STUDENTS CONSIDER WAR HAWKEYE A GREAT SUCCESS

Students Of All Colleges Buy Copies Eagerly And Are Well Satisfied.

NEW FEATURE SECTIONS ARE STRONG

The Editors And Their Associates Have Shown Originality And Skill.

Featuring Iowa's men "over there," and her military activities at home, the 1919 War Hawkeyes were eagerly received by the students from the Old Capitol steps yesterday morning. Pictures of the men in kahki and scenes of their camp life furnished a new feature for this year's Annual and added to its attractiveness.

A number of slight changes from the usual order of arrangement is noticeable. The picture section includes not only campus scenes but views of eight representative cities of Iowa. Much space is given to the professional colleges and their activities. "The University Year" is a new section including important events of the past twelve months in the life of the University. Especially commendable is the athletic section, dealing with much emphasis and detail upon the athletic side of college life at Iowa.

"The features" brimming with snapshots, satire, and mirth, were read and re-read with giggles of appreciation. Our wards, the freshmen, were allowed undue prominence, and through a green-colored atmosphere we read of the adventures of MOST ANY-FROSH in the New World otherwise known as the State University of Iowa.

J. M. Hickerson, editor-in-chief and G. H. Rigler, business manager with their staff of sixteen associate editors and six feature editors have worked untiringly to get the Hawkeye out on schedule time by May 1. Never before have the Year Books been on sale so early.

Although the sale started at eight o'clock yesterday morning, the greatest rush for Hawkeyes was between ten and eleven. By three o'clock in the afternoon over 900 copies had been given out. Over 1500 had been ordered. The De Luxe editions were delayed in coming, but will probably be here some time today.

SIGMA CHI VICTORS IN FIRST OF SERIES

Displaying a strong defense and a heavy attack, the Sigma Chi baseball nine defeated the Phi Psi's yesterday afternoon on Iowa field by a score of 10 to 4, in the first game on the Pan-Hellenic league schedule.

The winners hit Blecker and Corcht at will, but numerous errors did their part in increasing the score. Grant, pitching for the Sigma Chi's held his opponents to three hits, Meadows was the heavy hitter of the day, with four safe bingles to his credit. On one occasion he sent three men across the home plate with a triple to right center, and a few innings later he drove three runs across with a double to center.

A list of all the articles and books published during 1917 by professors and instructors in the University will soon be issued by the library. This list, when compiled, will be printed in pamphlet form.

SPEECH CLINIC TO BE INTRODUCED

Mrs. Edward Scripture of Columbia Will Conduct Summer Course.

Mrs. Edward W. Scripture, specialist in the speech clinic of the Vanderbilt Neurological clinic of Columbia University, has been secured by the University to take charge of special courses in defective speech during the summer session.

Mrs. Scripture is a pioneer and an expert in the domain of corrective speech. Besides giving an elementary course in the foundation of voice control, she will also conduct a speech clinic in the Iowa Child Welfare Research station. This will offer opportunity for those interested in young children having some form of difficulty in speech, to get the best expert examination and advice as to the nature of the difficulty and the treatment.

FRESHMAN TRACK MEET HELD TOMORROW AFTERNOON

The freshman track squad will hold a track and field meet Friday at 4 o'clock in which freshmen alone will participate. The purpose of this meet is to get the freshmen together and find out what we have in the different events, so that we will be able to place a better organized and better trained team against the varsity in the future varsity-freshman meet, declares Arthur Rosenbaugh, captain of the freshmen team.

In the last freshman-varsity meet the freshmen won an enviable number of points, especially in the short distance runs, but exhibited lack of stamina and training in the longer runs and were unable to place any event above the 440 yard dash. Colby and Hill by winning first and second against McDowell, Greenwood and Wahl in the hundred yard dash, stamped themselves as sprinters of marked ability and next year should make a valuable addition to Iowa's dash men.

FIFTEEN STUDENTS ARE MADE MEMBERS OF PHI BETA KAPPA

Initiated Members of Order Hold Meeting at Burkley for the Selection of New Ones.

LIST INCLUDES 3 MEN AND 12 WOMEN

Preponderance of the Feminine Not Usually So Great—Phi Beta Kappa Oldest Greek.

Phi Beta Kappa, the honorary scholarship fraternity, held a meeting at the Burkley hotel last night and elected the following seniors to membership:

- Ruth L. Anderson, Frederic, Iowa.
 - Anna M. Bodensieck, Garner, Iowa.
 - Catherine A. Burns, Scranton, Iowa.
 - Bernice Cole, Woodbine, Iowa.
 - James E. Franken, Sigourney, Iowa.
 - Vergil M. Hancher, Rolfe, Iowa.
 - Consuela L. Hanna, Lu Verne, Iowa.
 - Ruth A. Kelley, Independence, Missouri.
 - Alma Kroeger, Burlington, Iowa.
 - Florence M. Leininger, Afton, Iowa.
 - Jean S. Moore, Brooklyn, Iowa.
 - Blanche Pierce, Beresford, S. Dak.
 - Margie Pinkham, Goldfield, Iowa.
 - Norman H. Ringstrom, Keokuk, Iowa.
 - Ruth F. Wolcott, Dickens, Iowa.
- The above list of fifteen persons includes twelve women and three men. In recent years the proportion of women has been rather top-heavy, but it has seldom reached the preponderance of the feminine which exists this year.
- Phi Beta Kappa is the oldest Greek letter organization in existence.

HEP-ZET STUNT WINS LARGEST VOTE

Philo-Octave Is Second—Hesperia Was Also Winner Last Year.

Zetagathian-Hesperian's black-faced minstrel stunt was awarded first place at the All Fools' jubilee Tuesday evening, by popular vote.

Out of 717 votes cast, Hep-Zet received 354. Philo-Octave with 145 votes received second place, and the third place was given to the Erodolphians, by 116 votes. Prof. C. W. Wassam and Prof. F. E. Horack acted as judges. Charles Maruth, chairman of the committee on arrangements, reports the affair a success in every way.

This is the second year that the Hesperians have come out victorious at the jubilee. Their stunt was not only very original but it was exceptionally well acted.

NOTED AMERICAN BARITONE

BASEBALL TEAM IS WELL PREPARED TO MEET ILLINOIS

Team Shows Steady Improvement Both In Their Attack And In Defense.

ILLINI CONSIDERED A STRONG TEAM

A Spring Training Trip And The Defeat of Ohio Last Week Gives Illini Confidence.

Iowa's baseball team went through a strenuous practice session yesterday afternoon in preparation for the game with Harry Gill's Illini on Saturday.

In an effort to strengthen the attack of the team, Coach Kent had Goodwin working on third base in place of McGrath for the greater part of the time yesterday. Goodwin, though not quite as good a fielder as McGrath, is a much stronger hitter. As the weak point in the team this year lies in the hitting department, it may be that Goodwin will be used at this corner so long as he continues to line out the bingles.

Varsity Defeats Freshmen

With this exception the lineup of the team remained intact. The game with the freshmen resulted in a victory for the varsity by a comfortable margin. Belding was on the mound for the team, and he held the first year men safe at all stages of the game.

The improvement in the playing of the team is becoming more evident every day. Ground balls are fielded with precision, throws are made accurately, the hitting is improving, and, in short, the team is beginning to show a brand of baseball that has not been evident on Iowa field for some years.

Illinois Has Strong Team.

The game with Illinois will doubtless be one of the hardest on the schedule. They will come here having had the advantage of a spring training trip in the southland which our team did not have. In Klein, they have a twirler who for the past two years has been touted as the best pitcher in the conference. But the remainder of their team is not as experienced as the Iowa team, and the Hawkeyes believe this will count against them.

Coach Kent has a lot of faith in his team, and says that it will take a good team to beat them. Either Hamilton or Belding may be called upon to start the game on the mound, the decision resting largely upon how the two twirlers feel on the day of the game.

To win this game will mean that the Iowa team will have vanquished the team that has been claiming a championship team. By her defeat of Ohio last week, Illinois showed that she has a good team, one of the strongest in the conference. To win from the Indians will mean that the Hawkeyes will have removed one of the greatest stumbling blocks from their path toward a championship team.

GOODRICH TRANSFERS TO CODY

Lieut. Edgar J. Goodrich, L. A. '19, has been transferred from Camp Cody to the American Agricultural college in Maryland where he will be engaged in radio work. One man from each of the artillery brigades will be selected for this work.

CAPTAIN WRIGHT DESCRIBES OFFICERS TRAINING CORPS

Commandant Says That It Is the Duty of Every Physically Fit Man to Become a Member of the Cadet Regiment—Tells of Advantages of Military Training to the Student. (By Captain Andrew C. Wright)

The Reserve Officers Training Corps was authorized by act of Congress in 1916. "The primary object of establishing units of the reserve officers training corps is to qualify, by systematic and standard methods of training, students at civil educational institutions for reserve officers." Its establishment in this University by the War Department places certain obligations on the institution and also on the government which are decidedly of benefit to the student. The school must arrange time and provide place for the drill work; the government provides the necessary drill officers, guns, equipment, and plans to furnish free the uniforms. At present the tremendous demand for equipment for the National Army prevents the Government from furnishing the uniforms, but a sum of money equal to the government contract price for uniform is refunded to the student who at present is compelled to supplement this amount from his own funds. Later the government will furnish the uniforms as planned under the original act.

The government demands a two years basic course, here offered to freshmen and sophomores, followed by two years of special training, open to upper classmen but not required of them except as they elect this work. If elected a certain amount of University credit is allowed for this work towards graduation.

The law requires that an officer of the army of at least five years' service must be detailed as Professor of Military Science and Tactics—a guarantee that capable instruction will be provided. Additional commissioned and non-commissioned officers are furnished in proportion to the size of the Cadet Corps.

The program of instruction is uniform and must be followed; this ensures a uniform method of training throughout the country and "presents to these students standardized measures of that military training which is necessary in order to prepare them to perform intelligently the duties of commissioned officers in the military forces of the United States."

The work of the Military Department is so arranged as to interfere as little as possible with the academic work. Drill hours come either at a time before classes begin, or after the close of the regular work, so that the military education a man gets at the University of Iowa is an additional benefit to him without expense and with little or no loss from his other work.

Upon investigation I find that the cadets who excel in their military work both in the practical problems and theoretical exercises are the students who are leaders in their regular college course, this tends to show that there is advantage in taking military training with other work. If each student when he registers for military drill will make up his mind that he is going to get out of it all there is in it for him he will find at the end of his course that his physical condition is improved, that he has developed initiative and responsibility, learned how to make himself fit into a combined whole for the good of the community or organization, how to take care of himself in camp, how to march, how to apply first aid to the injured, how to estimate a situation and know what to do when he sees one. He will also learn in his study of the art of war, determination to win and individual intelligence which in war as well as all other undertakings spell success. He will also find that he has perhaps a broader sense of the importance of military training.

He will understand that in order to have an efficient army men must be trained under competent instruction.

WE EXTEND OUR HAND

The Daily Iowan congratulates the men and women who have been honored by an election to Phi Beta Kappa, the honorary scholarship fraternity. Many of us with whom scholarship is not one of the things for which we are noted try to make ourselves believe there is no relation between grades and the promise of success in the bigger fight after our college days are ended. But "Who's Who" and the records of the University's own Phi Beta Kappa members refuse to sanction the divorce.

And so we extend our hand to every one of the University's latest increment to the oldest Greek letter organization. You have done well the tasks which must be counted the primary purpose of a college education, and your promise of future success is most rosy by virtue of the stuff which you have shown in making yourself worthy of the Phi Beta Kappa key.

CONSCRIPTION OF JUDGES

A plan for the selection of judges for University forensic events suggested by The Daily Iowan a month or two ago has been approved by a number of students and faculty folk who have a particular interest in this field. We have hopes that it will be looked upon with favor by the administration and become operative by next year.

The plan, in outline, is to have a corps of judges, selected from the various colleges and departments of the University on the basis of special fitness, such selections to be made by the president of the University with suggestions from the public speaking department. Members of this corps could be called upon for any debate or oratorical contest, although the number would be of such size that the call for judging would not be frequent enough to make the work oppressive.

Iowa has a good standing in forensic circles of the middle west; it has attained its place in spite of a notoriously poor judging system. The Daily Iowan knows of cases in which able speakers have refrained from participation in this field because they had no guarantee that the judging would be fair and intelligent, and the fears of these individuals have not been without foundation.

If we are to progress in things forensic, or, indeed, if we are to maintain our present standing, for there was a time when the faculty took more interest in forensics than they do now, we must furnish this guarantee of capable judging. And the only way to do it is to get capable judges. If these capable judges will not volunteer, it is time to begin conscripting their services. Above all things else, we must not backslide in debate and oratory.

THE 1919 HAWKEYE

The 1919 Hawkeye descended upon the campus yesterday morning and this morning judgment upon the production has by this time been passed by some twenty-five hundred students. Seldom, The Daily Iowan believes, has a Hawkeye received a more universally favorable reception than this year's book.

There are mistakes, there is room for improvement in several departments,—these things can be said of every annual that was ever published, here or elsewhere. All in all this year's Hawkeye stands as one of the best year books which has ever served the University of Iowa.

The book is attractive in cover design and general outline appearance, the printing is first-class, the grammar and diction of the "write-ups" will meet the requirements of the English department, and typographical errors are infrequent.

A proper balance is given to the various activities of University life. Special praise is due the persons who make the Hawkeye for the remarkable way in which they have represented the University's part in the great war. The military section of the book evidences a tremendous amount of work and constitutes one of the channels through which the book is performing a tangible service for the University.

Iowa may well be proud of this year's Hawkeye. Under the handicap of war conditions Mr. Hickerson and Mr. Rigler, with their staff of juniors, have got out a book which compares favorably with any ever produced under the most favorable conditions. Indeed, we should not quarrel with the person who insists on calling the 1919 Hawkeye the best junior year book in the University's history.

CONTEMPORARY OPINION

WAR GARDENS

(Upper Iowa Collegian)

Do you want to help win the war? Then start a war garden.

Everyone knows of the vital importance of food in this great struggle. The Allies must be fed; our men in France must be fed. The way to help is to plant a war garden. The food you raise is just as dangerous to the Kaiser as bullets.

All over the country movements are on foot to urge the planting of gardens. In many colleges of Iowa the women are caring for such gardens.

Last year some Upper Iowa girls started in this matter. A piece of land by the gymnasium was plowed up and devoted to the raising of potatoes, beans, and so forth. Will not the women do this work again this year? Gardening may cause a few freckles, but what is a freckle compared with the inward satisfaction you are doing your best for your community.

What Others Think

The Daily Iowan will gladly print and communications from students or faculty members. The writer must sign the article to show his good faith in sending it, but no name will be printed if the sender so designates.

LOOKING BACKWARD

Growth in vegetation is so slow as to be imperceptible to the hourly observer. In the course of time, the persistent vital force brings to view, "First the blade, then the ear, after that the full corn in the ear." The growth of institutions is analogous to that of plants. Only by looking backward through a series of years can one fully understand the growth of "the Greater University of Iowa." Only one who has seen inferior buildings burned down, torn down or removed, to be replaced by the splendid structures that now adorn the campus; only one who has seen the faculty expand from three dozen members to three hundred, the student body increased from five hundred to twenty-five hundred, and the courses of study correspondingly amplified, can fully appreciate the latent vitality of his alma mater.

In no particular is progress more marked than in the religious atmosphere and activities of the university. Fifty years ago, the implication of a conflict between science and religion was supposed to emanate from the teaching of the university classrooms. As recently as a quarter of a century ago, critics of our non-sectarian state school charged it with being "an irreligious and immoral institution, poisoning the minds of the young with atheism."

The charges were unfounded; for looking backward we see that the perfunctory daily chapel exercise, like a mustard seed, has shot forth great branches. I call to witness the religious life and activities of the members of the two Christian Associations; the vesper sermons by some of the greatest thinkers of our day whose mission among us is to teach the application of Christian principles to present social conditions; the success of the School of Religious Education; and the July Conference of religious leaders of various denominations—all of which impart a pan-sectarian (instead of a non-sectarian) atmosphere to the religious life of the university. It is the teaching of history that not one can do much to change the life of an institution in the immediate future. But today all can and should hold fast to the Christian ideals in the great world-wide struggle what is going on between the spirit of Christ and the Anti-Christ. For "the kingdom of God," said the Master, "is as if a man should cast seed into the ground, . . . and the seed should spring up and grow, he knoweth not how." An Elder Daughter

WAR

For the remainder of the year The Daily Iowan will carry as a daily feature a set of questions and answers prepared by various departments of the University and designed to give information on past wars and the present war. Emphasis will be placed on the roles played by the University and the state, but the material will not be limited to these fields.

(Editor's Note—Questions and answers now being printed in this section are being prepared by N. R. Whitney, assistant professor of economics.)

To what extent are Liberty bonds subject to taxation?

The 3 1-2 per cent bonds of the first issue are exempt from all taxes except inheritance taxes; the 4 per cent bonds of the second issue are exempt from state and local taxes and from the normal income tax, but are subject to the surtax and excess profits tax on all incomes above the normal exemption; the 4 1-2 per cent bonds of the third issue are subject to the same tax provisions as the second Liberty bonds, but they have an advantage over the second issue in the fact that they may be used at par to pay any inheritance taxes due to the United States imposed under present or any future laws. To be used in this manner it is necessary that they shall have been held continuously by the decedent for at least six months before his death.

PROMINENT MEN WILL INSTRUCT DENT STUDENTS

The dental students will receive instructions from two prominent men in the dental world during the next two weeks. Dr. W. E. THREE SOPHOMORES APPLY FOR IOWAN TRUSTEESHIP

Three petitions have been received by Prof. C. H. Weller for membership on the Board of Trustees of The Daily Iowan. They are Marion Dyer, Alice Hinkley, and Frederick Egan. The election for two members will be held May 16, to fill the vacancies made by the graduation of Mildred Whitecomb and Vergil Hancher. Fern Richardson withdrew her petition because she will not be in school.

No one has been secured as yet for the editors position. One petition is on file for the editor-in-chief position but none for the business manager. Both the editor and business manager receive $250 a year and for the latter position a previous knowledge of newspaper work is not essential.

BIG ORCHESTRA HAS MID-WESTERN ORIGIN

Rich Men Plan the Organization Which Ranks High in Musical Circles Today.

Middle Westerners have reason to be interested in the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, for it is a product of their own section of the country. That one of the great American orchestras should have its home in a northwestern city has surprised many critics. Minnesota has so long furnished the east and west with bread and beef that little else has been expected from her. But the cities of the country are beginning to realize that Minnesota has other reasons for being remembered.

The Minneapolis Symphony orchestra is the result of the belief of a few wealthy men in good music and the wisdom and good fortune that chose Emil Oberhoffer for director.

When he was made conductor fifteen years ago, his genius was just beginning to be recognized. With the growth of the orchestra came fame for its director, until both are ranked among the first in the United States today.

The orchestra is a favorite in Iowa City, and it is likely that the management will have little difficulty in selling enough tickets to cover the guarantee long before Monday afternoon. The concerts will be the first symphony appearances here this year.

IT'S ALL ON ACCOUNT OF THE BENEFIT DANCE

"Buzz - Buzz" and the signal was out for gossip. All heads got together in the corner and then they said, "Well, you needn't say it came from me, but she got out of a car and walked right in - as unconcerned as if she was walking into her own home."

"Why, for heaven's sake, and they say they saw her out at the Kappa Sig and Sig Chi house too. I wonder what in the world she was doing."

And all that excitement over a simple advertising project for the Red Cross dance Friday night. A member of the Pan-Hellenic council has visited all fraternity houses asking for their support for the dance Friday night.

The women's Pan-Hellenic council will give a Red Cross benefit Friday evening at the park pavillion. "Punch" Dunkle's five piece orchestra will play.

MEDICS WHO GRADUATE MAY TAKE INTERNSHIP

The Senior Medics who graduate this year will be given permission to take a year's internship upon application to the Sergeant General, according to Prof. J. T. McClintock, Junior Dean of the College of Medicine. Their application must be signed by themselves, by the Dean of the College and by the superintendent of the hospital in which they are to serve their internship. The Sergeant General will grant them permission under certain restrictions.

Those who complete their internship this year will be permitted to go into the service at the end of the year, which will be the first of July.

ACHIEVEMENT

Twenty-five years ago the General Electric Company was founded. Since then, electricity has sent its thrill through the whole structure of life. Eager to turn wheels, to lift and carry, to banish dark, to gather heat, to hurl voices and thoughts across space, to give the world new tools for its work - electricity has bent to man's will. Throughout this period the General Electric Company has held the great responsibilities and high ideals of leadership.

It has set free the spirit of research. It has given tangible form to invention, in apparatus of infinite precision and gigantic power. And it has gone forth, co-operating with every industry, to command this unseen force and fetch it far to serve all people. By the achievements which this company has already recorded may best be judged the greater ends its future shall attain, the deeper mysteries it yet shall solve in electrifying more and more of the world's work.

tors for at least one year before they are ready for active field service against an aggressive enemy. He will thus become an advocate of an army large enough to at least form a nucleus in case of war; this will make him a better citizen.

I believe it is the duty of every physically fit male student in the University to take military training. The country is at war and may need the services on the firing line of every one of you and any thing you can do now toward getting ready for that day should be done. If you are taking this training willingly and doing your best at it I believe you are doing a patriotic work and should remain in school until you have finished your course or until you are called. This opinion is backed up by the action of the government in allowing Engineer, Medical and Dental students to enlist in the Reserve Corps and continue their studies. If you haven't enrolled for this work my advice is for you to do so at once. You will find it pleasant as well as instructive, you will find that our University President backs the work in every possible way, you'll find that your dean and your professor will approve your action and that it is well supported by over 500 splendid cadets. Try it.

U. H. S. GIRLS WILL GIVE PROGRAM

Senior Girls Will Present "Lady of Shalott"—Boys to Sing.

"The Lady of Shalott" will be given by the senior girls' glee club of the University high school Friday evening, May 3, at the Women's Gymnasium. The junior girls will give "A Mother Goose Arabesque" and the junior boys will sing a group of patriotic songs. The concert is under the direction of Miss Anna Peirce.

"The Lady of Shalott" one of Tennyson's most beautiful poems, tells the story of a fairy lady who lives on the island of Shalott by which the people pass down the river to Camelot. As she weaves "a magic web by night and day" she gazes into the magic mirror. Here she sees the face of Sir Launcelot and leaving the mirror she looks out upon the open world. She knows the curse
