COL. ROOSEVELT AND AMERICA SAME, SAYS EDITOR IN ADDRESS

Cyrus Cole in Fitting Eulogy to Ex President at Ceremony in The N. S. Auditorium

EXEMPLIFY HIM, HIS PLEA

Newspaper Man Tells Students to Honor Great Leader by Patterning Their Lives After His—Moore Also Makes Appeal for the Spirit of Patriotism.

Cyrenus Cole, editor of the Cedar Rapids Republican and a personal friend of Theodore Roosevelt gave an address to the University students yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the natural science auditorium. In observance of Roosevelt Day Mr. Cole spoke on the subject of "Theodore Roosevelt and his Patriotism".

"Theodore Roosevelt and America are one and the same thing," stated Mr. Cole, "when we speak of America, we speak of Roosevelt and when we speak of Roosevelt we speak of America."

"We no longer think of Mr. Roosevelt belonging to a political party but as an American with no creed and no boundary line..."

Mr. Cole continues by saying that the greatest tribute that could be paid Roosevelt is to say that "dying he became the immortal America." Mr. Cole did not attempt to give the

LAW STUDENTS HOLD ELECTIONS WEDNESDAY

"Laws' Constitution Provides That Election of Officers be Held Last Wednesday of Oct.

Election of officers by the Law Students' Association will not be postponed until the proposed All University Day, Nov. 5. The official announcement signed by Dean D. O. McGovney and posted in the law building reads as follows: "The regular annual election of officers will be held in room 105, on Wednesday October 29 at 4:05 p. m."

Anxious for Organization

In explaining the stand of the laws, the senior president, Edward L. O'Connor said,

"Postponement would be unconstitutional. Article 7, Amendment 1, reads, 'Election of officers shall be held once each year, the last Wednesday of October'. (Constitution of the Law Students' Association). The date set is too late. We wish to get our organization under way. Some students have complained at having the election as late as it is." Discussing the proposed constitution for student self government he stated:

"It would not be quite fair to the professional school. The ten votes of the liberal arts college compared to the nine votes of all professional colleges combined would give it an absolute majority on all questions. We would like to see the student council supplemented by a student senate. The council's members would be elected according to the number of students registered in a college; the senate would be composed of an equal representation from all colleges."

Believe in Self Government

W. Emslie Hutchison, senior law and intercollegiate debate coach, said:

"All-University self government is not a new proposition. It was strongly agitated three years ago, but nothing came of it. We thoroughly believe in cooperation and self government. We have had it for years in the law college. But we do not think we should change our constitution on short notice to comply with the letter of a proposition on which our student body was not given a chance to express approval or disapproval, and which did not prove a success when previously advocated."

FACULTY RECEPTION AT WOMEN'S GYM

President and Mrs. Walter A. Jesup have sent out invitations to all faculty members inviting them to the annual faculty reception on Friday evening. Because of the unprecedented number of faculty members the reception will be held at the Women's gymnasium, as the President's home is not large enough to accommodate the guests.

MORE ALUMNI ASSIST MEMORIAL CAMPAIGN

Governor Lowden Takes Active Interest in Million Dollar Campaign

District chairmen are coming in rapidly for the million dollar campaign for the memorial building, which Iowa will erect in honor of her students who fought in the past three wars.

Karl D. Loos, a recent alumnus of the University, and now a lawyer in Chicago, has just notified F. W. Crone at campaign headquarters, that he will serve as leader among the alumni in Chicago.

Eugene Carr, an alumnus of the law school, now of Tacoma, Washington, and secretary of the Iowa association in that state, has accepted the chairmanship in that district.

D. T. Sollenberger, of Corydon, will head the eighth Iowa congressional district, and O. L. Campbell, of Oklahoma City will be chairman of canvass for funds in that community.

Governor Frank O. Lowden, probably the most prominent alumnus of the University in the state of Illinois, has signified his active interest in the campaign, in a letter recently received by Fred W. Sargent, chairman of the Iowa Memorial Union.

TEAM MET AT TRAIN

Small Crowd Greets Football Heroes at Rock Island Depot

The crowd that turned out to meet the football team on its return from Minnesota was a great disappointment to Coach Jones and other members of the University faculty who were boasting the event.

A telegram was received Saturday evening from Leon H. Brigham, sports editor of The Daily Iowan, requesting the student body to turn out and greet the team at the 8:00 o'clock Rock Island train. Cards were placed in several store windows and each fraternity and sorority house was notified by phone in the evening and the following morning before train time.

Only about 150 students from the entire enrollment of the University were present at the depot when the train pulled in. A few of the fraternities were well represented and a few loyal girls were also in the crowd. One of the greatest surprises was that very few of the men living at the dormitory west of town turned out to meet the train. Out of over three hundred men living in the dormitory probably not more than fifty turned out.

The few men that were at the train, however, showed their loyal Iowa spirit and rushed to the Pullman and heartily received the team as it stepped off the train. Three huskies were selected from the crowd who took their spile out on John Heldt by putting him upon their shoulders and carrying him to the platform some distance away. Cheers were given for Heldt and for the team and every man on the squad was heartily welcomed to show their appreciation of the splendid work the football team did the previous day.

The notice of meeting the train was received rather late in the evening. However, the news was well spread over town.

It was a nice morning to sleep and most of the student body took advantage of it, but the loyal people who did turn out showed the team that they were overjoyed with the victory they brought home.

PUBLISH HAWKEYE WITHOUT SERVICES OF BUSINESS HEAD

Associate Editors Will Handle a Share of Duties of that Office This Year

MAY ADOPT UNIQUE STYLE

Annual Publication to be Minus All Forms of Advertising—Part of Staff Already Named and is to Start Work Soon, Fred Steiner, Editor in Chief

A new and wholly different method of publishing this year's Hawkeye is now being discussed by the Board of Trustees and in a few days the complete details will be in the hands of the student body. The resignation of the business manager a short time ago has caused but little disturbance in the general business of organization though the staff was withheld from publication and is not yet completed in every department.

The new system, if adopted, will cause this year to be unique for the book will be without advertising of any manner. There will be no one person with the delegated powers and duties of business manager but that part of the work will go to the associate editors, of which there will be six. To these men will fall the marketing of the book and the various obligations that have to do with the general business connected to the work. A meeting of the trustees is set for tonight to definitely decide the issue and to perfect details in the discussed organization.

"A complete organization has not as yet been fully completed" stated Mr. Steiner last night, "but a part of the staff are already chosen and (Continued on page 3)

LAUNCH CAMPAIGN FOR FUNDS FOR ROOSEVELT MEMORIAL

Daily Iowan Solicts Contributions For Erection of Memorial to Great American

DRIVE IS NATION WIDE

Amounts and Names of Contributors Will be Published From Day to Day—Memorial Association Hopes to Collect Over Five Million Dollars—Quota for County is $2470

The Daily Iowan is soliciting funds in behalf of the campaign for the erection of a monument to Colonel Roosevelt in Washington and the creation of a park at Oyster Bay, coincident with the national campaign which is being conducted over the United States this week. October 26 to November 2 is known as Roosevelt Memorial Week over the country.

Contributions will be received from members of the faculty, students and townspeople of Iowa City. The name of each contributor and the amount of each contribution will be published from day to day in the columns of the Iowan. Solicitors have been appointed to canvass the students, faculty and the city.

No other organization or body is undertaking to raise a fund in Johnson county. Parties who desire to contribute to the fund may send their contributions to the Daily Iowan by mail or bring them in personally. Amounts of any denomination are acceptable from the minimum of a few cents to the "Sky as the limit."

The Roosevelt Memorial association is looking beyond the collection of a fund of $5,000,000. Quotas have been designated for the various counties in the plan of the campaign. Johnson county has been assigned to the collection of $2470. William H. Taft, ex-president, is chairman of the memorial association.

All funds will be turned over to the state head-quarters at Des Moines.

FRESHMAN MEDICS ELECT OFFICERS

The freshman medical class has elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Henry Bender, president; Walter G. Bernard, vice-president; "Pat" Wright, class delegate; Roletta O. Jolly, secretary; T. B. Treynor, treasurer.

HOLD TRYOUT FOR FIVE MILE RUN

Over a Score Complete Course—Twelve Men Chosen—Time—31 Min. 30 Sec

Twenty-one men started the 5-mile course yesterday and in remarkably fast time finished what is probably the hardest course in the state. The twelve men that placed were going in good mid-season form in spite of heavy mud and winds. Miller, a freshman law, boasted the tape first but no time was taken since he is ineligible. The twelve who will enter the finals next Saturday are named in the order as they finished. Arthur G. Kruse, Charles Bowie, Manley Sweasey, Ben Goodrich, Byron Biersborn, and Ristine were well bunched for the first place in thirty one minutes and thirty seconds. Following places were Frank Ebert, Philip Peterson, Robert C. Nelson, Wesley M. Burton, Herman White and John Buchanan.

Just what is to be done in regard to coming meets has not been decided. It is hoped that duals can be arranged with Cornell and Coe.

The date for the finals is still unsettled, but possibly it will be in the coming week. The athletic association has not yet taken the matter of sweaters or letters up for discussion and a report of what is to be given for this work is still a matter of conjecture, although it is rumored that letters marked "c c" will be given.

"All men still interested in the run and who did not enter today will still be given a chance to tryout," stated Coach Dutton. "We will do the best we can to schedule two meets and give letters for proper performances."

MORE I-TICKETS PRINTED

Record Demand for Year Books Requires Second Printing

Iowa went over the top in the sale of I tickets, having sold 2224 year books and issued 150 receipts to take the place of year books until more can be printed. These receipts make it possible for the holder to reserve his seat just the same as if he had an "I" book. The books are expected from the printers to-day and may be had by calling at the athletic office in the men's gymnasium, or by calling at Whetstone's and presenting receipt.

WALTER KNOWS, HE SAW THE ILLINOIS GAME

(Walter Eckersall in Chicago Tribune)

Iowa scored its second triumph over Minnesota in as many years by a 9 to 6 score. The Hawkeyes are one of the most powerful teams in the conference and must command the respect of future opponents. Iowa will meet Northwestern at Evanston November 8 and Chicago on Stagg field November 15 in its remaining Big Ten clashes.

C. Vance Shepherd, a first year student in the dental college, who was called to his home at Olds, Iowa, on account of sickness, returned to his work here yesterday.

Edwin J. Salzman and Raymond M. Anderson, first year engineers, returned yesterday morning from Wayland, Iowa, where they spent the week end at their homes and attended a home-coming celebration.

HAWKEYES VICTORS OVER MINNESOTA DRILL FOR CHICAGO

South Dakota Next Saturday and Northwestern Week Later Not Formidable

MAROONS ONLY OBSTACLE

Coach Stagg Has Developed a Wonderful Team at Chicago—Jones Clearly Outclasses Williams and Hopes to Win Remaining Games on Season's Slate

Back from a 9 to 6 victory over Minnesota, the second in as many years, the Iowa football team took an easy workout last night as the first step in the preparation for the game with Chicago, November 15. The Old Gold eleven must now be considered one of the giants of the conference. It reduced the haughty Gophers, touted as possible conference champions, to a humble state and will make a determined fight to win the remaining game on the schedule.

Hard Battle Saturday

Intervening between the Chicago contest is the game with South Dakota here Saturday and with Northwestern at Evanston Nov. 8, but no fear is entertained of either of these elevens. Coach Jones will point his team for Chicago because that fray looms as the one obstacle in the way of a clean slate for the remainder of the season. The mighty Maroons humbled Northwestern 41 to 0 Saturday and while it is realized that the Purple must have weakened miserably, due credit must be given Coach Stagg for developing a powerful team in the Maroons. While Iowa does not expect a walk-away against South Dakota, fans feel confident that Jones' protégés can dispose of the Coyotes handily. Every precaution will be taken however against defeat and the men will be groomed this week to expect a hard battle.

BASKETBALL MEN OUT FOR PRACTICE

Preliminary Work is Progressing Under Guidance of Leo Nicolaus, 1920 Captain

Preparations for the basketball season are beginning to take shape under the direction of Coach James N. Ashmore and Captain Leo Nicolaus. Three days a week are being spent in practice with the time largely devoted to preliminary work and handling the ball.

The old men who are to form the nucleus of this year's team are Nicolaus, captain, Earl Worth, Robert Finlayson, Robert Kaufman and Arthur Pyles. This number will be augmented at the close of the football season when the Devine brothers, McConnell and others are expected to report.

Coach Ashmore, who will take charge of Iowa's basketball problem this year, is a new addition to Iowa's coaching staff. For the last five years he has been athletic director with the University of Colorado, the last two years being largely taken up with army work for which he was given the rank of captain. Coach Ashmore graduated from the University of Illinois in 1903. While there he distinguished himself in football, baseball and basketball winning his "I" in all three sports.

Iowa's basketball season will probably start with a game here against Cornell on December 15, followed by Coe playing here on December 18, announces Coach Jones. The material which will be available this year to construct Iowa's quintet led Coach Jones to the assertion that prospects are good for a successful year. Among the new men who will add strength to the freshman team this year are Shimsek and Carl Lohman.

TO HIS MEMORY

The nation paid homage yesterday to the memory of Theodore Roosevelt. Fitting exercises were held in every city and town in America and in many of the public schools. The University observed the birthday anniversary of the late former president by a memorial service held in the natural science auditorium.

Roosevelt died only ten months ago, but already a movement is on foot to build a monument to his memory. The exercises were held yesterday to give publicity to the plans. It is fitting and proper that a monument of some kind should be erected and bear his name for Roosevelt will live with Washington and Lincoln in the hearts of the American people.

The Daily Iowan has launched a campaign to raise funds in the University and Iowa City for the furthering of the work. It is a campaign in which every student should have a part, however small. It is a campaign to which every person in America should feel it a privilege to contribute for Roosevelt was essentially the great Commoner of the last decade. His teachings have affected vitally the thought of the nation. His brunt sayings will be a part of American speech for a generation.

Roosevelt was a power in American political life, a model for the average American youth. Handicapped in his youth by feeble health, he made himself a tower of strength. A timid youth, he fought the battles of the western plains and became a lion of courage, unafraid of any man. He fought injustice and tyranny with a terror that enemies feared; but he was tender to the weak and the helpless. He loved right.

Roosevelt would stand as the foremost American of the last generation had he nothing to his credit but his lectures and his writings. He was the foremost exponent of Americanism. No one can ever accuse him of anything but the most intense patriotism. He loved all lands but he loved America best. He was the acme of loyalty and exacted loyalty in the same degree.

How fitting is it that this great nation that he so ardently loved should erect to his memory a great monument that will rank beside those erected to the memory of Washington and of Lincoln. Perhaps it will stand at Washington where Roosevelt spent seven years of his strenuous life. There, legion Americans will go in the years to come and worship at his shrine, carrying away with them something of that devotion that makes one love one's country more.

The late Roosevelt did much for the American people. They can do no less than erect a glorious monument to his memory now.

READERS' LETTERS

The Daily Iowan will gladly print any communication from its patrons providing the article is not over 200 or 300 words in length. The writer must sign the article to show his good faith in sending it, but no name will be printed if the sender so designates.

A MATTER OF SENTIMENT

At my Alma Mater, the University of California, immediately upon the close of any big game or at any congregation of students to listen to the returns from any big game, all present stand uncovered and sing our university hymn "All Hail Blue and Gold."

Since my arrival at the University of Iowa, I have come to love the Old Gold second only to my own Alma Mater, and I would like to call the attention of the student body to the above mentioned expression of sentiment. For instance, at the assembly of students in the natural science auditorium Saturday when the final returns of the Minnesota game were received, everyone made a grand rush for the doors. How much better it would have been for all to have remained standing and reverently sung "Old Gold."

If we are fortunate enough to be victorious, this little ceremony will cause us to depart with an added joy, in that the clear fighting team has brought us new laurels to those already attained by the "Old Gold." If the fates decree that our team be not victorious, the sting of defeat is softened and the fighting spirit for the future strengthened by the participation in this little sentimental ceremony.

CAPT. A. L. LANE.

Editor Daily Iowan:—Why is it that college students that are supposed to be halfway educated will make such fools of themselves? Why is it that those who do not care to hear a good talk will come to an assembly and make such an ill-mannered noise that even the persons on the platform can hear it not to mention the ones around them?

At the natural science auditorium, Monday afternoon, some or rather several non-essential persons made so much noise shortly after Lieutenant-Governor Moore started speaking that it was useless to try to listen to the speech. The other speaker, Mr. Cole, surely must have heard it for he more than once looked toward the noisy corner and shook his head and once when the noise was particularly bad he blushed with shame or maybe amusement.

Another thing that was annoying was the great number of people leaving the room which was quite unnecessary probably. Is there no way to train such college babies so that they will be better mannered?

BILL BUMS
TO GAME
WITHOUT BILLS

It's a cold, cold world for anyone who chances to have aspirations in the general direction of seeing a football game, especially in those parts marked Minnesota.

The going up wasn't so bad, but Bill Evans can vouch that the expenses were far above the estimate. Bill had a very gloomy outlook on the world yesterday morning, for the grouchy conductor on the train between Minneapolis and Cedar Rapids was in a bad mood—whereupon Bill found it necessary to produce specimens of the realm on two different occasions. Hard as it was to do, Bill remained on the train by having credit with several other members of the party, but the $8.75 he deposited with the "con" leaves a bad taste. Y'know.

There were others who were not absolutely out of the fun. The special car carried several students who knew the ropes and held tight under mattresses and other Pullman equipment. Two chaps were so unfortunate as to be induced by the gentle engineer to shovel coal, after they had been exposed to the elements and were nearing the scene of the coming game.

"It was worth it, anyway," confided one of the extras with whom luck had been kind and allowed a little space under a berth. "I'd do it again any time. We won the game and that's worth going a long way."

But Bill is reluctant to tell about the trip or any of its features.

TO AID SOCIAL WORKERS

Mrs. Grace Chaffee, '19, Delta Gamma and Phi Beta Kappa, has been elected a trained worker in the poor relief for Iowa City by the Social Service League. She will make a survey at Waterloo and assume her duties here November 1.

NOTICE

There will be a meeting of the commerce club Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in the commercial club rooms. Mr. Fackler, secretary of the commerce club, will, at this time outline the many new plans of the club. Girls will be admitted to membership in the commerce club for the first time on an equal footing with the men.

DOUBTFUL DOPE

Illini strategy against the Badgers must have been the same kind used by the good ship Merrimac. They had it all figured out but didn't have the necessary outside kick.

Now we know there was a funeral in Ann Arbor Saturday. Accounts of the game say that Flowers was heaped on the ball when Ohio made the winning touchdown.

Appearance of Chester and Lester Barnard, twins and ends on the Northwestern team, didn't baffle the Chicago backs much. They skirted around them so fast that Chester didn't know whether he was looking at Lester or himself turned around.

Iowa beat Minnesota 9 to 6 and we're happy. The excitement should not end here for there is going to be another edition of the Gopher. Last year's publication related the game by saying that Minnesota put up a game fight and succeeded in holding the Iowans 6 to 0.

Drake was surprised to hold Missouri but not half so much we presume as the Aggies were to see Kansas leave the field without a score.

In a certain high school game Saturday three touchdowns were made in the first six minutes of play. That makes us think the other team must have brought their knitting with them.

The art work will be done by Helen Hays, George Stout, Joe Bengtson and others of the art school.

A meeting of these people is called for Wednesday night at the Hawkeye office, in the south end of the physics building on the lower floor, at that time the full details will be explained to the staff and it will mark the actual beginning of what looks to be the largest job on the campus.

The color section will contain new ideas in the use of pen sketches and is at present well under way. Some of the prints are already in the hands of Mr. Steiner, editor in chief, and the remainder are being drawn by a professional artist. It is hoped that this section can be in the hands of the engravers by early December.

"I am still open for suggestions in the matter of selecting the members of the Iowa girl section" stated Steiner. "This book is too great an undertaking for any one individual or any group of individuals, for that matter. What is wanted is a keen interest in the makeup of the annual; a lot of suggestions, or criticism as the case may be. We can only represent the institution as we see it, and we can't possibly see but a small part."

EGELSON COMING
Rabbi Louis I. Egelson, of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations will visit the University in the near future to get in touch with the Jewish students. His purpose will be to maintain their contact with the religious phase of life. The Menorah Society will entertain him.

DRILL FOR CHICAGO

Second to Coach Jones stands Trainer Jack Watson as the man who should receive a great amount of credit for the splendid game the Hawkeyes played against Minnesota. Thanks to the veteran trainer, not one Iowa man was injured Saturday or even took out time for injury. Clyde Charlton, left end, played his first full game this season without suffering the grueling experience of having his bad shoulder thrown out of place. Watson's skilful bandaging held the joint firmly. Belding also went into the game with a knee that had been recently dislocated, but Jack had the injured knee bound so securely that it stood the strain.

Fight Like Wildcats

Confident before the game that years of superiority over Iowa would give them the morale to win, Doc Williams' protégés received the surprise of their lives on Northrop field Saturday. It was the first time in the history of the two schools that the Hawkeyes ever won from the Gophers on Northrop field. Nor was there any question about the relative strength of the two teams. Minnesota never had a chance except in the third quarter, when a weak place was found in the left side of the Iowa line. Between halves Coach Jones gave his men a talk that sent them back on the field a new team. Block and Mockmore, through whom the Gopher backs had ploughed steadily in the second quarter, played like a pair of wild cats the last half, and even broke through and downed the northmen for losses. Their playing was a recommendation to Jones as a coach.

Aubrey Devine playing his first year of varsity football, again proved himself to be one of the greatest players that ever donned an Old Gold uniform. Perhaps we should say—the most versatile. When he went back on punt formation, he had the Gophers guessing as to whether they might expect one of those brilliant exhibitions of open field running, a forward pass, or a long accurately placed kick. And speaking of his punting, one is reminded of the kicks of Chuck Laun whose ability to get every inch of territory possible out of his punts by correct placing, will be remembered by more than one fan. Devine's boots, Saturday, resembled those of Laun. His drop kick which proved the decisive factor in the game was made on a muddy field from a difficult angle on about the thirty-five yard line.

POLITICAL ARENA GROWS HOTTER AS TIME LIMIT NEARS

Fifteen Petitions Already Filed in Office of Dean Rienow
by Aspiring Students

LAWS PRESENT CANDIDATE

Robert R. Aurner Seeks Post on Student Council From College
at Large—Engineers May Select Representative at Meeting Tonight,
Says Campus Gossip

The political whirl daily grows more and more exciting as All-University day draws within the two week limit, and if the rumors may be taken as a criterion, that day will not be wholly devoid of abnormal activity. Already the office of Robert E. Rienow, dean of men, has been the mecca of some fifteen individuals bearing fully signed petitions for filing purposes. Each day sees more petitions started and daily the dean's office cares for those that have made the rounds.

The law college is the first to contribute a petition from any of the professional schools thus far. Robert E. Aurner presented a fully signed petition for nomination to the student council from the law college at large. Just when the engineers will meet to formulate their papers is not accurately known, but tonight it may be done in the regular meeting of the A. S. of A. S. Before the end of the week there will be petitions from all the colleges coming in.

Politics Lively at L. A.

Among the liberal arts students there is still no little commotion for every day sees new people entering the field. Papers of W. S. (Bill) Kelly for junior president, Arthur Rosenbaugh, Henry E. (Red) Ruwe, and Robert Kaufman for student council had been filed last night and the petitions of Marion Smith, Thelma Graves, and Helen Evans were being circulated yesterday. Mary Swift has entered the field as candidate for vice-president of the juniors, and Helen Rolleston has a petition well started on the road for junior class secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Cole made an appeal to the students to take advantage of their chance to receive an education, to prepare themselves to be good citizens by taking an interest in public questions and above all to read history. For Mr. Cole stated, "In history is truth and experience."

The next speaker was Ernest Moore, Lieut. Governor of Iowa, who has always lived in the state. Mr. Moore's speech was also an appeal for patriotism. "The spirit represented by Roosevelt represents the patriotism of Washington and Lincoln in terms of today," said Mr. Moore. He closed his speech saying,

"History is the teacher of nations and the measure of our lives." The petitions filed show six seniors as having complied with the rules, Don Nasby for president, Florence Strub for vice-president, Leo D. Nicolaus for secretary, and Mary Rice, Edward Chamberlin, and Margaret Hays for student council.

It has been rumored however, that the petition of J. Mel Hickerson is ready to be filed at the deans office.

Just what new petitions may spring up can only be a matter of conjecture. Everyone seems to be sitting tight just holding their breath and awaiting the new entree, if there is to be one. No one seems to know exactly who it is apt to be, nor how soon the entrance is to be made but the general feeling is in the direction of speculation on the subject.

All seems quiet in the sophomore fold at present, but the near future bids fair to unfold new complications in the form of incoming candidates. Chick Olson, president, Virginia Des Jardins for vice-president, Emmett Harney for secretary, David Mitchell and Winston Crary for Hawkeye trustees all have petitions filed. Howard Barnes has a petition circulating for Hawkeye trustee and rumors indicate new ones are coming from various quarters.

In the yearling pen however things tend toward general excitement. Lawrence Organ has a petition fully signed and ready to turn in to the dean, Ernest Henderson has taken steps to get the necessary seventy names and it is not at all improbable that today will find the freshmen in a genuine hubbub.

There seems to be a little disturbance in the mens dormitory, where the freshmen are all taking a kick at the traces. From current rumors tomorrow may find a completely new lineup from that side of the river, the men there not seeming to like their present representation in the petitions being filed.

SPEAKS ON PUBLIC HEALTH
