TEN GIRLS IN READING CONTEST

5. Largest Number of Freshmen Will Participate in Contest.

Twelve girls have come out for the Reading Contest this year, the largest number who have entered this contest for several years and a larger number of freshmen than we have ever had.

The contests will be held in the natural science auditorium at 7:30 tonight. Miss Willett, Mrs. Arner, and Prof. Glenn N. Merry will be the judges. A prize of ten dollars will be given to the winner, to the person getting the highest place, and honorable mention to the contestant making third place.

UPPERCLASSMEN TO GET MILITARY CREDIT

Two Hours Academic Credit to Be Awarded to Upperclassmen Who Work in Military Department.

Two hours of credit will be given to all seniors and juniors who register for the "Advanced Cadet" in the military department for the second semester, according to H. D. Davos, registrar. These two credits a semester will count against the 190 hours of academic credit required for graduation; they will be received for the service done in the theoretical portions of this advanced course, which they satisfactorily complete.

Students who are eligible to receive this credit will be expected to register for the course, are expected to attend week by week, and practice regularly, and are expected to do week by week lecture and recitation periods of theoretical instruction. The two hours consist of lecture and recitation periods devoted as a part of the regular amount of work, as determined by the military committee, for which students are regularly permitted to register.

A contest will be held for the senior and junior who have shown the most interest in the department, and the prize of ten dollars will be given to the most successful contestant.

FRONTIER AND BARRICADE SORROWS

Tensions and Barricades Water Pipes Cause Serious Loss During Christmas Vacation.

More than $1600 loss is the result of the recent snow blizzards upon the residences and fraternity houses during the Christmas holidays. The Phi Delta Theta house suffered the most, having its entire plumbing system frozen, and the damages are estimated at $300.

The places at the Tri Delta house remained ice-bound for two days after they were first frozen, when the men found it necessary to hire a plumber to thaw the whole third story, and in walls and ceilings of the second floor. The fraternity house at the University, during the snowstorm, had an estimated damage valued at $50 dollars.

The University buildings were not as far as possible, upon account of the snow, the damage to the Heating Plant and adjoining buildings and heating systems. Only slight damages resulted from the blizzard, and these were probably caused by the cold weather.

THEORY AND PRACTICE MUST BE COMBINED

The Modern Commercial World Demands Trained Workers Who Are Honest and Efficient.

To gain the greatest success in the commercial world, we must unite the theoretical and the practical sides of business," said Charles H. Rethel of the Golden Rule Clothing Company in his address before the Commercial Club last night.
