DEVEREUX PLAYERS PRESENT SHAW'S "ARMS AND THE MAN"

Modern Play Based on War With Plenty of Action Throughout
Varied Scenes

DEVEREUX AND GRAF LEAD

Play Easier to Present Than "The School for Scandal"—Players
Show Striking Ability in Handling
Widely Diversed Parts—Audience
Larger than First Night

The Devereux players presented "Arms and the Man" by George Bernard Shaw last night in the auditorium of the natural science building. This is a very different type of play from the old English satire of Richard Brinsley Sheridan, "The School for Scandal," in which the company appeared on the previous night. "Arms and the Man" is a modern play based on the war of 1886 in Serbia and Bulgaria.

It involves action rather than subtle interpretation, on which account it is much easier to present than "The School for Scandal." The cast in which are less than half the number of players who took part the night before is as follows:

Raina Petkoff ..... Zinita Graf
Catherine Petkoff Agnes Elliott Scott
Louka, Raina's maid... Sophie Wilds
Bluntshi, a professional soldier
..... Clifford Devereux
Major Sergins Sarnoff, Raina's fiance ..... Edmund Forde
A Russian officer... Murray Stephen
Nicola, servant of Petkoff's
..... Butler Mandeville

Major Petkoff ..... Garge Bennett
On both nights the part of leading lady was taken by Zinita Graf. Her acting was well worth the study of play critics and of all interested in the theatre. The acting of Sophie Wilds last night in the part of Louka far surpassed her previous performance in the part of Lady Sneerwell. Agnes Elliott Scott who took the part of Catherine Petkoff in "Arms and the Man" has played the leading parts with Edward H. Sothorn, the well-known Shakespearean actor.

KING'S DAUGHTERS HOLD BIG CONVENTION

Program Will Close Friday Noon
With Reception to New Members

Up to date, almost two hundred delegates have registered at what is considered to be the most successful convention that the King's Daughters have ever had.

The program for this annual meeting of the Iowa branch includes many interesting numbers. A dinner at the Burkley Imperial, an informal reception, a visit to the children's hospital, a sight seeing trip around the University, an auto ride and tea at North Liberty interspersed with the reports, discussions and annual business will take up the time allotted. The meeting will close Friday noon with reception to new members, and a consecration and memorial service.

The meetings are being held in the auditorium and are open to the public.

HOME-COMING WORKERS LUNCH AT CLUB

"Home-coming" committees will lunch together this noon at the Commercial Club rooms and hold a general discussion of plans for the great annual event.

Ninety-five committee members will lend their suggestions to formulate the final plans. There are seventeen different committees including executive, publicity and attendance, reception, hotels and rooms, meals, Home-coming dinner, decorating, mass meeting, parade, Commercial club lunch, excursion and auto, bands, field, University club, reception, Triangle club, airplane landing, and official guests.

The home-coming is to be November 21-22, and the official committees expect great crowds from all over the state. The campus and the city are to be decorated, according to Professor C. H. Weller.

A dinner at the University armory with places set for one thousand is planned. After the dinner it is the present idea to have a grand ball. These two functions will be open to both students and guests.

Never before have extensive plans been made for Home-coming.

NEARLY 400 MEN EARN COLLEGE EXPENSES

University Handles Employment
Problem This Year—Formerly
Part of Y. M. C. A.

Between 300 and 400 men in the University are working their way through the institution, according to an estimate by Robert E. Rienow, dean of men.

While this number, which includes all students who earn a part or all of their current expenses during the university year, is considered a safe estimate by Dean Reinow, it cannot be substantiated by accurate figures until a thorough canvass of the situation is made.

Rienow Plans Survey

This year, for the first time, the University is handling the student employment problem, the bureau having been formerly a department of the Y. M. C. A.

The Dean of men is planning a complete survey of the field which will cover all of the men in the University and business houses of the city and will reveal in detail all of the available facts.

Many Opportunities

Owing to the confusion of organization in the institution during the last year, an accurate comparison with the present is impossible. The records of the bureau for the year 1916-17 show the employment of 250 men, which indicates a marked increase for the present year in spite of the fact that opportunities for employment do not increase proportionally with the increase in the size of the student body.

PATRICK AT BACONIAN

Prof. G. T. W. Patrick of the philosophy department will deliver the address at Baconian club tonight at 7:30 in the physics lecture room. Dr. Patrick's subject is "The Psychology of Daylight Saving."

Entertained at Dinner

A. F. I. and Staff and Circle were entertained at dinner at the home of Dean and Mrs. George F. Kay last evening.

SOUSA'S FAMOUS BAND WILL APPEAR HERE IN CONCERTS THURSDAY

Veteran Organization is Now on Its First Tour Since the Close of the War

LEADER WAS IN NAVY

Tickets are Now on Sale for Matinee and Evening Performances in the Armory—Tickets are on sale at the Various Book stores—Band was founded 27 years ago.

Sousa's band, the most famous organization of its kind in the country, will give two concerts in Iowa City, matinee and evening, Thursday, October 23.

Lieut. John Phillip Sousa gave up his famous band nearly two years ago to take up his duties as an officer in the United States Naval Reserve Force, and was only recently released from the service. This is his first concert tour since he returned.

Sousa's American Institution

The Sousa band, as it is at present constituted, includes many of its former members, one of whom is a veteran who has been with them twenty-seven years ago.

Probably no man in the world of music has had so extensively advertised a personality as Lieutenant Sousa. He and his music have become famous in every part of the globe, and he has long since become an American institution. It is not exaggerated to say that he is known as the greatest band leader in history, and his band is recognized as the leading body of instrumentalists in the world.

Tickets Now On Sale

Sousa and his band have done and are doing much to promote musical interest, for they present programs containing compositions which would never be heard in many parts of the country if the celebrated leader did not make it possible.

The two concerts here will be at the armory. Tickets are now on sale at the University book store, the office of the School of Music, the Reis book store, Whetstone's, Sunier's music store, Wieneke's book store, Harmony Hall, Ragan's music store, and the Johnson County Savings bank.

UNIVERSITY PLAYERS HOLD FIRST MEETING

Margery M. Heberling, chairman and Jean Birdsall, Henry Rowe, and Helene Blattner compose the play committee of the University Players appointed at their organization meeting yesterday at 4:30 in room 3, natural science building.

A play will probably be given before Christmas, according to John Schneider, senior, president of the organization; and other plays will be given during the year. No definite plans for dramatic productions can be announced until the play committee has read and reported on a number of plays.

Later, a vice-president will be elected to succeed Kenneth Bergner who has left school. Present officers are: John Schneider, president; Glenn Thompson, treasurer; Margery M. Heberling, secretary; Earl Worth, business manager; and Lawrence P. Block, property man.

ZETAGATHIANS GIVE PROGRAM

Zetagathian literary society will hold its regular meeting in Home Economics lecture room to-night at eight o'clock. The following program will be given.

Oration—Towle.
American Reconstruction — Lawrence.

Music—Quartette.
Debate "Resolved that organized strikes should be prohibited by law."
Affirmative, Bliss, Aldrich.
Negative, Mott, Glotfelty.
Song—"Zetagathian."

An important business meeting will follow the program. Every new member is expected to be present, according to Clarence W. Fackler, president of Zetagathian.

ILLINOIS GAME TO COME PLAY BY PLAY

Leon Brigham Will Telephone
Direct from Field to N. S.
Auditorium

Complete returns from the Illinois game Saturday will be given the Iowa football fans in the natural science auditorium while the game is in progress. Telephone communications have been secured direct from the field and Leon H. Brigham, sports editor of the Iowan, will send the details as the game progresses, while Ralph E. Overholser, editor-in-chief of the Iowan, will take them off the wire at this end.

Give Yardage Gained

On the stage of the auditorium a plot of the field is to be erected with a miniature football suspended over it. On every play the football will be moved, giving the dope as to the yards gained or lost, downs, and possession of the ball. Prof. E. H. Lauer will act as announcer and give in detail the plays as they come over the wire.

Reports Begin at 2:30

According to a telegram received today from George Huff, athletic director at Illinois, the game will be called promptly at 2:30 and the reports will start coming at that time.

RED CROSS PLANS MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Annual Roll Call Date Set for
Nov. 2 to 11—20,000,000
Members is Goal

Twenty million members subscribing $15,000,000 is the goal of the American Red Cross which is preparing to launch its third roll call from November 2 to 11.

Iowa City and Johnson county have not yet been assigned their quotas but they will strive to maintain their reputations and provide the Red Cross with their full quota of memberships.

Wide Scope

Several reasons have been given out by the national headquarters of the American Red Cross explaining why it is necessary to raise $15,000,000 for its international, national, and local work. One of the primary reasons is that the actual war work will not be completed until every man has been released from service, recovered from injury or is back in civilian life.

OLD GOLD WARRIORS LEAVE FOR FIRST CONFERENCE GAME

Coaches, Trainer and Twenty-two Men Leave for Urbana After Last Snappy Workout

INITIAL LINEUP UNCERTAIN

Heldt, Center, Called Home by Illness of Father, but May Rejoin Team—
Some Men Not Fully Recovered
From Injuries in Husker Game—
Plenty of Subs Ready.

Iowa's hope of defeating the strong Illinois eleven left twenty-two strong for Urbana last night where they will tackle Zuppke's warriors on the morrow. The last practice on Iowa Field last night was a snappy workout that pleased the coaches immensely. No attempt was made to scrimmage, but Coach Jones gave his varsity considerable drill in defending against forward passes.

The only discouraging feature of the evening was the absence of Johnny Heldt, regular center. He was called to his home in Lyons, Iowa, by the serious illness of his father. Should the stocky pivot man be unable to leave his father's bedside in time to participate in the crucial battle with the Illini, the Hawkeye forward wall will be sadly weakened, but Coach Jones left with the confident expectation that the veteran would join the team at Davenport last night.

Team Optimistic

Just who will start the game tomorrow for the Old Gold is not definitely decided upon, although in all probabilities it will be the same lineup that faced Nebraska. Hunzleman may possibly start in Kaufman's guard and Pyles may possibly be given first call over Charlton, but the reverse combination is more probable. Charlton is still bothered by a bad shoulder which he injured in the Cornhusker game, and this may be a deciding factor with Jones. At all events, the Old Gold mentor will have a classy array of substitutes available in case any of the regulars are injured. The team left with optimism running high and while no one would make a prediction, fans may expect one of the most bitter grid scraps of the season.

Band was Out

Besides the coaches and Trainer Watson, the following men made the trip of invasion: Captain Lohman, Kelly, G. Devine, A. Devine, Heldt, Mockmore, Kaufman, Hunzleman, Slater, Synhorst, Belding, Block, Charlton, Pyles, Prentiss, Parker, Rich, Cumberland, White, Jacqua, McConell and Charles Smith.

The band and about two hundred boosters met on Washington street last night, marched to the station in a body, and gave the Hawkeyes a final rousing send-off.

BRING IN UNIVERSITY CATALOGS FOR 1918-19

Students who have extra copies of the University catalog 1918-19 or who have copies which they can spare will favor the administration by turning them into room 11, L. A. The supply has been nearly exhausted and calls are being received for them at the business office daily.

TRAIN THE FROSH

If we would attain a Greater Iowa spirit we must begin teaching sportsmanship to this year's freshman class and make the practice traditional.

Members of the first year class should go to the football games in one body where they could sit together and be taught the yells and songs of Iowa. A senior cheer leader should be chosen to instruct them. The Iowan does not mean to suggest a "rowdyish" impression of upper-class superiority but a dignified method of teaching the freshmen what Iowa stands for and imparting to them the real spirit of the University as it is expressed in Iowa songs and yells.

The need for instruction in early University life is evident. A senior recently admitted that he had never heard of "Three Cheers for Iowa" and it is commonly known that there are many others who cannot even whistle the tune of "Old Gold." The volume and harmony emanating from those on either side of one at a single mass meeting will convince the most skeptical.

A step in the right direction was made last year when the freshmen women were required to learn Iowa songs in their freshman lecture course. But let the idea be carried still further and marshal all freshmen together at the next game and let them voice their songs and yells in unison under the direction of a senior. Force is not necessary; merely requiring that their seats be reserved together will meet the demand. Let them evidence their spirit and enthusiasm for Old Gold embody.

Coincident with lessons in loyalty should be instruction in sportsmanship—regard for the opposing players. Occasionally in the past over enthusiastic rooters have brought shame to Iowa men by slanderous remarks and by hissing opponents. Correct instruction in cheering on the field of sports would do away with conduct which is belittling to the University.

Iowa wants to be known as a courteous host and good sportsman. One way to show our dignity and courteous is to be present at the Ames and Dakota games and in exchanging a courtesy which we would expect on their field.

Let the freshmen sit embody and receive instruction which will make for a Greater Iowa spirit and true sportsmanship.

It must be a monotonous place in Lapland where the women and men dress alike in tunics, wrinkled stockings, leather breeches, and pointed shoes. What does the family talk about?

In the past six months 30,000 divorce cases have been granted Berlin which proves that the Hun is as mean a man at home as in the trench.

This is the season of the year when the leaves believe that one good fall deserves another.

There is a noticeable falling off of eye-brows these days.

Let "I" be the big noise in Illinois.

Get out the rake.

THE LISTENING POST

The initial contributor has appeared but apparently he does not desire the honor. He failed to sign his stuff.

Remarks the Initial Contrib: Would that we were all as assuming as the blithesome freshie who said, "I have an open and ignorant mind; you can pour anything into it that you want to."

Cheerful philosophy of our worthy professor: "Anything you don't understand, don't let it worry you."

In Chaucer class a young lady translates word "sap" as liquor. English professor bawls out, "For goodness sake, don't talk about liquor in this dry day and age. Why a man has to prime himself even to spit."

A rumor has it that Professor Brisco is to publish another book, and the editor-in-chief is seeking a story concerning it. But is the editor certain that is news. Most students would call it history.

Not the least of the hardships of the present sugar shortage is explained by an acquaintance who says the robust keeper of his boarding house refuses to serve any sweets these days.

It is just one difficulty after another in the Iowan office. When you are fortunate enough to grab a typewriter you can't land a chair, and when there isn't a scarcity in chairs the typewriters are either in use or on the hummer.

The city of Chicago continues to uphold its laurels in the criminal courts. Another pretty woman was acquitted on a charge of murder the other day.

Heard in a history class. "The population grew very slowly. There were but two women in the settlement."

It cannot be possible that all the students who cluster around the tables in the University library are as industrious as they appear.

Freshmen, up and at 'em! Why do you let the reporters call you Frosh?

A general hospital near Urbana is making ready for the isolation of Mr. Zuppke's athletes tomorrow afternoon.

Let's be sure, Hawkeyes, that the right parties receive those reservations.

We'll all be pulling for you!

NOTICE

Members wishing to attend the University club dinner Saturday evening at the club rooms will phone Mrs. Steindler or Mrs. Boiler not later than Friday, October 17.

IN BIG TEN CIRCLES

Wisconsin: Tradition at Madison was nearly responsible for the death of a freshman there when sophomores indulged in the old pastime of lake-ducking. N. P. Breslauer, the freshman, came very near being the victim of death by exhaustion from being continually forced to swim about. The faculty is very indignant over the episode and the offenders will have to stand trial and those found guilty face expulsion.

Michigan: In memory of their hero dead Michigan students have contributed a sufficient sum of money to erect a flag pole at the end of the football field. It will be in position in time for the Michigan Aggie game and be dedicated then. On the top will float the American flag and just below it the emblem of Michigan.

Ohio: "Three thousand Ohio State students cheering for their team," is the ambition of the athletic officials at the Columbus school for their coming game with Michigan. Rooters are highly optimistic over the outcome and are confident the football will adorn the collection of athletic trophies at the Hoosier school after the game is over.

Minnesota: Some of the more energetic ones of our northern neighbors have decided to publish a magazine bearing the catchy name, "The Foolsap." A dance will be given by the staff tonight in celebration of the edition.

DEVEREUX PLAYERS PRESENT SHAW'S PLAY

The widely diverse parts was evident to all who watched their acting in both plays. In no place did this ability appear more strikingly than in the case of Clifford Devereux who in the first play appeared as a decrepit old man fussing with his young and pretty wife and in the second as a gallant young soldier. The only adverse criticism of the players, generally admitted to be true, is that they were hard to understand. In justice to them it must be said that the auditorium is an extremely poor place for carrying the voice. The players said that their voices "hit them in the face."

SCANLON TO HELP COACH FRESHMAN

George Scanlon, of Oxford, student in the college of medicine, has been employed by the board in control of athletics to assist Coach Sharp in coaching the freshman football teams this fall.

There are more freshmen football candidates this year than ever before in the history of the institution and the athletic department has been strained to furnish adequate equipment.

Mr. Scanlon has had considerable experience in playing the game and was a most faithful member of the squad in previous years. His enthusiasm and knowledge of the game will be a fortunate asset for the first year candidates.
