ENGINEERS SHOULD NOT LEAVE SCHOOL NOW—DEAN RAYMOND

Will Give Credit, However, To All Who Leave University For Military Services.

WOULD INCLUDE CHEMISTS IN LIST

All Seniors Who Received Grade Of "A" Have Not Yet Been Called To Ft. Snelling.

"I think the engineering students should by all means remain in college until their graduation, instead of enlisting now," was the statement made yesterday by Dean W. G. Raymond of the college of applied science, when asked by a reporter for his opinion on the matter. The following resolution, passed at a conference of university and college presidents which he attended in Washington, D. C. on May 5, expresses his sentiments on the whole: "We believe that in view of the importance of applied science in the present war, students pursuing technical courses as medicine, agriculture, and engineering, are rendering or are able to render through the continuance of their training, service more valuable and efficient than if they were to enroll in the military or naval service at once."

Dean Raymond feels that the resolution should have included chemists also, in view of their specialized training. Credit will, however, be given in pursuance of the resolutions passed by the state board of education and by the University committee to students leaving the college of applied science for military service of any kind.

Between fifty and sixty men from the engineering college have already enlisted or gone to the farm. This number included the class of fifteen senior civil engineers who have applied for training at Fort Snelling. All the seniors received the grade of A, but all have not been notified of their acceptance yet.

The step taken by these seniors was sanctioned by the faculty in their action of graduating them early.

NUTTING ENTERTAINS OLD FRIEND

Prominent Zoologist Was Among Guests of Inaugural Ceremonies

E. A. Birge, dean of the college of liberal arts at Wisconsin, was a guest of Prof. C. C. Nutting during inauguration. Dean Birge is a prominent zoologist who has been a close student of the physical character of the lakes of Wisconsin and their effect upon the animal life of that region. At one time he was president of the American Microscopical society, a member of the Central Branch of Zoologists, and a director of the Geological Survey of Wisconsin. He has also served on a number of important state boards.

MERRILL IN NEW MEXICO

Prof. Dayton E. Merrill, graduate of the University in 1907 and assistant in the department of zoology here during 1909 and 1910, is now head of the department of biology at the New Mexico state college of agriculture and mechanic arts. He has organized the department on a new basis there, and at present is engaged in work on economic phases of zoology.

MONEY FROM FACULTY PLAY OFF TO FRANCE TO HELP SAVE BABIES

How would you like to be known as baby 1274 or baby 1275 or baby 1276 or even baby 1278? Does the name sound attractive?

It is for the support of these babies that the $315.24 as profits of the faculty play have been assigned by the Life company. Many French orphans are cared for by a fund being raised by the company that publishes this humorous magazine.

A letter acknowledging the receipt of this money has just reached Dr. C. H. Weller, University editor and manager of the play. The names and pictures of the babies will be sent to Iowa as soon as the next French mail arrives, the letter states.

MISS PAXSON COMING

Ruth Paxson, student secretary of the Y. W. C. A. in China, will speak at the regular meeting of the association Wednesday afternoon, May 23, and at the alumni meeting Thursday. A luncheon will be given Thursday on the slope west of the physics building for the girls expecting to go to Geneva this summer. Miss Paxson will be a guest.

VESPER SERVICE ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The Rev. Edward J. Kirby of Des Moines Will Give Sermon At Last Meeting of Year

The last vesper service of the year will be held in natural science auditorium Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The Rev. Edward J. Kirby, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational church of Des Moines, will give the sermon on "God on the side of democracy."

This will be the first time during the present year than an Iowa man has appeared on the program of University Vesper services. Dr. Kirby is a vigorous young man and has been active in the social and religious work of the entire city as well as in his own congregation. He is considered by the University people who have heard him to be a speaker of marked ability.

Special music will be given by the University choir and orchestra. The musical program has not yet been decided upon.

INITIATION TONIGHT FOR PHI BETA KAPPA

Phi Beta Kappa will hold its annual initiation and banquet this evening, with the initiation at 5:30 o'clock. The members elected this year from the senior class will be taken into the society.

At 6:30 o'clock the banquet will be served in the guild room at the Unitarian church. Immediately afterwards Prof. E. D. Starbuck will deliver a lecture on "Western Culture."

FLOWERS FOR MRS. JESSUP

The women of the faculty of the University paid a pretty tribute to Mrs. Jessup at the inauguration by presenting her with lovely flowers for the reception—a basket of Othello roses for the library, snap-dragons for the north parlor, daffodils for the dining room, and a corsage bouquet. They also presented Mrs. Macbride with a corsage bouquet for the occasion.

MACBRIDE REMAINS IN IOWA CITY FOR PRESENT AT LEAST

President Emeritus Delighted To Be Back About University Again.

PLANS TO DO SOME SCIENTIFIC WORK

Tells of Interesting Alumni Meetings In West—Has Not Been Well

President Emeritus Thomas H. Macbride and Mrs. Macbride still remain in Iowa City following the inauguration ceremonies for President Jessup in which Dr. Macbride took part. Dr. Macbride is unable to say, however, just how long he will be here.

"We have various concerns on the Pacific coast," he said, "and may be called back at any moment, although we should be happy to remain in Iowa City and about the University indefinitely. We have begun to open up the old house on East Washington street, but are proceeding slowly, going much to the hotels, for we have not been at home for several years, you know."

During the winter, while living in Seattle, Dr. Macbride has not been in the best of health, and this, combined with the continued bad weather conditions, has prevented him from doing as much scientific work there as he had expected to do. He anticipates making these investigations at a later time. Mrs. Macbride, also, has not been well, and her serious illness in February prevented an earlier return to Iowa.

Dr. Macbride tells of interesting meetings of Iowa alumni at various points up and down the west coast, the latest a reception given in his honor by the alumni of Los Angeles, where he met many of the men and women of earlier University classes from 1858 down. Dr. Macbride hopes to get back to his laboratory very soon, where unfinished work to keep him busy for many months awaits him.

LINNAN SAYS HOP WILL BE STAGED

Contrary to rumors about the campus concerning the postponement of the senior hop, the party will be held June 8 in Company A hall.

The plans have been partly reorganized. The party will not be a formal as in years past but will be informal and open exclusively to seniors. Already the members of the committee from the different colleges are canvassing the seniors to find out how many of them will attend. The committee expects that at least one hundred and twenty-five couples will be present at the party.

The decorations for the party have not been definitely decided upon, but it is understood that they will be less elaborate than usual. The leather programs which have been ordered are to be miniatures of the class invitations, being made of leather with the Old Capitol embossed on the outside and the class numerals near the base.

Chairman Luke Linnan announces that if the seniors do not take all the tickets, a limited number will be sold to underclassmen.

RARRICK ELECTED TO FORENSIC LEAGUE—OTHERS CONSIDERED

At a called meeting of the All-American forensic league Friday evening in the Education Seminary, Dr. Leslie Rarrick, formerly of Grinnell but now overseer of buildings and grounds and supervisor of night classes in campistry, was given a life membership in the league. Dr. Rarrick is known for his athletic prowess, at one time having been a bull fighter in Old Mexico. At that time he was known as "Hooker Bill". More lately he has become an authority on the new dances, Chinese poker, and the "Haggenberg Line" of Defense. Mr. Rarrick addressed the members of the League on "Seeing the World from the Light of a Dark-Lantern".

The membership of this league is growing and president G. E. Davis said yesterday that it is the present plan of the members to take in "Fat Morris", "Fat" Gallagher and J. A. Hollingsworth in order that the league may have greater weight with the community. It was the plan for those assembled to attend derby day in Louisville Saturday but they didn't have the derbies.

BROKEN LEG COSTS ATHLETE POSITION

Jacobsen Rejected At Ft. Snelling Because Of Recent Injury To Limb

Grover C. Jacobsen returned from Fort Snelling yesterday morning where he had been rejected at the officers reserve training camp because of a physical defect. Last year in football season "Jake" was unfortunate enough to break his leg which threw him out of the games for the rest of the year. The time limit set by the government at which a man may enter army service after a broken arm or leg is one year and in this case it has been but seven or eight months since the accident.

"Jake" reports the camp to be a wonderful place with plenty of work for those attending. He said one could not help but like it there even with all the work.

TWO ACCEPTED FOR ARMY "Y" SERVICE

Ray Clearman and George Hemmingson, two University students, received notice yesterday from the national headquarters of the Army Y. M. C. A. that they have been accepted for service among the United States troops. They will hold themselves in readiness to respond to a call at short notice.

Hemmingson did work of this nature last summer on the Mexican border among national guard troops there. Clearman has served as president of the University Young Men's Christian association during the past year.

CHEM CLUB ELECTS

The officers of the Chemistry club, who were selected at the last meeting are as follows: D. A. Lister, president; H. E. Fowler, vice president; W. A. Konantz, secretary; J. C. Crowell, treasurer, and H. L. Dunlap, sergeant-at-arms.

An exhibition is to be held soon, to which the general public will be invited. Special lectures and demonstrations by authority will be the feature.

AMERICAN FIGHTER TO GIVE PERSONAL EXPERIENCE IN WAR

"Over the Top with the Best of Luck" Will be Subject of Lecture This Evening

TELLS TRICKS OF MODERN WARFARE

Lecture Will Be Held In Natural Science Auditorium And Will Be Open to Public.

The lecture on "Over the Top with the Best of Luck" by Mr. Arthur G. Empey in the natural science auditorium at eight o'clock this evening will be one of the most interesting addresses given at the University this year.

Far removed from the actual scenes of the world war, we in the United States have little definite knowledge of how the war is being waged today. We know very little of what a man has to learn before he can be even an ordinary soldier, and he must serve as an ordinary soldier for some time before it is his turn to be sent over the top "with the best of luck", which too often means "never to return". The lecture this evening will tell from personal experience what it means to learn the trade of trench warfare.

Mr. Empey, although an American, enlisted in the English army in 1915, where he served as bomber and machine gunner—one of those men who are said to belong to the "suicide club"—until February, 1917, when he was disabled. Perhaps he has not seen more fighting than many of his comrades, but he has the gift of presenting to his audience a vivid picture of what war is. In his lecture he will describe some of the tricks of modern fighting; how to examine an apparently empty enemy trench without risk of being caught in a trap; how to make bombs out of mess tins; how to make a night attack without exposing yourself unduly; how to change a gas helmet in the midst of a gas attack; how soldiers arm themselves on a trench clearing expedition; and how to tell whether the artillerymen opposite you are new recruits or experienced men.

The lecture will be open not only to students and members of the instructional staff of the University but also to the general public.

LIBRARY GETS OFFICIAL BULLETIN

Gives Real Facts Concerning News During Present War Crisis

The University library is daily receiving a new official bulletin which is being published at the order of the president by the commission on public information at Washington, D. C. It is the official news medium of the government and its purpose is the dissemination of news during the present war crisis. The first number was issued May 7, and copies are being furnished all the newspapers, postmasters, public officials, and publishing agencies.

IRVING-ERO TO PICNIC

Irving and Erodelphian literary societies will hold their annual picnic and dance at the Country club next Friday evening. The launch will leave Fitzgerald's boat house at 4:30 and 6 o'clock.

FAITHFUL TRACK MEN

Although privileged to compete in but one meet this year, the state meet at Des Moines on Saturday, the Iowa track squad has earned commendation for the faithful work it has been doing to prepare to uphold as best it can the reputation of the University in track.

The track squad, and particularly Coach Jack Watson, has given time daily to practice. In spite of the fact that the men have not been allowed to participate in the dual meets which had been scheduled for them, they have worked just the same. All are ready to do the most that they can on Saturday.

Because of the fast competition at the state meet many of these men have little chance of winning their letter for the year. The work which they have done will come to nothing as far as they themselves are concerned, for next year there will probably be no track athletics and they will have no chance to get out again. The time which they have put in has been for the benefit of the University, and not for their own good, except as it may help them physically.

It is to be hoped that what they have done will win for the University this year a higher position in the state meet and a stronger standing in state track athletics than has been won by Iowa athletics in some seasons past.

FOR HUMANITY.

For centuries and centuries, for hundreds and thousands of years the great procession of mankind has been struggling upward to the light. Up thru the family unit of government the clan, the tribe, the manor, the principality, the kingdom and the nation where all may have a part in the government we have fought our way. The path along which civilization has climbed to its present plane is red with blood and strewn with the wrecks of those who tried to block or hinder its progress.

Up thru paganism, barbarism, idolatry, all the many forms of religion to our present Christianity our forefathers have fought their way. Little progress has been made that has not been paid for in warm blood.

Many forms of government and religion have flourished and perished. Nations have risen and fallen, because they did not keep pace with the march of humanity. Human nature can not be controlled by the dictates of any man, for long, be he emperor, king or monarch. Growth and development are inherent to the human mind and he who will prescribe the limits of its activity soon learns the folly of his way. Human nature has at last developed a form of government and a code of international ethics under which each and every individual of society has fair and ample opportunity to pursue happiness and worship God as he sees fit. The present world conflict has resolved itself into a struggle for those principles.

The United States by her entrance into the war, denies the right of any man or any nation to violate the laws and customs of international relationship, to violate the wishes of any government or people however small or inoffensive, to violate a nation's men by sheer superiority of numbers, to drown women and children falling into their paths, no matter under what flag they may be traveling.

The stars and stripes is the banner of five thousand years' struggle for the right and freedom of man.

Never was it, actually or in spirit, carried into a battle with more justification or for a nobler purpose than to avenge the crime committed against humanity in Europe and on the high seas during the past three years.

We are fighting for humanity. He who carries a gun into the trenches of France is fighting for humanity. He who toils in the great steel factories and the many kindred industries of the land, is fighting for humanity. He who holds the handles of the plow this spring is fighting for humanity. He who does his duty for his government now is fighting a part of that great world old battle for the rights and freedom of mankind, the safety and security of human life.—Iowa State Student

THE DROOPING PENNANT

To the Editor:

Since the senior girls have a champion (he did not call himself a man, but merely one of the opposite sex) the sophomore who suffered because of his brotherly interest in the senior team, should have a like support, although even after his attack, she is still able to stand alone. It might be said here that Miss Dawson's champion can admit, without any cringing, that "she" is not a man. The first of the series of "Drooping Pennants" was not the result of an unsportsmanlike spirit, but rather a real sportsmanship; the writer wanted to play another game. And although she was doubtful about the seniors' pep the last paragraph of the Drooping Pennant was only the playful mood of the English student working for a climax. This paragraph was not intended for the Iowan, being marked "omit." Although Miss Dawson was dubious about the seniors, pep, she was heartily sorry for this error. The seniors have no other evidence of her poor sportsmanship, and certainly know that even a blow on the head from a stray bat, will not destroy her "pep". Perhaps who knows, she might be able to play baseball against a "man." However, she will shed her tear with the rest of us, when the seniors must leave old S. U. I. Another Champion

(Editor's note: The writer of the above article has been misinformed regarding the last paragraph of the former article. The copy which came to The Daily Iowan had no mark of "omit" on the part referring to the leaving of the seniors. The original copy is at the office of the Daily Iowan should she wish to examine it.)

JESSUP MEMBER OF WAR COMMITTEE

University President Made Member of Advisory Committee On War Service

Dr. Guy Potter Benton, president of the National Association of State Universities, has named President Walter A. Jessup a member of the advisory committee of that association on state university war service.

The association has formed this advisory committee because it believes that the state universities of the country should place all their resources, both human and material, at the disposal of the federal government in this time of war.

President Benton says, "The problem in my judgment is to make our educational institutions throughout the one country function effectively with the federal departments."

Other members of the committee are: President Hill of Missouri, President Van Hise of Wisconsin, and Chancellor Strong of Kansas.

PREPARES PROGRAM OF TEACHERS MEETING.

Prof. Forest Ensign, chairman of the executive committee of the State Teacher's association, is now working on the program for next fall. The dates for the association meeting will be Nov. 1, 2, and 3. This year stress will be laid upon community singing especially. Music will receive a large place on the program.

On Friday evening of the meeting, Madame Homer will give a full concert. At each conference of music teachers on Friday and Saturday there will be singing under the direction of some of the most successful leaders of the movement. On Saturday morning Dr. P. W. Dykema of the University of Wisconsin will lead the audience in an actual demonstration of his theories.

Another feature of the program will be an address by President H. Suzzallo of the University of Washington, on the subject, "Probable Effects of the War on Education."

Dr. John R. Mott, general secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association of North America, has recently been appointed by President Wilson as a member of the commission that is to go to Russia from the United States.

The Coal Situation Again Danger of Higher Prices and Even of a Shortage of Coal Another visit to Chicago and consultation with managers of four great companies convinces us that the advice we have given you to contract at once for your next winter's coal is sound. Press reports of the Federal Commissioner's announcements have led some to hope that prices will go down. We see no reason for thinking so. The Commission's statements, so we are informed, pertain to the anthracite region and not to bituminous coal, which we use here. What the Dealers Say The big dealers tell us that the prospect is far from promising. They say that coal is almost sure to be scarce and prices to go still higher. We believe that they are sincere in their assertions. They have no reason for trying to deceive us—quite the contrary. "Bulling the Market" Our word upon it, we have no desire to "bull the market" and to try to frighten you into early buying. But we should fail in doing our duty if we did not acquaint you with the situation as we see it. We may be wrong. You must weigh the matter for yourself, but we think we are right. We regret the high prices as much as you do. Our Advice If the facts are as we understand them and a stampede for coal arises later on, some are bound to go without fuel. We, therefore, renew our advice that would better "play safe" and order your coal now. If you can't pay cash, we will accept a bankable note. BEWARE A word of warning. The present situation is forcing upon the market a lot of inferior coal, some of which is being sold under false names. We have heard, for example, of Pochahontas' being quoted at prices below the present cost at the mines. Look out! YOU'RE SURE WHEN YOU BUY OF DUNLAP BY THE DAM PHONE 10

GILLIS PROBABLY READY AGAIN SOON

Iowa Twirler, Injured in Northwestern Game, In Shape For Illinois

By Saturday, if not by Friday, it is expected that Gillis, leading twirler of the Hawkeye staff, will be in shape to work again following the injury which he received at the hands of the Purple last Saturday in the game at Evanston. In attempting to field a fast batted ball he split the skin in the palm of his right hand at the base of the first and second fingers. Stitches have been taken in the cut, but they will probably be out today.

Coach Kent, in looking forward to the Illinois games on Friday and Saturday, is expecting Gillis to twirl one of the combats. Hanzelin will get the other chance against the Illinois. In the first game between Iowa and Illinois played at Iowa City two weeks or more ago, the Hawkeyes lost the battle 8 to 0, Kline pitching for the victors. Kline defeated Chicago Saturday 8 to 4.

STATE HEALTH BOARD TO HELP IOWA TOWNS

Get New Apparatus to Treat Polluted Water Supplies in Iowa Towns.

Any city or town in Iowa which experiences a sudden and dangerous pollution of its water supply may relieve the situation by using emergency chlorinator at the laundries of the state board of health according to an announcement of Henry Albert, director of the division here.

The apparatus which has been received by the health department uses liquid chlorine—a colorless gas. This is the type of gas which has been used on the European battlefields to suffocate the enemy troops. Its peaceful use in purification is infinitely more important. Small amounts of chlorine possess the power of destroying bacteria which lurk in pollution, but the quality of the water for drinking purposes is not impaired. The usual amount of gas required for the purification is about three pounds per million gallons. The apparatus has been secured through the courtesy of the manufacturer, Wallace and Tiernan of New York.

At the present time the apparatus is in use by one of the cities in the state where the water was the cause of a number of cases of illness. Following a rise of water in a river, pollution was found in the deep wells, which supplied the city. As soon as the water of the water became known that it was treated with chlorine as a guard against further trouble. Amintations made since that time shown the treated water to be entirely safe for drinking purposes. No charge is made for the use of the apparatus.

C. G. F. Franzen, assistant to E. E. Lewis, will leave tomorrow for Minnesota University and the city of Wisconsin to visit the law schools in connection with the institutions. Mr. Franzen will be by way of Chicago and Rock making short stops in each city.

President J. C. Brown of the Des Moines State Normal school, was a guest of Dr. N. A. Briscoe at the inaugural ceremonies, returned to his home in St. Paul, Minnesota.

Girls Demand Right to Play Tennis Somewhere Sometime

"Tennis for women" is the new slogan of the University girls. They consider themselves neglected not only in the question of "votes for women" but in the question of tennis as well.

The following from a devotee of the art:—

"Where are the chivalrous men of the present century? They majestically occupy all available courts and in a condescending way point to the stretch of unrolled and unmarked clay across the street. A few of the more generous have remarked that women, those peopless creatures who apparently do not swing a racquet well enough to be provided with a court to better their efforts, might, in case no man were so bent, play at any time before dawn or after nine o'clock in the evening.

"There has been a promise, reluctantly made, that "when they get around*to it they will fix them up!" Until then it has been suggested that women better their serves by humbly watching the men. When the time does come we will see the men on the two better east courts in the south side of the street, coolly giving out the information that their courts are full. The question must be solved. Shall we get a woman janitor or assistant to the superintendent of grounds and buildings?"

AT THE GLEE CLUB MINSTREL

FRIDAY NIGHT, MAY 18, N. S. AUDITORIUM Admission 15 cents

GLEE CLUB MINSTREL TO HAVE THE PUNCH

Admission Price No Indication of Program That Will Be Presented

If anyone believes that the price of fifteen cents for admission to the Glee club Minstrel is indicative of the kind of minstrel that is to be given next Friday night, that individual is due for a disappointment. Although not of the type of the regular annual Glee club concert, the minstrel promises well to be of nature that it will please all present. The Glee Club men have been rehearsing faithfully. The majority of the men have been in the club throughout the entire year, which fact serves to insure the public of the quality of the music.

As a special feature the club has been able to secure Miss Catherine Robins, the well known mezzo-soprano of Omaha, Neb. It has been impossible to secure a list of the songs which Miss Robins will sing due to a little misunderstanding between Manager Davis and Miss Robins, when the contract was made. She will indeed be a treat, as all who have heard her will be eager to affirm. The glee club feels very fortunate in being able to secure her for the minstrel.

Due to the liberal support which the club has received from the student body, the faculty, and the people of Iowa City, the club is offering this minstrel at the small admission fee, in order that they may in some small way show their appreciation for the support they have received. For this reason, also, they are endeavoring to make the minstrel the very best possible.

SENIOR PLAY TO BE GIVEN JUNE 11

Will Not be as Elaborate as in Former Years, Says Chairman

The senior class play will be given June 11 in the natural science auditorium. The play has not been decided upon as yet, because it is very difficult to determine who will take the male parts.

"This year we will not have an elaborate play," Wayne McMillen, chairman of the committee, says. "In fact, we can't because many of the men have left school and we can not get enough material to fill the places on an average college play."

MORE LAWS TO FARM

The exodus of students in the law college is still continuing. Jens D. Carstensen, J. C. Eichorn, Clarence E. Hamilton, George E. Murray, and Stanley Newell have all left school within the last two days to farm.

HORACK PLANS MEETING

Prof. H. C. Horack left Monday for Council Bluffs to make arrangements for the meeting of the Iowa State Bar association which will be held there in June. Professor Horack is secretary of the association.

Clara Evanson, who was recently called to her home in Fort Dodge by the serious illness of her sister, has returned to the University to resume her work.

Y. W. CABINET WILL ENJOY HOUSE PARTY

Twenty-five of the members of the old and new cabinets of the Y. W. C. A. will have a house party this week at Linder's boat house north of Iowa City. Miss Mary Andersen, secretary, and Miss Adelia Dodge, student secretary for the north central field, will chaperone.

Saturday morning there will be a cabinet training council and some time during the week end there will be a picnic supper for Miss Dodge. Services will be held out-of-doors Sunday morning.

I. W. A. A. TO INSTALL OFFICERS 4:30 TODAY

Installation of officers for the coming year will take place at the regular meeting of I. W. A. A. to be held in the womens gymnasium at 4:30 this afternoon. The officers elected three weeks ago are Jean S. Moore of Brooklyn, president; Edith Saylor of Burlington, vice president and treasurer; Helen Bergman of Newton, secretary.

After the installation of officers a regular business meeting will be held and the rest of the time spent in games of various kinds.

One place in the general course for the practitioner class offered by Dr. J. T. McClintock, junior dean of the college of medicine, is open for the summer session. The enrollment of this special course is limited to twelve students.

Prof. G. L. Houser of the department of biology, has been ill at his home for several days, but will be able to resume his work in a few days.

ENDLESS VARIETY OFFERED VISITOR TO COLORADO

Until Colorado was "discovered" as the ideal vacationland, thousands of Americans went abroad every year in search of new thrills. Now they go to Colorado and get more variety of scenery and pleasure in a single day than they formerly did in a week.

Just to mention a few of the more noted places of interest is sufficient to convey some idea of the wonders of this fairy-land: Rocky Mountain National Park (Estes); Pikes Peak Region; the Garden of the Gods; Colorado Springs and lovely Denver, with their wonderful system of magnificent mountain parks.

It is surprising how little it costs to see all these wonderful sights, to say nothing of the myriad of other scenic attractions afforded by a trip to Colorado. Without doubt a Colorado vacation is the most economical and beneficial you can possibly make. Only $29.25 for the round trip.

Write for our special illustrated literature, showing the latest views of the wonders of Colorado, and giving you all the details about the trip, where to go, what to see, and just how little you need to pay. We will gladly help you with your vacation.

Make sure you visit Colorado this year, and be also sure you go by the Rock Island Lines.

For tickets, reservations, literature or information, see H. D. Breene, Iowa City, Iowa.
