Saturday’s receipts total $6,000

Leaders will push drive until Tuesday evening—Expect $100,000 total.

In a roomful of $6,000 in the show-rooms is yesterday, as in previous years, the campaign among the students. This brings the combined total for freshmen and sophomores to $77,000, or nearly $1 million. Students are already talking “Will Iowa take $1 million?”

D. Richard Young, chairman of the drive, believes that it is not only possible, but that there is good reason to expect it. The combined drive is arranged with the City banks to extend the time of closing subscriptions until Tuesday evening. It is known that there is still a large amount of subscriptions outstanding from classes that have not yet been collected, and from the reports of the canvassers white and black.

But the great bulk of the subscriptions in expected to come today.

Melvin in Lead

“We should have more of the large subscriptions,” said Mr. Young, last night. “There are students in this Intenity that gave the minimum tit who could and should give $5 or more. Yesterday alone brought heavy returns from the metros, who uncompro- misingly signed up for $10 or more. The totals also showed gains, with the section in the lead.”

The high school drive is still coming from the pharmacies and from the stores. The former are connected with the drive, but the application already in hand should counteract any loss from the stores. The total for the school drive jumped from $4,000 to $11,000, possibly the recession from fraternities, sororities, and literary societies.

Rivalry in A. L. College,

The chief interest, however, is the contest around the rear of the liberal arts college. The freshman still lead the field with $1,118. The business showed a peak of $9,200 on Wednesday, which was perhaps due to the market in yesterday’s drive, as the sophomore would have shown them out of sound place.

The sophomore brought in $1,469, and their leaders are glad that their team were not too dejected by the rough reception from the class. Those three classes are close together, all are anxiously awaiting the outcome of some large subscriptions which have been called for.

Students are notified that all subscri- ptions must be turned in to the Liberal Arts headquarters in room 250 A. L. by 4 p.m. Tuesday in order to be counted.

Harry Janssen, an assistant in the hospital, is visiting the campus today for Camp Benjamin Harrison. Where has he a contribution, as first baseman, he expects to meet with felicitous circumstances.

IOWA FIGHTS’ SIGNS MADE BY PHARMACIES

Dr. Men in Senior Class Work Full Afternoon—Paint Made in Pharmacy Lab.

"Iowa Fights!"

Do you know what those huge signs done on Iowa field? It wasn’t the largest college on the campus, but it was a top college. In fact, it was the seniors in the college of pharmacy.

And you’ll be surprised to know the amount of work connected with these three "Iowa Fights" done that day.

Six senior pharmacy students, under the direction of Professor S. A. Peirce, spent the afternoon repainting the old signs as much as possible.

Several times they were called to help in driving out of their opponents’”

They carried on a battle with a brush for half a day on the weather-boards. This means that it is a battle of wits and not a brush for the job, and probably more for the man who wasn’t full of brush who painted worse work as hard as these men did.

The boards on the old signs were tremendously thorough that afternoon. They drank up three gallons of paint until this year’s whitehead has been made for these signs, but the phar- macists feel that they might as well be made permanent. The black and white signs used were made in the professional laboratory and were of the best quality than commercial pro- ducts.

At all classes in the whole University would observe the work of the senior pharmacists and bring in sub- stantion proportion with their num- bers, what it would mean, somehow. What’s next?

POTTSTOWN, Pa.,—It is reported that Dr. D. Johnson and his sani- ty systems are looking natural, with the exception of handles of boot- ing and a few things on the side. John didn’t think a fine Iowa many’s idea was amusing the telephones and running around the campus, and the telephones though they didn’t object to some of them.

—Dr. H. L. Altshule is spending Sunday in Delawora.

OHIO STATE: Buckeyes built up their season’s record yesterday against "Oklah." and, their sani- ty systems are looking natural, with the exception of handles of boot- ing and a few things on the side. John didn’t think a fine Iowa many’s idea was amusing the telephones and running around the campus, and the telephones though they didn’t object to some of them.

MADISON—Robert C. Olin has signed up again "Dad," John, and his sani- ty systems are looking natural, with the exception of handles of boot- ing and a few things on the side. John didn’t think a fine Iowa many’s idea was amusing the telephones and running around the campus, and the telephones though they didn’t object to some of them.

Students showed a yellow streak by cordiality, we do not want war. But to enter the conflict. We did not make the war. The names which are handed to students. The course which is to be given to students. We are ready for the examination of the Italian. The names of the professors reporting the instructors will be held in confidence. If our plan displeases some, we are sorry. But if it does anything toward eliminating an odious practice, we shall feel simply justified in arousing the wrath of the few.

A WOMAN'S EDITION

For weeks the editor of The Daily Iowan has been trying to obtain a request from the women of the University to get out a paper all their own. These attempts have been futile, however.

Next week it is proposed to make an article of the woman's edition. It will be a condensation, pure and simple, if it is men enough as any girls mentioned. They say. A sports story would have to be masked as an "Official Notice" to break into the content of this. The decks are cleared for the woman's edition.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

What Others Think

The Daily Iowan will gladly print the comments and opinions of instructors and professors who hold their classes over the hour.

It has been instructed that The Daily Iowan is playing the part of a quilter for not printing the names of the men who are in the war. These men in situations have emanated from seeds of departments, instructors, and students. It is plain that this plan is approved by a majority of the readers of the paper.

There is no need for entering into a discussion of the injustice of holding classes on Saturday. Everyone concedes that it is a misnomer, but students have had no way of checking the practice up to this time.

The Daily Iowan is going to make an exception against the class disrespect. It will merely publish the names which are handed in voluntarily by students of the University. The names of the professors repeating the instructors will be held in confidence. If our plan displeases some, we are sorry. But if it does anything toward eliminating an odious practice, we shall feel simply justified in arousing the wrath of the few.

T. W. C. A. ORGANIZES NIGHT SCHOOL

Foreigners Learn French, Spanish, "Arithmetic and English." We have been trying to include classes during the day and for foreigners who are instransspring learning English. Five classes have been organized already and more will be organized if necessary. They are as follows: French, Dutch, Fokhart, Spanish, Florence, Florschut, Horace, Helen Hamlet; English, Grammar, Mildred Manfield and Corinne Howey.

These classes are open to all that are interested. The course in grammar will be adapted to individual needs and are open to foreigners as well as Americans. The course in arithmetic will deal with fundamentals and we shall eventually take up quick methods of making change. The fee will be $3.00 payable at any time during the year. If any girl taking the course wishes to join the T. W. C. A. this fee will be considered her membership fee and she will be entitled to all privileges of membership.

A books covering further information can be obtained through Miss Anderson at her stand on Monday and Wednesday nights beginning at 7:00 and 8:30. The school is under the supervision of Mrs. W. A. Bird and Ethel Bird.

GYM PARTY A SUCCESS.

One hundred and sixty girls enjoy a social time at the gymnasium Friday night. The feature of the evening was the Tommy Ducklegs jamboree. Thirty girls dressed in pajamas with a man's coat and paper collar at the waist, bedehandled through the sleeves and a huge black beard gave a lively little dance for the crowd. They were vigorously encourged. The remainder of the evening was spent with games and fortune telling, "bobbing" and dancing.
