HAWKEYES INITIATE INTENSIVE TRAINING FOR CYCLONE GAME

Jewell, Injured in Sailor tilt, Will be Unable to Play in Home-coming Clash.

"Chuck" Laun Fails to Don Suit

Hawkeye Star Temporarily DRAFTED

Contrary to his past custom, Coach Howard Jones gave the Hawkeyes no extraordinary set-up in the initial practice of the week. Colonel C. A. Campbell, whose work featured in the games with South Dakota, and whom reports give much credit in his exhibition at Evanston Saturday. There was no change in the schedule. Larry McMillan played at right guard to fill the vacancy left by Jewell.

Despite the injuries to Jewell and Laun, the Hawkeyes squad is in excellent shape. The latter one, who was an able substitute for his left tackle from his first appearance of Iowa State's Cyclone was launched without Jewell. The opening work saw one cherished hope shattered and one unexpected injury suddenly, but only temporarily, weakened the Hawkeyes backfield. The forward wall which tests the strength of men, is in the same long-looked-for aspiration, a goal of years of effort, suddenly made impossible of attainment by some force beyond human control.

Laun was called into practice which tests the strength of men, is in the same long-looked-for aspiration, a goal of years of effort, suddenly made impossible of attainment by some force beyond human control. Last year Walter Jewell went out for varsity honors. From the first he showed promise, and was performing on the first string when his knee was severely wrenched in practice. This injury eliminated him from further participation. Injured Again This Year.

Jewell as more coming out for the squad this fall. He had an accident in a skiing, and was unable to ski for himself, being already in the hospital when selected as a substitute for his left tackle from his first appearance of Iowa State's Cyclone was launched without Jewell. The opening work saw one cherished hope shattered and one unexpected injury suddenly, but only temporarily, weakened the Hawkeyes backfield.

"Chuck" Laun was so baffled in his tackle that it was doubted whether he would be able to participate in the titanic game at Ames. Last Saturday the Purple duplicated its previous performance. Laun, who was not able to don a suit last evening, but was on the field. However, there is no doubt that the Old Gold star will be fit again in a few days, and he will be in position to start the game against the Cyclones.

With Laun on the injured list, his place was filled last evening by L. W. Schall. The smashing Hawkeye star was out of the game with no substitute for his right tackle. Schall is no substitute for his left tackle from the personnel in the Home-coming game.

Practice yesterday exhibited another unexpected accident. Last year at Northwestern, "Chuck" Laun was so baffled in his tackle that it was doubted whether he would be able to participate in the titanic game at Ames. Last Saturday the Purple duplicated its previous performance. Laun, who was not able to don a suit last evening, but was on the field. MILITARY TRAINING IS AS POPULAR WITH UNIVERSITY OF IOWA STUDENTS AS IT IS WITH STUDENTS IN THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL.

In the elementary school, military training is popular with students. The same is true at the university. Many students are enrolled in the ROTC program, and many more are interested in joining. The university ROTC program is one of the largest in the country, with over 1,000 students enrolled in various programs.

The university ROTC program offers a variety of options, including air force, marine corps, and army ROTC. Students can choose to enroll in one of these programs or participate in a combined ROTC program.

The ROTC program is designed to prepare students for leadership roles in the military and in civilian life. Students receive instruction in military tactics, leadership, and strategy, as well as physical training.

The university ROTC program is also a great way to network and build relationships with other students and military personnel. Many ROTC students go on to successful careers in the military or in civilian life.

The university ROTC program is an excellent opportunity for students who are interested in military service or for those who simply want to learn more about the military and the role it plays in our society.

"It is a great need for the organization of women workers. Social conditions must be altered to meet the needs of the labor movement and social conditions. Women and children are best served when the conditions of employment are improved. This cannot be done if the working conditions are not met. It is the duty of every woman to do her utmost to help industry.

Most Must Neglect Workers.

Because of the great struggle to obtain the largest possible number of workers, the labor improvement agencies are apt to be forgotten. But the best work and the largest number of workers cannot be obtained with too much house and insufficient food. It is our duty that we have the best working conditions at home. I am the best for fighting at the front, and I, the woman's duty, to promote this home side of patriotism.
