at-backfield netted only short gains, but Scott shot a forward pass that went into Captain Laun's arms for a 20 yard gain and the Iowa leader dashed the remaining ten for the final Hawkeye marker. Laun grabbed the ball in spectacular fashion out of a whole mass of arms and eluded all pursuit.

Iowa's victory was accomplished without Jones being called on to uncover any of his trick plays, while O'Donnell, who was defeated as a coach for the second time in five years, uncorked some pet stunts in the final period in order that his eleven might score on the Hawkeyes. The Purdue touchdown was made after Iowa had substituted for two line positions and two backfield men.

Both teams resorted to the forward pass only on occasions, but Iowa tried many more than the Boilermakers. The Purdue passes in all but one or two instances were spoiled sorrowfully, while Iowa made three that were good for long gains, the Scott to Laun combination being worked twice successfully. Laun repeatedly outpunted Huffine and the accurate placing of Laun's kicks was an outlandish feature of the game.

While Purdue's touchdown was made by hitting the Hawkeye line rather than by skirting the ends, yet it was noticeable that the gains were all small, although consistent. Cross busk and double passes behind the Boilermaker line made it difficult to tell at what point the attack was to be made. For every time that the Purdue backs hit the Iowa line successfully they were repelled twice, and the fact that the Old Gold held O'Donnell's men back from the goal on all but one occasion indicates the stonewall nature of the Hawkeye defense. The biggest gain by Jones' men were on off-tackle shoots. Davis reeled off some runs of from fifteen to twenty-five yards, while Duncan was a consistent man at carrying the ball.

The Hawkeyes came through the game in good physical shape. Bowles by was the most seriously injured, going out of the fray in the final period with a badly wrenched ankle and knee. He is up and around however and will not be out of the game for long. McKee was hurt but went back into the game and Trainer Jack Watson is authority for the statement

Captain "Chuck" Laun, end, whose well placed boots and the receiving of a forward pass and sprinting for the third touchdown were features of yesterday's game.

Jenkins, the speedy Iowa quarterback, made the thriller of the game when, in the second quarter, he received one of Huffine's punts while standing on his own 15 yard line and eluded the entire Purdue team by running to the west side for a sensational 90 yard sprint for a touchdown. He was closely pursued for the last fifty yards and the race was prettier than many seen on the cinder track. Davis kicked the goal, as he did the goals from the other two Iowa touchdowns.

Both of the other Hawkeye scores possessed a fine element of thrill. Particularly in the third quarter Purdue was clearly outplayed, and early in the period Davis had booted a goal from the 28 yard line after Iowa had worked the ball down the field. Later in the quarter Abrell permitted one of Laun's kicks to get away from him and Becker, who had broken through and gone quickly down the field, was on the job to fall on the ball on the Purdue 16 yard line. Duncan ran around right end on the first play and, although tackled, fell across the goal line between the posts.

At the opening of the final period Iowa was on the offensive on the Purdue 30 yard line. Two tries by the Fred Becker, the shifty, Iowa center who tore through the line numerous times to block a kick or to tackle the runner for no gain. He was greatly outweighed by his opponent.

AN INEVITABLE PEST

It is a regrettable fact that the student body of the University has to suffer from someone who has disguised himself as a student but in reality is as thoroughly a thief as the masked men who have held up the stage coaches in Yellowstone park, and far less honorable.

The story of how a man who came here about the time that the college year opened and succeeded in making himself wealthier to the extent of two hundred and fifty dollars, in round numbers, by pawning himself off as a student and at the expense of a few students and business men who believed him, has come to our ears.

These things are not mentioned with a view of suggesting a remedy. The thieves to whom we refer constitute only an infinitesimal portion of the student body yet they cause a marked inconvenience to the mass.

And it is only right that we consider the matter from the standpoint of the banker who is cashing our checks free of charge whereas bankers in many college towns charge a fee, and the merchant who is taking our checks without question.

might well make complaints often. The students of the University value the accommodations of the banks and stores of Iowa City and are truly sorry that the breaches of trust are sometimes committed against the business men by pseudo students.

DEAN W. C. WILCOX

Mount Pleasant Free Press.—"This writer mourns the death of Dean W. C. Wilcox of the University of Iowa. What little history we have acquired, we feel that we have acquired through his instruction in how to read history. His lectures were a feast; we do not recall a dull one in the entire school year, and we took both United States history and English history under him in the same year."

Mr. G. A. Reeder, 124 East 28th St., New York City.

Dear Mr. Reeder:

I have just returned from a three week's trip along the Mexican border on an errand for the Secretary of War, and I want to take this opportunity to tell you of the high praise which I heard on all sides in regard to the activities of the Young Men's Christian Association. Indeed, I came to the conclusion, after a thorough inspection of the camps, that the Y. M. C. A. is the best organized thing on the whole frontier.

Briefly, I come back enthusiastic about the work you are doing and its almost infinite possibilities, and I cannot resist telling you what a profound influence it is having on the thousands of men crowded along the border.

Very sincerely yours, RAYMOND B. FOSDICK.

The University Y. M. C. A. is a student organization made up of and directed by University of Iowa men. The local organization is a part of the National Student Movement and is affiliated with the World's Student Christian Federation—so that a student who is a member of the local "Y" is also a part of the World brotherhood. The membership card of the Iowa Association is honored by the Associations all over the world.

The activities of the Association are directed by a Cabinet composed of twelve men all of whom must be in good standing in some department of the University. This group of men is chosen by the Association each year. This year, it is made up as follows:
Ray W. Clearman
Ben I. Mather

The Cabinet is aided in the direction of the work by an Advisory Board of twenty men—four of these men are students, the others are members of the Faculty, business men of Iowa City, and Alumni. All matters concerning the finances of the Association are passed upon by both Cabinet and Advisory Board. The members of the Advisory Board are:
President W. A. Jessup, Chairman Ex-Officio.

Professor George F. Kay, President.

- Mr. George E. Grier, Treasurer.
- Mr. Neil C. Adamson, Secretary.

Three Secretaries are employed to help in the direction of the many activities of the Association.

Guy V. Aldrich, the General Secretary is entering upon his third year of service with the Iowa "Y"—he is also beginning the tenth year of his work as an Association Secretary.

George T. Hemmingson was to have had charge of the Community Service program of the Association, but at the request of the Army Department of the Y. M. C. A., he was released by the local Association to go to San Antonio, to help direct the work of the Y. M. C. A. among the soldiers stationed there.

Miss Leib Donaldson is beginning her third year of very effective service as office secretary.

great value to the students of Iowa. At one time the only gymnasium and the only auditorium available for the use of the students of the University were in Close Hall. The famous 1900 football team was trained and quartered in the old "Y" gymnasium.

Recently, the Gym has been opened up to town boys of Iowa City.

The ground floor is occupied by offices of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. The University Student Pastors and a well equipped Reading Room. The Second floor is used by six of the Literary Societies. Three small rooms are available for meetings of Clubs, Committees, etc. The building is open seven days every week, from 7:30 a. m. to 10:30 p. m. It is open to all students of the University, regardless of whether they are members of any of the organizations quartered there.

Membership

The membership of the Association is open to any man who is a student, faculty man or alumnus of the University. Every man in the University who believes in the objective and in the activities of the "Y" is urged to join—there is no membership fee—each man may give whatever he chooses, toward the support of the work. No privileges are sold. The Association is supported almost entirely by voluntary contributions, so every member is expected to contribute as he is able. Last year, 671 men joined the Association. This year, 200 men have already taken out membership.

The Budget of the Association amounted to $5000.00 last year—of this amount the students contributed $1106.00, the Alumni $950, the Faculty, $1000 the business men of Iowa City $1050. The state allows the "Y" $400 for the management of the Employment Bureau and the rooming list for men. The balance of the budget was contributed by friends of the Association. This money was all used for the promotion of the work here. $2850 was paid out in salaries, $1500 for activities of the Association, $550 on the upkeep of the building, the balance was spent for magazines for the reading room and equipment for the office of Y. M. C. A. The last two years, the Association has closed its

Religious Meetings

The religious meeting department has made unusual effort to build up its year schedule so as to fit the desires and needs of a University crowd. No effort has been spared to secure some of the strongest men in the country, to appear from time to time throughout the year. It has arranged for such speakers as Charles W. Gilkey; "Dad" Ellhott; Bishop Henderson of Detroit; L. P. Moore of Chicago; David R. Porter of New York City; Fred R. Rindge Jr., also of New York City; and Dr. Winfield S. Hall of Chicago. These men are, in most cases, writers as well as speakers. They are men who have spent their lives in university circles, and are authorities in their respective fields. Their time will be given entirely to students while they are here. Watch for their coming!

Besides these nationally known men, the Wednesday evening programs at Close Hall, which are held at seven o'clock, bid fair to be of unusual merit and interest. The schedule has already been arranged up until Thanksgiving. These several programs will be led by students, members of the university faculty, and other strong men who are to be in the city this fall. Each program will also furnish special music.

Oct. 25—"The other fellow's sister" Address by Dr. Winfield S. Hall of Chicago. Y. M. C. A. Close Hall. 7:00 p. m.

Nov. 22—"The greater Iowa". Address by Casper Schenk of Des Moines. Y. M. C. A. Close Hall 7:00 p. m.

University Day will be observed this year on November 5th. The pastors of the various churches of the city will speak at their morning services on themes of particular interest to university men and women. At night, a union mass meeting will be held at the Methodist church. Representatives of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. will be in charge and address the meeting.

Practical Service

In addition to the religious activities of the Association, several forms of practical service are carried out by affording an official rooming list, running an Employment bureau, and exchanging second-hand books.

Just before the school year opens, the Y. M. C. A. makes a canvass of the rooms for rent, with full description of each room in regard to heat, light, bath and price, and keeps official list of these rooms ready for the students. This year about 900 men have secured rooms from this list.

In addition to the rooming list, the Y. M. C. A. also runs an Employment bureau, through which the students who are forced to work their way in part or in full, can secure employment. Several students have been supplied with board jobs by waiting tables or washing dishes at the various boarding houses. A large number are working their way by playing in orchestras, clerking in stores, caring for furnaces and doing janitor work. Odd jobs of every description are usually available. About 250 men are working at the present time. Last year, $20,000 was earned by the different students.

The Y. M. C. A. also conducts a second hand book exchange—there being no other place in town where students can buy and sell second-hand books. This work is done not for profit that can be secured from it but for an accommodation to the students. The books are placed on sale by the owner and if sold, the Y. M. C. A. deducts a commission of 10 per cent to cover the cost of operating the exchange.

TWENTY-SEVEN IOWA MEN AT WISCONSIN CONFERENCE

Every year Iowa delegation to the Y. M. C. A. conference at Lake Geneva.

The conference is one of the largest of the year, and is held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. of Geneva.

At Geneva in 1915, 900 men from colleges and universities of the world were present. Iowa men were students of the University of Iowa, and were among the delegates of the middle West. The conference was presided over by Clearman, and Hemmingson, Racker,

The mornings of the conference are given over to Bible study, conference and addresses by men of note from all over the world. Among the speakers this year were Ozora Davis, John Timothy Stone, Dr. Paul Harrison of Arabia, E. C. Carter of India and Bishop Henderson.

The afternoons are taken up with different forms of recreation: tennis, baseball, track swimming, boating, golf and walking. These sports are all organized so that a man can play with a team or by himself. Packer of Ames was the individual star in athletic activities at Geneva last year.

Geneva offers to the student the rare opportunity of a balanced ex-

THE HIGH SCHOOL "Y" CLUB

The "High-Y" is an organization of boys of the local high school and the University high school that is affiliated with the University Y. M. C. A. It was organized six years ago. Some member of the University Y. M. C. A. is usually responsible for its leadership. Last year, it was under the leadership of Prof Kracher; the year before that, Prof. Trowbridge had the club. This year, "Stub" Barron is in charge.

The Club meets every Tuesday night at Close Hall. The meetings are taken up with Bible Study, talks by men of the community and the business of the organization.

Tuesday, Oct. 10th. "Stub" Barron will speak to the Club on "Clean Sportsmanship."

Tuesday, Oct. 17th. Prof. Trowbridge is to speak on "Practical Christianity and every day life."

Wednesday, Oct. 25th. Dr. Winfield S. Hall of Chicago will speak on "The other fellow's sister."

Each year the club sends a representative delegation to the State Older Boys' Conference. The Conference this year is to be held at Marshalltown. The local club is affiliated with the State High School Movement and also the Student Y. M. C. A. of North America.

University Gospel Teams Do Effective Evangelistic Work

The story of the Gospel team work forms a new and interesting chapter in the college life of America. Though a phase of religious work of comparative recent development, it has had a remarkable growth and has been productive of some very important results both in the lives of the students taking part in the work and also in the communities to which the teams have gone. The spread of the Gospel Team movement has been very rapid. Just where the idea originated is not definitely known. Both the Illinois university and Carlton college sent out teams about twenty-five years ago, and it is probable that Yale university sent out deputations many years previous to that time. By the year 1910, Gospel team work had become a recognized part of Y. M. C. A. activities in nearly every college and university in America. Hundreds of teams are now sent out during the Christmas and Spring vacations, and hundreds of communities are visited by earnest young men who believe that there is something vitally worth while in the message which Jesus gave to the world. Iowa a Leader The first gospel teams were organized in Iowa colleges about ten years ago and for a number of years this state has led all the rest in this phase of religious activity. About twenty Iowa colleges have definitely organized Gospel Team work and about forty-five teams are annually sent out from these schools. A state Gospel team training Conference is held each year for the instruction and help of men who are to lead these deputations. Nor does the State University fall behind the other schools of the state in this work. During the last five years the Y. M. C. A. has organized and sent out 21 teams for regular campaigns to say nothing of many groups who have gone out to near-by communities for week-end trips. These teams have, almost without exception, been composed of earnest Christian students who have shown their ability as leaders and speakers.

The names of "Mac" Winter, H. H. Maynard, Howard Preston, Ralph Kahle, Orville Harris, F. M. Barricklow, and L. A. Kennell appear among those who have gone out on teams in the past. Ray Clearman, Ray Wycoff, Victor Diamonon and many others took their share of responsibility in this work last year. Do Unique Work The Gospel teams go out with distinctly evangelistic purposes, but their work is unique in many ways. The men receive absolutely no pay for their time and services, only the railroad fare and entertainment being furnished them. A series of public meetings are held, of which the men take entire charge—leading the music, planning the programs and delivering the addresses. Special attention is given to boys and young men's work. Boys' clubs are often organized, and boys' hikes are always a feature of the work. All the homes of the community are visited in the interests of religion and an opportunity to do personal work is never over-looked. Experience has shown that Gospel team work is a very effective branch of religious effort. The communities visited are usually those which are too small to support a worth-while revival effort of any other type. The various churches in a community are usually united in the Gospel team meetings, and thus a closer relation between the churches is secured. The emphasis placed upon the work with boys and young men, often leads to results almost unattainable through the ordinary religious efforts put forth in a small community. A Moulder of Sentiment And not least of all the good accomplished by the Gospel teams has been the molding of sentiment in favor of the Colleges from which the teams come. It is a fact that in times past, the State University of Iowa has unfortunately been thought of by many people as a "Godless" place to which they would not dare send their boys and girls; and perhaps no one agency has done more to correct this impression than have the Gospel teams which have been sent out during the last ten years.

THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH The services at the First Baptist church this morning at 10:45, and evening at 7:30, will be unique. It is to be an "Autumnal Service." The church is to be decorated in autumn leaves. The sermon for the morning on "The Look of Life," and that in the evening on "Autumn Leaves," are to be given by the pastor, Rev. C. H. Berry. Students of the university are always cordially welcomed.

that the entire squad will be in fighting trim by the first of the week. The soft field made soft lighting, although it interfered at times with the play. The showing made by the team today leads Iowa followers to expect that the Hawkeyes may perform with some degree of success against Minnesota next Saturday. Coach Jones has been pointing the men for the Gophers as much as for Purdue and the fact that Iowa beat Purdue by a greater margin than was generally anticipated is taken to mean that the Old Gold eleven may develop during the coming week into a machine that will show the northern giants a thing or two.

Jenkins, Laun, Duncan, and Davis were the best offensively for the Hawkeyes in the game this afternoon, and Mendenhall likewise showed up well at carrying the ball. Becker was a power on defense. Huffine, Hake, and Van Aken showed up well for Purdue.

PARAGRAPHS ON THE GAME

ET TU PURDUE!

Ralph Jones, one of the Illinois coaching staff, enjoyed the game from the press stand.

Jenkins must have run that 90 yards in something like a 10-second clip. And his pursuer was only a little less fleet footed.

Some band, eh? We like 'em.

Mr. Frank of our respected Minnesota institution was back again yesterday looking for a few pointers. We appreciate your kind and attentive attention, Mr. Frank.

But he didn't get any vast supply of information from yesterday's game regarding the Iowa "dark ones" as Jones wasn't forced to expose any of his trick plays.

Looking at those kids between halves made us all wish that we had spent our juvenile days in the University town. We forecast a brilliant future for the two auburn haired lads that were so conspicuous.

And even the dogs that performed so entertainingly for us when Purdue hovered over our goal line in the last quarter show evidences of having caught the "Iowa Fights" spirit.

Halligan, the old Nebraska star who was seen in action here in 1914, was another scout that gave us his undivided attention yesterday from the press stand. Perhaps you also,

Mr. Halligan, may see fit to pay us another little visit before the Hawkeye-Cornhusker mix at Lincoln.

"On to Gopher-town."

Miss Bessie McClenahan of the extension division returned yesterday from Traer, where she addressed a W. C. T. U. meeting on the subject, "Child Welfare." On October 30 she will address the annual meeting of the Y. W. C. A. at Neenah, Wis., on "Social Welfare in Small Towns."

Prof. A. G. Smith of the mathematics department, who has been confined to his bed for the last ten days, was reported as being no better Saturday morning. The continuation of a severe cold is the cause of his sickness.
