UNIVERSITY AND CITY PLAN TO CELEBRATE PEACE DAY TUESDAY

Student Council is Arranging Memorial Services to be Held in N. S. Auditorium

ALL STORES CLOSE AT NOON

Commercial Club Program Takes up Entire Day—Band to March to Iowa Field in Afternoon—Free Athletic Events—Dancing Monday and Tuesday Evenings

Since the announcement yesterday morning that classes will be dismissed on Armistice day, November 11, plans have been rife among the students for a fitting observance of the day.

The student council held a meeting yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock to plan for a University celebration. The meeting was called on such short notice that some of the members were unable to be present. Tentative plans were discussed and another meeting of the council will be held at Old Capitol this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. The temporary chairman of the council requests all council members to be present.

Student Memorial

According to present plans, the students of the University will observe Armistice day at a memorial service in natural science auditorium Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock. The University orchestra and the men's glee club will probably furnish music and short talks will be made by members of each college on the campus, members of the council said. Dean G. F. Kay and Dean Robert Rienow expressed their approval last evening of the manner in which the student council is planning to celebrate Armistice day.

Dancing will be permitted both the evening before and the night of the celebration, according to word from the office of the dean of women.

All Stores to Close

Under the auspices of the Iowa City Commercial club a full program has been arranged for the afternoon and evening of Armistice day. All stores in Iowa City will be closed at noon. At 1:30 in the afternoon the University band will start playing at the corner of Washington and Dubuque streets. From there it will march to the athletic field, where free wrestling matches, boxing and vaudeville stunts will be held. The wrestling will be between local champions and boxers from out of town. After the athletic stunts there will be a football game between the University high school and the Lone Tree high school.

Dinner for Service Men

All Johnson county men who were in the army or navy during the world war, and veterans of the Spanish war will be entertained at a 6 o'clock dinner at the new O'Leary garage on South Linn street, by the members of the D. A. R.

In the evening will be the big community peace pageant at 7:30 o'clock at the armory, under the Junior Drama League. Here the first 400 seats will be reserved for service men and their friends. For the pageant, the armory will be elaborately decorated, and a program of costume dances and singing, by University girls and by girls and boys from the three high schools. Five hundred will take part.

Dancing for Everyone

At 9:30 o'clock there will be dancing for everybody in the three halls, Company A, Majestic, and the new O'Leary garage, bringing back some of the democratic spirit of general celebration by which Armistice day was observed last year. The dances will be suitably provided with chaperones so that University students will be able to attend. Dancing will last from 9:30 to 12 o'clock.

One feature of the day will be the exhibition of two war tanks on the streets of Iowa City during the day. The tanks have been shipped from Rock Island.

WILL HONOR MEMORY OF BECKER AND GRUBB

University Plans Tribute to Football Men of Iowa Who Died Upon Battlefields of France

Tribute will be paid to Fred H. Becker, of Waterloo, and Frank F. Grubb, of Panora, who were killed in France during the world war, at Iowa field preceding the Iowa-Ames game on Homecoming day. Both men were prominent in football in 1915 and 1916.

As the teams come upon the field for the final game of the year the University band will play "Old Gold" in honor of the men who once played on the Hawkeye eleven. A squad of soldiers will then fire three volley of shots. Sergeant Jacob Maier, assistant in the military department of the University, will play taps in respect to the football men who gave their lives for their country.

Becker and Grubb were prominent men in the team of 1916, Grubb being one of the best guards on the squad that fall, and Becker playing the positions of tackle and center. He was picked as all-American tackle by Walter Eckersall that year.

Becker was a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity and John Grubb was affiliated with the Apollo club. Both men enlisted in the army early in 1917.

ROOSEVELT FUND IS NOW COMPLETE

Fraternity Contributions Totaled $169.54—Alpha Tau Omega Leads With Sum of $25

Final returns of the Iowan campaign conducted in behalf of the Roosevelt Memorial have reached the grand total of $290.57. This amount, practically all subscribed by the students and faculty of the University, will be sent in to national headquarters to be credited to the University.

Fraternity contributions totaled $169.54. Alpha Tau Omega led the organizations with a sum of $25. Nu Sigma Nu and Kappa Sigma tied for second place with a donation of $20 each. E. W. DeNio of Cedar Rapids gave the largest single subscription of $15. Herman P. White, who conducted the campaign in behalf of the Daily Iowan, expressed his appreciation of the liberality of the students and faculty who contributed.

MEET THE TEAM

Many students are planning on greeting the team at the station this morning at 7:45 o'clock, on its return from Evanston after defeating the Purple yesterday afternoon. Dr. O. E. Van Doren says the band will be at Whetstone's corner at 7:30 o'clock and form the line of march to the station.

RABBI WISE WILL LECTURE AT VESPER SERVICES TODAY

"Adventure of Life and Death" Will be Subject of His Address at N. S.

TO SPEAK MONDAY NIGHT

At the Natural Science Auditorium On Personal Experiences of the Peace Conference—University Orchestra to Furnish Music for the Program at 4 o'clock.

"The Adventure of Life and Death" will be the subject of Rabbi Wise's lecture at vespers today, at 4 o'clock in natural science auditorium. Those who heard him lecture here two years ago will remember the enthusiastic audience which packed the auditorium to hear him, said a member of the committee yesterday. Since then he has had many experiences to relate, both of his work here and abroad.

Labored With Others

It is unusual for a famous pastor to give up his position to labor with his hands along with thousands of others, and for working man's wages. Yet this is exactly what Rabbi Stephen S. Wise did during the recent war. He and his son worked in the Hog Island ship yards for several months, primarily to help remedy the labor shortage, and incidentally to learn first hand, the working man's problems.

To Tell Experiences

Rabbi Wise will be the first man to tell personal experiences at the peace conference from a University platform. He had a seat at the peace table as head of the Zionist movement. While there he came to know Lloyd George, Clemenceau and other notables. This lecture, "Personal Experiences of the Peace Conference," is one of the series of University lectures arranged by Prof. Benjamin F. Shambaugh, will be held in natural science auditorium Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Rabbi Wise will also speak at the Commercial club at a luncheon Monday noon.

The program follows:

1. Prelude—March of the Priests, Mendelssohn, University orchestra.
2. Hymn—God of Our Fathers, 351.
3. Serenade—From "Les Millears d' Arlequin," Drigo, University orchestra.
4. Invocation and Scripture reading, Rev. Ira J. Houston.
5. Anthem—He is My Salvation, Lester, Vesper choir.
6. Vesper sermon—The Adventure of Life and Death, Rabbi Stephen S. Wise.
7. Benediction.

CROSS COUNTRY RUN IS WON BY HAWKEYES

Iowa Takes Honors From Cornell Over Muddy Course by 26 to 29 Score

Iowa copped the honors in the first cross country run of the year yesterday by defeating Cornell college, of Mt. Vernon, by a score of 29 to 26. Considering the chilly weather and the muddy course the time was exceptional.

Shell of the visitors crossed the tape a few yards ahead of Goodrich, the diminutive Iowa runner, in 29 minutes and 26.4 seconds, the best time that has been made on the local course in a number of years.

Following close on the winner's heels came Corlett, of Cornell, Ristine, Iowa, and Kruse, Iowa. Probably not more than a hundred yards separated the first five men as they rounded the last corner of the course. Bowie, Iowa, was sixth, nosing Temple, Cornell, out of that place by but a few yards. Day, Cornell, and Bearsborn, Iowa, Burton, Iowa, and Zea, Cornell, finished eighth, ninth, tenth, and eleventh, in the order named.

IOWANS MAKE PLEDGE TO BOOST MEMORIAL

Three Hundred Dine at Younker Tea Room at Banquet Held in Des Moines

Three hundred Iowa men and women pledged themselves to carry on the Memorial campaign over the state at the annual banquet in the Younker's tea room at Des Moines Friday evening. The theme of the evening surrounded the Iowa Memorial Union.

Every member present was enthusiastic over the prospects of the new building. According to Dean George F. Kay, "The meeting was enthusiastic and inspirational. All the toasts were interesting. The spirit was excellent throughout, and altogether."

Need Co-operation

Frederick W. Sargent '00, acted as toastmaster. The first toast was given by Carl F. Kuehnle '81, who emphasized the need for co-operation of all alumni in the Memorial campaign. Romola Latchem '19, Verne Weem '15, Myra Bloom Sheerman '00, also gave toasts.

The principal address of the evening was that of President Walter A. Jessup, who spoke on "The University of Tomorrow." After the regular program Mr. Sargent called on Hon. J. B. Weaver '82, who spoke enthusiastically for the Memorial. At the close of his address the alumni pledged to carry on the Memorial campaign throughout the state, and promised their loyal support and hearty co-operation.

One of the notable addresses at the teachers' convention was made by Dean W. F. Russell of the college of education. In his lecture he pointed out the evils of a teachers' union. Instead, he suggested organization and a closer sympathy of teachers. Sentiment at the convention was generally crystallized against such affiliation.

ANNOUNCE MEN WINNING PLACES ON GLEE CLUB

Out of eighty men trying for vacancies in the Men's Glee club, twelve have been selected and within a few days more successful candidates will be announced.

The twelve men selected were R. C. Smith, A. G. Hoelzen, J. F. Ham, S. L. Bickel, J. L. Allebach, R. T. Kenworthy, Robert Hunter, Leland Henry, Harry Miller, Vernon Thomas, Sterling Bachoven, and Emmet Hasty.

"This year promises to be the best for some time, since the majority of the old Glee club members have returned for work this year," says Prof. W. E. Hays. Next week announcement will be made for vacancies on the Women's Glee club.

HAWKS OUTPLAY OPPONENT

Victors Register First Touchdown in Initial Period and Make Win Certain in Third Period—Lohman, Parker and Slater Do Good Work in Game

(By Leon H. Brigham, sports editor of The Daily Iowan, over wire leased by the Board in Control of Athletics)

Northwestern Field, Evanston, Ill., Nov. 8.—Outplaying Northwestern at practically every stage of the game, Iowa administered a defeat to the Purple eleven here this afternoon before thousands of Home-comers by a score of 14 to 7. It was Iowa's second Big Ten victory of the season and incidentally marked up the fourth conference defeat against Coach Bachman's team.

Iowa displayed an offense that sparkled at times, while the Purple backers watched their team exhibit a remarkable defense when the Hawkeye backs were in scoring distance. Twice in the second quarter did Bachman's men stem off their impending defeat, refusing to let Iowa register even though the ball was upon the five yard line.

Drive Scores Touchdown

To Aubrey Devine, Iowa's sterling quarterback, goes the greatest share of victory. He put his team in the vanguard in the first quarter by crossing Northwestern's goal on a punt formation, carrying the ball over from the fifteen yard line. Again in the third quarter, he crossed the coveted mark after a concerted offensive had put the ball on the one yard line.

While Aubrey Devine did the feature work, the playing of other members of the team cannot be overlooked. Parker and Captain Lohman carried the ball for substantial gains on many occasions, while Parker's punting, who changed off with A. Devine, was noteworthy. On the defense "Duke" Slater again starred, while Belding and Charlton broke up many plays.

Bernard Twins Star

For Northwestern, Koehler and the Bernard twins starred. Two well-executed forward passes from Lane to C. Bernard in the second quarter were directly responsible for the Purple's touchdown.

Northwestern's sensational comeback after Iowa had taken the lead put an optimistic feeling into the Purple rooters in the second quarter. Bachman's men took the ball on the kickoff and worked it across Iowa's goal from their own 35 yard line.

KAPPAS LEAD RED CROSS

Donate $133 to Campaign—Delta Gamma Sorority Second

Nine sororities on the campus had charge of booths yesterday for the sale of memberships in the third annual Red Cross campaign.

The different stations were at the five banks, the postoffice, Whetstone's and Shrader's drug stores and Yetter's store. About five hundred dollars were raised for the Red Cross, although the total reports have not yet been turned in.

The station which made the greatest sale was that at the First National bank, in charge of Kappa Kappa Gamma, which raised $133. The next greatest amount was $53, at the Johnson county bank. This booth was conducted by Delta Gamma.

During the past week a house-to-house canvass has been conducted in Iowa City for the Red Cross campaign.

AMERICANISM VINDICATED

Americanism has been made the issue in a state wide election for the first time, and has won by an overwhelming majority. Massachusetts reelected Calvin Coolidge governor last Tuesday by the extraordinary plurality of 125,000 votes in a state where 20,000 is a safe margin.

Governor Calvin called out the militia last September to curb disorder and riot when the Boston police went on strike. Later he approved of the dismissal of the police officers. He was opposed in the gubernatorial contest by Richard H. Long who promised to reinstate the discharged policemen if elected. Thus the issue was clear cut. The governor based his campaign entirely on law and order and organized government. Mr. Long was the hope of the Reds, the bolsheviki and the radical element in American political and industrial life.

That Massachusetts is an industrial commonwealth should not be overlooked. Boston, her largest city, has thousands of foreigners, many of them unnaturalized, within her gates. Labor is restless. Prices are high. Strikes have been common in the Bay state for many months. Challenges have been hurled from one faction to another but the answer was only postponed. Every element watched Tuesday's election with unabated interest. Each side marshalled its total strength.

But Americanism won. That Coolidge was a republican and Long a democrat is of no significance. The issue was in favor of law and order as opposed to radicalism, agitation and anarchy. President Wilson has sent the governor his congratulations and Senator Kenyon says the election was pleasing to all Americans. Senator King of Utah, democrat, who says he has never split a ballot in his life, expressed his satisfaction with the Bay state election.

The Massachusetts election was a vindication of labor. Although restless and often thoughtless, labor has said in unmistakable terms that it is not in favor of the methods suggested by some of its militant leaders who advocate direct action, public seizure of natural wealth and an overthrow of the present economic system. It has said with its ballot that American institutions, builded up and cherished for a century and a half, shall not be destroyed by the sinister forces of disorder and anarchy.

The moral significance of the Massachusetts election will be far reaching. Public officials everywhere will strengthen their fight against radical agitation and extremists' activities. The innocent public that has stood by helpless for so long will take new hope. The contemptible and unpatriotic soap box orator who would have the masses take direct action to "down with capital" will sink into their halls of hate and think again before they try to surrender this country or any part of it to the Reds or anarchists who have no sympathy with her institutions or her ideals.

Republicans and democrats alike and all friends of law and order have reason to rejoice that Americanism was at last made the direct issue in a state election and has been so unanimously vindicated.

Iowa State Teacher's association gave Americanism another boost when it declared itself opposed to a teacher's union. The scholastic profession should not be commercialized.

On the day of the party the upper class girl will call for the freshman, take her to the party, and when the party is over, take her home.

CHAWA KWAI COMMITTEE PLANS ANNUAL FESTIVAL

The date of Chawa Kwai, the All-University Women's festival, is set for Thursday, November 20. On account of the musical program of Isolde Menges, the English violinist, the ceremonial will begin before 7 o'clock.

Chawa Kwai is a traditional custom, established in the fall of 1917. Purely aesthetic in its nature, it consists of a double file parade around the campus walks of all student and faculty women, carrying lighted Japanese lanterns on canes.

Julia Wade, president of the Women's league; Adele Kimm, president of I. W. A. A., and Constance Chapman, are the committee. Miss Chapman, who is in charge of the program, says that no definite schedule has been arranged except that impromptu songs, ending with "Old Gold" in front of the Old Capitol steps, will be sung. Heretofore it has been customary to conclude the evening with refreshments at the women's gymnasium, but the party at the gym next Saturday will take the place of this part of the program.

FORMER BUSINESS MANAGER IN CITY

western was further strengthened later in the quarter when Bachman's line turned back the Iowa players with the ball within the 10 yard line.

Iowa Outplays Purple

Only in the second quarter, however, did Northwestern measure up to the Hawkeyes. In the other three periods the playing, for the most part, was staged in Purple territory. Iowa gained by far the greatest number of yards in scrimmage; in the punting, Jones' kickers excelled those of Northwestern and they were on par with their opponents in the execution of forward passes.

Heavier penalties were assessed against the visiting eleven than against Northwestern. One in the fourth quarter, a fifteen yard penalty for holding against Iowa, put the ball on its own 5 yard line but Devine immediately punted out of danger.

PROF. DILL LECTURES

Prof. Homer R. Dill's lecture on the University's northwestern expedition at Baconian Friday evening was attended by a large and interested audience. The account of a sea lion hunt, with its attendant dangers, and of the sea birds' homes on the islands was supplemented by numerous slides which gave an unusual opportunity for visualizing these haunts of wild life.

COAL CONSUMERS

We beg to call the attention of the public to the following facts.

1st. There is no occasion for panic over the coal supply in Iowa City for the next month, if proper distribution of present stocks is made.

2d. During the month there should be some relief. Over fifty cars headed for Iowa City are in transit,—some of which will probably be allowed to come through. About one-third of the normal production of coal is being shipped. In all probability many mines will re-open within the next ten days.

3d. There is need, however, of careful conserving of present supplies. If all the mines were to re-open tomorrow, there would still be a severe shortage for several months. People who have a 30 days' supply on hand should not ask for more coal but should notify their dealers of their probable needs. Consideration for others and co-operation with the Fuel Administration and coal dealers will do a great deal toward preventing suffering during the next three months.

4th. A re-invoice of our present stock shows that we have on hand about 800 tons of coal—enough to fill all orders on our books in full—if allowed to do so by the Government. We shall be obliged however, to follow the direction of the Fuel Administration in the distribution of the coal.

5th. In refutation of a statement made on the streets recently, we wish to say that our price on Illinois coal has not been advanced one cent since August 1st, notwithstanding the fact that the operators have advanced their price to us. Prices on Pocahontas and Kentucky coal have been advanced by us as they have been advanced to us by the operators. There was no disposition on the part of local dealers to take advantage of the situation—even before the Fuel Administration came again into control.

6th. We are delivering coal on orders placed with us, giving some coal to each one, as fast as possible. We shall continue rendering to our customers the best service possible under existing conditions. Patience and consideration on the part of both public and dealer will contribute much toward relieving the present tense situation.
