MASS MEETING AT SEVEN TONIGHT. BACK THE TEAM!

THIRD CONFERENCE OF NEWSPAPER MEN IS TO MEET HERE

Iowa Editors Will Meet in Annual Convention at University at Homecoming Time.

WILL DISCUSS PUBLICITY PROBLEMS

Noteworthy Newspaper Men Will Be Brought Here to Consider Problems of War.

The third annual conference of Iowa newspaper men will be at the University this year Nov. 23-24, the time of the Homecoming and the Ames game.

Plans for this conference have been somewhat delayed because Conger Reynolds, who had charge of journalism at the University last year is doing war service at Fort Snelling. Definite plans, however, are under way to bring one of America's most noteworthy newspapermen here to discuss some phases of the problems that confront the editors and publishers of the country in this international crisis. Representative men from over the state will also be on the program.

To Consider Publicity Problems

Questions handling publicity for the many of the service associations now doing work in army camps and naval stations will be considered from the standpoint of the editor. The proper organization of a news staff, the training of reporters, the filling of places left by enlisted men, and a host of other matters will be of interest to Iowa editors.

Many editors of the state have combined business with the instinct of sportsmanship and have come to enjoy both the conference and the Ames football game. Coming as it does at the time of the great football contest many Iowa newspapermen will likely leave their duties to attend the meeting here at Iowa City.

Committee Appointed.

A new committee, composed of O. E. Klingaman, director of the extension division, Dr. C. H. Weller, University editor, and F. B. Thayer, who came here recently from the University of Kansas to take charge of the work in journalism, has been appointed by President W. A. Jessup to arrange for the conference.

Already many accommodations have been reserved to take care of the visitors. Last year ninety-two newspaper men were registered for the meeting.

PHILOS HOLD PROGRAM

The Philomathen literary society will hold its usual program at the hall Friday night, immediately after the mass meeting.

Program:

- Music—Thomas
- Optional—Anderson
- Debate—Johnson, Aff. Sandy, Neg.
- Reading by Herrick.

Frank Vetter of Grant has been pledged Alpha Tau Omega.

Artus Cummins of Cedar Rapids will spend Saturday and Sunday with her sister June at the Gamma Phi Beta house.

All Iowa Fights

Experience teaches that success is not the test of worth. It is no effort to smile when life runs smoothly. It is no distinction to be gay when one has never known sorrow. It requires no resolution to return to the mat with the flush of victory still on the brow. It demands no determination to run onto the field for the second half with the game in your favor. Neither strength nor weakness is detected that way. True worth is shown in defeat. It is the man, who, bowed down with a burden almost greater than he can bear, straightens up, walks erect that the world may never know what he carries on his back,—who possesses character. It is the team, that, hopelessly outclassed in the first period, comes back that second half with a grim resolution to produce, a stern determination to smash through opposition, a recuperative power that knows no defeat,—that demonstrates true worth.

Grinnell battles Iowa tomorrow in the second contest for the state title. The Scarlet and Black is a veteran team. It outweighs the Gold several pounds to the man. It has scored, in two games, 104 points to 0 for its opponents. It possesses Augustine, generally conceded as one of the best all-round athletes the state has produced in recent years. Iowa has one of the lightest and most inexperienced teams in her history. At best, she is only on even terms.

"Iowa Fights." That slogan means much. It means that torn ligaments go unnoticed. It means that broken bones halt the opposing runner. It means that every Hawkeye player stays on the field as long as he can move. It means that any Iowa eleven must be respected to the last minute. But in a broader sense, it means more than this. It means every student in the university is behind his team. It means that we support it financially, morally, physically. It means we fight for it, on the field and off the field. It means we stand by it in victory or defeat. It means an opponent must not beat eleven men, but three thousand.

Are we, as students, doing our part?

The time has come. Now, in this hour of its greatest need, with a victorious school invading our campus, with the Old Gold eleven forced up to the wall, with defeat behind and uncertainty ahead, let's back that team to the last man. Let's flow out to that mass meeting tonight. Let's pack that auditorium. Let's cheer for that team, sing for it, root for it, yell for it. Let's show Grinnell it must beat every student in the university. Let's demonstrate that "ALL IOWA FIGHTS."

Y. W. C. A. SUPPORTS SECRETARY IN CHINA

Only State University in Country That Has Secretary Supported by Students.

The State University of Iowa is the only state university to have a Y. W. C. A. secretary in China who is supported by the students and alumnae. Miss Ruth Paxson Iowa '98, sailed for China Sept. 1 for her second term of five years service.

During Miss Paxson's first term of office in China she was the only national student secretary for the whole of China. Only recently the government schools of China have been opened to the work of the Y. W. C. A. This makes Miss Paxson's work a very important one.

An "Iowa in China" committee has been formed among the alumnae and all of the classes organized. All the classes before 1895 are giving $200 each year as a body. Every class between 1895 and 1916 is giving $50. The China fund committee hopes that $200 will be put into the budget of the student association each year as the student's share of the fund.

Ruth Cummings of Ottumwa is spending the week end at Pi Beta Phi house.

OFFICIAL NOTICE

Each student in the University who expects a degree or a certificate at the University convocation to be held February 4, 1918, is requested to call at once at the Registrar's office and file the necessary formal application on a card provided for the purpose.

Please give immediate attention to this University requirement since a student who may have fulfilled all other requirements for the degree or certificate expected, may fail to be recommended for it on account of his failure to file this application in time. H. C. Dorcas, Registrar.

TO TELL EXPERIENCES IN TRENCHES

Oklahoma Man, Fresh from Battlefield Will Speak.

Carl McGee, of Tulsa, Okla., fresh from the trenches of France will give a talk on his experiences on the European battle fronts at the engineering building this morning at 11 o'clock, Dean W. G. Raymond announced last evening.

Mr. McGee went to France as ambulance driver in the French army over six months ago and has returned to relate his vivid experiences and impress upon the people the importance and seriousness of the great struggle across the water.

BIG DEMAND IN WAR FOR CIVIL ENGINEERS

Dean Raymond in Interview Tells of Opportunities for Civils in War Times.

"In the present world crisis, the greatest demand for trained men in the field of engineering is in the department of civil engineering," declared W. G. Raymond, Dean of the college of engineering, yesterday.

"It is obvious that armies which demand such a vast amount of supplies, must have excellent roads of communication. Transportation efficiency depends upon the civil engineer, who builds the roads, keeps them open for service and lays out the drainage system of the battle trenches."

"Mechanical and electrical engineers have their fields as well," Dean Raymond said, "and they are in demand in branches of the coast artillery, field artillery, and signal corps."

The majority of the members of the senior class in engineering this year are students of civil engineering.

Irene Miller and Irene Ritter, who were in school last year, are visiting at the Alpha Chi Omega house.

SNAKE DANCE WILL FEATURE BIG MASS MEETING PROGRAM

Great Crowd Expected at Monster Pep Meeting at Natural Science Auditorium.

HAWKEYE TEAM TO BE ON PLATFORM

Dean Teeters Will Preside and Mary Kinnavey and "Bill" Felkner Give Talks.

Everything is in readiness for the mass meeting in natural science auditorium tonight. The program announced in yesterday's Iowan will remain intact, excepting that the committee in charge has decided that the quartet music which was planned would be out of place at a meeting of this sort.

By eliminating this feature of the program it will be possible to concentrate more on a shorter program and emphasize the snake dance and the open air part of the evening's events. Every student who attends the meeting in natural science auditorium should plan to help this new feature a success.

The committee in charge of arrangements promises that everything will be over in time for men to take their 8 o'clock dates, under the usual translation of 8 o'clock in social circles. Your services are greatly increased, however, if you men don't bring girls and if you girls don't bring men.

Here are the facts that the student should know about the mass meeting tonight.

The meeting will begin at 7:15 o'clock.

The first part of the meeting will be held in natural science auditorium.

Every loyal student with two sound legs is going to be there.

So is the team.

The band and the cheer leaders will be there too.

The program in natural science will be as follows:

- Dean W. J. Teeters, presiding.
- Speech—Mary Kinnavey.
- Speech—"Bill" Felkner.
- Speech—Mr. X.

When the regular program is over, the band will pass out of the auditorium before the audience. Led by the band the snake dance line will begin at the natural science building and file down the walk to Clinton in a straight line. Here the weaving will begin, the band, however, will lead in the center of the street in regular formation.

The line of march from Iowa avenue and Clinton street is as follows: South on Clinton to College street; east on College street to Linn street; north on Linn street to Iowa avenue; west on Iowa avenue to the steps of the Old Capitol, eight blocks in all.

Here the cheer leaders will take charge of the meeting and lead in a short series of yells, and the band will play the accompaniment while the audience sings the first verse of Old Gold.

Is there any reason why you can't be there?

SIGNIFICANCE OF GRADES

The belief held by many students that leaders in the scholastic field are generally failures in the work-a-day world is more consoling to the mediocre student than it is loyal to the goddess, Truth. It will take more than the finding of a Phi Beta Kappa key now and then in a New York pawn shop to convince us that the acquisition of this ornament is a contract with failure.

A better place to eke out the truth in this matter, it seems to us, is in "Who's Who." Ninety percent of the men listed in that volume are former college students, and a strikingly large part of these persons have been graduated with honors or hold membership in Phi Beta Kappa, which stands as a proof of their scholarship. Investigation would show a dearth of "just got by" records in the academic period in the lives of these men.

The preponderance of evidence in favor of the good student indicated in this examination of "Who's Who," makes the "pawn shop" Phi Beta Kappa keys loom up as the exceptions which are always present in substantial rules. We challenge the supporters of indifference in scholarship to send forward a champion to meet Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, a graduate of the University, whose scholarship made him valedictorian of his class.

This is not saying that honorary scholarships and Phi Beta Kappa keys are sure passports to success in the practical world about us, although it must be admitted that they are fairly good signs. Our aim in making these observations is merely to disillusion, if it is possible, those few students who have placed their stakes on mediocrity in scholarship. A change of attitude in these persons would be augmenting their chance for future success many fold, in our opinion.

PREJUDICE AND THE JEWS

In this land of America, this land of many lands, now welded into one great union, there is little place for race prejudice, and especially prejudice toward any one class of people now enjoying the loyal liberty of our shores.

For years the Jew has been condemned. And even yesterday some student made the remark that she would not listen to a Jew.

Such an attitude is wholly wrong. Today the Jews are fighting side by side in the Allied armies to make a victory for democracy. Such a remark shows narrow-mindedness, for here in comfortable Iowa many students do not realize some of the great problems that lie before the American people; some have little conception of the deeper meaning of industrial difficulties, the questions of poverty, and of social reform.

Sunday the students of the University of Iowa will have the opportunity to hear one of the great leaders of the Jewish race. The University is living up to its real opportunity in bringing Rabbi Wise to this city. A speaker of his known achievements in welfare work for his own misunderstood race ought to have the attention of the student body. Rabbi Wise has a vision, a conviction, a belief.

If you do not hear this modern prophet you miss an opportunity of your University career.

HE'S NOT A GROUCH

All freshmen and some upper classmen as well look upon the professor as a necessary evil that should be dealt with accordingly. There is always a race to get out of the door and get away from him as soon as possible after class unless it is absolutely imperative that they remain.

Most of the instructors at Iowa State are human beings. True they make us work and do some things which at times we do not like, but they usually do it for our good, even though we may not think so at the time.

Most professors like to meet and talk things over with students. They like to meet students on a friendly basis. They are willing to talk about anything from the day's work to the world's series if you give them half a chance. The trouble is we don't usually give them the chance.

We aren't advising you to see how much of his time you can take as he is busier than you. At the same time many a prof that you think is grouchy will change your opinion of him in about fifteen minutes' conversation. Give him a chance.—Iowa State Student.

THE STATE YOU LIVE IN

Iowa has one automobile to every seven persons.

Iowa's horses are worth more than the cotton crop of any other state.

Iowa's hens lay eggs that are worth more than all of the country's oranges.

Iowa has more bearing apple trees than any two Pacific coast or Mountain states.

Iowa's corn crop is worth more than the wheat crop of Canada or Argentine.

Iowa's cattle are worth more than the tobacco crop of the U. S.

Of the 289 medals and prizes offered at the Panama-Pacific Exposition for farm products, Iowa carried 284.

What Others Think

The Daily Iowan will gladly print any communications from students or faculty members. The writer must sign the article to show his good faith in sending it, but no name will be printed if the sender so designates.

If Nebraska girls helped put enthusiasm in their game, as the article signed An Iowa Girl, states, why does the writer object to such participation when she admits their success? She concludes with an expression of the opinion that girls should not be encouraged in attempts to further enthusiasm at mass meetings or games because of ridicule from young men in spite of good breeding.

She is right in saying that the men must change their attitude before successful rooting by the girls of the university can be established. But right now is the time to educate the men into a broader, progressive spirit which will make them recognize the girls as fellows and loyal co-supporters of Iowa.

The criticism has often been made that the liberal art students lack unity and proper organization, that they do not come to mass meetings in a body to do organized rooting as do professional colleges of the University. The accusation has been made, too, that the large number of girls enrolled in liberal arts is responsible for such indifference. The girls are willing, eager, to take part in supporting University activities,—the large percentage of girls who purchased year tickets this season is proof of their loyalty. But do not want to be laughed at when they join in the rooting. It is not because they believe that to yell for the team is unwomanly, but because they are afraid of ridicule, that they have been more or less negligent.

A faculty woman once said that the University a few years ago had a yell master with a forceful personality; without the too-common gymnastic performance on the platform, she could, as she expressed it, "make gray-haired women, seventy years old, yell until they were blue in the face."

Here is a hint as to how we can make liberal arts rooting more organized. Students, if you want to help develop enthusiasm, either do not bring your relatives to the section of the balcony reserved for liberal arts students at mass meetings or if outsiders accompany you, see that they, too, root for Iowa. Tonight we have a mass meeting. Come out. Make your friends root or else leave them at home. And most of all, men, please, please don't laugh at the girls.

Another Iowa Girl.

WILSON MAKES LIBERTY LOAN PROCLAMATION

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14—(Special)—The President's Liberty loan proclamation, issued today, follows:

By the President of the United States of America, a Proclamation: The second Liberty loan gives the people of the United States another opportunity to lend their funds to their government to sustain their country at war. The might of the United States is being mobilized and organized to strike a mortal blow at autocracy in defense of outraged American rights and of the cause of liberty. Billions of dollars are required to arm, feed, and clothe the brave men who are going forth to fight the country's battles and to assist the nations with whom we are making common cause against a common foe. To subscribe to the Liberty loan is to perform a service of patriotism.

Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States of America, do appoint Wednesday, the 24th of October, as Liberty Day.

and urge and advise the people to assemble in their respective communities and pledge to one another and to the government that represents them the fullest measure of financial support. On the afternoon of that day I request that patriotic meetings be held in every city, town, and hamlet throughout the land, under the general direction of the secretary of the treasury and the immediate direction of the Liberty loan committees which have been organized by the federal reserve banks. The people responded nobly to the call of the first Liberty loan with an oversubscription of more than 50 per cent. Let the response to the second loan be even greater and let the amount be so large that it will serve as an assurance of unequalled support to hearten the men who are to face the fire of battle for us. Let the results be so impressive and emphatic that it will echo throughout the empire of our enemy as an index of what America intends to do to bring this war to a victorious conclusion.

For the purpose of participating in Liberty day celebrations all employees of the federal government throughout the country whose services can be spared may be excused at 12 o'clock, Wednesday, the 24th of October.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done in the District of Columbia, this 12th day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and forty-second.

Woodrow Wilson.

NINE SCIENTISTS WILL DISCUSS WAR

Dean G. F. Kay Will Give First Lecture on the Relation of Science to the War.

"The Relation of Science to National Welfare and the Great War," is to be discussed by lectures in the symposium, the schedule for which was announced Wednesday. Nine prominent scientists have been selected to give this course of lecture in the University.

"Certainly there is opportunity here for the students of Iowa to do something for preparedness. It is the patriotic duty of every loyal American to know how we can make the most of our future as a nation," Prof. G. L. Houser of the department of animal biology, declares.

"The progress of the great war will be characterized by posterity as a struggle between the wits of scientific men," Professor Houser continued, "Germany was terribly ready with all the science she had. Not until the allies took counsel with their men of science, could there be hope for democracy."

But Dr. Houser asserts that effective scientific warfare is not the aim of science. "The real goal of science is the uplift of mankind. Science provided the basis for the progress of civilization before the war began; she hopes to make the world a better place to live in after the war is over."

Dean G. F. Kay will give the first lecture of the course a week from tonight at 7:30.

GIRLS CELEBRATE BIRTHDAYS

Six birthdays were celebrated at Currier hall this week. Table picnics were held for most of the occasions. For Dr. Mabel Williams' birthday on Monday and Miss Prosser's last evening, however, the table members donated large cakes.

Prof. C. H. Welier went to Chicago on a business trip last night and will return Saturday morning.

METHODIST GIRLS INSTALL CHAPTER
 Beta Chapter of Kappa Phi Club Organized at Iowa for Girls of Methodist Preference.
 A new club for Methodist girls was organized last year and Wednesday evening was installed as the Beta chapter of the Kappa Phi club. Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Kent, both of Lawrence, Kansas, and patronesses of Alpha chapter at Kansas University, were in Iowa City and installed the chapter.
 Kappa Phi is a club which has been organized to promote friendship among Methodist girls and to give the women in a State university the advantages that women have at a sectarian college. Its aim is to bring Methodist girls together. Membership is limited to women who either belong to the Methodist church or prefer that church while in the University, and show an interest in the work of the club. All phases of church life will be studied and women prepared for the church of tomorrow. Besides this there is a distinct social side which will bring the girls of one denomination to know each other as Methodists.
 Fifty girls were initiated as charter members. The following officers have been elected: Ruth Sailor, president; Rosetta Byers, vice-president; Emily Fisher, secretary; Esther Anell, chaplain; Laura Singer, chairman of membership committee; Geneva Wiles, chairman of program committee; Agnes Dawson, missions; Jeannette Parrott, chairman of religious committee; Katherine Dayton, religious education committee; Gladys Hayden, social committee; Cliffie Harlow, handbook; and patronesses, Mrs. L. F. Townsend, Mrs. W. A. Jessup, Mrs. Nellie S. Arner, and Dr. Mary K. Heard.

QUIZ MASTERS ELECTED IN COLLEGE OF LAW
 At a meeting of the law faculty held Wednesday afternoon the following second year students were appointed quiz masters to have charge of grading, under the supervision of the professors, the written tests in the first year courses, and the supervision of the first year students' note books:
 Clyde E. Jones, agency; Marcus H. Mullany, contracts; Stewart Holmes, criminal law; W. Keith Hamill, torts; Fred Parish, use of books; Ralph Lynch, property.
 Mr. R. E. White, and Calvin Besore, who were eligible to be appointed quiz masters, were passed over on account of their already having been appointed to other positions, the former secretary to the dean of the law school, and the latter, assistant law librarian.
