PERFECT PLAN FOR RAISING MEMORIAL FUND THIS MONTH

State Wide Organization is Ready to Carry Campaign Forward, States F. W. Crone

ALUMNI OVER U. S. TO ASSIST

Letters from Old Grads Show Interest in Project—John Beardsley of Los Angeles, in Charge of Entire Southern Part of California—Letters to Fraternities.

"The system by which $1,000,000 will be raised for Iowa's Memorial building has been thoroughly organized, and we believe that no detail in the intricate workings of the campaign machine has been overlooked," said Frederick W. Crone, manager of campaign headquarters Saturday morning.

The executive committee has outlined plans, Mr. Crone said, by which the state of Iowa has been divided into eleven districts with a chairman over each district who will organize his own force of men to take charge of canvassing details. These subcommittees, it is believed, will thus be able to come into close proximity with members of the Iowa Alumni association who otherwise would not be thoroughly acquainted with the project.

Not only have members of the Alumni in the state accepted appointments on committees for this work but letters have been received at campaign headquarters from Iowa's alumni all over the United States. Former Iowa men, not residents of Iowa have expressed their desire to help effect the object of the Iowa Memorial Union: Ray S. Jager, Tulsa, Okla.; Dr. George H. Belding, Milwaukee, Wisconsin; C. A. Dykestra, Cleveland, Ohio; Frederick Terry, Indianapolis, Indiana; F. G. Ray, Detroit, Mich.; W. H. Shuer, Fargo, N. Dak.; John Beardsley, Los Angeles, Cal.; Judge Hey D. Ross, Phoenix, Arizona; D. Longworth, Little ORock, Ark.

John Beardsley, Los Angeles, has offered his services in covering the entire southern part of California, which includes San Diego, Pasadena, and Los Angeles.

Letters were sent to the different fraternities and sororities at the University, since it is believed by this method many Iowa Graduates and students can be brought into an intimate knowledge of what the Iowa Memorial will mean.

DENTAL COLLEGE ADMIRIED

One of Best Equipped in Country, Says Dr. Ford of California

"The dental college at the University of Iowa has the finest building and equipment of any dental college in the country."

This was the opinion expressed yesterday by Dr. Lewis E. Ford, dean of the college of dentistry of the University of Southern California, at Los Angeles.

Dean Ford has been making a tour of the country, inspecting some of the best known dental colleges, in preparation for the building of a new dental building at Los Angeles. He has visited Harvard and Chicago, among a number of others.

"When I saw the equipment at Harvard university I thought it was the best in the United States, but since I came to Iowa I have changed my mind," he said yesterday to Dr. E. C. Smith of the dental college. "I believe that Iowa has the best building and equipment of any."

PHILOS HOLD DEBATES

Eleven men tried out in the championship debates of the Philomathean literary society Thursday evening in the law building. The three successful contestants were A. L. Bower, W. Moore, and R. Bateson with R. P. Marple and F. G. Evans as alternates.

WOULD BUILD MONUMENT TO ROOSEVELT ON FRONT LAWN

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, October 30, 1919.

Editor Daily Iowan
Iowa City, Iowa.

Dear Sir:—
Please accept this check for $15.00 to be applied toward Roosevelt Memorial. My greatest regret is my financial inability to place another monument of Roosevelt in the corner of my lawn. He is one of the great men whose victories were never haunted by the ghost of the conquered. I hope the biggest berth in heaven was tendered him.

Contributions Continue to Come in Sending Total Over the Two Hundred Mark

At 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon the total subscription for the Roosevelt memorial fund passed the $200 mark. Five additional subscriptions were turned in Saturday, totaling $60.50.

Because of the impossibility for many fraternities to turn in subscriptions yesterday it has been necessary to extend the time until Monday evening. The chairman of the fund trusts that all will cooperate in this matter by placing contributions in his hands before Monday evening. He can be reached at the Iowan office.

Saturday's subscriptions follow:
Delta Tau Delta fraternity 16.50
Theta Xi fraternity 11.00
Sigma Chi fraternity 8.00
Iota Xi Epsilon sorority 5.00
Total $60.50
Total Friday $141.45

Total to date $201.95

SIXTY SIGN FOR SPECIAL TO CHICAGO

Dance at Armory Saturday to Pay Expenses of Band to Maroon Game

Sixty students of the two hundred required have signed up for the special train to Chicago on November 15, when Iowa meets the Maroons on Stagg field. Petitions may now be found at the business houses of Coast, Brown, Whetstone, Kirk, Bremer, and Racine.

The band is also making arrangements to make this trip on the same train and the committee in charge is now trying to engage the armory for a dance next Saturday evening. The proceeds will go toward financing the expenses of the band men.

Since the petitions have only recently been put out the response by the student body is quite satisfactory to the committee. However, many men are not signing up because they do not wish to return at the time scheduled. According to the arrangement the special will leave Iowa City at 8 o'clock Friday night and return at midnight Saturday night.

Pledges Hold Smoker

The first of a series of smokers to be given by the freshman Pan-Hellenic council will be held at the Kappa Sigma chapter house Wednesday, November 4th. Freshmen and pledges from all fraternities will be present. The smoker is in charge of R. E. Gallagher, freshman president of the Kappa Sigma fraternity.

LITS CHOOSE NAME

The girls of the new literary society have taken the name Tas Mids, translated from the French, babbling in art. Their constitution has been approved by a committee from the Women's Forensic Council, and is now referred to a social committee in charge of Dean Arner.

CHARGE STUDENT AS BEING RINGLEADER OF MOVIE RUSHERS

Englert Theater Manager Asserts Gang Damaged His Property During Noisy Melee

MANAGEMENT HALTS SHOW

Stewart Buchanan, 314 Gilbert St., is Named by McKenzie as Chief Offender—Dunkel, of Pastime, Has No Criticism Against Them—Says Boys Will be Boys

As alleged ringleader in a theater raiding party following the mass meeting Friday night, Stewart Buchanan, 314 Gilbert St., an unclassified student in the University, is facing charges of damaging Englert theater property valued at $50.

Information was served yesterday morning by W. M. McKenzie, manager of the theater, following the "rushing" Friday night. Mr. McKenzie asserted that a crowd of approximately 150 excited undergraduates and high school boys forced an entrance to the theater at about 8 o'clock, damaging glass signs and furniture in the lobby, and embarrassing the patrons of the house. The show was stopped and those who had paid admission had their tickets returned to them. The raiders left after about an hour.

Boys Will be Boys

The self-invited guests of local entertainment houses next visited the Pastime theater where the spirits had somewhat abated and they were admitted without an argument. A. C. (Punch) Dunkel, manager of the Pastime, said, "I have no kick; they acted fine here; boys will be boys, you know; it only happens once in a while."

Those of the party who attempted to enter the Strand were stopped at the door by the manager, Thomas A. Brown. Mr. Brown offered to admit them if they would pay the required war tax, or to allow them to enter without the tax if they would return at 9:30. "They were a trifle noisy before I talked to them," said Mr. Brown, "but went away very orderly with the exception of a few yells. They didn't come back."

COYOTES PROVE EASY FOR HAWKEYES 'TIL SUBSTITUTES GO IN

South Dakota Men Tally Twice in Final Quarter of Game—Iowa Wins by 26 to 13 Score

PASSES AID THE OLD GOLD

Belding Goes Over for Two Touchdowns via Aerial Route, While Another is Registered by Pyles in Same Manner—All Second String Men Get in Fracas.

Iowa had no trouble defeating South Dakota on Iowa field yesterday 26 to 13. While the Old Gold varsity remained in the fray, the Coyotes never had a chance. Aubrey Devine and Parker carried the ball almost at will on plays from punt formation while Captain Lohman and Glen Devine riddled the visitors' forward wall on line bucks. Jones sent his second men into the game at the beginning of the last half and for a time the fresh warriors kept the westerners on the defensive. In the last quarter, however, Iowa misplays handed the Dakota crew several opportunities to score and they chased over two touchdowns before the final whistle called a halt to hostilities.

The Iowa backs had some difficulty in getting warmed up in the first few minutes of the game and made several bad fumbles, Aubrey Devine in particular. Once the powerful Hawkeye offense got underway, however, the Coyotes were unable to stand the strain. Iowa won the toss and chose to defend the south goal. Aubrey Devine kicked off to Heck, who received the oval on his three yard line and returned to the twenty yard mark. From this position Dubel promptly punted to A. Devine, who returned to his own forty yard line. On the next play, the Old Gold quarterback got away for a fifty yard sprint from a punt formation and placed the pigskin on the Dakota five yard line. Iowa fumbled here and Dubel punted out of danger. A few minutes later Iowa made its first attempt to score when Aubrey Devine drop kicked from about the thirty yard line. The boot fell short and the Coyotes took the ball on their own ten yard line. Dubel punted twenty yards to A. Devine. From this point Aubrey Devine hurled a beautiful long pass to Belding, who took the oval in on the run and crossed the visitors' goal for the first touchdown. A. Devine failed to kick goal when the ball struck the post.

Visitors' Passes Fail

In the second period, South Dakota secured the ball on the Old Gold forty yard mark, when A. Devine's kick went out of bounds prematurely. The Coyotes opened up with a series of forward passes which the Iowa backs had no difficulty breaking up, and Dubel was forced to kick to A. Devine. For the second time the combination, A. Devine to Belding, on a forward pass went fifty-five yards for a touchdown. Two long runs by Parker and Aubrey Devine and brilliant line smashing by Captain Lohman and Glen Devine gave the Hawkeyes the opportunity for the third touchdown shortly before the end of the half. Lohman smashed the ball over from the four yard line for this score.

All of Jones' second team got into the fracas when the last section of the contest began. For a time they managed to keep the Coyotes guessing and boosted the Old Gold total by another six points when Captain Lohman hurled a perfect pass to Pyles, who sprinted over the last chalk mark. The play netted over forty yards of territory and was the second spectacular pass of the day. With not a regular Iowa player in the line-up, South Dakota woke up in the last period.

The visitors' first opportunity to score came when Mendenhall and Kelly let Dubel's punt roll for about twenty yards. Each thought that the other was going to receive the

CROSSCOUNTRY RUN IN THIRTY MINUTES

Sweazy Crosses Tape First With Goodrich, Ristine and Kruse Following Close

First place in the final tryouts for the cross country team held yesterday was won by Sweazy, time 30 minutes flat, with Goodrich coming in a close second. The other contestants finished closely bunched. Ristine and Kruse crossed the tape a few seconds behind the leaders, followed by Bowie, Biersborn, Burton, and Nelson. The first six men finishing will compete with Cornell in the cross country run to be held here November 8.

The five mile course starts from the men's gymnasium and follows the river road nearly to Coralville, where it turns south and west and circles back to Iowa City from the south.

The honorary "I" with a small "c" on either side of it will be awarded to the members of the team if they emerge victorious from the meet with the Cornellians.

MEN'S GYMNASIUM NOT LARGE ENOUGH

Classes All Crowded and Enrollment Much Larger Than Last Year

The men's gymnasium this year is filled to capacity and all the classes are overcrowded. In all classes of gymnasium work and athletics about 1400 men are being accommodated at the present time. The entire enrollment of registered classes in 1919, E. G. Schroeder, physical training director, states that the gymnasium at the present time is absolutely too small and inadequate to supply means demanded by the large number of students now taking physical training. He states; "We should have a gymnasium three times as large as the one we have with 3000 lockers and a swimming pool over twice as large as we have at present. In fact what we need is a new gymnasium; we have outgrown the building we are now in."

Freshman teams in swimming and wrestling are to be organized soon, but due to the lack of space and provisions little has been done so far. Classes in boxing will begin in about two weeks and all men interested should report to Mr. Schroeder in the near future. Arrangement for a fencing class will be made soon which is expected to be large and several men have already arranged to take part.

There are some men who have not yet taken their medical examination, who Mr. Schroeder requests to report to him at once, in order to get his files straightened up as soon as possible.

Mr. Schroeder also states that out of the classes of freshmen and sophomores there are about 400 men who do not know how to swim and who are enrolled in the elementary swimming classes.

ZOOLOGY CLUB ELECTS

Zoology Club, an organization of the faculty members and advanced students of the department, has announced the new officers for the year. Grove C. Hawk was elected president and Miss Catherine Mullin secretary.

"I believe we have room for but one soul loyalty, and that is loyalty to the American people."—Theodore Roosevelt.

THE AUTOCRACY OF LABOR

Should 105,500,00 people suffer because of the greed and selfishness of 500,000 men? Have 500,000 men the right to tie up industry and dictate unjust terms? Is the autocracy of labor to be tolerated by the democracy which attends these United States? These are serious questions which confront the American People today.

Yesterday the United Mine Workers of America suspended operations because their unprecedented demands were not met by the coal operators—the Workers' demands being a six-hours day, a five-days week, and a sixty percent increase of wages. Such demands, if met, would mean a thirty-seven percent decrease in the bituminous coal output and would involve an increase of $2 to $2.50 in the cost of each ton delivered to the consumer. This would aggregate fully $1,000,000,000 in the country as a whole, according to the estimate of Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, senator from New Jersey and chairman of the subcommittee investigating the coal situation. Are the American people in these perilous times willing to pay the extra price?

Investigation shows that the miners are among the best paid labor in the United States. Authentic records taken from the Woodside and Klondike mines of Illinois give the average wage as $6 and eight hour day. The miner at these mines received an average wage of from $138 to $143 for the ten months previous to the signing of the armistice. Since the armistice was signed these miners have not worked as regularly and the earnings have been slightly decreased accordingly. The exactions of the miners mean that they desire to increase their average monthly wage from approximately $140 to $224, or practically $1000 more a year. Are the American people willing to accede to such outrageous terms when it would seem that their wage is practically sufficient. If a professor can live on $100 and $125 a month, surely a miner can live comfortably on $140.

Where is labor going? At one time miners worked on a twelve hour day; later a ten hour day and after the great coal strike of 1902, the miner's day was reduced to nine hours, that being deemed a reasonable and proper working day. Congressional enactment inaugurated the eight-hour day which we have come to believe essential to health, and necessary for normal production.

Today the miners are asking for a six hour day. What demand will be next? In due course of time the wheels of industry will cease and our land will be in the throes of disaster. A decrease in the production of coal will result in idle mills, crippled industries and unheated homes. Coal today is an absolute necessity to all of the war-worn countries of the world. Upon it is dependent the commerce, trade and manufacture.

It is to be doubted if the coal miners realize the seriousness of their decision. The entire world is in turmoil. Lenine, has promised a world convulsion and labor unconsciously seems to be falling into his trap. Statistics show that from one third to one half of the men in the strike are not American citizens. Are the citizens of the United States willing to be dictated to by these men?

The situation is intolerable and some means of abolishing the imposition of such unreasonable demands must be found. Let labor be bound by laws as Capital. It should be as responsible both legally and morally as Capital. When labor unions are limited to their lawful activities and protected and regulated in the exercise of their rights—the maintenance of justice to the man who earns his living by the sweat of his brow—then it is that they will and should receive the support of the American public. But when the power of the labor union is used as a ruse to impose justice on all classes of society, the public should look to the law for protection.

The autocracy of labor should not be tolerated any more than the autocracy of capital or any class of society.

It was the right kind of Iowa enthusiasm and Iowa spirit that was displayed on Iowa field yesterday afternoon. The great crowd responded to the efforts of the cheer leaders in a way that made Old Gold admirers proud of their colors. The singing of Old Gold, the crowd standing with bared heads, at the close of the game was an impressive ceremony which should have a place on the program of every football game on Iowa field. Let the spirit grow for Homecoming.

Even, the grate of a coal shovel creates a stir of optimism these days.

MAPLES AND MEN

Major Ira J. Alder, 230 South Clinton street, a veteran of the Civil war and a member of the 44th Iowa regiment, company D, has time in his last years to appreciate nature and in particular, the beauty of the University grounds.

"Stand over on the bridge," says the Major, "and look this way up the river and thataway up to the hospital, or back to the University; and any one of these sights are as beautiful as I expect to see when I enter the pearly gates to Heaven." Yes, I went to school in the southeast corner of the Old Capitol when there was just a wooden fence around the grounds and a path worn crosswise of the campus. And I remember when those two hard maples were set out. Did you ever notice that man and trees age the same?" he asked, as he showed his gray hair and then pointed up to the top of the maple trees, yellowed by the frost. "Yes, the head shows it first, and then the heart."

The industrial situation cannot be said to be soothing to the President's health.

It's a wise bird that goes south this winter.

Only twenty-one days until Homecoming.

ARE THEY RIGHT?

When the members of the Men's Union at Drake university took matters in their own hands and made a "Gentlemen's agreement that the wearing of the army overcoat as a part of civilian attire was quite the thing," they started something. The Drake students think that the price of clothes is fierce, but they are not Bolsheviks and have chosen this method of combating a problem which is certainly effective but for one thing. How will the coats look? One student claimed that any person wearing army clothes would look dressed fit to kill. What do the girls think? Sound off!

THE U. S. S. "New Mexico," the first battleship of any nation to be electrically propelled, is one of the most important achievements of the scientific age. She not only develops the maximum power and, with electrical control, has greater flexibility of maneuver, which is a distinct naval advantage, but also gives greater economy. At 10 knots, her normal cruising speed, she will steam on less fuel than the best turbine-driven ship that preceded her.

Six auxiliary General Electric Turbine-Generators of 400 horsepower each, supply power for nearly 500 motors, driving pumps, fans, shop machinery, and kitchen and laundry appliances, etc.

Utilizing electricity to propel ships at sea marks the advancement of another phase of the electrical industry in which the General Electric Company is the pioneer. Of equal importance has been its part in perfecting electric transportation on land, transforming the potential energy of waterfalls for use in electric motors, developing the possibilities of electric lighting and many other similar achievements.

As a result, so general are the applications of electricity to the needs of mankind that scarcely a home or individual today need be without the benefits of General Electric products and service.

ELABORATE PLANS UNDER WAY FOR 1919 RETURN OF ALUMNI

Inquiries Received at Fraternity and Sorority Houses Indicate Large Number to Return

TO PUSH IOWA MEMORIAL

Big Dinner to Feature First Day of Homecoming—Triangle Club to Hold Banquet and Gabfest—Fine Weather Predicted For Iowa-Ames Contest in Afternoon

To make Iowa's 1919 annual Homecoming an event greater than ever before is an object which committees in charge are sparing no efforts to effect. A joint committee of one hundred faculty and city people is working out the arrangements which are shaping up quite definitely, and no fear is held that the large number of the alumni expected to return will be unable to secure lodging.

Fraternities and sororities are receiving inquiries from more recent graduates which clearly indicates that the younger set will be largely in evidence this year, although from correspondence received by Professor C. C. Ensign, general chairman of the local committee an unusually large number of the older alumni will return also. The fact that the team this year is recognized throughout the middle west as an unusually strong aggregation of foot-ball men, will bring to Iowa City large numbers not graduates or former students, and enthusiastic supporters.

The big dinner Friday evening will be a special feature of the first day of Homecoming, and it is on this day perhaps that the Iowa Memorial will be discussed. It is expected that the committee at that time will be able to make announcement of preliminary gifts sufficient in amount to assure the brilliant success of the campaign. Another feature of this day, of particular interest to the older men will be the annual Triangle Club gabfest. The Committee in charge of this event is planning to stage a series of indoor athletic events, boxing bouts especially, which will be of unusual interest.

A careful investigation of the weather reports over the last twenty years, kept faithfully by Prof. A. G. Smith for most of that time, now kept by Prof. Reiley, shows that November 22nd is likely to be an ideal day for football; but from letters received from the alumni it is the fact that Iowa will defeat Ames that is bringing them here is such large numbers and not the condition of the weather. One enthusiastic supporter said that he would be here 'weather or no!'

ball and consequently neither one made an attempt to catch it. Mendenhall finally recovered the oval on his ten yard line. McConnell's punt was a poor one and the visitors took possession of the pigskin on the Hawkeye twenty-eight yard line. A series of line plunges enabled Montgomery to smash over the goal for a touchdown.

Ashby, the colored halfback on the Dakota team, sneaked out to the sideline undiscovered in the last few minutes of play, nabbed a pass from Dubel, and raced thirty yards for the second Coyote six points. This same play was repeated a moment later but Referee Magidsohn ruled that Dubel was not five yards back of the line when he hurled his pass and the ball was brought back to the middle of the field. The game ended with the oval in the Hawkeyes' possession on the twenty yard line.

Aside from the third quarter, the Iowa second team played strong football. Rich and Rath hit fast and hard and proved themselves to be valuable emergency men. McConnell, playing for Belding in the second half, did some of the best kicking of the game. His punts were beautiful long spirals for the most part excellently placed. Fans were given a chance to see the team in action that walloped Minnesota and the veterans performed in great style the short time Coach Jones let them play with the Coyotes. It is safe to say that the count would have run into the forties had the varsity played the full game. From Beld-

NEW ORCHESTRA FORMED

Friedlander and Leonard Busy in Organizing Staff

Joe B. Friedlander of the Sigma Phi Epsilon house has organized a new dance orchestra. The piano will be handled by Jack Leonard, Kappa Sigma pledge, who was one of the quartet of gobs that made Ja-Da a popular piece.

Friedlander has studied with members of the Chicago Symphony orchestra and Leonard played in the royal court of England at the age of nine years. Since that time he has played with many organizations throughout the country.

It is not announced who will handle the other parts but a complete staff of musicians is at hand.

ing to Charlton the Old Gold line was a stone wall. The only unfortunate feature of the contest was the injury to the latter player. His bad shoulder was thrown out of place for about the sixth time this season and he was forced to retire in the second period in favor of Pyles.

Dubel, former Iowa student, playing at right half on the South Dakota team, and Ashby, the colored halfback, were the mainstays of the Coyote offense. The former was the most consistent ground gainer on his team, while the little negro back was an adept at receiving forward flips. At times the visitors' line looked strong, but at other times the Iowa backs would literally riddle this forward wall by terrific smashes. The game leaves Iowa in splendid condition for Northwestern next Saturday. Charlton will be able to get back on the job Monday, as will Mockmore, whose illness sent Hunzleman into the game against South Dakota at left guard.
