ORDERS FOR WAR HAWKEYE MUST BE IN BEFORE NIGHT

Management will Not Run Risk of Over-printing This Year.

Feature Editors of " Hiragam" Announce Excellent Progress.

Contrary to belief, today is the first day of the Hawkeye advertisement campaign. In previous years there have been extra copies of the paper available. This year, how-other on less, the first issue will not be reprinted.

On January 29, Professor Will A. Haywood will be in camp for the Spring Semester.

Great interest has been shown in the new paper by students and faculty.

Haywood is scheduled to speak to the class on the evening of his arrival.

THE WALK WHO KNOWS ANYTHING ABOUT THE MODERN MILITARY

My roommates are from Denver, and I found them to be very knowledgeable about the modern military. We discussed various aspects of the military, including its history, structure, and current operations. We also talked about the importance of military education and the role of military leaders in shaping policy.

Prof. Weller and Dr. McElvene Among Those Present Around The Pastime Board.

FIFTEEN STARS ON SERVICE FLAG

Sparkling Waters of Berkeley Well Inspired Speaker—Sec. and Annual Affair.

The Daily Iowan staff and its board of trustees held their second annual banquet last evening at the Berkeley Imperial. Prof. Ceva. H. Weller was toastspeaker and the official regent of the Wi.

Our editor in chief, Mr. W. Earl Hall, spoke at great length, expounding on the merits of his staff and contributing his usual share of clever stories. He exceeded his limit however when he told Virgil Hancher's only story and thereby robbed this member of the board who came later to speak on the question of the trustees, "Money, Money, Money."

Dr. McElvene spoke as a member of the faculty and a "freshman," this being his first year on the board. He made Tom Murphy digress from his assigned topic "Speed Up" to defend the honesty from which he originally bachelored.

Rayne Siller was asked to tell "How she gets 'em"—meaning nurses—and she incidentally added a fond farewell for we aren't going to have her next semester. And then Hollis Coonaman also said she was going to leave. Why we don't know, but Mr. Weller suggested that she say something about flying on the wings of a dove so we have our suspicions.

Mary Kinsley and Harold Newcomb were there as former members of the board of trustees. Miss Kinsley told us how they used to do it. Mr. Newcomb kept time on the people who talked too long.

The last speech was by our professor—Mr. Thayer. He seemed to be thinking a good deal about economy and his various applets and told us several funny stories.

There was, however, a serious side to the banquet too, for now in this time of war the Iowa has sent fifteen men to the service, fifteen men who might have been at the banquet. Gretchen Kans presented to the men of the department a service flag from the members of the Iowa Women's Journalist Club, more commonly known as the Hawk-eye Boops, Limited. The fifteen stars on the flag, which will be hung in the Iowa office, are for Censor Reynolds, Ralph Cutliff, Ray Clearman, Ed Mayer, John Steenerson, Homer Roland, Harold Chamberlain, Edward Kilwana, W. C. Richardson, Carl Jeske, Herbert Hammer, Lewis Holtt, Ray Leonard, Einer Sander, and Howard Boyd.

WAR SERVICE GROUP MAKES CONTRIBUTION

Dr. Mary K. Heard, as chairman of the War Service committee for the second congressional district of Iowa, today sent a box containing fifty new garments to the American Women's Hospital whose headquarters are in New York City.

Three beautiful warm garments represent the work of the Professional Women's league which is conducted by the women students of the professional colleges of the University in affiliation with graduate women located in Iowa City; sometimes was also given by friends who are deeply interested in this phase of war service.

Send The Daily Iowan home.
