SELECTIONS IN BOTH SYMPHONY CONCERTS ARE WELL CHOSEN

Technique and Compositions of Masters Will Be Shown in Tomorrow's Programs.

IBSEN'S PEER GYNT TO BE PLAYED

Three Soloists in Each Concert Will Offer Both Song and Instrumental Numbers.

Emil Oberhoffer and his Minneapolis symphony will be here for two concerts in the armory tomorrow. Both the University and the town are looking forward with considerable expectations to the work of this talented organization.

Both the afternoon and the evening programs have been selected with care and the desire to show technique as well as the compositions of the best symphony composers.

Grieg's Work Produced

In the afternoon the numbers include Beethoven's Symphony No. 1, in C major, of which four movements will be played. One of the most interesting numbers will be Grieg's "Peer Gynt" suite No. 1. This popular work of the Norwegian master is the first of two suites of incidental music to Ibsen's symbolic dramatic poem of the same name. In the last of the four movements Peer Gynt's visit to the cavern of the gnomes and their grotesque incantations and dances.

Tschaikowsky's Symphony No. 5 in E minor will be the opening number of the evening program. This piece seems to give dark spiritual experience and only at the close do the clouds lift and the skies clear. It is a wonderful composition from the point of view of a light thrown on Russian character.

Open With National Song.

The entire program follows:

LIEUTENANT BOXX IS IN ENGLISH CAPITAL NOW

Lieutenant Paul D. Boxx, of the British Flying corps has reached London, according to a cablegram to his wife, who has been living with Lieut. and Mrs. G. C. Jeffries, at Des Moines, since her husband went across.

The young aviator is a former Iowa City man, having come here from Ottumwa, to enter the University.

He played on the freshman eleven, in 1913. He joined the flying corps at Toronto, was trained there and won his commission at Fort Worth, Tex.

He will train a few weeks more intensively, in London, and then be sent abroad—by June 1, he hopes.

COLLEGE MEN OUGHT TO WAIT FOR DRAFT

Such is Opinion of President of Grinnell College—Calls it Duty to Remain.

Grinnell, May 3.—Special to The Iowan: "You are cheating yourself and your country if you fail to realize the significance of the years between 18 and 21," declared President J. H. T. Main in a patriotic chapel address here Monday morning.

"You are cheating the government out of something it ought to have, if you enlist before 21," he continued. "It is the essence of chivalry to bide you time, for 'they also serve who stand and wait."

"The government set the draft age between 21 and 31, because they thought the men between those ages could best serve their country. They intended that men under 21 should stay in school and in college in order that they might learn how to serve. You are not slackers to stay here. We have military service in Grinnell. Be loyal to your opportunity at college. I am pleading for Grinnell," he emphasized. ',I am pleading for your country, and for you. The question is, have you the stuff in you to make the most of your years before 21?'

President Main emphatically stated that men are not only drafted for the army, but they are also drafted for service in life and that unless they learn to make the most of that service their existence is of little value. The best way to learn, he stated, is to remain in college until they are drafted, for the government will call every man as soon as he is needed.

"Honor the flag till your country calls you," he concluded. "Then go, and God be with you."

BUNN BURIED TODAY

Howard Bunn, freshman liberal arts, who died at the University hospital at 7 o'clock Thursday night, was the fourth University student to succumb to pneumonia and its complications within the last three weeks. He was ill but six days.

The body was taken to his home in Cherokee Thursday. The funeral will take place to-day.

"Talk to your Neighbor" day was recently observed at Illinois by the University women who forgot all class distinctions, cliques and differences in race and color. Each girl spoke to everyone whom she met and they hope to advance a more democratic spirit in their institution.

AMES WINS BY 2 POINTS

Iowa's track team was nosed out of the track meet at Ames yesterday afternoon by a two-point margin. The score was 69 to 67.

The Iowan regrets that it is unable to print a detailed story and summary of the contest.

SUBSTANTIAL YEAR MARKS SERVICE OF "Y" IN UNIVERSITY

Despite Several Changes in the Management Association Shows Real Gain.

TWO SECRETARIES ARE NOW IN WAR

Treasury Shows Balance of $688 for the Year—Total Balance Is Now $1152.88.

Although the local Y. M. C. A. has been handicapped by three changes in the secretaryship and the withdrawal of many members for service in the army and navy, the annual report shows substantial growth and good interest, as well as a cash balance in the treasury.

The report as issued by Secretary Simmers covers the period beginning July 1, 1917 to March 15, 1918, has been duly approved and audited by a committee on auditing.

Secretaries in Service

Secretary Guy V. Aldrich was sent to do war work early in the year and was succeeded by H. H. Maynard in September. Maynard in turn left to do war work in December and the present secretary, W. L. Simmer, took charge of the work in February.

"One of the greatest works of the association," says the report, "was the securing of rooms for the students at the beginning of the school year." In addition to this many students were assisted in finding employment, who have in the aggregate earned about $30,000 therefrom.

Activity Is Varied

The association has kept a list of 800 approved rooms for men, through which great help has been given the students. The book exchange and the "Y" parties have both been of distinct service to the men this year.

The institution reports receipts of $7,400 and has expended $6,712, leaving a balance of $688. This last fund and the balance of last year in addition gives a total balance of $1152.88.

APPLY FOR NAVAL RESERVE

James Franken and Bryan Martin, seniors in the liberal arts college and members of the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, recently returned from Chicago where Franken enlisted in the naval reserve. Martin, although the best half miler on the Iowa track squad, was rejected on account of a broken arch.

Mr. Franken is still in school and does not expect to be called for about six weeks. He will go to the naval reserve officers training school at municipal pier, Chicago.

NOTICE TO SENIORS

College seniors and graduate students who are interested in opportunities for training in the phychology of salesmanship are invited to consult Dean Seashore in regard to fellowships in the Carnegie Institute of Technology.

GET YOUR HAWKEYE IF YOU'VE ORDERED

The management of the Hawkeye will great appreciate it if those who have subscribed for copies will call at the office in the chemistry annex Monday or Tuesday afternoon and get their books. The demand for annuals by those who had not ordered them in advance has been so great that the books will be placed on general sale next Wednesday. Those who have ordered books can make sure of getting a copy by coming to the office.

On account of its comparative isolation, many people do not know where the Hawkeye office is. The chemistry annex is on Iowa Avenue, and the office is upstairs, at the back of the hall.

METAL DISCS GIVE MILITARY RESPECT

Iowa Men With Reserve Buttons Entitled to Esteem Shown Enlisted Men in Army.

Because of the possibility of a misunderstanding on the part of the public in regard to the metal buttons worn by men in the Medical Enlisted Reserve corps, the government under the direction of the surgeon-general has asked newspapers to publish information about the men in this branch of the service.

Enlistment in the medical reserve does not entitle men to wear the uniform of the United States, or any part thereof except the button, until called into the service. Such men are, however, allowed to wear a metal button or disc and this is regarded as a distinctive part of the uniform of the army.

Regulations in protecting the government from infringement of the right of wearing the uniform or button without just right, state that violators shall be punished by a fine of not more than $3,000.00 or imprisonment not exceeding six months or by both such fine and imprisonment.

The insignia does not mean that men wearing it are exempted from service, but that their status is inactive until they can complete their professional duties. They are subject to call at any time.

A large number of Iowa men on the campus are wearing these reserve discs and they are entitled to all the respect accorded officers or enlisted men in the regular service.

TO BEGIN SAVINGS STAMP DRIVE

Elementary School, University High, and Nurses are Not Slackers.

A drive for war savings and thrift stamps will be started in the University Monday, May 5, by the local committee.

"There are only two groups in the University that have subscribed as much as should be subscribed: the children in the University elementary and high school and the nurses," says Dean W. J. Teeters, chairman of the University war savings committee.

President Jessup is especially anxious that the University subscribe to the full amount of its apportionment.

The committee will meet Tuesday at 4:30 in room 213, liberal arts building.

Elsie Hieden of Trayer is visiting at the Alpha Delta Pi house.

ILLINOIS BASEBALL TEAM DEFEATS IOWA IN EXCITING CLASH

Hawkeye Batters Unable to Solve Delivery of Klein and Lose by 3 to 0 Score.

VISITORS EARNED ONLY ONE RUN

Brown Only Iowa Man in Batting Clothes—Wild Pitches Cause of Two of the Tallies.

In a game which for interest has seldom been equaled on Iowa field, Coach Kent's Hawkeyes, heretofore undefeated, fell before the Illinois baseball team by the score of 3 to 0. yesterday afternoon. The interest of the game from the beginning rested about the pitching of Hamilton for Iowa and Klein for Illinois, and the visiting twirler must be adjudged the winner by a scant margin. The breaks of luck favored Illinois, there being only one earned run.

The first score of the game came in the fourth inning when Doss singled to right field, advanced to second on a bobble by Belding, stole third, and scored when Hamilton cut loose a wild pitch. Iowa's best chance for life came in the sixth inning. Brown, first hitter, doubled to left. Hamilton and Hall, the next hitters whiffed, but Olson shot a single over right field and Brown would have scored but for a perfect peg home by Wrobke.

Illinois' second was pushed across in the sixth inning. Killinger singled over second. Doss glanced an easy one down the first base line which required Hamilton to extend himself to field in time to get an out. Killinger advanced to second on the play. From third the Illinois runner scored when Hamilton pitched a low one which Frank failed to stop.

Klein had the Iowa batters stopped at every point. The four hits charged up against him came in so sporadic a manner that not a Hawkeye got past second base. His varied delivery, change of pace and curved balls completely baf-

HELPERS WANTED FOR REFUGEE GARMENTS

French and Belgian Children Will Be Furnished With Clothing by Red Cross.

Refugee garments are being made from 9 to 5 o'clock daily on the first floor of the building between the City Bakery and Joe Albert's shoe shop on Washington street. Everybody is invited to come in and work. Many who do not knit but sew may find there opportunity of helping here. The work may be taken home if the helper wishes.

At present garments are being made from new cloth furnished by the Red Cross for French and Belgian children from babies up to fourteen year olds. Later old clothes may be made over. These garments go to families who have been turned out, without shelter of any sort in many cases.

The room and furnishings were generously donated by private parties. At present the organization needs two large waste baskets, scissors, large shears, an ironing board, electric iron, and roller towels.

APRIL, AT LAST!

Kind reader, don't blame the printer for the title of this editorial. Don't blame the editor, either. The ill-mannered weather which afflicted us during the entire month of April is solely responsible for the outbreak. This sketch was written on a windy and disagreeable day along about the middle of the month by a member of the staff who was optimistic enough to believe that April weather really would put in appearance before May crowded it out.

Don't believe for a moment that we mean what we say about April in the following:

April, the fickle and alluring April we love, has just come. The alternating gloomy and sunshiny child of Nature and Time has sprung up eagerly if late. Mother Nature has indulged April, has spoiled her prettiest child. This fourth daughter of the year pouts and scowls; she stamps her feet on the broad earth floor and it shakes with thunder; her eyes snap with lightning; her tears gush quickly.

Her wiles change. In a trice sunbeams glint from her eyes and dry her tears ere they leave her cheek. She smiles upon the world, and the world answers back with a heartful of gladness. At a glance, buds at her feet burst into full blossom, and flowers unfold and tilt fresh faces toward her fluffy cloud crowned head.

Petulant yet delightful, enticing in all her moods, this maiden of laughter and tears pays visit to a hardened old world and moves it to emotions long dormant. Hail fair April!

THE FALLACY

We see in the papers that France is not hungry; that all one needs is money with which to buy a liberal meal. Perhaps it is true that some people in France, as in the rest of the world, with a full pocketbook can obtain an unfair share of food. But that France as a whole has enough food is unfortunately very far from true. We need only note that a still further reduction in bread rations was made early in April. These rations had already been cut to almost half the normal consumption. By the recent restriction, a further cut of one-third is made. The amount granted to the desk worker a month ago.

DOWN WITH THE DANDELIONS!

The abundance of the innocent little flower called the dandelion on our campus this spring would make the suggestion of a "Dandelion Day" altogether sensible. If two thousand students would equip themselves with the proper implements some day and descend upon the various patches of the yellow sprinkled about the campus, the patches would melt away like butter.

We want a pretty campus. Dandelions do not make for this beauty, many will say. Perhaps it is not the duty of students to attend to this matter, but they could do it with so little trouble by concerted effort that The Daily Iowan believes the scheme is altogether feasible. Who'll organize the forces for the battle against the yellow pests?

CONTEMPORARY OPINION

NEW MOVE FOR PATRIOTISM

(Des Moines Capital)

The State University of Iowa is planning to do a great work in the way of patriotic education. Plans have been completely worked out and the organization is to be called "The Iowa Patriotic League" of which any school, public or private, may become a member. The organization will attempt to spread patriotic intelligence and create patriotic interest. It is contemplated that meetings will be held in all the schools for the purpose of discussing subjects of national interest. Prizes will be awarded for the best essays but there will be no essays against the government. All must be patriotic. There are three kinds of chapters proposed: Junior chapter for the elementary grades: senior chapters for high schools; and adult chapters for those above sixteen years of age not affiliated with any school. There will be published outlines of patriotic biographies and package libraries will be made up bearing upon live topics of general civic and patriotic interest. The university work will be done through the extension division. There are to be no expenses connected with these organizations—no collections and no admittance fees. The contest feature will not be overemphasized but wisely guarded and used as an incentive to broader participation than mere local interest would provide.

In the New York schools patriotic examinations are in progress to ascertain what the children know about the United States of America. The answers disclose wonderful ignorance. The school authorities in the city of New York have taken this educational matter up in earnest. Each state probably will move on separate lines but the enitre movement is one to be encouraged. The State University of Iowa is to be congratulated on taking up this work.

WAR

For the remainder of the year The The Daily Iowan will carry as a daily feature a set of questions and answers prepared by various departments of the University and designed to give information on past wars and the present war. Emphasis will be placed on the roles played by the University and the state, but the material will not be limited to these fields.

(Editor's Note—Questions and answers now being printed in this section are being prepared by N. R. Whitney, assistant professor of economics.)

Why do the 3 1-2 per cent bonds sell at a higher price than the other bonds which pay more interest?

When we buy clothes we consider not only the wearing qualities but the fit, appearance, and other attractions as well. In the same manner, when we buy bonds, the price we are willing to pay is determined not only by the interest rate but also by the length of time the bonds have to run, the conversion privilege, and the extent to which the bonds are subject to taxation. The 3 1-2 per cent bonds, while paying less interest have a more attractive conversion privilege and have a tax exemption feature which makes them very attractive to persons who have large income.

What Others Think

The Daily Iowan will gladly print and communications from students or faculty members. The writer must sign the article to show his good faith in sending it, but no name will be printed if the sender so designates.

To the Editor:

The time for Commencement is drawing near and all loyal seniors should be up and doing. The senior girls are showing this week that they have the real '18 spirit. Everywhere we hear the remark made about the good feeling that exists between the members of this year's class. The men do not need to feel left out because the activities of this week have been just for girls. Next Friday night every senior man of all the different colleges will have the chance to show that he has the real '18 class spirit by attending the all-class party in the Woman's gym.

LETTERS FROM OUR SOLDIERS

15 Apr. 1918.

The Alumnus,
Iowa City, Iowa,

Gentlemen:—Sergeant Harry M. Greene, L '06 of this company, and myself are thirsting for Iowa news and we want you to send us the 1917-18 file of the Alumnus, together with your bill and we will remit. We are in the trenches now and cannot procure a money order or we would pay in advance.

I'd like to tell you about the trenches, with their dingy dugouts, etc.; and of No Man's Land, which to me seems like an inferno with its big shell houses, blasted tree trunks, and miles and miles of tangled barbed wire entanglements.

L. Co., which I command was under one heavy bombardment and they took it like veterans. During our first stay in the trenches we lost two killed and two wounded. You have read the total regimental losses long before this in the state papers.

I'm sorry I'll not be able to attend the 1910 breakfast this year at commencement time but if the Lord, in His Infinite Wisdom, permits me to return I'll have some of the whoppingest, biggest tales to tell in 1920 that ever were narrated.

Give my kindest regards to all of 1910 and to S. U. I.

Sincerely,
Clifford Powell, L. A. '10.

ATTENDING CONCERT LEGITIMATE EXCUSE

At the last meeting of the board of deans it was decided that in case of students in all colleges except those under governmental direction, attendance at the Minneapolis Symphony concert, May 6, should be considered a valid excuse for absence from class.

PAN-HELLENIC DANCE

A hundred couples crowded the pavillion at the Red Cross dance at the park Friday night. Pan-Hellenic is to be congratulated on the success of the undertaking. About $125 will be turned over to the University Red Cross. Of this sum the Delta Gammas raised $22 in the sale of souvenir Red Cross dolls.

The chaperons were: Mr. and Mrs. Ingalls Swisher and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Whetstone.

A number of men at the University of Minnesota are spending part of their time at the branch Red Cross workshop. The girls there receive credit for their time engaged in Red Cross work.

FRATERNITY MEN ELECT OFFICERS

Rienow Urges the Maintenance of Scholastic Standards—Says War Is Test of Worth.

At the first meeting of the interfraternity conference for the year 1918-1919 at the Phi Delta Theta house Wednesday evening, the following officers were elected: Harold Rigler, president; Carter Hamilton, vice-president; George H. Scanlon, secretary; Joe Mullarky, treasurer.

Reports of what each fraternity had invested in war saving stamps were taken, which totaled -633 for the month of April. Each fraternity agreed to house a group of high school men who are to compete in the interscholastic track meet May 11.

Robert E. Rienow, advisor of men, speaking before the group, urged that the few juniors and seniors remaining in the liberal arts fraternities do all in their power to prevent lowering of scholarship and moral standards.

"War is a test of what a fraternity is worth and they must assume an aggressive and positive stand and back the war savings campaign with their last dollars," Mr. Rienow said.

The interfraternity delegates for the year 1918-1919 are as follows:

Frank Coy, Acacia; Harold Stoner, Alpha Tau Omega; Carter Hamilton, Apollo; J. Mullarky, Beta Theta Pi; Robert Larimer, Delta Chi; Howard M. ENGINEERS TOTAL 136 STARS

Sixteen stars have recently been added to the engineers' service flag which represents the number of students and alumni who have gone into the service within the last few months. When the flag was first flown last fall, 120 stare were on it and the sixteen which have recently been added are for those who have joined the army since then.

The May queen for the May pageant at Coe college will be chosen by popular election. The cast will rehearse daily until May 24 when it will be given.

PERKINS' HOSPITAL READY NEXT FALL

Treatment of Crippled Children to Be Given Free By Staff of Medical College.

Construction of the new Perkins' hospital on the West Side is now well under way. The basement and the reinforced concrete floors have been finished and work on the walls is progressing rapidly. It will be ready for occupancy before the first of October.

The hospital is ideally situated on the crest of a hill on the old Chautauqua grounds just across the river. The grounds of about fifteen acres will afford such playground facilities as were impossible on the crowded medical quadrangle.

The hospital is a red brick, one-story building trimmed with Bedford rock. It is about four hundred feet in length and is composed of two main sections joined to the administration section by means of narrow hallways. Each section is made up of three wings, an arrangement which allows a maximum amount of air and light. The building when completed will provide quarters for one hundred and fifty patients.

The Perkins law, providing for the free treatment of impecunious children under the age of fifteen was enacted by the General Assembly several years ago, and since that time many hundreds of crippled and diseased children have been wholly or partially cured through treatment in the University clinics. Up to this time they have been housed in the general hospital, and it was to secure better quarters for the unfortunate children that the legislature made an appropriation for a new hospital last year.

Iowa is one of the few states that has utilized its medical facilities for the poor of the state to this extent, and the new hospital will be one of the largest and best of its kind in the entire country.

One of the biggest open donces of the year was given at the University of Indiana recently by Sigma Delta Chi. The proceeds went to a war fund.

ILLINI DEFEAT IOWA IN EXCITING BATTLE

fled the batters. Hamilton was picked for only 8 safeties and playing against a weaker team than the Illini he would doubtless have been returned victor.

Harry Ehred made one of the most sensational plays of the year when he raced over near the east bleachers and pulled down Barklage's high foul. Brown was the only Iowa man who garnered more than one hit. The double by Brown in the sixth inning was the only extra base crack of the game. Hamilton and Olson are credited with one bingle apiece.

The crowd was probably the greatest that it has been at any game in recent years. Berch of Earlham umpired the game.
