POWERSOME TEAM OF SAILORS WHICH APPEARS ON IOWA FIELD SATURDAY

HAWKYES DISPLAY GREAT IMPROVEMENT DURING PAST WEEK

Though They May Possess Less Power Than the Average, Men Have Developed.

"CHUCK" LAUNIS POTENT FACTOR

Veteran Iowa Captain is Cause of the Resumption of Old Gold Eleven.

Once more a war is nearing its conclusion and once more the Iowa football squad is going through the final stages in preparation for a national contest. Once more the football coaches are being administered to a reconstructed eleven. Once more sport followers are noting the points of improvement in the team and once more the week spots are being passed over. But the team has improved! Every successive defeat has shown a better aggregation. The question is: Can it improve enough?

The aggregate of a team increased effectiveness, depends upon the improvement of its individual members," said Coach Howard J. Easton last evening. "Every man must take a hand in the right spirit. He must strive to make more offensive his own game. In no other way will the team, as a whole, develop; and we must improve rapidly in signal defeat.

Contrary to expectations, the first Iowa practice of the season, so unproductive with the freshmen, was, but was sent out and down the hold in signal defeat. The latter part of the practice, however, the latter was given a short workout against Harrov's super conservatives. The work of the line seemed to be particularly catered, especially in offensive play.

The Iowa eleven has remained the same as announced yesterday with the exception of half back. Here is shown the probable eleven for the game by year's team. He has been deemed offensive play.

According to reports the Iowa eleven, which has a fourth team in the aggregation of a team's leftover to a reconstructed eleven, is the more. Following the introduction of the team, which has already been deemed offensive play.

STATE TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

Some of the interviews from the University of Iowa, who are attending the State Teachers' Association in Des Moines this week, are: Miss Antrim, who is chairman of the executive committee; President W. A. Jessup, member of the legislative committee. Why? E. L. Lewis, E. J. Starbuck, E. J. Montecarlo, W. S. Rollin, G. W. Stewart, L. J. Stamm, B. F. Shaughnessy, Irving King, Dunn Warren, C. M. Marion, C. L. Wassam, G. G. Bonjean, J. J. Barton, E. H. Baker, C. H. Willis, E. R. Stuart, J. M. Illington, etc.

Most of these classes are not being met today. No nullifications of the class are being held on account of Miss Isom's and Miss Weidman's absences.

WILLIAM GUTHMAN LECTURE

The second lecture of the series on French sports being offered by Dr. C. H. Wolter will be delivered this week by the state teachers' convention in Des Moines. The lecture will be continued next week.

NEWSPAPER OF THE STATE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA

"Indian" Blacklock

This little segment of the series on French sports is being held on account of Miss Stewart's and Miss Wolfe's absences.

WALTER STRADLICKTE MICHIGAN ARGUS

Who Plays Here Saturday

"Indian" Blacklock, Captain of the Michigan Argus who plays here Saturday.
The minute you enter this store of oats, you'll be impressed with the spirit of service that prevails here. We try to be helpful; both in the quality of the goods and in seeing that you get what is right for you and what you ought to have. If we really serve, the selling takes care of itself.

Young men like them--military styles by Hart Schaffner & Marx

In the picture you see one of the new military overcoats and one of the military sport suits.

These are just two of the many good styles we have here for young men who want the live-liest touches.

Belts all around, yokes, plaits, patch pockets, easy drapery--these are a few of the smart features. Come in and see them on you. All-wood, fit and satisfaction guaranteed. You can't find a better service anywhere.

JU-JITSU TRAINING INTRODUCED HERE

Military Department Offers New Course for Cadet Officers.

Ju-jitsu, the martial art used in trench warfare, has been introduced in the courses offered in the military department. The course is modeled after a similar training in English and Canadian training camps.

"The work will include everything that will be of benefit to the men in the trenches, along the line of in- cline. The course will be rough, but it will prepare the men for the work that they will put in the trenches, should they ever have to enter the war," Director B. G Schmidt said yesterday.

Swimming, wrestling, boxing, and all sorts of holds, throws andfalls involved in hand to hand conflict, will be included.

"You sure are hard when you finish one of the courses in athletic training that the Army men par- ticipate," is the way one man from a Canadian training camp recently put it.

F. L. Wieser, instructor in physical training will have charge of the work. At present only nomination of officers in the officer regiment are eligible, although there is a probable chance that cadets will be extended to admit non-commissioned officers. About fifty men are now enrolled for the Jiu-jitsu work.

CANADIAN OFFICER SPECIAL

Y M C A. WHISPER SPEAKER

(Continued from page one) masterpiece of the enlisted men. These men are taken away from almost every type of amusement. The men of the very pursuit of recreation is placed next to the man of refuge and of education. They are left without the things which have filled the most of their lives and they must look some place for their recreation. In the aims of the Y. M. C. A. is to provide these men with the things they need to eliminate the monotony of resting in the lower types of what seems to them amuse- ment. It is for this reason that the campaign to raise $12,500 here at the University has been launched.

ALL LITERARY SOCIETY DANCE TO BE NEXT WEEK

The annual all literary society dance will be given Friday, Nov. 9 at Company A hall by the three major literary societies, Sigma Kappa, Irving Troup, and Philomathian, and their sister societies, Hotspur, Eta Delphian, and Octave Thetism.

Penney and Child's five piece orchestra will play for a program of selected dances. It is expected that about a hundred couples will attend.

The all literary society dance was established last year as a means of getting the members of the various societies acquainted and for furnishing a co-operative feeling among the members. Two non-commissioned officers from each of the men's literary societies make up the committee in charge of the dance.

HAWKES DISPLAY GREAT IMPROVEMENT THIS WEEK

This should continue a good mark.

Logan Looks Good.

There is one big thing which makes the Hawkeyes look about eight percent stronger than ever be- fore. That is the presence of "Chock" Logan, the veteran Iowa cavalier, whose broad shoulders form a reassuring bastion on the battlefield. His untamable right wing; whose toe is an ever potent factor, and whose power, strength and defensiveness, and whose powerful figure, rounding the end with the neat under his arm, causes teams of exaltation to slip up the spine of the spectator. His presence is cer- tain to count heavily for the Gold in Saturday's game.

Something about own record, and the many stars on the Jacky seals, the Hawkeyes are not over- confident. Every man is expecting a hard contest. But one thing is sure—the Hawkeyes are a business- man than at any time this season. Training that the men of the line, along the trench, is nothing to sneer at. And with the addition of Chock Logan, there is nothing to make you think this is a collection of a group from the past, under the new banner.

PREPARE TO REDEEM

A long and cold winter is the pro- jection of Prof. H. H. Hill of the State University as symbolized by the appearance of the goshawk in this region as early as November.

Mr. P. L. Fitzpatrick has in the past week been able to obtain both a goshawk and a pheasant hawk for the museum. Mr. Dill explains that this goshawk is a bird of the extreme northern regions and its migrations is governed by the food supply there. Last winter for the first time in years a small group of these birds appeared in this part of the country. Mr. Dill believes that this is a probably a sign of a cold winter of long duration.
