You can't keep up with the Daily Iowan. The Iowan reporters tell you about all that is going on. No one person can get all the news.

SERVICE FLAG ORES

ADDITION OF 74 STARS

Seventy-four new stars have been added to the original field of 469 in the giant service flag which hangs between the columns of the Old Capitol. The flag was made as a result of the constant enlistments which are taking place among the resident body and alumni, and the future additions will be made until there is no more room in the white field for stars and a new flag is necessary.

Every star represents a man who is in actual service. If the University had adopted, as some other institutions have, the policy of giving starts to men and women in field war work, such as the W. C. T. U. or enlisted reserve corps, the number would be close to fifteen hundred.
