A FRIEND IN NEED

There is no one who needs your help and your sympathy more in these times than the student body. When you have a chance to do good, do it. The student who does not do it is probably not sure of himself. He does not like what he does, but he just doesn’t seem to fit in with the good times we have.

The truth is that a college does not fit in with the good times, but the student who does not fit in with the good times is not college material.

At Iowa City there are colleges of liberal arts, law, medicine, dentistry, pharmacy and education. All these are the only true universities in the state. Others, if only they were, are colleges—Drake,_Box.

"Prove Work at Night!"—advises the President. And the legs are up.

"Let’s do the best we can with the few things we have.

IOWA ALUMNI ISSUED TUESDAY

DEAN WHEELER EXCUSED BY BOTH—ACADEMIC PROBLEM CONSIDERED

An appreciation of Dean William Craig Wheeler written by W. R. Boyd of the state board of education, opens the November number of the Iowa Alumni Annual Register. Mr. Boyd's article is preceded by a full reproduction of a picture of Dean Wheeler which forms the frontispiece of the magazine.

In his appreciation, Mr. Boyd pictures the former dean as a man who "is alive with life and replete with the world,...sought always to help to build up; never to hinder or depress..."

Other features of the issue are an account of the University's classes of Iowa day, with a reproduction of John O'Connor's speech on "The Writer's Iowa," and a letter to W. R. Wright urging him almost support of the association on the devoted field missionaries, of the new graduate schools and former students and of the Alumni Lumber. The Alumni also carries a story reproduced from the Des Moines Register relative to the growth of Iowa City since the closing of the university. It announces, also, that the time limit of the University song contest has been extended to February 1, 1917.

VARYING PROGRAM AT SIGMA XI MEETING

The Sigma XI chapter of the first number was held in the physics lecture room on Wednesday evening. Talks were by four members of the organization. Prof. John H. Dunlap discussed "The Scientific Design of Sanitary Drinking Fountains." Prof. Mabel C. Williams, "An Unusual Case of Color Blindness." Prof. A. C. Tevesidny, "The History of Devil's Lake." Prof. C. C. Nutting, "The Relation between the Colonial and Service Forms of the Injured." Arrangements were made by the departments of botany, chemistry, and geology.

FEATURING CLASSES ENRICHED

Holding classes are attracting much interest at the university this year. Attempts have been made to teach on a very small scale in past years. This year a special instructor, Pat Wright, is in charge of the three classes which meet on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 6 and on Saturday at 10. Picking from the number taking instructions at the present time, the students are seen going to be fool'd. Mr. Schneider says, and he advises all who contemplate taking such instruction to see him at once.

Alpha Tau Omega will have holiday meeting at Sigma XI hall. Professor and Mrs. Percy Goodwill will speak on "Honor and Dishonor."

Among the many impressive notes in the elaborate screen production of "Romans and Jewels" in which Prances F., Siskind and Beverly Bruce, the foremost student combinations in motion pictures, are starred, is the wedding of the famous lovers in Peter II, which has been carefully worked out for this scene. As the wedding the entire parts of the various productions Robert Cummings plays the role of Piras, horizon. He has been associated with Mr. Siskind and Miss Bruce in many previous features on the Metro program, and was among the first to have a part in "Romans and Jewels," in which more than six hundred players appeared. This promising production will be seen at the Second Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.
