AMAZEMENT GREET'S AMES PROPOSALS TO BECOME UNIVERSITY

NO SYMPATHY HERE FOR IDEA BACKED BY NEWSPAPER AT STATE COLLEGE

Change of "Iowa State" to "Ames" All Right,—But "College" to "University" NEVAIRE While a Hawkeye Can Fight for Constitutional Right.

Iowa students have read with astonishment the story from Ames in Saturday's Des Moines Register telling of the campaign to change the name of the state college to "Ames university."

While the University is embarrassed just as frequently as the state college is by the confusion resulting from the similarity in the names of the sister institutions and would not object to the substitution of the word "Ames" for "Iowa State" in the name of the college, any movement by the Ames students to use the designation "university" would be strongly opposed by Iowa students and alumni.

Reason not Understood

The Ames point of view is not readily understood in Iowa City. Why the students of an institution which has become known as one of the greatest technical and industrial schools in the world should wish to usurp the prerogatives of the university and to take from the name of the Ames institution the words which represent the very things upon which the reputation of the college rests, is not readily understood.

Local opinion does not accept the assertion that the state college is in reality a university. Ames has no college of law, no college of medicine, no college of liberal arts, no college of dentistry, no college of pharmacy, no college of education, while the University has all these, and several minor schools, which go to make up the typical university organization. At Ames there is simply a great technical and industrial college, and that is a distinction quite as great as that of being a university.

Iowa City College Next?

"What will be the next step?" asks one Hawkeye. "Will our Ames friends propose to have the University called Iowa City college?"

The official name of the University is The State University of Iowa, but there has been no movement to change the name to Iowa University or University of Iowa or S. U. I., any one of which is more commonly used. Indeed, Iowa supporters have not even protested against the Ames way of emphasizing "Iowa State" and neglecting "College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts," although that Ames custom is probably largely responsible for the continual mistaken references to the State University as being at Ames.

Greatly Exaggerated

Iowa supporters will not agree either with the Ames view that the state college is "the largest establishment for learning in Iowa." The plant at the University devoted specifically to learning is more extensive and the number of students of collegiate grade at the University is larger.

Alumni associations of the two institutions a year ago started a movement to establish more cordial relations between students and alumni of the two institutions. Iowa supporters have been willing in their response to this program, but they are not likely to remain so—indeed, they are likely to be aroused to determined opposition—if the Ames students continue in a campaign so heed-

CHARLOTTE LUND WILL SING HERE TUESDAY EVENING

NOTED NORWEGIAN SOPRANA IS MAKING FIRST WESTERN TOUR

Appears in Iowa City as the First Number of the Advisory Board Music Course in N. S. Auditorium

Charlotte Lund, who opens the Advisory Board Music Course on Tuesday, is of Norwegian parentage. She is making her first western tour in America. For four years she was a pupil of the famous Jean de Reszke, with whom she prepared for Grand Opera, in which she is said to have been most successful.

In Rome she has sung Martha, Faust, and other operas, and in Germany she has sung in the great Wagner operas of Lohengrin and Tha-hauser, taking the parts of Elsa and Elizabeth, the leading sopranos.

Her Paris debut made in 1908, and it is said to have been one of the most successful ever given there, being attended by many of the famous musicians and notables of the City.

Her appearance in New York last year was mentioned in the Tribune by H. E. Krehbiel, one of the leading music critics of the great city as follows:

"Charlotte Lund, well and favorably known in the concert world, gave a song recital at Aeolian Hall last night before a large and interested audience. Her programme was unusually varied, there being no less than twenty-one composers represented, Miss Lund singing in Italian, Norwegian, German, French and English. Miss Lund's voice is one of great natural purity of timbre; she sings with expression and an admirable sense of style, and she knows how to produce her tones fluently and easily. Miss Lund was, in all, that she did, an artist, which, after all, is rare."

The people of Iowa City, and particularly those of Scandinavian origin, are looking forward with much interest to Madam Lund's appearance here.

It is The University

The constitution of the state established The University at Iowa City, not A university. A reading of the documents of the founders of the state college shows plainly that there was no expectation or intention of its ever becoming a university.

If the Ames students must have a change, why not "Ames college?"

TUFTS SPEAKS HERE TOMORROW EVENING

CHICAGO UNIVERSITY PROFESSOR WILL ADDRESS PHILOSOPHICAL CLUB IN L. A. AUDITORIUM

Professor James H. Tufts, head of the Department of Philosophy in the University of Chicago will give the fourth in a series of six public lectures before the Philosophical Club in the liberal arts assembly room at 7:30 p. m. on Monday, October 30. Special attention is called to the change in date from Tuesday to Monday.

Professor Tufts is the author of a textbook on Ethics, is the editor of the International Journal of Ethics and is a prominent ethical and social worker in Chicago. He has been instrumental in securing many legal reforms and wrote a law recently passed by the Illinois legislature. The title of the lecture is "Imagination and Feeling," which will not be highly technical and will interest any one who is concerned with practical aesthetics. The public is cordially invited.

The Philosophical Club is bringing some notable outside speakers this year whose addresses will be of particular interest to any one interested in the beautifying of the University and the city. The lectures are free to the public.

MICHAEL ANGELO'S WORK IS DISCUSSED BY WELLER

"An ugly short man with a short nose—he was one of the world's giants."

So spoke Professor C. H. Weller of Michael Angelo in his regular Saturday morning lecture on art, in room 105, liberal arts building yesterday morning.

With this introduction to Michael Angelo he divided this sculpturer's work into three periods for discussion. Several of the most magnificent works of sculpture can be attributed to him, Mr. Weller pointed out, and all of his work shows a supreme mastery of anatomy,—especially is this true in his "Battle of the Centaurs." He was the first since the Greeks to thoroughly master this subject.

Of all his masterpieces hardly a single one is a finished product. In fact, a great deal more of his work was never completed. This, Professor Weller stated, was not due to a lack of persistency on Michael Angelo's part, but rather to a dissatisfaction in the product.

BOARD OF DEANS SO DECIDES IN MEETING YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

Consent of Dean of College Must, However, be Obtained—Liberal Arts Students Will Make Application to Robert E. Rienow.

At a meeting of the Board of Deans held yesterday afternoon a motion was passed which will make it possible for all voters in the University who have not yet registered to go home to register without a loss of credit. Their motion was as follows:

"Students who are qualified to vote by mail will be expected to do so. All students who need to go home to register, in order to qualify for voting, will be excused for such time as is necessary for that purpose; provided that permission be given by the dean of the college concerned."

Inasmuch as there is now no dean of the college of liberal arts, it was decided that students in that college should make application to Mr. Robert E. Rienow, adviser of men.

CIVILS ACCEPT DEFEAT AT HANDS OF ELECTRICS

In a hotly contested game on Iowa field yesterday morning the civil engineers were laid low by the electrics to the tune of 21 to 0. The first half resulted in a scoreless tie although the electrics appeared to have the advantage most of the time.

With the opening of the second half the game became one-sided, the electrics having the advantage, and before the final whistle had blown they had piled up three touchdowns with a successful goal kick each time.

HAWKEYES FIGHT HARD BUT ARE UNABLE TO STAND SEVERE BATTERING

CAPTAIN LAUN IS HURT

COACH JONES GIVES SECOND STRING CHANCE IN GAME IN LAST QUARTER

BECKER DEFENSIVE STAR

Forward Passes Make Big Gains for Minnesota and Iowa Line Yields Many Yards—Hawkeyes Outweighed but Fight Hard

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 28.—(Special to the Daily Iowan)—The old story of the Iowa eleven fighting to the last ditch against Minnesota but losing by an overwhelming score was re-enacted on Northrup field this afternoon in about the same fashion as it has been played beneath Gopher skies for the last five years or more, with the single exception that this season Iowa failed to score on the Swedes. The final score was 67 to 0 in favor of Minnesota.

From the first the play was a Minnesota march to triumph. It was a rare thing for the Gophers to fail to make their downs and Iowa was successful in going the distance just about as many times, or one or two less, as Minnesota failed. It was disheartening, it was discouraging, it was humiliating, but it happened. The Hawkeyes now look forward to two weeks of preparation for Northwestern.

From the Iowa standpoint the game was featured in about three ways. Captain Laun went out of the contest in the third quarter with injuries. His wounds are mere aggravations of former troubles, and he will be back in some sort of shape within a few days. The work of Becker at center was phenomenal when the Hawkeyes were on the defensive, and if there was one point at which the Gophers were turned back with any success it was on attempted smashes through his position. When the game had been lost beyond recovery, Coach Jones turned almost his entire second string into the contest, and practically every man who went north on the squad was given a chance to get into action. The second string, furthermore, was just about as successful as the first in holding up the progress of the Williams combination.

Kriz started the game for Iowa at right tackle in place of Bowlesby, but Bowlesby got in for a good part of the time. In the end, Hunzelman was playing the position. At the close of the game the team was well juggled. Reed, who had taken Laun's place, gave way to Hammond, who was switched from halfback, and Glatts went in at half.

Frequent penalties for holding were levied against Minnesota, but these delayed the forward progress of the Gophers only momentarily. Sprechka and Wyman made great gains through the Iowans almost at will.

Forward passes played a big role in the play of the Gophers, and these flips were frequently made for big gains. The second touchdown was made from the Iowa 35 yard line on a pass to Baston. At other times passes were worked for many yards of territory.

Details of the game are only painful. They read something like this, as in the play for the fifth Gopher touchdown at the end of the second quarter: "Minnesota returns Iowa kickoff 16 yards to their own 41 yard

A SECOND UNIVERSITY

The Ames college paper, the Iowa State Student, according to a special in today's Des Moines Register, is out in an editorial favoring a movement to ask the legislature to change the name of the "Iowa State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts" to "Ames University," the argument advanced being that the college is no longer devoted principally to agriculture and mechanic arts, but is a real university and should be designated as such.

The editors of the Student will probably be taken out into the wood shed and soundly spanked by the administration at Ames, which has devoted considerable energy in the past to convincing the legislature that the accusation is not true that it is breaking out of its legitimate field and into the field of the state university, which by the constitution of Iowa is forever established at Iowa City without branches in other places in the state.

The people of Iowa do not want two universities and they do want their two big schools to develop each in its proper field.—Iowa City Citizen.

"WHAT MEN LIVE BY."

"Let it be understood at once that Christianity has counterfeits. That fact helps greatly in believing it. Could it have a greater compliment than a counterfeit? The counterfeit emphasizes the value of the real. Nobody ever tried to counterfeit a piece of common brown wrapping-paper. It is the finely engraved government bill or bank bill that is counterfeited. And let the other fact, the sad fact, be put down too, that Christianity must not be judged by some of its followers, indeed by many of its followers. It must indeed be judged by its influence upon men's lives. And from that test it has no reason to shrink, for the most enlightened nations, the strongest nations, are those that have been under Christian influence."

WHY THE THOMAS HARDWARE STORE IS SO POPULAR

The Thomas Hardware store is a most popular place for students and professors of the University. The curiosity of the writer was aroused so he investigated and found some interesting things about this place of business.

The Thomas Hardware store has recently moved to their new location on Dubuque street just across the street south from the Y. M. C. A. and only one block from the University. Their old location was on East Washington street which was not so convenient in many ways as their new place of business.

It was with considerable that that Mr. Thomas decided to move to the new location on Dubuque street as he had been in business for 36 years in the old place. But the students and faculty customers have moved with the business so instead of there being a falling off of trade it has even increased.

The proprietor and clerks of the Thomas store are most pleasant to meet and their jolly way has won and kept many customers.

If the young ladies and women of the University have a need in any line of knives, cutlery, shears or scissors they should take a look at Thomas' stock for it is the most complete line of its kind in the city.

For the men of the University Thomas can supply you with every kind of safety razor blade that is made. A special man to sharpen razors who is an expert in the line can be found at this popular store. If you are considering a hunting trip remember that Thomas has everything in coats, guns, ammunition and decoys—everything but the game.

DON'T FORGET TO CALL ON THOMAS when in trouble for he can supply your needs in the way he has which makes you feel good after you leave the store. Adv.

OVER MILLION AND A HALF MEN AND BOYS NOW PRISONERS IN EUROPEAN CAMPS

Other Universities Have Already Subscribed Large Sums to This Fund—Can Iowa Raise $5,000?

Interesting information concerning conditions in the prison camps in Europe on both sides has reached the University with announcements of the project to raise $150,000 among American students for relief work.

Over five and a half million men and boys are war prisoners. Among them are some of the most brilliant men in Europe. Thousands are students or faculty men who enlisted in their respective nations. Some of them have been in prison two years.

The nations are doing their best to take care of the prisoners, but they come last in importance, after the army and the civilian population.

Deplorable Conditions

Prisoners live in camps containing from 5,000 to 72,000. These are heavily guarded by men and machine guns. The men are housed in low wooden sheds, which are often without heat, even in coldest winter.

Many of the men have received no new clothing or bedding in two years. Their utensils consist of a bowl and a spoon, and the bowl must often serve as receptacle for food and a utensil for washing clothes.

The Daily Menu

An average day's meal in a prison camp is: breakfast, hardtack, coffee or carrot water; dinner, a piece of bread and bean or potato soup; supper, a piece of bread and grease soup.

The prisoners sleep in huts accommodating 100 to 2,000 men. Each man has a space 2 1-2 feet by 8 feet.

The Good Samaritans

With the approval of the governments Y. M. C. A. workers go into huts, provide accommodations for letter-writing, meetings, and religious services, organize orchestras and bands to divert the men and keep them from going insane, send word to the prisoners' homes. Frequently by organization of the men in the camp they are able to perform valuable services. For example, by outfitting an imprisoned physician they provide medical service for men, or by furnishing tools to a dentist they enable him to be of service to his comrades.

What will American students do for the students and their comrades in the prison camps of warring Europe?

This is the question that is being brought strongly to the attention of the student bodies of many American universities and college and will soon be put to Iowa students.

Through the Y. M. C. A. at the various institutions the relief workers plan to raise a fund of at least $150,000 for help of men in 100 prison camps in Siberia, Russia, Germany, Austria, England, France, and Italy.

The warring countries themselves will furnish a much greater amount of money for this work. American students are being called on for two reasons: first, because the warring countries cannot furnish enough money to accomplish all the relief work necessary, and, second, because the leaders in the work feel that American students need the spiritual benefit which they can derive from entering into "fellowship with the sufferings and sorrows" of their European brothers.

Uses of Fund

Some conception of conditions in the prison camps can be gained from the statement of the uses to which the fund is put. Nearly all the ordinary comforts of life are needed for war prisoners. An announcement of the project lists five general uses for the money. They are:

Relief—Food, especially food for the sick, like beef extract, condensed milk, crackers, and so on, individual food and comfort parcels, medicines, overcoats, extra blankets, and underclothes.

Special buildings or "huts" and the equipment of rooms in barracks for association purposes.

Supplies—Crutches, false teeth, medical supplies, stationery, insect powder, footballs, baseball material, indoor games for boys, general athletic material, musical instruments, music.

Text books and educational supplies, libraries, and New Testaments. Secretaries' salaries, travelling expenses, etc.

At Other Schools

The movement to raise this fund is taking hold at other institutions. Dartmouth raised $6,000, Connecticut Wesleyan raised $5,000, Lawrence college $1,100, Beloit college $825, Ripon $600. At Minnesota university the campaign has just started, and $1500 was raised the first day.

Guy V. Aldrich, secretary of the local Y. M. C. A. believes that Iowa can contribute $5,000 to the fund

SCHOOLMEN TO MEET AT IOWA UNIVERSITY
Third Conference on Supervision, Set For Dec. 7 to 9, Significant

The third annual conference on supervision will be held at the University of Iowa December 7, 8 and 9.

Superintendents, principals and schools of Iowa will attend the conference to hear and to take part in discussions of the problems of school management. Board members also will be invited. Several attended the conference last year and found it so profitable that they are encouraging others to come. They will receive special consideration when the program is arranged.

Three of the biggest men in educational circles in the United States have already been secured as speakers for the conference. They are Leonard P. Areys of the Russell Sage Foundation, George D. Strayer of the teachers college of Columbia university and William C. Bagley, director of the school of education at the University of Illinois. President Jessup of the University, himself a nationally-known expert, has worked with these men and is certain that they will contribute valuable information to the Iowa schoolmen.

Last year the second conference drew an attendance of more than 300. Des Moines alone sent 50. Many school boards paid the expenses of the school officers to the meeting.

The outlook for this year's conference is decidedly good. Letters are pouring in asking about it, and reservations are already being made in the hotels. Inasmuch as last year's meeting was widely commented upon as the most significant meeting of educators in the United States interest from far outside the state's border is focused on the forthcoming event.

TWO EARLY BASKETBALL GAMES FOR UNIVERSITY

The Iowa university basketball team will play two games before the Christmas vacation this year. One will be with Lombard college of Galesburg, Ill., on December 19 and the other with State Teachers college on December 13.

Games have never been scheduled before for dates before the holiday recess. The custom was broken this year to give the team practice before the Chicago game on January 6.

As a star away from any programme and shining all alone, Mary Pickford is to be seen at the Garden in the new picture "Less Than the Dust," which will be viewed with additional interest because of the fact that it is the first production made by the famous and loved "Our Mary" since she took the head of her own company, the Mary Pickford Film Corporation. Written by Hector Turnbull and with the fine direction of John Emerson there has been provided for Mary Pickford in this new picture a production that is the real attainment of the best work and art of the best brains in this wonderful art industry.

It is by far the largest production in which Miss Pickford has ever appeared and it has been made under her guidance and ever present influence in the perfection of every detail.

Why Pyrolite Does Not Clinker

Strictly speaking, no coal clinkers. Formation of this pest of the householder depends on the nature and quantity of the ash and the temperature to which the fire is raised. Clinker is melted ashes.

Now ash is simply the incombustible content of the coal and consists largely of the silica in the vegetable matter of which the coal is composed, together with various lime and magnesia salts and the slate and other impurities within the laminations of the mine. If these incombustible elements consisted only of silica, there would be small danger of clinkers, for few furnaces reach a temperature sufficient to fuse this substance. The presence of lime and magnesia lowers the fusing point below the temperature of ordinary furnaces. Sulphur lowers it still more. When the ash melts, or fuses, a slag or clinker is formed which attaches to the grate and shuts off the draft.

Pyrolite is very low in ash, it is cleaned of slate and dirt, and contains an unusually small amount of lime and sulphur. Consequently the temperature at which its ash will fuse is not ordinarily reached in heating furnaces. Its residue is white and fluffy, like that of wood. These facts, together with its characteristic long flame (due to the high percentage of volatile matter), make Pyrolite an ideal furnace coal. This is why we make it our leader. Of course, we have many other varieties.

WANT TO BE HUSKEY? READ AND HEED THIS!

Pickles, Pie, Cheese, Tea, Coffee, —Hence! You we must touch not, taste not, handle not. BOYS and GIRLS of the University, clean up, sleep ten hours out of every twenty-four, study hard, brush your teeth, Er the T. B. 'll git you Ef you don't watch out!

These are some of the morals left behind by the Iowa Mothers Congress and Parent-Teacher Asociation which was in session at the University last week. Follow them and you will grow into vigorous young manhood and womanhood.

Their program of daily life is simple but it cannot be carried out single-handed,—it requires cooperation. "Get up happy!" (This should suggest to professors that exams should be no more.)

"Take a good wash!" Ask your roommate if the back of your neck looks clean!

"Brush your teeth!" Use someone else's paste,—it's economical!

For breakfast confine yourself to highly advertised brain foods! "After eating walk slowly to your class!" The professor, realizing that violent exercise is disastrous after heavy meals of cereals, will not mind if you are late.

Pick out a seat by a window where there is plenty of fresh air and an exciting view.

"Study hard!" Get your lesson for the next class instead of taking notes on the lecture that is being given! Great concentration is required in this way for you must train yourself to disregard the annoying voice of the professor who is attempting to distract your attention from your work.

"Play hard during recess." The piano will seem to be more in tune when struck with force.

The foregoing is the program for the morning. With this as a basis it will be very simple for every BOY and GIRL in the University to work out a desirable schedule or routine for the rest of the day. Or if you are unable to accomplish this you may consult the little red and black (Grinnell's colors) posters from which the fundamentals for the morning schedule outlined in this story were obtained. (No excuse has been offered for the color scheme on these posters.)

Naomi Albright will be unable to finish her course in the University this semester. Her mother arrived Friday to accompany her to Rochester, Minn., where she will undergo an operation for appendicitis. She expects to return the second semester.

"AMONG THE MANY OPPORTUNITIES TO HELP MEN IN THE MIDST OF LONELINESS, PRIVATION, AND GREAT NEED THERE IS NONE WHICH PRESENTS A STRONGER APPEAL THAN THAT OF THE MORE THAN FIVE MILLION OF MEN AND BOYS IN THE PRISONER-OF-WAR CAMPS TO BE FOUND IN ALL THE NATIONS AT WAR.

ONE OF THE MOST SIGNIFICANT AND HOPEFUL FACTS IS THE INTEREST MANIFESTED BY STUDENTS AND FACULTY MEMBERS OF AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES IN THIS UNDERTAKING TO HELP THE MULTITUDES OF MILITARY PRISONERS. MANY HAVE OVERLOOKED THE HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF STUDENTS AND GRADUATES IN THE PRISONER-OF-WAR CAMPS. AS ANOTHER COLD SEASON DRAWS NEAR, WITH ITS INEVITABLE INCREASE OF DESTITUTION AND DESPERATE NEED, IT IS URGENTLY IMPORTANT THAT THIS SPECIAL EFFORT BE CARRIED FORWARD NOT ONLY ON A LARGER SCALE BUT ALSO IN A SPIRIT OF REAL SACRIFICE."

PROFESSORS UNITE IN RECOMMENDING FREEHAND DRAWING

DECLARE IT WOULD BE USEFUL IN MEDICINE, DENTISTRY AND NATURAL SCIENCE

Work in Art Department Would Result in More Graphic Drawings—
Prentiss, Breen and Nutting Give Out Views

"Pre-medic, dental, and natural science students should be permitted and encouraged to include in their freshman work a course in freehand drawing, and should be given credit for it," Professor C. A. Cumming, head of the department of graphic arts, declared in an interview Wednesday.

"The course now offered by the graphic arts department could hardly be improved on for the needs of these students. They already do drawing, and this would help them to make their drawings more forceful and truthful.

Accuracy First

"There is an idea in the minds of some people that the drawing we teach is to enable the student to produce broad artistic effects in light and shade, but in fact our study is for accuracy in detailed representation of form. Broad artistic effects are after considerations."

Prentiss Favorable

Dr. H. J. Prentiss, head of the department of anatomy, in commenting on Professor Cumming's statements, said:

As far back as the time when George E. Mac Lean was president of the University I have strongly recommended that training in freehand drawing should be required in pre-medic work. Not only students but also general practitioners are constantly required to make drawings, and these could be easier and better made if they had some training in this work. Of course, we do not have time or means to teach drawing here in the anatomy department, but it is none the less necessary."

Needed in Dentistry

Dr. Frank T. Breen, dean of the college of dentistry, is of the same opinion. He said:

"I heartily agree with Mr. Cumming. This work would greatly help the work in dentistry, and we would like to include it in our four year course if possible. Indeed, there is considerable of art in dentistry. A dentist that understands something of light and shade, color, and form is much better than one who is a mere machanic."

Professor Charles C. Nutting, head of the department of zoology, declares that freehand drawing, rightly taught, would be a great aid to the students in zoology.

Cumming Wants Opinion

Professor Cumming is anxious to know whether or not the students in these other departments would like to have work in drawing open to them, and says that he would be pleased to have any of them call at the art department in the physics building and make their views known.

PENNINGROTH WRITES OF PRISON CAMPS

Secretary Guy V Aldrich has received what remained of a letter from Louis Penningroth, Iowa graduate, now in relief work in the prison camps of Austria. Mr. Penningroth tells how the Y. workers are supervising instruction of the prisoners in subjects varying from modern languages to agriculture. He comments that musical instruments are badly needed, as are also books.

How Scotch tweeds got their name

THE tweed is said to have received its name as a result of an error in attempting to read the handwriting of an old Scotchman.

He had some particularly desirable woolen yarns and he wove them into a twilled fabric in a new way. Then he wrote, in his Scotch dialect, to his London distributor that he was sending a new "tweel." In reading the letter, the sales agent mistook this word for "tweed" and advertised the goods extensively as something new. It immediately took the public fancy, so the name "Scotch tweeds" became established.

The first of the third quarter looked about the same: "Mendenhall receives kickoff and fumbles, but recovers and returns to Iowa 20 yard line. Iowa is forced to kick and Iowa 47 yard line. Time out for Iowa. Kriz is playing in place of Bowlesby. Kriz is hurt and Hunzelman goes in. Minnesota fumbles, recovers and goes through Davis for 5, but is penalized 5. Iowa intercepts a Minnesota pass, but fumbles the ball on the same play and Minnesota recovers, being downed on the Iowa 49 yard line. Minnesota goes around Iowa left end for 32 yards and Sprekka goes over for a touchdown through the line in two tries. Goal is missed. Score Minnesota 41, Iowa 0."

But why extend or expand? Minnesota licked Iowa 67 to 0. The lineups:

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE CAUGHT ON WIRELESS

“President Wilson says, ‘I neither seek the favor nor fear the displeasure of that small alien element amongst us which puts loyalty to a foreign power before loyalty to the United States.’”

Such was the message which was sent all over the United States Friday night in wireless relays.

The University operator received the message just after 10 o'clock, and sent it on at 10:05. To give the amateurs practice in receiving, each sender made one mistake. As it went from here, the word States was spelled statee.

The Illinois Watch Co. at Springfield was the next station to send the message on, and others were heard later on. Waterloo was heard about 11:15.

Melville A. Smith, third year law, went to Minneapolis to attend the Iowa-Minnesota game as the representative of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

H. F. Mottet, a graduate of the university last year who is now publisher of the Van Horn Record, is in Iowa City for a visit over the week end.

Ray Cerney accompanied the football team to Minneapolis as the representative of the senior law class.

Robert L. Getty, second year law, is spending the week at his home in Burlington in political activity.

COUNTRY CLUB PARTY ON MONDAY EVENING

The Iowa City Country club will hold its annual Halowe'en party tomorrow evening. Dinner will be served at 6:30, after which there will be dancing. Members may bring guests to this, the last party of the year. Orders must be in by 9 a. m. Monday.

THREATENS SHIMEK'S WALKING REPUTATION

D. M. Brumfiel, instructor in animal biology, threatens Professor Shimek's reputation as “walker of the University.”

In the field trips made last week Mr. Brumfiel dragged his classes through miles of rough woodland and muddy creeks. Long before they reached their destination the members of the classes were completely exhausted but Mr. Brumfiel, far ahead was as fresh as when he started.

PHI PSI HOUSE NOW NEARING COMPLETION

The new Phi Psi house is rapidly nearing completion. The brick-work is already finished, and the carpenter work on the gabled roof is now occupying the attention of the workmen. The colonial pillars which are to grace the front porch have not yet been set in place because of a delayed shipment of some of the material. Connections have been made with the city sewage and water systems, and the interior plumbing work is now underway.

From the tip of the gabled roof to the ground below is a drop of sixty-five feet, and this height, together with the height afforded by the natural slope of the bluff, makes a magnificent view for miles along the river valley.

Edward Keck, a student in the University last year who received his B. A. degree at the close of summer school, is taking law this year at Georgetown University.

Esther Hauck's mother is visiting with her at the Alpha Chi Omega house this week end. On her way here she attended the Eastern Star convention at Cedar Rapids.

Will party who took wrong shoe by mistake at Varsity last night return same to 410 S. Clinton street?

“REMEMBER WAR VICTIMS”

“We have heard much, but none too much, of the moral equivalent of war.” Let it be found and manifested in our colleges, as never before in all their life, in that the students and teachers of our day shall forget themselves and deny themselves in an heroic, sacrificial, co-operative effort to bring succor to the students of Europe and their comrades in this time of their greatest need.—John R. Mott.
