GROUP ACTIVITIES DETERMINE SOCIAL UNITS OF SOCIETY

"DUPLICATIONS OF SOCIAL ENERGY" DISCUSSED BY PROF. LORIN STUCKEY

University Sociologist Bases New Theory on Investigations Made in Iowa City and University Last Year—Recommends Central Meeting Place

"Duplications in Social Energy" was the subject of an address delivered by Prof. Lorin Stuckey before the Political Science club last night at the home of Dr. Jacob Van Zee. This address was very interesting and important because it represented a departure from the old idea of sociologists that the "socius" or social groups are the basic units of investigation in society, and maintained that the activities of these various organizations are in reality the basic factors of investigation.

By way of proving his theory, Professor Stuckey referred to the results of a study of the social organizations of Iowa City, which indicated the fraternal, benevolent, and civic societies, made by the department of sociology last year. As a result of this investigation it was found that duplication of energy and duplication of financial outlay existed; that is to say, members of one club did not devote their entire time and attention to one club, but scattered their interests among many clubs of practically the same significance. Where a man was found belonging to one club, he was likely to be found belonging to many similar clubs. It was also found that local clubs and national clubs go hand in hand.

Religious organizations were the most numerous.

Women take a more active part in the work of the organizations than do the men.

The Political Science club suggests that, since these many social organizations are so inextricably interwoven with one another, a central meeting place which would result in less duplication in effort and expense, would be an economic improvement for the city or community.

"This investigation brings out the point," explained Mr. Stuckey, "that the group of persons interested in the same thing is not the economic unit of social investigation, it is the activities of this organization that really form the unit of investigation."

By way of illustration, Mr. Stuckey offered the following example: "If one of the most prominent members of the Commercial club died, the work of the club would nevertheless go on without him, and it is, after

OFFICERS OF TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION TO MEET

Prof. F. C. Ensign of the education department, who is chairman of the Iowa State Teachers' association, has called a meeting Friday of officers who are attending the superintendents' session. The officers are these: Supt. H. E. Hanson of Burlington, Supt. Grace Bradshaw of Pocahontas county, Mrs. Eva Fleming of Decorah, president of the association, Supt. A. E. Smith of Indianola, secretary. The purpose of the meeting is to decide the date of the next session and to present a preliminary report of the program.

Cincinnati University has just put up a special board fence on which boards will be allotted to each class for the sole purpose of carving their names. Ten boards will be allotted to each incoming class.—Ex.

AMES GAME WINS CALF FOR IOWAN

Dr. Michel Thielen, '98, was one of those made happy by the result of the Iowa-Ames game. The best shorthorn on the farm of the Ames man who bet with him is to be his. Dr. Thielen bet a female calf against a male. His home paper thinks that all the thousands of bets this year this is the only one where a female was bet against a male without odds.

The Commerce club will meet next Monday evening in the rooms of the Iowa City Commercial club.

BASEBALL SCHEDULE OUT FOR CONFERENCE

KELLOGG AND JONES BACK FROM CHICAGO—WITH-HOLD FOOTBALL DATES

Coach Jones and Director N. A. Kellogg have been in Chicago during the Thanksgiving recess attending the meeting of conference coaches and athletic directors to arrange for the winter and spring season. Some football dates for next year were also secured, but nothing can be announced at present.

The schedule of conference, baseball games has been completed and is as follows:

- April 14—Iowa at Chicago
- April 21—Illinois at Iowa
- April 28—Northwestern at Northwestern
- May 5—Indiana at Iowa
- May 12—Wisconsin at Wisconsin
- May 15—Wisconsin at Iowa
- May 19—Illinois at Illinois
- June 8—Chicago at Iowa

LEFT-OVERS ENTERTAIN

The Thanksgiving recess has been a busy one for those remaining in Iowa City. Dances and dinner parties have been the main diversion. Both the Theta Xi and Psi Omega fraternities entertained at dancing parties. The Delta Chi fraternity gave a dinner party at their house on Thanksgiving day.

LOUISE CLAPP MARRIED TO FREDERICK COOPER

Word has been received by friends here of the marriage of Miss Louise Clapp and Mr. Frederick Cooper, both graduates of the University. The marriage took place at the home of Mrs. John Frederick Tanner, a sister of the bride, in Davenport. The Rev. Dwight Witherspoon Wiley, former pastor of the Presbyterian church of Iowa City, and a personal friend of the Clapp family, performed the ceremony.

The bride is a member of the Kappa Gamma sorority, and the groom of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity. They will be at home after February 15 in apartments at 5111 Blackstone Avenue, Chicago.

DRILL SUITS ARRIVE

James A. Haller, tailor from the M. C. Lilley company, is here issuing the uniforms to the university cadets. Over 350 suits are to be given out and inspected by Captain Morton C. Mumma.

The suit includes coat, trousers, hat and leggings. They are made of olive drab material, the same as is now used by the English and Russians.

W. E. Jones, L. A. '08, was elected state senator for Montana in last month's election. Mr. Jones was a student in the law college after obtaining his bachelor's degree. He practiced for two years in Illinois and later in Harlowtown, Mont., where he ran successfully for senator on the Republican ticket.

RED AND WHITE IS COLOR SCHEME FOR SOPHOMORE FORMAL

COTILLION PROGRAMME ON SALE TOMORROW AT WHETS AT ONE O'CLOCK

Change in Social Regulations Makes It Necessary to Start Dancing at 8:15—Absolutely No Flowers, Says Chairman Dances

Scarcity of dyes due to the European war will have no effect on the sophomore cotillion next Friday evening, according to Art Thorwick of Coasts' who has charge of the decorating again this year. Red and white will form the color scheme for this party, the first formal of the year at the University.

Students attending this social event will pass through an archway of festooning which is subdivided at the end, one archway leading to the right, and the other to the left into the brilliant ball room. "I have just received some new creations in lighting from New York City—something unique in red and white streamer effects," said Mr. Thorwick last evening. "There will be sixteen of these lights, eight large ones and eight small ones. The sides of the room will be decorated with red and white festooning suspended from white pillars of various heights. The gallery will also be decorated tastily, but not as to obstruct the view of the visitors. You will have to see the room to appreciate its beauty."

Flowers Are Barred

Flowers are absolutely barred from the sophomore cotillion this year. This custom has been followed at the Pan-Hellenic parties for a number of years, and was also a feature of the junior prom last year. Tickets and programmes may be secured tomorrow at 1 o'clock at the Whetstone Drug store. The programmes will be of red leather with gilt letters and a white cord.

"Owing to the change in the social regulations which forbids dancing at formal parties after 1 o'clock, the music will start at 8:15 instead of 9 o'clock as in former years," said Chairman Dancer yesterday. "There

MARIE MEYER SAYS U. S. HAS NO NEED FOR PREPAREDNESS

GERMAN WOMAN DOES NOT BELIEVE IN PREPAREDNESS FOR AMERICA

Visitor of Passion Play Fame Tells of Work of Preparation for Production and of Her Experience as a Member of the Cast

She was eager to talk. And she did it not only with a sweet throaty contralto voice but with her shapely hands, her eyes of merry blue, and her whole face, glowing and animated. Just once did Miss Marie Meyer of Passion play fame, for it was she who conversed so spontaneously, forget herself and speak a single word of her native tongue.

"Women in Germany," she said with a soft yet noticeable accent, "are expected to attend to but three things—kitchen, kirche, and children."

Miss Meyer wore a simple blue serge dress, the regulation costume of the schoolgirl. Nor did her face belie her dress for it reflected each idea which he more mature judgment expressed.

MORE TOUGH LUCK FOR UNDER-CLASS MEN

Director E. G. Schroeder has removed from the Naragansett Machine company, the makers of the apparatus used in the university armory. The chart illustrates seventy-nine of the possible exercises that can be done on the chest weight apparatus.

Mr. Schroeder says that this chart will simplify the work of the instructors and will show the men just what exercises to practice for the development of certain muscles.

Another chart for still bar exercises has been ordered from the same company.

DUTTON COMES OUT FOR VARSITY FIVE

Lawrence Dutton, center on the basketball team last year, appeared for practice with Coach Kent's squad in the armory yesterday afternoon and indicated that he would be out regularly for a place on the varsity.

Dutton worked out during the early part of the practice at passing the ball and shooting baskets, but did not enter into the scrimmage which closed the afternoon's work.

Captain Bannick, Byers, Gillis, Schiff, and Von Lackum made up the first string which Kent put in for a few minutes of practice scrimmage. Later he substituted Olson for Gillis, Berrien for Byers, and Jenkins for Von Lackum.

DINNER FOR GRAND MASTER

Delta Sigma Delta entertained at a dinner party Friday evening in honor of their grand master, Ray W. Noland. Twenty of the members, who remained in the city for their vacation, were present. The chaperons were Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Smith.

A. B. Gilbert of the extension division spoke to the Commercial club at Manchester yesterday on the subject of advertising.

PRESIDENT RECEIVES FOR NEW STUDENTS

Freshmen and all new students in the University were entertained at a reception at President Jessup's home last evening. The function was an informal affair which is given annually for the purpose of getting new students acquainted with the president and his wife and with other members of the faculty.

In the receiving line were President and Mrs. W. A. Jessup, Mr. and Mrs. Guy V. Aldrich, Adviser Robert E. Rienow, Dean Anna M. Klingenhagen, Mrs. Evans, Miss Clara Daley, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Schroeder, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bates.

Refreshments were served in the dining room.

HOCKEY TEAM TRYOUTS

Hockey tryouts for the sophomore and freshman teams were conducted last Monday and Tuesday by Miss Hupp. Further tryouts are to be held this week, after which the teams will be chosen. The games for the championship will be played immediately afterward.

Prof. Lorin F. Stuckey will speak on the subject "The Iowa Federation of Labor" before the city assemblies of labor at Marshalltown and Waterloo on December 8.

Word has reached the University that Denton A. Burdick, an ex-member of the law class of 1913, has been elected to the Oregon House of Representatives. Mr. Burdick is the second youngest member in the House.

WRESTLING TEAM STARTS TRAINING BEFORE HOLIDAYS

DOPESTERS LOOK FOR ANOTHER CONFERENCE CHAMPIONSHIP THIS YEAR

"Dad" Schroeder and "Pat" Wright Will Be in Charge of the Mat Men This Year—O. K. Parrott is Captain of Team

Iowa's wrestling team under the direction of E. G. Schroeder and Pat Wright, both of the physical training department, will open its season for the coming year within a short time and before Christmas. The men are already doing some light work in the form of gymnastics and exercises.

A dozen men have reported for work and are being directed by Captain O. K. Parrott, senior in the college of dentistry. All of these men have had varsity experience and will undoubtedly make good showings as soon as strenuous work is started. For the feather weight, there are Hindt and Hyman; for the 135 pound class, Austin, Young, and Scott; for welter weight, Hall and Jenkins; and for the heavy-weight, Grubb and Triplett.

Excellent Coaches

The coaching will be under the direction of E. G. Schroeder, director of physical training, and Pat Wright, the Wisconsin wrestler. Instruction in the mat work will be conducted by Mr. Wright who, for the past three years has been a wrestler in Lawrence college of Appleton, Wisconsin, where he was coached by Beel, a teammate of Frank Gotch. Mr. Wright will be on the mat with the men and teach them the different holds.

Meet Here in March

Iowa will take part in a good many contests this year, holding duel meets with Ames, Nebraska and probably Purdue. The biggest event in which the team will compete is the meeting of the Western Intercollegiate Gymnastic, Wrestling, and Fencing association that will hold its annual meet here at Iowa during March of next year. It will be remembered that last year Iowa's wrestling team won first place over the contestants of all the Big Nine teams and Nebraska. In former meets of the same association, Iowa has won two second places and one third. Never have the Hawkeye wrestlers been defeated in any dual meet, and the team has met several of the best teams in the west.

Director Schroeder will give some special attention to the formation of a freshman team which will furnish practice material for the varsity team and also develop men who wish later to become varsity wrestlers.

HAWKEYES TO DEBATE ILLINOIS ON FRIDAY

The Iowa affirmative debating team will debate the Illinois team Friday, December 8, at 8 o'clock in the evening, in the natural science auditorium. The question debated will be: Resolved, That the government should own and operate the railroads, constitutionally granted. Single admission is thirty-five cents.

Dr. Lyle C. Wilson, who was graduated in dentistry last June, has sold his practice at Union. He intends to locate elsewhere.

Dr. V. H. Young of the department of botany will give an illustrated lecture on "Poisonous and Edible Fungi," Thursday, December 7, at 4:30, in room 206, old science hall.

Prof. Bohumil Shimek will speak at the dedication of the high school at Cherokee on Friday of this week.

THE STATE UNIVERSITY

The annual homecoming of the Iowa State University was held last week. The occasion was blessed with good weather and the attendance was fully up to expectation.

Iowa City has been improving during the past ten years without regard to the University. The University has more than thirty buildings scattered over a campus of fifty acres.

President Jessup in one of his speeches said that it would be necessary to add forty teachers to the faculty every year to take care of the new work imposed by the increased attendance.

The university will need a great deal more money for the coming year. A large tract of land should be bought on the west side of the Iowa river to provide for the future.

At the homecoming hundreds of the loyal alumni were present. They have some plans in regard to a new athletic field which they are going to endeavor to work out in their own way.

The people of Iowa City appreciate the university and they work in harmony with the management. Saying nothing of the university's past, it is admitted that the present is the most prosperous time that institution has experienced.

The hotel situation at Iowa City has been relieved by the erection of a new fireproof hotel called the Jefferson.

person. And the Jefferson is kept in the right way and those in charge have all the politeness which is so necessary for a college town. Iowa City is wide awake in a business sense, having an active commercial club and with this organization the university is in perfect harmony.

The first time the new president of the university, Dr. Jessup, has occasion to visit Des Moines, he ought to be extended the glad hand. He talks and acts like a man having a great reserve power.

COLLEGE ACTIVITIES

Every student, at some time or other during his University career, decides whether he will enter into any campus activity or whether he will devote all of his time to study. If the man decides in favor of all of his time to study he is making a grave mistake.

To mingle with people, to learn to know them and the best way to deal with each individual, is the greatest education on earth, and it can only be gained through mental alertness and concentration.

The most valuable possession on earth is a friend, and the experience that one gets in campus activities, in making friends, helping others, and boosting worth-while things will be an unending source of help and benefit all of his days.

The time to begin is in the freshman year, and when a good start has been made in the studies, every new man and woman should enter some outside field and work in it with all his or her might.

The ability to combine scholarship and social activity, which does not mean lighter society in all of its frivolity,—their ability, and the application of it, is that which makes the ideal man or woman,—the real University graduate.—Daily Nebraskan.

COURTS PROBABLY NOT TO BE MADE INTO RINK

The university tennis court will probably not be converted into a skating rink this year, according to Director E. G. Schroeder.

Considerable work must be done to prepare the rink, and a great amount of water is required. Further, as a result of last year's experiment, Mr. Schroeder is inclined to believe that there is an old sewer or underground passageway beneath the courts, which would make away with the water as fast as it could be run in.

However, no definite decision has been made as to the project, and it is possible that it will be tried again.

all, the activities of that club that determine its viewpoint and existence. It is not John Jones' personality that makes him a social unit, but his Methodism, his Republicanism, or his life make him a social element, because they represent his activities.

"The practical value of this theory," declared Professor Stuckey, "is that this activity may be moulded and improved.

The greatest advantage of the new theory lies in its facilitating the investigation of social organizations by basing that investigation on a tangible element, the activities of that society, rather than upon that complicated structure, the personnel of that society.

MARIE MEYER SAYS U. S. HAS NO NEED FOR PREPAREDNESS

"Oh of the war? I do not know. I am no prophet. We can just hope and look forward to an end. To me it seems a world's judgment. The world must realize a Higher Power.

"For America, I do not believe in preparedness. It should be a free country for the American mind is peace-loving. As for the American attempts to bring about peace, I think Mr. Ford had a noble idea, but America should keep entirely out of it. The time for America is when the conflict is finished and rebuilding is begun."

Miss Meyer has been in the Passion play three times. As a child she had a part in a tableau. In 1900 she had her first speaking part as an angel in the Garden of Gethsemane. In the last play she was Mary Magdalene, a satisfaction, which in her words "it takes a lifetime to attain."

"I do not hope to take part again. The opportunity is given to a girl but once in her life. It is the one wish of every girl in Oberammergau to have either the part of the Virgin or this part.

"There is no physical training for the part. It is almost entirely moral. Dramatic art in the town is cultivated by annual plays given for tourists and there practice is obtained. But it is the purity of the lives of the actors which gives the play its feeling and interpretation."

For two and one-half years, Miss Meyer has been traveling in America. She came over with no particular purpose, but when the great crisis came in Europe, she began to lecture.

"Lecturing now gives me a great deal of satisfaction. If we put our mind to one ideal worth while, we will succeed. I think there is nothing impossible if we are sincere and earnest enough.

"There is no country equal to America, I think, for those who seek opportunities. If we wish very much to satisfy our ambitions, America can grant them. It is such a wonderful place for the women. Our country it is only for the men. Perhaps when the war is over, it will all be different. I know it will."

Postponed to Wed., Dec. 6

First Concert of the Series

The new plan of a season of concerts opens on the above date. It is the plan of the band to give the University and City a real treat in music this season. Last year the first concert was well attended but owing to the fact that there was an unusual amount of entertainments on for the same evening they were asked to repeat the same concert which they did some time later. This year they will give a series of concerts, four in number, and they are offering season tickets at an unusually low price of $1.00 each. Price of admission at the door 50c. Buy season tickets and save a dollar. On sale at Wieneke's, or buy them from any band man.

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS, in "Manhattan Madness"

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS is coming again. This time he appears in "Manhattan Madness"—a Triangle Fine Arts play of East and West, displaying the athletic and effervescent star in chaps, dress suit and every gradation of masculine attire between. It's all kinds of a picture, this "Manhattan Madness"—a society picture, a mystery picture, a comedy picture, an adventure picture. Above all, it's a Fairbanks picture, and that's the really important thing about it. Fairbanks has never bubbled and beamed and bounded and banged his way through a picture as he does through this one. He fights enemies in squadrons, battalions and droves. He frolics over housetops, through treetops, up eavespipes and over ten-foot walls with all the usual Fairbanks ease and abandon.
