LOAN CAMPAIGN REGISTERS $75,000 AS IT NEARS CLOSE

Medics and Dents Subscribe Heavily to Liberty Loan Juniors Lead In L. A.

SATURDAY'S RECEIPTS TOTAL $6,000

Leaders Will Push Drive Until Tuesday Evening—Expect $100,000 total.

An increase of $6,000 is the showing made in yesterday's Liberty loan campaign among the students. This brings the combined total for faculty and students near the $75,000 mark.

Students are already asking "Will it be possible to reach the $100,000 mark?" D. Richard Young, chairman of the committee, believes that it is not only possible, but that there is good reason to expect it. The committee has arranged with the Iowa City banks to extend the time of closing subscriptions until Tuesday evening. It is known that there is still a large amount of subscriptions outstanding, from classes that have not checked in, and from the reports of the fraternities which are not complete. But the great bulk of the subscriptions is expected to come from the students.

Medics in Lead

"We should have more of the large subscriptions," said Mr. Young, last night. "There are students in this University that gave the minimum $50 who could and should give $500 or more. Yesterday again brought heavy returns from the medics, who unquestionably deserve first place in the rank of colleges. The dents also showed gains, with the seniors still in the lead."

The first reports were received from the pharmics and from the nurses. The latter were delayed somewhat in starting their canvass, but the application already in, show that the S. U. I. hospital girls will do their share. The total for organizations jumped from $600 to $1,500 yesterday, with the receipts from fraternities, sororities, and literary societies.

Rivalry in L. A. College.

The chief interest, however, continues to center around the race in the liberal arts college. The juniors still lead the field with $7,150. The freshmen showed a gain of $1,200 yesterday, which was perhaps due to the scare they got Friday that the sophomores would nose them out of second place. The sophomores brought in $1000, and their leader declared that his teams would renew the campaign Monday with all their energy. With these three classes so close together, all are anxiously awaiting the announcement of several large subscriptions which have been rumored.

Students are notified that all subscriptions must be turned in to the Liberty loan headquarters in room 205 L. A. before 6 p. m. Tuesday in order to be counted.

Harry Jenkinson, an assistant in the University hospital, left Saturday for Camp Benjamin Harrison, where he has a commission as first lieutenant. His special work will deal with tuberculosis.

ALL ABOUT THE FLAG POLE

About $250 was collected last year for the flagpole to be erected on the campus. At that time, it was thought that a pole could be procured for cost from the government. On account of the war and the great number of poles required for the various camps and cantonments, the government stopped supplying poles to any other institutions.

The lowest prices which could be received from private firms were $300 for a fifty-foot pole. This would not carry a large garrison flag, but only a small one. The standard seventy-five foot pole can not be procured for under $850, which figure does not include the flags or the freight.

For some time there was some idea of asking for a new tag day to meet the increased cost, at least of the $300 pole, but on account of the many demands for contributions for war relief work, it was thought inadvisable.

The money already raised is in the hands of the president's office.

This fund will probably be expended for some sort of war work as soon as the proper object presents itself. Since all the proceeds of the military ball will probably be turned over to some such purpose, the military department is inclined to wait until the two funds can be put together.

PAUL R. ROCKWOOD, Cadet Colonel, S. U. I. Regiment.

HAWKEYES BATTLE BADGERS 20 TO 0 IN GRUELLING GAME

Iowa Springs Surprise and Holds Wisconsin to 7 to 0 Score Through First Half.

TWO TOUCHDOWNS IN THIRD PERIOD

Fresh Wisconsin Backs Plunge Exhausted Hawkeye Line For Double Score.

Outweighed nearly fifteen pounds to the man, on a strange field, and doped to lose by forty points, Iowa upset all predictions at Randall Field, yesterday afternoon and held the heavy Badger eleven to a 20 to 0 score. Indeed, at the end of the first half it was still anybody's game, and hope an high among the throngs of Hawkeye followers gathered about the score boards, awaiting the reports on the third quarter.

Not until the second half was well under way did Wisconsin push over the touchdown that practically decided the contest, and even then, the threatening offense of the Old Gold backs made the Cardinal rooters ill at ease.

True "Iowa Fights"

Early in the first quarter Wisconsin took the ball, and by consistent line-plunging, coupled with some successful forward passes, crossed the Hawkeye goal line. It appeared like a walk-away and forty points were freely predicted in the press box. But Iowa came back. All through the remaining twenty-five odd minutes of that half, Coach Richards's proteges strove in vain to pierce that Old Gold line; but though gaining at intervals, were consistently turned back. In the middle of the second quarter, the Wisconsin press box reported, "Iowa is fighting hard."

Badgers Score Twice.

The second half saw Wisconsin thoroughly awake to the proposition, that what they had considered a one-sided contest, was likely to turn into a disaster. Richards hurried new men into the lineup to bolster up the Badger offense, fresh backs were now hurled against the light, exhausted Hawkeye line. Slowly it gave way, and two touchdowns were registered before the fresh material spent its attack. Wisconsin, however, did not possess the dogged persistence exhibited throughout by the Iowa team. Once the vim acquired by fresh backs was exhausted, the Gold line again held. All through the last quarter, the battered, fatigued Hawkeye team stood firm before the Badger attack and when the final whistle blew, Coach Jones's fighters left the field with an honorable defeat.

This game means much to the morals of the Iowa eleven. They have demonstrated to themselves, that, despite their handicap in weight, they have the ability to give respectable opposition to their heavier opponents. That the Hawkeye team, and particularly the line, must have received a fearful battering yesterday, is beyond doubt; but since the reports recorded no vital injury, they may be expected to recuperate easily by next Saturday.

The lineup:
Reed L. E. Weston
Jewell L. T. Scott

"IOWA FIGHTS" SIGNS MADE BY PHARMICS

Six Men in Senior Class Worked Full Afternoon—Paint Made in Pharmacy Lab.

"Iowa Fights!"

Do you know who put those three huge signs down on Iowa field?

It wasn't the largest college on the campus, but it was a college which possesses more than its quota of spirit. It was the senior class in the college of pharmacy.

And you'll be surprised to know the amount of work connected with those three "Iowa Fights" down there. Six senior pharmics wielded a brush for a half day on the weather-worn boards. This means that it would take one man three full days to do the job, and probably more for one man who wasn't full of the spirit which he painted wouldn't work as hard as these men did.

The boards on that old fence were tremendously thirsty that afternoon. They drank up three gallons of paint. Until this year whitewash has been used for these signs, but the pharmicists felt that they might as well be made permanent. The black and white paints used were made in the pharmacy laboratory and are of better quality than commercial products.

If all classes in the whole University would observe the work of the senior pharmics and make a contribution proportionate with their numbers, what would it mean, someone asks.

Who's next?

JOHN IS HAPPY AGAIN

Eastern Stars are gone and once again "Dad," John, and their sanctorum are looking natural, with the exception of bundles of bunting and a few things on the side.

John didn't think a nice big full grown man's duties were answering the telephone and running errands for the delegates though he really didn't object to some of them.

Dr. H. J. Aitfillisch is spending Sunday in Bellevue.

MEET THE TEAM

The team will be home on the 9:30 interurban this morning. The band and a large delegation of students will be out to meet them after their game fight at Wisconsin yesterday afternoon. Let's all be out to meet them.

HIGH SCHOOL BATTLE TO SCORELESS TIE

In a close, hardfought contest, the high school teams representing Iowa City and West Waterloo, played to a scoreless tie on Iowa field yesterday afternoon. The game was very close throughout, but the visitors appeared to have a slight edge on the local eleven.

Several times they came within striking distance of their opponent's goal, only to lose their opportunity by incomplete passes. Once they actually crossed the goal, but a penalty made the effort wasted. The visitors seemed powerless to gain through the Little Hawkeye line when a gain meant scores, the local eleven presenting a stone wall whenever their goal was threatened.

Iowa City has another hard game on its schedule for next Saturday, when it contests the strong Newton eleven on the local gridiron.

"PRICE REGULATIONS" THEME AT GRINNELL

Professors Of Economics And Sociology Meet in Annual Session.

The second annual meeting of all Iowa college professors in the department of sociology, economics and commerce closed at Grinnell yesterday afternoon following a two day session. In the words of Professor C. W. Wassam the meeting was a great success inspirational, educational and entertaining.

The principal theme of the session was the study of, "Price Regulation," raising the question, whether or not the government should fix a minimum price in order to stimulate production. Other questions of national and state welfare relative to economic science were given serious debate and consideration.

Thirty professors, representing ten colleges over the state of Iowa participated in the discussions. Six professors from the University were in attendance and figured prominently in the program. They were: N. A. Brisco; P. S. Peirce; H. B. Whaling; C. W. Wassam; R. A. Stevenson; F. D. Haynes.

The first meeting of the association was held at the University last year and was the outgrowth of a movement instigated by Dr. Brisco, who desired a greater cooperation among the colleges of the state in the study of economic and social problems. Dr. Brisco's efforts have been realized, in the organization which now meets annually. The meeting will be held at Ames next year.

Dr. Brisco is the retiring president of the association. J. P. Wycoff, of Grinnell will assume the presidential duties for the ensuing year. Chas T. Hickok, Coe, vice president; N. R. Whitney, Iowa University, secretary and treasurer. The executive committee is composed of R. McKittrick, State Teachers College, Sidney Chandler, Cornell, and Dr. Brisco, Iowa University.

Ada Yoder of Kalona, is a guest at the Alpha Xi Delta house.

GRIT YOUR TEETH

All who read the daily reports from the war fronts—and we could wish that more students were in the habit of doing so—are anxious and distressed today at the news from northern Italy. In the past few months the Italian army has made marvelous advances along the Isonzo front and taken long strides toward the accomplishment of Italian aims in this region. Now a huge German army has come to the aid of the enfeebled Austrians and struck a smashing blow at the Italians, forcing them to evacuate the Bainsizza plateau and retire to their own borders.

This calamity is a disillusionment to those of us who hoped that the war might be over this fall or winter, and lends color to the view which our war office has held from the first that the war may still last for three or five years, or even more. It also proves the wisdom of our government in making preparations on an enormous scale. Our enemy has a tremendous war machine and is using it with great skill and vigor.

But this situation is also bound to make more evident another fact—the calm, inflexible determination of the American people to go on through. Patient to a fault, we waited long and endured much before we entered the conflict. We did not want war. We do not want war. But we are in the war, and, cost what it may, we are going on to the end. Disaster and discouragement may come. Such things only spur the American sort to greater effort. We are going to win. It may cost billions more of our money, thousands more of our lives, but liberty is worth the cost, we reason. No genuine American will flinch or show the yellow thread. We will only grit our teeth the harder and go ahead.

NOTICE IS HEREBY—

Above we see an artistic frame. Notice the corners. Fit perfectly, don't they?

From out of the distance comes a still small voice, echo-like it is. It says: "What's the big idea of this here frame o'yours? Whose picture yu goin't to surround with it?"

Here's the explanation in a nutshell.

The border you see will form the trimmings for the list of instructors and professors who hold their classes over the hour.

It has been insinuated that The Daily Iowan is playing the part of a quitter for not printing the names of these time disregards. These insinuations have emanated from heads of departments, instructors, and students. It is clear that this plan is approved by a majority of the readers of this paper.

There is no need for entering into a discussion of the injustice of holding classes overtime. Everyone concedes that it's a misdemeanor, but students have had no way of checking the practice up to this time.

The Daily Iowan is going to make no crusade against the time disrespectors. It will merely publish the names which are handed in voluntarily by students of the University. The names of the persons reporting the misdemeanors will be held in confidence.

If our plan displeases some, we are sorry. But if it does anything toward eliminating an odious practice indulged in by only a few faculty members, as it has done at two or three of our neighboring universities, we shall feel amply justified in arousing the wrath of the few.

A WOMAN'S EDITION

For weeks the editor of The Daily Iowan has been trying to smother a request from the women of the University to get out a paper all their own. His attempts have been futile, however. The girls win. Tuesday morning's paper will be written, edited, made up, and, were the editor mean enough, he might say, read, by girls alone.

The women are going to offer a reward, it is rumored, for any trace of masculinity in this issue. It will be a condescension, pure and simple, if a man even so much as gets mentioned, they say. A sports story would have to be masked as an "Official Notice" to break into the columns Tuesday.

The decks are cleared for the women's edition.

GENERAL LOGAN TO SPEAK

General Guy E. Logan of Des Moines will speak at the commercial club at 7:30 Monday evening. General Logan will explain the principles of the Second National Guard, which is now under formation. Every one interested is welcomed.

What Others Think

The Daily Iowan will gladly print any communications from students or faculty members. The writer must sign the article to show his good faith in sending it, but no name will be printed if the sender so designates.

It is reported that some University students showed a yellow streak by betting that Iowa would lose to Wisconsin by a thirty-five or a forty point margin. The writer of this communication is of the opinion that anyone who will bet against his University under any conditions is a poor sport. If you must bet, bet on some other contest when you don't think Iowa is going to win is our theory.

Y. W. C. A. ORGANIZES NIGHT SCHOOL

Foreigners Learn French, Spanish, * Arithmetic and English.

The Y. W. C. A. has organized a night school especially for those who are unable to attend classes during the day and for foreigners who are desirous of learning English. Five classes have been organized already and more will be organized if necessary. They are as follows: French, Ruth Dockerty; Spanish, Florence Robinson; Arithmetic, Helen Sherrard; English Grammar, Mildred Mansfield and Corinne Howry.

These classes are open to all that are interested. The course in grammar will be adapted to individual needs and are open to foreigners as well as Americans. The course in arithmetic will deal with fundamentals and will especially take up quick methods of making change.

The fee will be $1.00 payable any time during the year. If any girl taking the course wishes to join the Y. W. C. A., this fee will be considered her membership fee and she will be entitled to all privileges of membership.

Anyone wishing further information can see Miss Anderson at her office Monday and Wednesday nights of next week from 7:00-8:30. The school is under the supervision of Mrs. N. A. Brisco and Ethel Blythe.

ENGINEERS RETURN

The senior electrical engineers will return from a week's inspection tour of manufacturing plants at Milwaukee, Racine and Chicago this morning. They returned by the way of Madison, Wis., where they attended the Iowa-Wisconsin game yesterday afternoon.

GYM PARTY A SUCCESS.

One hundred and fifty girls enjoyed a social time at the gymnasium Friday night. The feature of the evening was the Tommy Ducklegs dance. Three girls dressed in pajamas with a man's coat and paper collar at the waist, broomhandle through the sleeves and a huge black head gave a lively little dance for the crowd. They were vigorously encored. The remainder of the evening was spent with games and fortune telling, "bobbing" and dancing.

Kappa Kappa Gamma will hold open house for fraternity men this afternoon from 2:30 to 6.

Dr. Sudhindra Bose, lecturer in Oriental Politics, is spending several days in lecturing at various points in the state.

The first number of a series of engineer's dances was held at the Majestic hall Friday evening. Over forty couples were in attendance.

John Byers, '16 graduate of pharmacy, and Bernice Lumsdan were married October 24. After a trip through the east they will be at home in Estherville.

Florence Dennison of Tipton and Esther Petty of Marion are guests at the Gamma Phi Beta house.

Grace Emory, Gamma Phi Beta, is spending the week end at her home in Des Moines.

were comments made by the members of the Wilton Junction high school when they visited the University museum Friday afternoon. The party was headed by their high school superintendent and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Snyder. Prof. T. R. Dill accompanied them explaining the various groups and pointing out many curious and interesting specimens.

The Laysan exhibit seemed to call forth the most exclamations of interest and admiration from the young people. "Makes one almost hold his breath so those birds won't fly away." "It sure is scenery, isn't it?" "Never saw anything so real, and you can hardly tell the painted wall from the real thing." These and many more opinions were expressed as the visitors turned reluctantly away.

The buffalo group which has just been completed was eagerly examined from all sides. Many comments were made about the naturalness of the picture. The wild rose bushes were admired and the visitors all crowded around when someone discovered the tiny mouse which seemed to be intently watching the sham battle between the buffalo and the calf.

From this group the boys and girls wandered about, stopping occasionally before some odd specimen or before a vividly and beautifully colored bird. However, the serial collections were only so many animals or birds with no background to make an appeal to the imagination, and the visitors soon passed off to another

Animals Appear Real

Among the smaller groups which attracted attention were the mountain lions, the mountain goats, the Virginia deer, the passenger pigeons, the screech owls, and the turtles. Each of these tells a story of the country, the wild life, the home and the habitats of these animals. To closely study any of these is a real education in itself. As one visitor remarked about the screech owls, "This group is so natural that you forget that they are not alive. You can almost see them move." The passenger pigeons, which form a comparatively recently completed display, were closely examined, especially when the class learned that this species is now extinct.

BALDWIN TO DISCUSS NORMAL CHILD

The make-up of the normal child is the subject which will be discussed by Dr. B. T. Baldwin at the Iowa State Teachers' association meet at Des Moines next week. Dr. Baldwin is a professor in the graduate college and director of the Iowa Child Welfare Research station.

He has advanced graduate training at the Universities of Chicago, Harvard, and Leipzig, and for several years he has been carrying on experimental investigation with a view to formulating a scientific statement which will evaluate a normal child from the physiological, mental, pedagogical, social, and moral points of view.

PAYS IOWA CITY LAST VISIT BEFORE SAILING

James Harrison, now a member of the Canadian Highlanders, formerly an Iowa City boy, is visiting Iowa City friends this week on his last leave of absence before sailing to France from Halifax this week. He wears the conventional Scotch garb, and his bare knees and interesting little cap caused much comment among students of the University yesterday.

Mr. Harrison was graduated by the Iowa City high school two years ago and would probably be in the University this year, had he not enlisted. He joined the Canadian company last spring at about the time of United States' entry into the war. Don Harrison, who is probably better known among students of the University now, is a brother of this man.

The home folks would like to read the Daily Iowan.
