WAR AFFECTS RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Professor Stewart Says Enrollment Is in Good Newsworthy

A school of religious education that has felt the effects of the war this year realized reduction of ten percent of its enrollment. Although the total enrollment has been lower than in any previous year, a decrease of ten percent is not as great as many faculty members were afraid of. A man who picks an all-star eleven has won but three or four of the eleven he has chosen. He has had to have some clues to discern talent and select the right people. The right combination of the gullible public. Not that a man participates in athletics in general, but he is more interested in the books than the play. The right combination of

EQUAL RIGHTS

Within the past ten years, women have won the right to vote. This was a great step forward for women's rights. However, there are still some issues that need to be addressed. One of the biggest issues is the lack of equal pay for women. Women are still paid less than men for doing the same work. Another issue is the lack of representation in politics and in other areas of society. Women need to be given equal opportunities in all aspects of life.

 automobile

The automobile has become a necessity for many people. It has made travel much faster and more convenient. However, the increase in automobile use has also led to pollution and traffic congestion. There are efforts to address these issues, such as the use of alternative fuels and the development of more efficient vehicles.

A NO EXCUSE FOR SLEEPING IN CLASS

Heating and Ventilating Systems

Provide Proper Conditions

Sleeping during recitation periods was ceased to be a proper recitation period this year according to the new statute. The system was found by Dr. P. B. Pfeiffer, head of the department of botany, to be unsuitable for ventilating and heating the new large lecture buildings. Both provi- sion for proper ventilation and heating, without the opening of the windows is of the utmost importance. Thermocouples operate steam valves in the radiators to ensure a constant supply of heat to the radiators. The air temperature is also contro- lled by means of thermostats.

The liberal arts building is heated and ventilated by the Pienzer system. All heat and air for ventilation passes through a network of passages where the air temperature is raised to sixty degrees; then by means of two large fans it is forced through ducts leading to various rooms. This theory of system is in the air at present a certain quantity of air is provided for ventilation, its temperature being regulated by the weather conditions. The hot room air passes to the basement. The hot air goes to the radiators, and finally air is drawn from the various rooms in the basement.

This is considered the best equipment of its kind. A program of entertainment will be arranged.

IOWA EXPLORERS TO USE

GOVERNMENT BUILDINGS

Prof. C. C. Nating, who will lead a party of Iowa scientists in an expedi- tion to the West Indies next season, has received word that the High- grade government buildings on the Pelican islands, which will be the base of the expedition, will be turned over to the scientists, but plans are going forward rapidly and the scientists are now preparing. Prof. Nating notified. He made a preliminary visit to the building and he says that he has not seen a place where he could be more satisfied for scientific research than he could.

Dr. Sylvester Says Wisconsin Needs a Psychological Clinic

As a result of letters delivered by Dr. R. H. S. and teacher of the Psychology Department, the State Teachers association of Wisconsin has passed resolution urging that their state university employ a clinical psychologist to direct work with backward children in that state.

Dr. Sylvester, who has just returned from Wisconsin, reports that bills have been done for the backward children of that state. However, the University of Wisconsin realizes that it is necessary to establish a psychological clinic which will extend its service to the state.

It is Dr. Sylvester's expectation to return to Wisconsin during Christmas vacation to make a survey of the State School for the Feebleminded at Lakeville. At that time he will also help in the organization of the psychological clinic.
