Iowa Day will be observed at the only one hour.

Flag Raising and Retreat

In conjunction with a short address by Col. Morton C. Mumma, professor of military science and tactics, flag raising and retreat, and singing led by Dr. Philip G. Clapp, head of the department of music,

Robert R. Reed, pastor of the Presbyterian church. The University band will also take part in the exercises.

State-Wide Observation

Beside being the University's annual celebration of Iowa Day—the day which is being observed over the entire state today, the services are also in recognition of Flag Raising Day. Similar recognition is being given in all the colleges of the state.

This patriotic observance will take the place of a convocation. President Walter A. Jessup urges the entire student body and University staff to attend.

The order of exercises is as fol-

Reed.

"March King" Scores Big Hit at Two Concerts—Three Soloists Accompany Band

John Philip Sousa was given a warm reception when he returned to Iowa City after an interval of fifteen years and presented his band in two concerts at the armory yesterday afternoon and evening. The "March King" has a splendid array of musical talent and he offers a variety in each program. Approximately one thousand people attended the afternoon concert and practically every seat was sold for the evening performance.

Sousa is a master of technique. He has a characteristic swing of his baton that brings forth low tingling of bells and vibrations of reeds one second and the thunderous harmony of brass the next. Perhaps one reason why his programs are so pleasing is because they abound in pleasant contrasts. Another reason, too, is because every one of his sixty musicians is an artist. This was evidenced time and again yesterday in solo work and variation parts.

At the matinee program Miss Mary Baker, soprano, accompanying the band, sang a valse from "Romeo and Juliet" and offered "Rose of My Heart" as an encore. The violin solo, "Dance of the Goblins," played by Miss Florence Hardeman, was followed by "The Swan" as an encore. And those who like the old favorites must have been pleased when H. Benne Henton played
"When You and I Were Young, Maggie", as a saxophone solo.

The concerts were given under the auspices of the University music committee.

SET ENTRANCE STANDARD

Education Committee of Fifteen Meet at Cedar Rapids

President W. A. Jessup, Geo. F.
Kay, dean of the college of liberal arts, H. C. Dorcas, University registrar, and Wm. F. Russell, dean of the college of education, spent Thursday in Cedar Rapids attending the meeting of the Committee of fifteen of the Iowa State Board of Education held at the Montrose hotel. D.
D. Murphy, president of the board, called the meeting for the purpose of settling on a definite standard of college entrance requirements.

President Jessup remained in Cedar Rapids to attend meetings of the Iowa Code Commission, Oct. 24-25, in which the matter of providing adequate laws relating to public schools will be taken up.

DEAN KAY APPROVES PLANS ADOPTED BY SOCIETIES FOR COUNCIL

"I have read with interest the plan of organization of a University Student Council which has been prepared by the members of A. F. I.
and Staff and Circle and do not hesitate to state that I approve the motive which has prompted these young people to organize a council and feel sure that if the students of the University get behind the movement, results will be achieved which will be welcomed by the faculties of the colleges and which will do much to further student activities which are vital to the welfare of the University."

MANY CRIPPLES ON SQUAD THAT LEAVES TO PLAY MINNESOTA

Twenty-Two Men Make Up Personnel That Will Carry Old

JONES RELUCTANT TO TALK

Coach Does Not Underestimate the Strength of Gopher Team—Kelly and Charlton on Side Lines as Result of Injuries—Team Left Last Night.

Iowa football squad, twenty-two strong, left Iowa City last night at 7:55 o'clock for Minneapolis. Coach Jones had nothing to say regarding his team's chance for victory, but declared emphatically that Iowa would have a tough fight. The last practice before the departure of the squad was far from satisfactory.
With nearly half of the team on the side lines with little injuries that Trainer Watson feared to aggravate, the shattered varsity stacked up against the yearlings who were directed to use Minnesota plays.

Kelly on Side Lines

Quarterback Kelly was again forced out of the game by his sore affliction, a large energetic boil. It seems that the scrimmage of Wednesday night did not agree with him, and the doctor ordered him not even to get out in uniform lest he become the victim of infection. Aubrey Devine ran the team from the quarter position in the regular pilot's absence. Belding, Glen Devine, Mock-more, Charlton and Parker were the other cripples who were kept out of the mix with the frosh.

Coach Sharpe's freshman crew worked the Gopher formations altogether too successfully to suit Jones and he raked certain members of the varsity over the coals without mercy. With the line-up nearly half composed of substitutes, however, ragged play was little to be wondered at.

Cripples Will be Ready

Trainer Jack Watson stated that he thought all of the cripples, with the possible exception of Charlton, would be ready to start tomorrow. The plucky left end threw his shoulder out of place in the scrimmage Wednesday night and the muscles are still stiff and sore. Every time he is forced to tackle a man on the inside, the same mishap occurs and there seems to be no way of preventing it. He may start the game Saturday but it is doubtful if he will be able to stand the strain of a full contest.

SPECIAL TO MINNESOTA

A special car has been chartered to leave here Friday night for the Minnesota game at Minneapolis. Through the efforts of Dr. Voss, Fred Racine, and W. O. Coast fifteen men have already signified their intention of making the trip. They have requested that class representatives and others who are planning to go should make arrangements at once in order to secure accommodations with the party.

WOMEN'S JOURNALISTIC FRATERNITY PLEDGES

Dorothy Lingham and Elsie Katz Honored. Red Pencils Worn by Pledges

Dorothy Lingham and Elsie Katz were pledged to Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalistic fraternity, Wednesday night at the home of Mrs.
Grace Partridge Smith, an honorary member.

After the short pledge service, a buffet supper was served. The new pledges were given bright red pencils to be worn conspicuously the remainder of the week and to be used for all library work and class notes.

A program was given in honor of the new members, consisting of piano solos by Mrs. Smith and a short history of Theta Sigma Phi by Beth Wellman, telling also the aims of the organization. Plans for the year were informally discussed, and new members were acquainted with the work of Theta Sigma Phi.

Rho chapter of Theta Sigma Phi was installed in the University as the first women's professional fraternity over a year ago, and since that time its members have taken a prominent part in journalistic work. Requirements for membership are unusual merit in journalism and good scholastic standing. Others will be pledged to membership later in the year.

The present membership of Theta Sigma Phi includes the following young women of the University:
Beth Wellman, Nancy Lamb, Marion
C. Smith, Marian Dyer, Katherine Fritson, Ophelia Miller, Mary Rice, Marjorie Peters, Fern Richardson, and Mrs. Grace Partridge Smith.

STUDENT COUNCIL AND CLASS OFFICERS ELECTED SAME DAY

A. F. I. and Staff and Circle, Senior Societies, Propose Plans For First Elections

PETITIONS IN BY FRIDAY

University Student Council Composed of Nineteen Members—Ten from Junior and Senior Liberal Arts and Two Each From Professional Colleges Except Pharmacy

Note: The complete constitution will be found on page 5.

All-University day has been designated as Wednesday, November 5, by A. F. I. and Staff and Circle, who have been working on plans for such a day since the opening of the fall term. Final arrangements for the all-election day and the inauguration of a student council were adopted by the two societies at a joint meeting at the home of Dean R. E.
Rienow Wednesday evening. The plan was approved by a number of faculty members.

The constitution proposes a plan for the election of class officers and members to the Student Council. It provides that for each class there shall be elected a president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer.
Nominations in the college of liberal arts shall be by petition and in professional colleges, as the circumstances and precedent dictate.

Election, November 5

Election of all class officers and student council members in all colleges will be held Wednesday, November 5, the polling places to be announced at a later date. All nominating petitions are to be presented to the office of the dean of men before 12 o'clock noon on Friday, October 31. All petitions must be signed by the qualified voters of the class of which the candidate is a member.

The constitution provides for the election of members to the Student Council for this year only. It will be the duty of the newly elected council to arrange and amend the provisional article for future elections, according to conditions.

Council of 19 Members

The document sets out that the organization shall be the University Student Council of the State University of Iowa. The purpose of the council is to co-operate with the ad-

MINNESOTA GAME WILL BE RECEIVED BY WIRE

Reports of Saturday's Game Will Be Received in N. S. Auditorium

Arrangements have been completed for the receiving of telegraphic reports of the Minnesota game next Saturday. A telegrapher will wire the game play by play to the natural science auditorium where the reports will be announced and registered on the chart.

The large attendance to hear the returns of the Illinois game caused the athletic board to continue the service. The reports are expected to be more timely and accurate because of telegraphic communication, said a member of the athletic board, and the difficulty which was experienced last week in maintaining communications by telephone will be done away with. Reports of the game will commence at 2:45 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

ALL-UNIVERSITY DAY

Iowa is to have an All-University day.

Such an innovation will cause many students and faculty members to rejoice for certain it is that the University is in need of such a day. Petty politics and an ill-regulated electoral system have characterized class elections to the disgust of the electorate.

Coincident with the All-University day will be the inauguration of a University Student Council. For the first time in the history of the institution all colleges will vote for delegates to represent them on a body which is to co-operate with the faculty in controlling matters which pertain to student affairs. It is a new era for the students at Iowa.

The matter of a student council and an All-University day was agitated last spring. A. F. I. and Staff and Circle, honorary senior societies, initiated the work which the new members of the same societies have completed this fall. It is to their untiring efforts that the credit for such an innovation should be given.

Students of Iowa are entering upon a new era at the University, an era in which they will be given representation in the affairs which affect them. The success of the project is in the hands of the student body. Its destiny is dependent on the interest and co-operation of the several colleges. Only by harmony and unison can the innovation bring results which will benefit the University.

USE YOUR GENIUS

Have you literary genius?

Each month there is issued on the campus a magazine which should vitally interest the student—a magazine which includes in its scope campus life, University activities, and alumni messages. It is the Alumnus.

The Iowa Alumnus in its new policy as announced by the editor-in-chief, Mrs. Grace P. Smith, welcomes short articles and sketches of student life, as well as original work such as poems, stories and feature articles. The columns have been opened to the student who desires to contribute. Such a policy challenges the literary talent of the campus and affords an opportunity for the student to break into print.

Students can help make the Alumnus a truly representative University magazine by recording events which will interest the alumni and former students and by sending them to the editor of the publication. Students themselves will find the best thought of the faculty and student body between the covers of the Alumnus.

It is a monthly record of big events at the University. The student body is invited to contribute to its columns and read its pages. Give way to your genius.

BE LOYAL TO IOWA

Attendance at the Iowa Day exercises on Old Capitol Oval this afternoon will express more than a mark of loyalty toward the University. It is broader than colleges. It is proof of patriotism, loyalty to nation and state.

Freshmen, come, and get the spirit of your University. Upperclassmen, prove your love for Old Gold. Iowans, show your appreciation of this state of ours. You have shown true patriotism in these last two years. Come out to revive the spirit which characterized your loyalty in the days just past.

Let us demonstrate, by our attendance this afternoon, that students at the University of Iowa are all for Iowa.

Be patriotic.

READERS' LETTERS

The Daily Iowan will gladly print any communication from its patrons providing the article is not over 200 or 300 words in length. The writer must sign the article to show his good faith in sending it, but no name will be printed if the sender so designates.

LAW ELECTIONS

To the Editor: An editorial printed in last Tuesday's issue of the Daily Iowan has created quite a stir in the law school. This article purporting to represent the entire student body, and citing the wishes and desires of the A. F. I. and the Staff and Circle, both honorary student societies, sought to hurl a stinging rebuke, and official reprimand at the students of the particular college that has so far conducted two class elections. There can be no doubt but what this radical and unfounded attack was directed at the students of the law school, because in that school both the junior and senior classes have already held their local class elections. The editorial writer charges the students who initiated this action with personal greed and political aspirations to the prejudice of the best interests of the University. The law school is held up as meriting the just condemnation of the entire campus because it did not withhold its local elections until the "All University Day" had arrived. The writer of that execrating philippic would have the public believe that the students of the law school did wilfully and with malice aforethought, fail to comply or act in open violation of an all University ruling governing the undergraduate body. Such a charge cannot be honorably made or consistently sustained in view of the present circumstances of the case. Here are the circumstances:

The A. F. I., an honorary society of undergraduate students from all colleges and the Staff and Circle, an honorary society composed of girls from the liberal arts college, have started a movement on foot to establish an all University day on which occasions all University elections are to be held. Such a movement is not without merit and the writer would no doubt be in favor of such a project and perhaps would cast his vote for it if given the opportunity. But so far no opportunity for the exercise of such a franchise has been accorded him. There has been no notice either actual, constructive or substituted, served upon him or any of his student brethren in the law college to vote upon such a day or even to consider such a proposition. No court or student tribunal, if you please, can exercise any jurisdiction over them until such a notice has been duly served. Even after service of such summons, the law school cannot be bound without a representative vote taken by the student of that college. The writer of that insulting editorial should take cognizance of the fact that the question of taxation without representation was a principle long ago established and made a salient factor in our American Institutions. True we do not have members of the A. F. I. from the law school—but did the students of the law school elect them? Or have they as yet been instructed on this question by the personnel of their college? They haven't even informed us of the existence of such a project. Since reading Tuesday's editorial the writer has held several conferences with our A. F. I. members; and they all have informed the humble writer that it was their interpretation of this "All-University day" movement that it applied only to general Class elections and had no reference, bearing or application to elections of local character, such as have already taken place in the law school. If the members of the A. F. I. do not know what this thing really is, how can an editorial writer from the liberal arts college expect the uninitiated public to have cognizance of and to understand fully its cardinal virtues and practical applications? I would venture this information for the benefit of our honorable critics, that we are readers of the law and not of the innermost workings of the minds of certain liberal arts students. If certain societies have assumed this great and wonderful task of bringing about an "All-University day," and if they really have the best interests of the University at heart why haven't they appointed committees to appear before the different colleges to enlighten all of us upon this great question and also to enlist our united support? Why keep the thing such a guarded secret?

It seems that the organizers of this movement, which is an excellent one in itself, have made a colossal blunder in their organization and now they are trying to cover it up by "passing the buck" to an innocent bystander. They have elected to treat us as insubordinate and naughty school-children; and as such their first plan, is to intimidate us through public humiliation and then when our spirit is sufficiently broken they may pardon us if we come to them on bended knee acknowledging our peccability and praying forgiveness from our imperial masters. We feel that the students of the law college are too well versed in their rights and liberties to offer themselves as willing sacrifices to such masked hypocrisy. Such unfounded attacks and insulting insinuations breed every thing but a friendly spirit of concert and active co-operation which are essentials to the success of an All-University undertaking.

The law school has always been and always will continue to be one of the most active and potent agents for the development of a Greater University idea. They have never been slackers in any student movement and I dare say if given an opportunity they will do more than their share in developing this "All University day" project. However they may see fit to change some of the policies that seem to have been already adopted by a few self appointed guardians of our University's destiny.

In summary our position is simply this:

- (1) We deny any guilt for wrongful conduct.
- (2) We most strenuously object to this wanton display of officiousness on the part of our self-appointed judge.

EDWARD L. O'CONNOR.

Leo D. Nicolous and Oral Dold have returned from a visit with the Sigma Pi fraternity at the university of Illinois at Urbana.

DRAMA LEAGUE TO GIVE PAGEANT

Five Hundred Will Take Part in Great Patriotic Spectacle At Englert Next Month

The Junior Drama league of Iowa City, under the direction of Mrs. William Hart of Little Rock, Ark., will present an historical and patriotic pageant "America Today and Yesterday" at the Englert theater, November 14. One dance will be presented by the aesthetic dancing class of the University gymnasium department.

The four main groupings of the pageant are "The Spirit of Independence Day," "The Spirit of the Wilderness," which will represent the early pioneers, "The Spirit of 1776," featuring the minute men, and "The Spirit of Patriotism," which will include, besides other features, the national anthems and folk songs of eight allied nations.

Members of the committee for the presentation of the pageant are Mrs. Hart, chairman, W. E. Beck, assistant chairman, Miss Mary Cole, Mrs. E. E. Lewis, Miss Florence Chapin, Miss Florence Churchill, Miss Nell Buckner, Miss Abby Macraith, Mrs. Eva Henderson, Miss Helen Baldwin and Miss Ann Casey.

DENMARK UNIVERSITY WANTS IOWA STUDENTS

A Danish plan for exchange of students will give those students who may wish to study at the University of Copenhagen a chance to do so. Any information on the subject may be obtained by writing to the "Studenterraadet" is the representative council of Danish students, and is officially backed by the University. This bureau of information has been established to improve the understanding between Denmark and other countries by an interchange of university undergraduates and college students. The exchange of university professors was well under way before the war, but exchange of students is something new.

The students' council of Denmark will assist all foreign students in finding board and lodging and put them in touch with Danish academic circles, where they can find fellow-students and make friends.

Attending the lectures is the main thing for the foreign student, but next in importance comes the assimilation of the atmosphere of the university and the country he is visiting. The object in this exchange of students is that the students will be better fitted for the positions they will hold if they are governmental, if they have a real understanding of other countries and nations acquired through personal knowledge.

IOWA MEN SPEAK AT WATER WORKS MEET

Hinman Talks on Observations in A. E. F. Birge and Dunlap Also Speak

Three members of the faculty of the University of Iowa appeared on the program at the fifth annual meeting of the Iowa section of the American Water Works association, which was held at Mason City on October 22 and 23.

Jack J. Hinman, assistant professor of epidemiology and water bacteriology, spoke Wednesday afternoon, October 22, on "A Water Supply of the S. O. S." Professor Hinman was recently a captain of the sanitary corps of the U. S. army and was sanitary inspector of water at the American embarkation center at Le Mans, France. His paper dealt particularly with conditions about that city.

On Thursday morning, Dr. E. G. Birge, state epidemiologist, whose offices are at the University, read a paper on "The Country Well as an Integral Part of the Municipal Water Supply." Under the head of reports of committees Prof. J. H. Dunlap gave a report on sanitary drinking fountains.

Last spring the Iowa section met in Iowa City, the meeting having been postponed from the previous fall on account of the influenza epidemic, which predominated a year ago. Now the time of meeting has been changed again to the fall of the year.

WHAT EVERY STUDENT OUGHT TO KNOW

Students of the University are invited to become contributors to the Iowa Alumnus. The editor desires short articles and sketches that will represent student activities, and that will tell the alumni what student life on the campus is today.

Every student ought to know that the Alumnus is just as much his magazine now, as it will be after he receives his degree. Every student ought to read the Alumnus, and make the traditions of the University his now, so that when he leaves the campus and class room, he may not become a penive unit in a body of 10,000 alumni, but a real power.

A graduate of '74, who has not been back since his graduation, writes that he is "hungry" for news of his classmates and of the University. He desires to keep in touch with Alma Mater; he wants to know what is going on,—all about the 1001 activities which make the interest keen, and keep the University alive. Won't you tell him, and manw others like him, about the big things you are doing at Iowa?

Space in our columns is also reserved for the students' best output in literary form, poems, stories, or feature articles. We sincerely hope this innovation may attract attention. Tell your classmates, for this is what every student ought to know: that we offer you an opportunity for publication. You can see yourself in print. It is a legitimate desire and worth your best efforts. Please mail your manuscript to the Editor, Old Capitol Building, by the first day of each month. Make the Alumnus yours not only by reading it, but by writing it.

Grace P. Smi'h.

IN BIG TEN CIRCLES

Michigan: Secret practice has been in order at Ann Arbor all week in preparation for tomorrow's game with Ohio State, which is regarded as one of the most decisive in the Big Ten as it eliminates one of the chief contenders. Both schools are represented by great teams and in Harlay, Stinchcomb, Vick, and Goetz the fans will witness some of the classist football ever produced.

Ohio: "Stop Harley" cries from Michigan show the respect that is accorded to the Buckeye halfback who has skirted the ends of every opponent this season. Followers of Ohio State are enthusiastic over the prospects of their team and a huge delegation is going to make the trip to Michigan. Open play is the favorite style with the Buckeyes but in Willaman the easterners have a man who is able to hit any line with good results.

Illinois: Hard luck stories arise from the camp of Bob Zuppke on the eve of the great battle with Wisconsin. Sternaman and Leitch are both reported on the injured list. Iowa scored against the Illini by the aerial route and it is likely that the Badgers will be dangerous as they are making use of this style in their play this fall.

Northwestern: Coach Bachman is making strenuous efforts to develop a quarterback who can pilot the team without continually blundering. In last week's game with Wisconsin three men were tried out but none performed satisfactorily to the coach. The rest of the backfield is playing real football and are sure to give a good account of themselves when the Purple go down to Stag field tomorrow.

K. A. Joiner, manager of the men's dormitory announces that there are two private dining rooms in the dormitory now ready for use. These dining rooms, according to Mr. Joiner, are equipped especially for dinner parties. Each room will accommodate twelve people. Arrangements for such parties may be made with Mr. Joiner.

Friendly Class will meet Sunday morning 9:45 at the English Lutheran church. Rev Rollin C. Schirck is the leader. He will talk on Why I am a Lutheran. Come and get acquainted.

Drama League of Iowa City will hold a meeting at the Commercial club rooms Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. All members of the University Players are urged to be present.

For any subsequent year, the council shall be composed of the nine members retaining office from the previous year, and ten new members elected as follows:

(1) Five members from the junior class of the college of liberal arts, three women and two men, who shall be elected for a term of two years.

(2) One member, not a senior, from the college of law, who shall be elected for a term of two years.

(3) One member, not a senior, from the college of medicine, who shall be elected for a term of two years.

(4) One member from the junior class of the college of engineering, who shall be elected for a term of two years.

(5) One member from the junior class of the college of dentistry, who shall be elected for a term of two years.

(6) One member from the senior class of the college of pharmacy who shall be elected for a term of one year.

ARTICLE V—FILLING VACANCIES
Vacancies in the council shall be filled at a special election held in the same manner as the regular election and at a date to be set by the council, which date may be the same as the time of the regular election, or such other time as the council may designate. Members elected to fill vacancies shall be elected from the class of which the member whose place he is selected to fill was a member, and for a term equal to the unexpired term of the said member.

ARTICLE VI—OFFICERS

a. The officers of the Student Council shall be a president, a vice-president, a secretary, and such other officers as the council may see fit to elect. They shall be elected by the Council by a formal ballot for a term of one year.

b. The election of officers shall take place at the time of the last regular meeting of the year.

c. These officers shall take their office at the first regular meeting of the year.

ARTICLE VII

The specified method for election of class officers and student council members which shall prevail until the university council as above constituted shall adopt other measures will be the following:

1. For each class there shall be elected a president, a vice president, and a secretary-treasurer. No other class officers shall be elected.

2. Nomination in the college of liberal arts shall be by petition. Nominating petitions for officers of the freshman class shall be signed by seventy class members; for officers of the sophomore class by thirty class members; for the junior class by twenty class members; and for the senior class by twenty class members. Petitions shall state the name of the candidate, the office for which he is proposed, and the class, as: "The undersigned petition for the nomination of (—John Smith—) to be (—president—) of the (—freshman—) class of the college of liberal arts." Nominating petitions shall be presented at the office of the dean of men before 12 o'clock noon on Friday, October 31.

3. Each petition shall nominate only one person for one office. As many nominees for any office will be accepted as are presented.

4. Candidates for election to a class office must be members of the class in which they are a candidate according to the University's standard of class membership.

5. Each student may vote only in the election held by the class of which he is an accredited member. If there shall be a contest for a vote involving the question of whether a student is a member of a professional college class or a liberal arts class, he shall vote in the college from which he will normally take his professional degree. Qualifications for voters and signers of nominating petitions are the same.

6. Uniform ballots for election will be furnished by Staff and Circle and A. F. I. Names will appear upon the ballot by office rather than by ticket and their order upon the ballot will be determined by the order in which the nominating petitions are filed. No ticket designations shall be expressed on the ballots.

7. A plurality of votes shall elect. Candidates for membership on the student council receiving the largest number of votes will be elected, junior and senior classes each electing five members as specified in Article IV. Candidates for the council shall be nominated by petition in the same manner as officers of the junior and senior classes.

8. Only juniors and seniors in liberal arts may vote for student council delegates in that college, each class for its own delegates.

9. Election of all class officers and student council members in all colleges will be held on Wednesday, November 5. Polling places, hours, and judges of election will be announced later.

10. Inasmuch as class elections in the professional colleges are traditionally conducted in class meetings and without preliminary campaigning, it is recommended to the professional colleges that they hold their elections on Wednesday, November 5, in such manner as circumstances and precedent dictate, electing only a president, vice president, and secretary-treasurer uniformly with classes in the college of liberal arts, and that the elected secretary of the class report the results of the class election to the dean of men.

In the college of engineering and the college of dentistry it is proposed that the junior class and senior class each elect one delegate to the student council, the class secretary to report this election together with the other class officers. In pharmacy the senior class will elect and report a delegate to the student council in like fashion. In medicine and law the colleges at large are asked to elect two delegates from the college, one of whom shall be a senior in his college, and the other a student in the college who is not of senior standing. The secretary of the senior class will report elections to the student council in the colleges of law and medicine.

One of the first duties of the student council which will be constituted through these elections in all colleges will be to devise a uniform system of class elections which will be applicable to all classes in all colleges.

11. The important features of this plan are considered to be that all classes will have the same number of officers of equal standing, that "party" tickets will be eliminated from the ballots, that all elections will occur upon the same day, and that the first duty of the elected secretary in each class will be to report the result of his class election to the dean of men. In future years the election result should be reported to the president of the student council and filed with that body.

RAINBOW VETERANS PLAN BANQUET

Former Members of This Famous Division Celebrate Signing of Armistice

Twenty-five men of the University who were members of the Rainbow Division have arranged for a big stag party to be held the evening of November 11, in the banquet room of Hotel Jefferson.

Veterans of this famous division who will be seated at their first formal dinner, come largely from the 168th infantry. They are representative of every rank from hard-fisted doughboy to lieutenant-colonel, and hail from almost every company of the old outfit.

Plans for the reunion were definitely decided upon at a meeting held in the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening, with James E. Thomas of the school of commerce, chairman pro tem. Detailed arrangements are in the hands of a committee composed of Joseph B. Bengé, '21, James M. Van Epps, '23, and Wilbur Gebbie, '23.

Although the idea was inaugurated by members of the 168th proper, the committee states that it is anxious that all men in the University who were members of the division should be present at the banquet, and requests that men falling in this class communicate with Chairman Joseph Bengé, 530 South Clinton street, immediately.

"STARS AND STRIPES" KNOWN IN AFRICA

Sousa Grants Interview to Iowan
Reporter—Is Modest About His Many Medals

"Why are there so many girl reporters nowadays?" asked Lieut. John Phillip Sousa as he extended his hand in friendly fashion to the representative of The Daily Iowan. "All along our tour I've met little girls your size, and they seem to be clever writers, too."

The great leader had been relaxing in the corridor in the rear of the armory during the five minute intermission of the afternoon concert, but he immediately arose and began relating some of his experiences with interviewers.

"It wouldn't be a Sousa concert without the "Stars and Stripes." Even in Africa they know that march and when I was there the Kaffirs gathered around and fairly worshipped me. They had heard the "Stars and Stripes" on the Victor talking machines and they seemed to think that I had created those instruments."

Lieut. Sousa apparently did not want to take the trouble to explain the meaning of the medals he was wearing, but with a few modest words said that one represented the palms of the French Academy, another the Victorian order, presented to him by King Edward, and the third was of the sixth army corps in which he served during the Spanish-American war.

"There's no town regulation forbidding my return, is there?" inquired the bandmaster in response to a question asking whether he would come to Iowa City again. "Farewell? I'll never play a farewell concert as long as I'm able to be on my feet. I never think of quitting." The emphasis with which he expressed himself banished all fear of the rumor that this would be Sousa's last concert tour.

"Ready?" called the librarian, and Sousa shook hands once more as he hastily called, "Will you come again tonight?"
