LORADO TAFT WILL PAY SECOND VISIT HERE THIS WEEK

Noted Sculptor Will Lecture on "The Processes of Sculpture" Wednesday Evening.

TAFT IS AUTHORITY ON SCULPTURE

"Has Done More to Inspire Love of Art Than Any American," says Brooklyn Paper.

America's leading sculptor, and probably her foremost exponent of fine arts in general, will visit the University this week. That man is Lorado Taft of Chicago. He will lecture on "The Processes of Sculpture" in the natural science auditorium Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

He appeared in a lecture here two years ago and was considered one of the most successful speakers the University has ever had. Because of the great demand for him throughout the country the University will pay him a sum as large as any ever paid to one of its lecturers. The theme upon which he will talk here is said to be the most popular of the many he handles.

Is Good Speaker.

"The fact that a man is an expert in his line," says Prof. Benj. F. Shambaugh, one of the men responsible for the obtaining of Mr. Taft, "is no indication that he is a good man for an occasion like this. Many a time the best artist or doctor is an absolute failure because he cannot make his hearers understand him. In Mr. Taft, this is not true, however. He stands out as a giant authority in sculpture who is capable of presenting his thoughts so that they will be of commanding interest to University folk."

"There is a man in Chicago," says a Brooklyn publication, "who is a spire a knowledge of art and a love credited with having done more to in- for beautiful sculpture and painting than any other man of his age in America. His name is Lorado Taft."

"The Blind" by Taft.

Mr. Taft's best known work is probably the marvelously beautiful group, "The Blind," inspired by Maeterlinck's play of that name. Mr. Taft is the author of an authoritative history of American sculpture, and in many public-spirited manifestations has repaid abundantly the debt that every man is said to owe his profession.

"The institution over which I preside," declared President Edmond J. James of the University of Illinois in a recent address, "has thus far cost something like twenty millionse of dollars, but it has produced Lorado Taft, and if another twenty millions resulted in another Lorado Taft it would be a good investment for the state."

This lecture by Lorado Taft will be one of the events in the program of the State Librarians association conference which will be in session here this week.

CASE AT UNITARIAN CHURCH

Prof. Clarence M. Case of the department of economics will address the young people of the Unitarian church at seven o'clock Sunday evening. His subject will be "Religion and Progress."

SOLDIERS WANT ENGLISH COURSES

Professor Hunt Finds a Desire to Study in Spite of Restless Military Life.

"The boys at Camp Dodge want courses in English," says Professor Hunt who has just returned from Des Moines, "But as yet no classes have been formed." Though the boys are in a restless mental state not conducive to learning, they have some spare time and are eager to have study classes. Big posters, "Those who Want English Sign Here," and "Those Who Can Teach English Sign Here," have been put up throughout the camp. The many signatures to the former indiettes there is a demand for English work.

There are a few illiterates in the camp and these will be given attention first.

The establishment of courses of study in a camp such as this is a big enterprise and one that will entail going over of the whole situation according to Professor Hunt.

BIG MEN ARE ON CLUB PROGRAM

Philosophical Club Will Have Good Speakers on Public Lecture Courses This Year.

The University Philosophical club has decided to continue its public lecture course. The year's program will be concerned with "The Changing Order," in which the changing order of the world in reference to the child, woman, science, religion and society will be discussed.

Four of the papers will be given by members of departments. The other two lectures will be delivered by distinguished speakers from outside. The first by President O'Brien of the University of Indiana, and the second by Dr. Earl Barnes of Philadelphia.

The series will begin Thursday, Oct. 23.

DR. BOSE PUBLISHES ARTICLES ON TAGORE

In last month's "The Platform" appeared an article by Dr. Sudhindra Bose, of the department of political science, entitled "The Message of Tagore." This article is an interview which Dr. Bose had with Tagore.

Tagore, he says, comes from a very old and cultured family in the province of Bengal. He, unlike most prophets, seems to have received honor in his own country, for Dr. Bose says that when he spoke in India, no hall could be found which was large enough to accommodate his audiences.

"Tagore's purpose," Dr. Bose says, "is to reconcile the differences of the Orient and the Occident. The gospel which he speaks is the gospel of socialized action, of unselfish love, of human brotherhood."

JESSUPS RECEIVE FRESHMEN

President and Mrs. Walter Jessup opened the doors of their home to all first year students last evening, and a large number of freshmen took advantage of their opportunity to become better acquainted with the faculty and their fellow classmen. The rooms were decorated with autumn leaves and flowers and presented a very charming and home-like appearance. Refreshments were served in the dining room.

PHYSICAL TRAINING COURSE NOW GIVEN

Intend to Train Teachers and Supervisors For Physical Education Work.

Opportunity for vocational training of women at the University of Iowa has been enlarged by the introduction of a special course for the training of teachers and supervisors in department of physical education. In the future it will not be necessary for women who want to teach physical education to go elsewhere.

The department of physical education now offers a course on the completion of which the degree of bachelor of arts in physical education will be granted to those who have satisfactorily completed the requirements of certain special and professional subjects.

No additional tuition fee is charged for the normal course in physical education. Entrance requirements are those of the college of liberal arts plus a keen sense of rhythm. Only such candidates as are found to be in satisfactory physical condition are admitted. The purpose of the course is:

1. To furnish thorough instruction in the theory and practice of physical education.
2. To give students a broad knowledge of the physiological, chemical, and physical fundamentals of physical education in emphasizing these allied subjects.
3. To prepare students to fill positions as directors of physical education in public schools, high schools, colleges, and Young Women's Christian Associations.
4. To provide supervisors of playgrounds, community center work, and swimming pools.

More detailed information is to be found in the folders in the drawing room of the women's gymnasium. It is planned to have the first graduating class three years hence. A number of last year's freshmen are enthusiastically entering the course.

PRESBYTERIAN PASTOR MADE COLLEGE HEAD

Macalester college has engaged a president.

Dr. E. A. Bess, Presbyterian student pastor, University of Iowa, Iowa City, has accepted the position recently tendered him by the college trustees, B. H. Schribner, secretary of the board, announced today.

Dr. Bess is 48 years old, and has a wife and three children. One son is a professor of English in a Congregational school near Luxor, Egypt.

The new president probably will take charge of the college Feb. 1, meantime Dean R. U. Jones will continue to act as president.

THOMPSON HAS TWO ARTICLES

Professor E. N. A. Thompson Writes on Freedom of Press and Sir Joshua Reynolds.

Prof. Elbert N. S. Thompson is the author of an article in the Mid-West Quarterly for April, entitled "The Idea of Toleration in Puritan England."

"Among English speaking peoples the freedom of the press seems a requisite for all healthy intellectual life," Professor Thompson declares. He takes this up in detail in the instances of poets, philosophers, and statesmen, and shows that freedom of the press has been desired by men of the most widely varying temperaments.

A second article "The Discourses of Sir Joshua Reynolds," has been reprinted from the publications of the Modern Language Association of America. In this reprint, Mr. Thompson has carefully reviewed these "Discourses" which are thorough-going discussions of the theory and spirit of painting.

WELLER GIVES ART LECTURES

Shows Effect of Bombs on French Cathedrals at Rheims, Amiens and Autumn.

Architectural values of the French Gothic cathedrals and the effect produced by the bombs of the so-called modern civilization on them, was explained by Prof. C. H. Weller, in his art lecture Saturday morning.

The lecture took up a short sketch of the development from the early Roman churches to the final masterpieces of northern France. The principal part of the discussion was taken up by the details of thrusts and abutments, and concrete examples as shown in Autumn, Rheims and Amiens.

IOWA LAW GRADUATE DIES IN CEDAR RAPIDS

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, October 7—Special to The Daily Iowan—James H. Crosby, Law 1891, died at his home here Saturday. He was, for many years, one of the most prominent members of the Linn County Bar association and was widely known as a lawyer and an orator. A popular man in fraternal circles here, he was also an ardent church member and active in community welfare work.

Mr. Crosby is survived by his wife, formerly Margaret A. McGovern of Iowa City, and four children, all of whom live in this city. He was 51 years old.

ORGANIZE CLASSES.

Professor S. H. Bush leaves today for Des Moines where he will organize French classes for the soldiers at Camp Dodge. The Y. M. C. A. is planning to open courses in different subjects for the drafted men. The University of Iowa is one of the first schools in the country to start extension work of this kind. Prof. Hunt of the department of English has been in Des Moines recently to organize work in English.

CORNELL LEAD IS OVERCOME BY THE HAWKEYE ELEVEN

Cornellians Get Two Touchdowns Second Quarter—Etter Goes for 45.

DAVY SCORES FIRST FOR IOWA

Jenkins Goes in for Brigham and Von Lackum Takes Hamilton's Place.

By overcoming a lead of five points obtained by the visitors in the first half, the Hawkeyes triumphed over Cornell in their opening game of the season by a score of 22 to 13. The score at the end of the first half was 13 to 8 in favor of the Purple and White.

The heavier athletes from the Mt. Vernon college out played Iowa in practically every department during the first half. All of their counters were registered in the second quarter, but the Hawkeyes were on the defensive and playing on their own territory throughout the first half.

Cornell Scores Twice.

Cornell's two touchdowns were made in rather quick succession shortly after the opening of the second quarter. The first one came at the very beginning of the second period, when Cornell was awarded a big gain on a long pass because Davis fouled the recipient. This carried the ball to the 20-yard line, and a series of smashes, terminated by a four yard gain by Etter, gave the visitors their first touchdown.

A second touchdown followed close upon the first. After the oval weaved back and forth a little while in the middle of the field, a pass from Nugent was grabbed by Etter, who raced forty-five yards for a touchdown. This time the visitors kicked goal making the score 13 to 0.

Jenkins Goes in.

At this time Jenkins was sent in for Brigham, who had been conducting himself very well in the quarterback's position. Von Lackum also went in for Hamilton. From this time on the Hawkeyes maintained a decided superiority. Through a combination of punts, passes and smashes, the Hawkeyes wormed down into the danger zone and Iowa's 2 points on a safety resulted.

Following the safety the ball was brought out to Cornell's twenty yard line. Two penalties for rough playing and stone wall defense by the Iowa line kept the ball in the Cornell territory, in close proximity to the visitor's goal line, for four or five minutes. This spell was broken when a fumble by Hartwell, the Cornell quarterback captain was recovered by Iowa. On the next play Davis went over for a touchdown after receiving a fifteen yard pass from Jenkins—just four seconds before the end of the half.

Kaiser is Downed.

Between halves, freshmen in the college in the University, put on a little football game between the nations of the earth. Kaiser Wilhelm was in scandalously poor condition and his death in the fray and the details of his funeral procession were truly heart rendering. The moral was: Militarism cannot endure. Democracy wins.

The second half opened with Cor—

COME OUT FOR IOWA.

"Steve" Casey was right when he criticised the attendance at the mass meeting Friday night. There should have been a larger crowd out for the first meeting of the year.

Professional colleges nearly always have a good turn out at these meetings. They have their own cheer leaders, and sit together in a body. Their spirit is commendable.

From the general appearance, it is the liberal arts college that has the smallest attendance, in comparison with its size. We would like to see more of the girls at these "pep" meetings.

"Steve" is right. Keep up the spirit of "the old days" and let's have a record turn out at the next meeting.

THANKS, FELLOWS.

"Hot stuff! Go to it, you engineers!"

The Daily Iowan is sure that it voices the opinion of the students in general when it commends the "show" put on by the engineers between the halves of the Cornell game.

It has been customary to have some sort of entertainment between the halves of the home games, but too often it is accepted as a part of the price of admission, without a thought as to the work it was to produce it.

The first meeting of the Political Science club will be held Monday, Oct. 8, at the home of Prof. and Mrs. B. F. Shambaugh.

The president of the Political Science club this year is Prof. C. W. Wassam, secretary, Prof. Jacob Van der Zee.

"FUSSING" THE GAMES

"The senate may abolish the paddle and take away the blanket, but the freshman who takes a date to a football game in violation of the non-date tradition shall not find life a bed of roses," says the cheerleader of the University of Kansas.

Dates at football games have long been unpopular at that institution, and according to the University Daily Kansan, the students still insist that the date habit must end at the grid-iron gate.

PROFESSOR DILL PERFECTS PRESENTATION METHODS

Prof. H. R. Dill of the zoology department has perfected some valuable new methods for the making of artificial accessories to be used in the museum group work.

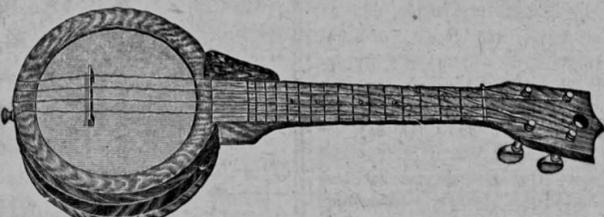

Formerly each section of the plant specimen has been cast separately and assembled by hand requiring a great deal of time and expense. In the system now employed he is able to cast an entire plant or group of plants at a time. The great difficulty which has interfered with museum work in the past in the cost of skilled labor is eliminated.

Professor Dill has also made the discovery of a certain wax composition to be used in the casting by which the plant hardens with age and becomes as permanent as glass. When kept away from the dust in the air it will last indefinitely.

On the bison group that is now in the process of completion, actual sod is being used which has gone through a certain process that makes it permanent and restores the original color.

CORNELL LEAD OVERCOME BY HAWKEYE ELEVEN

(Continued from page one) Cornell facing the wind. Cornell kicked to Jenkins, who returned the oval from the 10-yard line to the 35-yard line in a spectacular run. VonLackum, in the first play, kicked to Cornell's 25-yard line. The ball passed back and forth in the middle of the gridiron for five minutes.

Iowa Gets Lead.

Then Iowa started toward the visitors' goal by consistent strides of from four to six yards to a smash. Nugane, who injured twice in yesterday game, played an important part in the acquisition of the touchdown which came at the end of this campaign, although Davis carried the ball across the line. Iowa was now leading with a score of 15 to 13.

The remainder of the second quarter was rather featureless. It ended with the ball in possession of the Purple and White at about the center of the field.

Etter, the visiting fullback, with the aid of the wind, punted the ball to the north end of the field in the first play of the last quarter. The ball was returned to the Iowa 20-yard line by the officials where Von Lackum punted for 15 yards out of bounds against the wind. Cornell worked down to the Iowa 15-yard line. Unable to accomplish anything against the Iowa line, Hartwell attempted a drop kick, which fell short by 10 yards. This was the last time that the Iowa goal line was in danger.

Waddie Scores Again.

Beginning at the 20-yard line after this attempted drop kick, the Iowa team marched down the field by smashing. A long punt which evaded the little visiting quarterback gave Cornell possession of the ball on their own 8-yard line. On the next play, Jenkins returned Etter's punt to the Cornell 25-yard mark. A forward pass from Davis to Jenkins netted a gain of 10 yards and four or five smashes and end runs in which Peterson figured prominently made it possible for "Waddie" to carry the pill across for the third touchdown in a four yard smash across left tackle. The game ended with the ball on the Iowa 30-yard line.

The game yesterday shows that Coach Jones has a big job on his hands, to place the Iowa eleven in a condition that will make a good showing against the Cornhuskers at Lincoln next Saturday. Cornell, it must be conceded, has an exceptionally strong eleven this year, yet Iowa should have won by a greater margin than they did. One of the prominent shortcomings of the team is its inability to use the forward pass method of attack to any advantage. Jewell Stars.

On the line, Jewell's work sparkled. Time after time he wormed through the opposing wall to throw the backfield men for losses. Bender and Reed both did creditable work in stopping the runs around their ends, but their offensive work was not as good as it will be later in the season. Block had a slight edge on the opposing center in both the accuracy of his passing and his defensive work.

Davis and Jenkins stood out, of course, in their work in the backfield. Nugent, despite his handicap by injuries was a good ground gainer and played a fairly good defensive game. Hamilton and VonLackum out punted Etter of the visitors, but did not prove to be as good at advancing the ball as the collegian athlete.

Etter Plays Well.

Etter stood out as the best offensive and defensive player on the Cornell team, although Hedges' work on the defensive helped the Purple and White on several occasions. Hartwell's playing must be described as hard, rather than good. At least, it can be said, he did not live up to his reputation. Several of his feats were of the sensational order, but the times that he was thrown for losses while carrying the ball, more than

All kinds of leather and all kinds of paper and everything to make it easy for you to get the thing you are looking for. They do anything in the printing and engraving line and do it the way you want it—and when you want it—which helps some. Go into their place and look them over—it's mighty interesting. They have machines to do everything, it seems. Then there are at least seventy-five people working there. When you Freshies get up against it for ideas in printing trot right down to the corner of Washington and Linn streets and see them. They'll pull you through." "How're their prices?"
