IOWA GETS FIRST NAVAL SECTION OF S. A. T. C. IN STATE

Many Applicants for Naval Unit Appear—Half of Strength Must Be Engineers

FIVE NAVAL OFFICERS TO RECRUIT

Are Taking Upperclassmen Before Freshman—Physical Examination Is Rigid

One hundred bluejackets will add color to the olive drab ranks that are to transform the University of Iowa into a training camp for war this year. The first naval section of the S. A. T. C. in Iowa has just been granted to the University. Seventy-five other institutions of higher education throughout the country will also have navy boys.

Half of the authorized strength of the University unit must be engineers. The greatest demand on the colleges, say advices from Washington, will be the production of sufficient engineer officers to meet the demands of the service. With 225 freshmen already enrolled in the engineering college, the University will have no difficulty in filling the engineering strength of the unit. Any man of draft age is eligible, if he is qualified to enter the University. Applications are to be considered in the order filed.

Get Higher Pay

As with the army section of the S. A. T. C., October 1 is the date set for the men to be inducted into the naval reserve force as apprentice seamen. Naval reservists are placed on active duty pay, $32.60, and are allowed a sufficient sum for lodging, subsistence, and tuition. They will wear the uniform of their rating in the navy.

Two years of work in the engineering college will qualify a man to enter the officer-material school, naval auxiliary reserve, but he must pass a competitive examination before he is admitted. A sophomore in the engineering course will probably be able to complete his college work in eighteen months, a junior in twelve, and a senior in six.

Course on Deck Duties

After this definite period of training in the University, the members of the naval section of the S. A. T. C. will be transferred to an officer-material school, a pay officers material or trade school, or be assigned to sea for general service. Officer-material schools include deck officers, paymasters, engineer, aviation, and signal officers schools. Suitable material for aviation officers is great demand, the inspector of recruiting informs the University.

A special intensive course for deck duties will be laid out covering four three-months periods at the University. This course will prepare reservists for competitive examinations for entry in various officer-material schools and will be based upon the Naval Academy course.

Enrolling Officers Here

The University has already about 30 students who are enlisted in the navy, eight of these being medical students, some dental, and the rest engineers.

The enrolling officers who have been sent to the University are: George E. Ketterer

CURRIER HALL HAS NEW PRECEPTRESS

A new preceptress, Sara McBride, has been appointed for Currier Hall, the women's dormitory. She will assume the duties of Miss Anna M. Klingshagen, former dean of women as chaperon.

Miss McBride is a graduate of the University of Iowa in 1906. She has also studied at the Iowa State Teachers College and the University of Chicago. For the past few years she has been a teacher in the East Des Moines high school.

Elinor Enright, the new house director of Currier Hall, will also act as chaperon. She will supervise the dining rooms of each of the fraternity houses to be used as dormitories for freshman women.

OCTOBER 1 TO BE OBSERVED AT IOWA

Simultaneous Exercises To Be Held at Organization of S. A. T. C. in 500 Colleges

At the same hour on October 1, more than 500 colleges and universities over the United States will assemble the men of their S. A. T. C. units for a national observance of the day. The University will take part in this demonstration. The band will play the national anthem as the flag is raised and Chief Trumpeter Maier will sound "To the Color."

The entire command of the S. A. T. C. at the University, as will be done simultaneously at all other colleges having units, will repeat in unison the oath of allegiance to the flag after the commanding officer, Captain George W. Robertson. Other messages from the secretary of war and federal officials may also be read. Men will stand at attention during the oath of allegiance and the messages from the federal administration.

It is probable that the president of the University will address the newly inducted army men and that they will pass in review before the bleachers on Iowa Field. Arrangements, however, are only tentative. In the east these exercises will begin at noon, in the middle west at 11, in the Rockies at 10, and on the Pacific coast at 9. Whether or not these men have been inducted, into the service they will take part in this observance, providing they have indicated their intention to enter the corps.

The oath of allegiance which will be taken by two or three thousand men Tuesday morning at the University is: "I pledge allegiance to my flag and the Republic for which it stands; one nation, indivisible with Liberty and Justice for all."

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS

Owing to the shortage of trained workers and the high cost of printing and paper, the board of trustees of The Daily Iowan has decided temporarily as a war measure to issue only three copies each week. The price of subscription has been correspondingly reduced. All of the news of the week will be condensed in these issues which will appear on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Sundays.

FRESHMAN WOMEN ASKED TO STAY IN FRAT HOUSES

University of Iowa Takes Control of Fraternity Houses for Girls' Dormitories

TO HAVE CENTRAL DINING ROOMS

Rooms Will Not All Be Ready for Use Until Last of Week—Chaperones Appointed

Freshman girls at the University will be assigned to fraternity houses that have been taken over by the University for use as dormitories. All first year women are expected to live either at Currier Hall, the regular dormitory, or at one of these houses unless permitted, for some special cause, to room in private homes.

Final arrangements have been made with the owners of thirteen fraternity houses, and others are expected to offer theirs. This extension of the dormitory system at the University, which has been contemplated for some time, was hastened by the transformation of the institution into a military camp.

Each house will be run after the plan of Currier Hall, and the dean of women has selected responsible chaperones for each. Meals will be served at central dining rooms, all under the supervision of Elinor Enright, the new house director of Currier Hall. It is probable that one or more of the houses will be run on a co-operative housekeeping basis.

The precise number of houses to be taken under the University control has not been determined and will depend on the number of freshman women who will enroll. Inspection of the equipment of the homes is now being made by the dean of women, and prices of rooms listed. In each house there will be rooms of varying costs to comply with the means of each student.

MANY VACANCIES ON IOWAN STAFF

Big Field for Women Is Opening in Journalistic Work.

Vacancies in the regular Iowan staff will give a large number of students opportunities to get newspaper experience and in case of their registration in one of the courses in journalism, University credit will be granted.

Of last year's staff the editor, sports editor and one of the associate editors are in the army. A score or more places are open in the reportorial staff. For the first time in the history of The Daily Iowan the chief place on the student newspaper will go to a woman.

Because of the present demand for women newspaper workers many University women are considering journalism this year. Of last year's graduates in journalism no woman is without a position and because of the scarcity of trained workers the demand of papers in this section could not be met.

Instruction in reporting, editing, copyreading, editorial writing, and special feature writing is being offered under the direction of the department of English.

FRENCH COLLEGE GIRL REACHES UNIVERSITY

Just one French girl, Jeanne Terraz, reached the University of Iowa to finish her education at an American college. When it came time to leave the home back in France, Renee Galland's mother decided she could not give up her daughter. The Woman's League at the University is greatly disappointed because only one girl arrived last Sunday morning.

Miss Terraz has already made herself quite popular at the institution. University girls have found her versatile and interesting to an unusual degree. She is living at a small annex to Currier Hall, the women's dormitory, under the tutelage of Miss Lucille Franchere, a French instructor on the faculty. Her English is said to be excellent.

SORORITIES HAVE BUSY RUSH WEEK

Preferred Dates are "Stuffed" With Good Things to Eat and Lots of Fun

"Rush week" this year is exclusively for ladies, for the men on the campus are far more concerned about the imposing brotherhood of the S. A. T. C. than about any Greek letters. But the girls are all aflutter with the excitement of breakfasts and teas and dinner dances.

In accordance with the decision of the Pan-Hellenic council each sorority has been assigned a preferred date.

A patriotic luncheon will be given by the Alpha Delta Pi's Thursday afternoon and a "black and white" dance has been arranged for Saturday night.

The Alpha Chi Omega sorority will entertain at a tea Thursday afternoon. The Aechoths, too, will give a tea on Thursday and will follow it with a "harvest" party Friday. Their formal breakfast will be Saturday morning.

An evening party at the chapter house will be given by the Delta Gamma's Thursday night. Kappa Kappa Gamma will entertain at breakfast Friday morning. Alpha Theta girls have planned a "Rainbow" luncheon for Saturday noon.

A bonnet party Friday night and a camouflage tea for Saturday afternoon are the more alluring than enlightening titles which the Pi Beta Phi's have announced as their entertainment for the freshman girls.

The following rules formulated by the Women's Pan-Hellenic council are observed by all the sororities:

Each sorority is to have a preferred date for entertaining, and pledging will take place on the day before the opening day of school.

Pledges are not allowed to wear pledge ribbons and they are forbidden to receive any flowers. Sorority girls are not to take rushees to register or to invite rushees to spend the night with them or at their home.

All Congregational students and their friends are invited to an "open house" Saturday night at the Conference House, 128 North Clinton street, at 7:30 o'clock. The social committee of the Congregational Guild will have charge, Rev. and Mrs. Schafer, will be glad to meet all students of their church. The Conference House is open at all times, and its rooms are at the young people.

VARSITY WHIPPING INTO GOOD FORM TO MEET THE JACKIES

Seven Veterans Have Returned And Last Year's Freshmen Are Showing Up Well

SAILORS TO PICK FROM MANY STARS

Great Lakes Men Have Been in Training for Two Months Iowa Only Two Weeks

With seven veterans of last year's varsity eleven in the line up, Captain Reed, Lohman, Block, Greenwood, Hunzelman, Scott, and Voegel, and with Frank Slater, the giant negro tackle from Clinton, and Rich and Kelley, backfield stars of last year's freshmen also there, the sailor eleven from the Great Lakes will find it necessary to set forth in full sail in order to make port behind Iowa's goal posts.

The Iowa squad has been out for only two weeks. They have practiced twice daily and have undergone four stiff scrimmages.

Dope Looks Cheery

Captain Reed is grabbing forward passes with hardly ever a miss, aided by the admirable passing of Lohman who has been shifted from half to fullback. White and Everett Smith are running a merry race for Slater, Hunzelman, and Greenwood the other end positions and between the tackle positions will be taken care of.

Block, guard and center of last year, and Mockmore are the most likely candidates for guards. Foster and Heldt are both showing up well at center.

Rich, who as halfback on the freshmen team last year tore through varsity line for long gains has not suffered by his transfer to the varsity eleven and is probably the fastest and shiftest on the Iowa squad. Kelly seems to be a fixture in the most important position of quarterback, and he pilots the team with the same ease in which he directed the freshmen. Scott and Voegel are playing on the first string as halfbacks.

Sailors Have Stars

Coach Olcott has been training his Great Lakes men since early in August and the full month's start of the bluejackets will handicap seriously Iowa and the other conference teams which they will meet this fall. Special barracks have been provided for the station football squad and specially supervised meals are served them under the watchful eye of Coach Olcott.

In the string of 150 men who are out for the Great Lakes team are to be found stars from nearly every state in the union.

Jimmy Conzelman, quarterback, and Harold Erickson, halfback were members of last year's team. Other men are Chief Yeoman, Bill McClellan, formerly of West Virginia Wesleyan; Foley of Blackburn and Chappick, quarterback of last year's Illinois team; Hary Eilsen, last year's freshman captain at Northwestern; Willaman, Ohio State's fullback for two years; Dobson, fullback and captain-elect of the Nebraska team this year; Simpson, former Cornell captain; Mendenhall of the University of Iowa; Abrahamson of Lawrence; Jerry Jones and Keele, both former Notre Dame men, and Young, Carnegie Tech center last year.

IN THE SERVICE

The opening of the school year finds the University enlisted in the service of the United States. The schools, their faculties, the entire equipment, as well as the cooperative spirit of the people of the state of Iowa, are being given over to the task of bringing the war to a successful conclusion.

The Students' Army Training corps has already been installed and the incoming men will shortly be sworn into the regular service of government. Drafted men are also being trained for various mechanical branches of the army, forming a separate military unit under direct control of the war department. There will also be a unit of naval men here at the University.

Besides these army men there will be some men ineligible for regular service who will be preparing for civilian war work and hundreds of women will be studying in preparation for the best interests of the nation.

The somewhat carefree life of college days is gone. More than ever the men and women on the campus this year will realize the new obligation of the University privilege. The women of the University inherit the opportunities never before opened to them. For any of them to shelve these openings in the college world is nothing else than to shift the burdens, to slack.

The year is ours. The aim is definite. Nothing else but the war matters. Its up to the faculty, the students, the University to make the best preparation for the war in whatever capacity we may be called.

FLYING CADET KILLED IS UNIVERSITY MAN

The fourteenth gold star on the University service flag represents Frank J. Oliver, aviation cadet. He was killed by a fall of 300 feet when the airplane which he was flying collided with another at Rich Field, Waco, Texas.

Oliver attended the officers training camp at Chicago and was sent from there to Ithaca, N. Y., where he entered the aviation branch of the service. He was transferred to Rich Field about three months ago. Cadet Oliver was a student in the liberal arts college at the University two years ago.

Blue stars on the University service flag now number 1129.

BUSH TWICE CITED FOR BRAVERY

University Professor in Y. M. C. A. Work Wins Praise From French

Two citations for bravery have been won by Prof. Stephen H. Bush, head of the department of Romance languages on leave of absence for Y. M. C. A. service in France. Word of the second official recognition by the French government of the heroic conduct of Professor Bush came close in the wake of the first citation.

The cablegram received by Mrs. Bush in Iowa City from France told of the heroism under fire that the American Y. M. C. A. workers attached to the Moroccan division displayed. Professor Bush was one on these. "They were constantly under fire," says the message, "for four days at a time, helped the wounded, saved the fallen from death by shell and aerial bombs, and carried food and water. The French medical officers paid glowing tributes to these men and insist on the Foyer du Soldat (Y. M. C. A. hut) men being with them constantly. The men act also as interpreters. S. H. Bush of Iowa City is cited for courage and tenacity in bringing in wounded over exposed places. The escape of these men was miraculous. The French are devoted to them and are gaining a high opinion of Americans through constant association with them." This was the gist of the cablegram.

WILL HEAR BEST LECTURERS ON WAR

Students at University of Iowa To Listen to Many Men Back From War

Some real fighting men with the added qualifications of being famous lecturers will be presented on the University platforms for the students, soldiers, and sailors during the year.

Captain A. Radcliffe Dugmore of the King's Own Yorkshire Light Infantry, the first speaker of the year, will be here Oct. 17. Captain Dugmore was captured by the Germans early in the war, escaped and was appointed brigade scout and intelligence officer for the British. He was gassed in the battle of the Somme with the result that he has been disabled for active service.

Sir John Foster Frazer, possibly England's greatest journalist, will also speak at the University during the year. He is a leading authority on the Russian situation. Leon Dabo, an American artist, who was interpreter and photographer for the American financial mission to Europe and who has just returned from his second trip to the war zone has been secured by the University lecture committee.

The Saturday Evening Post staff contributor and feature writer, Issac F. Marcossou will speak in January on The War and After. Mr. Marcossou has made five trips to the war zone. The largest dinner ever given at the Waldorf-Astoria was the testimonial dinner given him.

Italy's part in the War will be presented to the University public by Charles Upson Clark of the American Academy in Rome. Baroness Huard, daughter of the famous American actor, Francis Wilson, and wife of the French painter of note, will also address the University students. She is completing her third book on the war at this time.

WORKS OUT PROBLEMS OF ECONOMY IN OHIO

To work out problems of home economy with the Society for Savings of Cleveland, Ohio, Prof. Ruth A. Wardall, head of the home economics department at the University has been granted leave of absence for six months. Miss Wardall has been engaged in this work since June.

The University woman co-operates in this field with the housing committee of the mayor's war board and with the agencies representing the food administration. She is particularly interested in research along the line of economy in clothing. Miss Wardall will return to the University for the first week of school, and then proceed with her work in Cleveland.

Brigadier-General Hanson E. Ely, formerly of Iowa City and at one time a student in the college of law of the University, was sighted recently for conspicuous gallantry in the handling of troops and in making quick decisions in the battle of Cantigny.

General Ely was commander of the 28th infantry, and was promoted from the rank of colonel to that of brigadier-general immediately following this battle.

He entered the college of law here in '98, but did not finish his course, as he left to enter West Point, having received an appointment to that place. He has been in the service ever since his graduation from the military school at West Point.
