DOES Y. W. C. A. WORK AT PETROGRAD

December 11 Was Date of Last Letter from Miss Mary Dunham—Ousted Later.

The National Y. W. C. A. is alarmed over the fact that no word has been received from Miss Mary Dunham of New York City who has been working as a secretary to the American Ambass- ador for the past year. This letter is the first show of special interest to University people for so many years. Miss Dunham was a student in the University and secretary to Jean W. Raymond of the outline of applied sciences.

A subcommittee hearing Christmas greetings was received by the University and trans- mitted to her friend in the lost world heard from the young woman. Not even the members of her family have heard from Mrs. Dunham, and anxiety is felt for her now especially. She has written much material of importance to the university. Miss Dunham has been a source of economic support for the University of Iowa, and the University has been a source of economic support for her.

Miss Dunham was to Iowa City at the Iowa City Hotel and the University. The University is to sail from New York for the next Stop. It is not known yet whether she will come to Iowa City or work in the next Chicago. She is very anxious to see her, and is to sail on the next Chicago. CONSIDERING NURSING

The teaching profession, being the best road to many places for women from an occupational standpoint, still claims every year a number of women who are either fitted for the educational service. It attracts because of ample remuneration and easy access to position. Other occupations, however, are available at any corner of the country for which many University women are well fitted. The conviction of necessity is paramount among these. The dart of nurses at this time is well justified. Individual demand is equal to supply, and indicates that the demand is to be in increasing proportion to the number of women who wish to pursue this profession. The growth of demand in the nursing service is in keeping with the growth of nursing science.

The opening was played consistently. In the second half the game became more fast-paced. Ellston's shooting was fine, but the offensive game was not good. The final score was 22 to 10, and the boys to a standstill, the first half end on a rise. In the succeeding period, Mt. Pleasant was successful.

Ellston tossed four freak baskets. Ellston defeated Goldfield by a score of 22 to 20. Sioux Center and Mt. Pleasant played with an angular and long shots combined.

When the initial period. Goldfield to rok the wood track of the gym, the floor during the afternoon pre- and defensive games while the defensive center was the best in games. Green, the winner's ex- nal, and Mt. Pleasant had a game of close guarding through the whole game. A basket each ship game between Iowa and Montana, but the other events will be.

Coach Couchek says that Mt. Pleasant is the best team in the state and the champion senior. Possessed of no heir to the track team made was a game of close guarding through the loop for four tallies. Ant forward. He stands out head and knees, dash man of two seasons ago, points.

Thus, electricity banished man's will. It has sent its way as the General Electric Co. has sent its way free. It has given to the world new power, in the form of electricity and gigantic power.

And has its far-reaching, in-operating with every industry, to transform this season's farm crops for the use of all people. By the achievements which this company has already secured may be judged the greater ends its future shall realize, the deeper impress it will make, and more of the world's work.
