RESOLUTIONS FOR PROFESSOR SMITH

UNIVERSITY SAVES MEMES AND EVIDENCES FOR PROFESSOR SMITH

The University senate has passed the following resolutions relative to the death of G. A. Smith:

"In the death of Professor Smith, the State University has lost a true scholar and renaissance man. It has lost just a man who was a true scholar of character and devotion..." No man who was known for his erudition, and whose judgment was equal to any man who followed him in his path, was more truly beloved by students than Professor Smith was to his students..."

"Here I have a page of that book, and you can see the other genius move..."

"Dr. Lambert's interests in history and in chess are well known..."

"The Midland Schools Teachers' Agency of Des Moines, Iowa, during the last twelve years has filled thousands of the best teaching positions west of the Mississippi river. Its terms are the most liberal offered, and through the confidence and respect of the employing officers, it is able to guarantee satisfactory service. Write for plans..."

Currier Girls Have Masquerade

included to have been Hugo and Two Chaperons
in Doll Dresses

A brilliant and original spectacle was the masquerade at Currier hall Saturday night. Brides of red carnations and sprays of autumn leaves made effective decorations. The party was preceded by a grand march in costumes and two whagons were driven before the masqueraders.

The social center was devoted to dancing while old fashioned games were played. Miss Lena Park was pranced, furnished diversion for the rest of the party. An interesting feature of the evening was the extraordinary two little girls in French habits that danced with large bonnets and yards of muslin. The twins finally unmasked and revealed themselves to the delight of the few dignified guests of Currier.

A wedding ceremony, complete with a "pillow" as an altar and a tiny married couple as newly married announced the masquerade as an event of the season. At the request of the party the masqueraders were the most beautiful costumes.

Prizes were awarded to Lysle Jenkins as a Curschma as the most aesthetic costume and to Clara Leonard as Tripp for the most original "get-up.

Extension Division Away

S. E. Kilgus, D. F. Earl, and L. D. Bemmel of the Extension Division left for the Institute for Retailers in Manhattan today and tomorrow. They will be accompanied by A. H. Thurman of the Institute who will take some windows.

Mrs. Lynn Myers, a former student in the University, spent the week end in Chicago. Mrs. Ada Barker, who resided in the state of New York, until recently has been secretary of the Retailer’s Department here and is now working under Sergeant Mumma.

The complete list of men who have requested to be seen:

Fackler, Schmitt, Atkins, Kiris, Harder, Hays, J. Miller, A. C. Wray, Davis, Lawrence, Armstrong, Crafts, Mun.

Interesting features of the masquerade included the arrangement of the matches.

With the dancers are enjoying the all-college hops at Iowa this year, the non-dancers and the best guessers have been given a party of their own. Various greeting games were added to the evening and the non-dancers and the best guessers have been rewarded with prizes.

In our Corset Department you will find expert corsetiers ready to serve you. They will show you any number of models from and advise the model best suited to your type and figure. Every Warner Corset is designed to shape fashionably and fit comfortably, and is guaranteed not to rust, break or tear.

FASHIONS IN SHOES FOR FALL

Fashion says "look young." No, years have nothing to do with it. The model has fought a decisive victory over the calendar. Eyes look back under profile lines for others who are older still. The most fashionable expression becomes cognizant under these conditions. Full-skirted coats swing from a well-defined waist line to the knee or lower. Below them comes an inch or two of dress skirt, and then smart high boots—Kid, or Russia calf, or patent leather. The year’s fashion can be summed up in a sentence; “The violet liberty but the most exacting demand for smartness of life.” The show, so in the next two seasons, fills a most responsible place in the ensemble of the wardrobes.

TWELVE FIVE MEN OUT FOR RIFLE PRACTICE

The National Guard men have reported to Lieutenant W. J. F. Sebastian for rifle practice and are now working under the direction of Capt. Morton C. Kuhlman.

All shooting is now done after 4:00 o'clock. It is not put to the shot before this hour because of the conflict of classes with practice periods.

The complete list of men who have reported to be seen follows:

COLELERS IS DOING WELL

Paul A. Collier of Davenport, Iowa, has accepted a position as secretary of the Retailer’s Department association of the state of New York. Until recently Mr. Collier has been secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Davenport. Y. M. C. A. newspapers speak very highly of the work the former Iowa is now doing.

While the girls are enjoying the all-college hops at Iowa this year, the non-dancers and the best guessers have been given a party of their own. Various greeting games were added to the evening and the non-dancers and the best guessers have been rewarded with prizes.
