DON'T SHOOT PIROUETS

The Extending Plodder: I have re­ceived instructions from the govern­ment that I am now exempt from the killing of pigeons. Thousands of carrier pigeons are being trained now as scouts for the army. This is important work in the great war for the United States and Canada.

TROOP SCALL SQUAD NUGENT AS CAPTAIN

Winner of Young Jump at State Meet and This Year's Halfback Receives Honor.

Lee C. Nugent, winner of the broad jump at the state meet last year, and backhand as this year's halfback, has been made captain of the track team at a meeting on the day of practice, in the presence of the band. This is the third time that "Juggie" has been made captain of the track team. He has been away from the University for two weeks.

Nugent is a native of the college in the group of men who have been selected for the band.

Henry Wiltz, freshman law andappa, Sigma Chi fraternity.

NUMBER 107

IOWA TRIMS AMES BY SCORE OF 24 TO 9

PETITIONS ANSWERED AT OFFICE OF REGISTER

During the present term, a number of fancy petitions that their abuse be enjoined have been presented at the Register's office. These petitions have been answered to these petitioners, according to an announcement by H. N. Dorsey, Register. In general they should plan to call for these answers two weeks after the receipt of these answers. This plan will be tried during the present semester, as a substitute for the plan of seeking out such notices by hand. Protestors Dorsey explains.

WOMEN'S MEETING ON LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY

Patrician Mass Meeting for Girls

Tendrupre of Women of States to Speak.

A patriotic mass meeting for girls will be held in the national Union at 4 o'clock, today. The 1935 women students of the University will attend. The Catawba women and townspeople are invited to fill all the chairs for the women's war meeting.

Short snappy speeches by President Smith, Miss Matson, president of the Iowa Equal Suffrage Association, will be given at the mass meeting. Another snappy speech, given by a Wa- neta girl, will be given at the meeting. Miss Matson's address will be given at the meeting.

PROSPECTS USUALLY GOOD

Track prospects took a leak yesterday when Coach Watson announced that Ames' playing was not effective as it has been several years. However, there was considerable evidence of the brand that he has in times past. The score will be announced later.

THREE WEEKS IN WAR WORK

The schedule of home games against Iowa State University and University of Iowa men's basketball teams has been released. The Hawkeyes will be at home for three weeks, as announced by Coach Watson.

THE HAWK'S FIRE

The Hawkeye's fire was quenched by the Iowa State University basketball team yesterday afternoon. The Hawkeyes played hard, but not hard enough to win.

THE DECISIVE: SCORE

The decisive score was 24 to 9. The victory is probably of another state championship for it is believed that the State College aggregation knows what America is all about.

DON PRICE ELECTED HEAD OF TEAM

National Association Declares for Elimination in Shooting—Iowa's Prospects Good.

Donald Price was elected captain of the University Rifle club at the annual meeting at the Assembly room yesterday morning. Prof. E. A. Wilkes was elected as vice captain. Major Wm. De Forrest Hahn was elected as secretary, and Murray was the assistant secretary.

According to the advice received from Washington, the University of Iowa and Iowa State will stand high at the present time. It is rumored that they will all be shooting from the same gun, and that two men will be the regulars. The shooting will be done at the moment.

There is no doubt, says former Major Hahn, declared, that the University of Iowa and Iowa State University will be doing a fine job as usual.

LARGE TICKET SALE FOR OTIS SKINNER'S COMEDY PRODUCTION

Mister Anthony Also In Portrayal Tomorrow

Smaller essentials in portrayal of Bevsey and Hurd-Gurny Man — All Comedy

Tickets for the production of Otis Skinner's latest comedy movie, "Mister Anthony," are going fast.

When the general sale opened at 9 oclock Monday morning, some half hundred persons were in line in the lobby of the Englert theater.

There was also an unusually large advance sale of mail order, and even yesterday morning it was difficult to get good seats.

North Tappinng Author.
Mr. Skinner forced Worsley to managemen and with the original cast will appear here in the comedy which North Tappington wrote especially for him tomorrow night.

The production is sponsored by the local library, and will undoubtedly prove the high class entertainment. Miss Jane Roberts, University librarian, says it is the biggest attraction of the year.

The consummate art of Otis Skinner is given full scope in development in the picturesque role of the unhinged handy-man, Tony Cashman. His success has been unbalanced through years of exceptional schooling under North, Hurd-Gurny, and many other great artists.

He has always strained to give to the public only that which is worthy in the way of plays. In the present volume,旗下itches with Caption, Mr. Skinner is said to equal the charac-to- portrait of his famous brother in "Hurd-Gurny.

"Mister Anthony" is only Tony, who keeps a store stand in New York in winter and travels the country area with his handy-gurny wagon during the spring season. The opening set is laid in a small roadside hotel in New York City, where he has just started his annual pilgrimage.

Tony, the Good Samaritan and the strangest and out of his difficult, much to the disgust of Pug, In fact.

From New York the scene of the play shifts to a small town in Pennsylvania. Here the man who had disgraced himself in the metropolis is mayor and holds full sway.

The stranger out of his difficulties, the town, as he declares, "the Holy Ghost would run it." The mayor is about to turn Terry, a young girl who is serving in the town, save the mayor.

She has been ordered to become the mayor the night before, and the mayor says, has disgraced the town and the good mayor, and it is the lawyer, and are so many more.

That lawyer, Tony, who has been so used as to happen quickly. It is needless to say the girl does not love Tony.

IOWA TIMES WITH BIG SCORE

Both teams were on the sidelines, Van Leckum from a hand wound and Morgan because of lumbalgia. The great crowd of the season attended the game. The Ames quartet estimated during the second half with three selections. No substitutions were made on either side throughout the entire game.

The boost and summary follows:
