PLANS MADE FOR BIG BOOSTER HOMECOMING FOR THE UNIVERSITY

Canvas Made of Entire City to Secure Rooms for Alumni Visitors

RUSH FOR RESERVED SEATS

Memorial Campaign to be Started—Field Organizers Appointed—Advertising Campaign Begun—Local Committees Chosen, Funds to Be Pledged

Fully 10,000 guests are expected to be in Iowa City for Home coming this year. This number far exceeds the records for all past years. Requests for reservations for the game are pouring in at the rate of three to four hundred a day. In order to accomodate the crowd, extra bleachers will be constructed immediately, probably at the south end of the athletic field, according to reports given out at the office of the director of athletics, yesterday.

Canvass Made for Rooms

Iowa City has been thoroughly canvassed for rooms, and the committee in charge reports that suitable accomodations can be had for all of the visitors. Fraternities and sororities will entertain many visitors and some are planning to take care of from twenty-five to fifty old members and guests.

Memorial Campaign Organized

In preparation for the actual canvassing in the Memorial campaign, which will start the day after homecoming throughout the state, field organizers are being sent out from state headquarters, to assist district chairman in their work.

These field organizers will not only assist in putting the canvassing machine, which is to raise the $1,000,000 for a new Memorial building, in good shape, but they will go into the counties if necessary and help perfect the machinery there.

Ruth Rogers, a graduate of the University last year, and assistant advertising manager of the Denecke store in Cedar Rapids, was the first organizer to be sent out, and is now working in Davenport.

J. Mel Hickerson, managing editor of the Iowan, left last night for Council Bluffs, where he will assist there in the work of organizing for the campaign.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL TEAM IS PRACTICING

Freshman Squad Will Be Picked to Work With Varsity This Year

Freshman basketball men are practising regularly on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 4:15 o'clock under the supervision of Leon L. Nicolaus, captain of the varsity basketball team for the coming season.

About thirty-five men have been reporting for practice so far and some good material is now being worked out. The freshman skuad will not be picked for some time after the freshman football men have been on the floor and had a chance to become acquainted with the ball.

No out of town games will be scheduled for the freshman team as is usually the custom. They will play against the varsity later in the year when both teams are in regular season condition. Until the squad has been picked freshmen interested in basketball shall meet at the gymnasium on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 4:15 o'clock until further instructed.

JOHN G WOOLEY COMING

John G. Wooley, national speaker for the anti-saloon league of America, will give an address in the natural science auditorium, Sunday, November 16 at 4 o'clock. His subject will be, "When Good Men Rule the World." Mr. Wooley's appearance here is a part of the nation-wide rally for world prohibition.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION ASSOCIATION ELECTS

E. G. Schroeder, director of physical training, was elected president of the Iowa State Physical Education association which was organized at the State Teacher's Convention in Des Moines last week. The purpose of the association is threefold—to set standards for physical education throughout the state; to influence the state legislature; and to organize the physical educators of the state.

Mr. Schroeder has charge of appointing committees for drawing up rules and regulations and membership committees. This association is not at present affiliated with the National Physical Education association, but will be some time in the future, according to Mr. Schroeder.

CHICAGO GAME REPORT IS LAST TO BE WIRED

Movements to be Wired Play by Play—Chart Story to Begin at 2 O'clock

The play by play reports of the Chicago Game will be received over a direct wire connection with Stagg field to the natural science auditorium Saturday afternoon. A chart story of the game with Chicago will probably start at 2 o'clock, Prof. Louis Pelzer, in charge of arrangements, announced yesterday.

Telegraphic connections with Chicago has been secured by the board in control of athletics. Leon H. H. Brigham, sports editor of The Daily Iowan, representing the athletic board, will dictate the reports to a western Union operator in the press stand at the field. They will be read at the auditorium by Prof. E. H. Lauer, while Dr. J. J. Lambert, will move the oval on the field diagram.

Professor Pelzer urges a prompt attendance at the play by play game, explaining that the line-up, character of the weather, size of the crowd, and other interesting athletic gossip comes over the wire shortly before the kick-off.

BAND GOES TO CHICAGO

Funds Raised Pay Expenses of Band Both Ways

Sufficient funds have been raised to send the University band to Chicago, stated the members of the band committee late last night. $800 of the apportioned fund has already been secured and the $75.00 deficiency will be made up before noon today among the merchants of Iowa City.

A great deal of enthusiasm made tag day a success and the dance which was put on at the Armory last Saturday night started the campaign with $80.00 to its credit. A check of $10.00 from Atty. R. W. Law of Waterloo, the composer of the new football song, "On Iowa" has been received by the band committee. Another attorney, A. C. Wallace, of Miami, Oklahoma, who was drum major of the band from 1904 to 1906, sent a check of $5.00 to the committee.

The band, consisting of fifty nine members will leave on the 12:02 train tonight. While in Chicago their headquarters will be at the Del Frado Hotel.

The sororities and organizations who have turned in the results of their tag sales send amounts as follows: Iota Xi Epsilon, $50.10; Alpha Xi Delta, $31.00; Pi Beta Phi, $29.60, Currier Hall and Annexes, $21.25; Alpha Chi Omega, $12.75; Kappa Kappa Gamma, $11.50; Nurses Hall, $18.00.

BACONIAN CLUB TO MEET

The regular meeting of the Baconian club will be held on Friday evening November 14 at 7:30 o'clock in physics lecture room. Prof. H. L. Rietz will give a paper entitled "Recent Developments in Pension Systems for Teachers."

ONE HUNDRED FIFTY STUDENTS RUSH THE ENGLERT THEATRE

When Refused Admittance Without Paying War Tax, Raiders Resort to Violence

POLICE CALLED TO SCENE

Mr. McKenzie Declares He Has No Objections to Admitting the Boys If They Pay War Tax—One Senior Declares All Student Body Frowns on Such Actions

Between 150 and 200 male students, intent upon being admitted to a theatre without paying admission, rushed the Englert theatre at 9 o'clock last evening. Upon being refused admittance without paying the war tax the party resorted to violent action. One glass door was smashed in; the display case in front of the theatre was damaged; and the posters torn down and strewn on the ground. Other members resorted to showering the front of the theatre with stones, rotten eggs and tomatoes.

No Arrests Made

No arrests had been made at 10 o'clock last night but it was intimated at the police station that some action would be taken today. W. M. McKenzie, manager of the Englert theatre, declared last night that he had not preferred charges against any one, when interviewed at 10 o'clock. Several names of alleged leaders of the raid were held

HAWKEYES DEPART FOR CHICAGO FOR CRUCIAL CONTEST

Hunzelman Appears at Left Guard and Will Doubtless Play in That Position Saturday

TWENTY-TWO MAKE TRIP

Final Workout Yesterday Afternoon Snappy Affair—Men Put Through Fast Signal Drill Until After Darkness—Ardent Fans Give Team Send Off at Station

After some defensive work against the forward pass, a final close look at Chicago formations, and a fast signal drill through the dusk until darkness fell over the Iowa field the Hawkeyes packed bag and baggage last night and left at 7:55 over the Rock Island for Chicago.

Twenty-two Make Trip

Twenty-two men with coaches and trainers made the trip, the last trip of the year. They were Captain Lohman, Belding, McConnell, White, Charles Smith, Mockmore, Aubrey Devine, Rath, Pyles, Slater, Van Oosterhaut, Kaufman, Paul Smith Glen Devine, Charlton, Block, Heldt, Hunzelman, Kelly, Parker, and Rich. With them went the hopes and prayers of Hawkeye followers for a victory over the Maroons Saturday.

Have Snappy Workout

The last workout yesterday was a snappy affair. Iowa's secondary defense worked hard to break up the forward passing game used by the yearlings and the linemen made a final analysis of Stagg's formations and shifts. In signal drill the team worked with enthusiasm, every man being on his toes and in for every play. Hunzelman was at left guard again and his appearance against Chicago in this position is assured.

Given Big Send Off

A big crowd of students with the band to furnish music saw the team off from the Rock Island station. Some of the advance guard of Hawkeye supporters left last night for the scene of the game, but the majority of the men who are going in to Chicago leave this afternoon and tonight. The band of sixty pieces goes Friday night and will represent Iowa and stir up Hawkeye spirit at the game.

GIRLS ENTERTAIN FRESHMAN COMMISSION

Old freshman commission girls who are now seniors, juniors and sophomores, entertained the present freshman commission at a luncheon last evening in the Y. W. C. A. rooms. Esther Graves '20 had complete charge of the party, at which about forty girls were in attendance.

"ON IOWA" IS NAME OF NEW IOWA SONG

Attorney W. R. Law of Waterloo Composed Words and Music—Will Be On Sale Soon

"On Iowa," is the name of the new Iowa song which will soon appear on the campus. Music publishers have promised that the song will be on sale in Iowa City on or before November 18.

The song was written by W. R. Law '04, an attorney at Waterloo. The Harold Rossiter Music company of Chicago have seen sufficient merit in the song to take it over for publication.

Attorney Law composed the words and music two years ago when a prize was hung up for the best Iowa song. "Old Gold" was the production selected by the committee at that time. Since then students have urged that Iowa have a pep song, as Old Gold is more adaptable to formal occasions. O. E .Van Doren, director of the band and W. E. Hays, professor of music, believe that the "On Iowa" will fill the want.

Attorney Law was graduated from the college of law in 1904 and since his graduation he has been an active alumnus. While in school he was a member of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity.

The words to the chorus follow:

"ON IOWA."

Words and Music by W. R. Law, (Law 1904). Copyright 1919 by Harold Rossiter Music Co., Chicago.

On Iowa proudly at the fore
On Iowa on for evermore
Ev'ry loyal son will give a rousing toast to you
Ev'ry loyal daughter loves you true
On Iowa with your wealth untold
A heritage to us you did unfold
Love of country, too,
Makes us proud for what you stand
Our dear old Gold.

NEW JOURNALISM COURSES AT WASHINGTON COLLEGE

Sixty students are taking the new courses in journalism at Washington State College at Pullman, Wash. The whole course has been reorganized under the direction of Frank Thayer, formerly director of the course in journalism at the State University of Iowa, who has J. L. Ashlock, former secretary of President E. O. Holland of the college, as his assistant in charge of the work in industrial journalism. T. J. O'Day, former editor of a country paper in Washington, is teaching the courses in the art and mechanics of printing and is also manager of the college print shop.

Courses in advertising topography, as well as courses in vocational printing designed for men who want to learn the printers' trade, are being arranged.

Professor Thayer is giving courses in reporting, editing, and editorial writing. In coperation with F. F. Nalder, former associate director of the extension division of the University of California, and now director of the correspondence division of the state college, Professor Thayer is giving a correspondence course in news writing.—Fourth Estate.

CAMPAIGN MACHINERY FOR MEMORIAL UNION IS READY FOR ACTION

Committees Have Been Appointed By Presidents of all Class Organizations

BIG DRIVE OPENS TODAY

All Students, Men as Well as Women Will be Asked to Make Their Contribution by Homecoming—Nasby Heads Campaign in the University

"When the preliminary gifts towards the $1,000,000 to be raised for the Iowa Memorial fund, are announced at the Homecoming dinner November 22, none will be more encouraging or assuring to the alumni that the success of the campaign will be a speedy and brilliant one, than those offered by the students of the University themselves," stated Donald B. Nasby, yesterday afternoon, while explaining in detail, the several methods by which this purpose is to be realized.

All to Contribute

Nasby who is president of the senior class, and head of the students branch of the campaign, proposes that every student of the University pledge himself to contribute $50 towards the $1,000,000 fund to be paid within four years. He believes that this plan when laid before the students will be met with their enthusiastic approval since every loyal student is perfectly cognizant of just what the Memorial building will mean to the University.

Colleges are Organized

His plans have already been presented to the several students organizations in the professional colleges and the campaign plans in the liberal art's school are already being formulated by Nasby himself. In each college committee's have been appointed with the class president acting as chairman. Because of the unusually large number of freshmen and the attendent difficulty of organization President Van Epps believes that the campaign machine will run more smoothly and with greater efficiency if the entire number of freshmen enrolled is organized as one body. No committees among the freshmen have therefore been appointed but Van Epps announces that men will be named for the committees next Monday afternoon at Freshman Lectures.

Margaret Hays has been appointed chairman of the senior committee consisting of J. Mel. Hickerson, Paul Anderson and Kathryn Dayton.

W. S. Kelly, president of the Junior class has named for his committee the following men: Fred Steiner, Clyde Charlton, and Arthur Kruse.

Those named from the Sophomore group consist of President Alvin T. Ehresman, chairman, John Wormley, Gilbert Goos, and Frank White.

R. O. T. C. OFFICERS NEWLY APPOINTED

Colonel Morton C. Mumma Designates Appointees—Colonel Myers Heads Regiment

With the rank of Colonel, Verne M. Myers, junior in the college of law, heads the newly appointed commissioned personnel of the University cadet regiment made public, by the military department, last night. The cadet lieutenant-colonelcy falls to George F. Killinger, first year law, and the position of regimental adjutant to Leland C. White, junior in liberal arts. Appointments were made early in the week by Col. Morton C. Mumma head of the military department.

Myers has been connected with the cadet corps since 1915, serving at that time as a sergeant. In 1916 he was made a second lieutenant and in the following year held the rank of captain until his enlistment in the federal service in December.

ACKNOWLEDGE HOMECOMING BY GENUINE IOWA SPIRIT

One thing which a visitor always carries away from a college or a University, is the degree of enthusiasm which is displayed by the students of that institution for their Alma Mater. It is the plane upon which loyalty and interest toward one's college is judged. It is this impression which is carried back to the home of the visitor and published to his community.

The best opportunity for a visitor to judge the spirit of the student body is at an athletic gathering, where the honor of the University is at stake; where the laurels of victory are in the balance. It is here that the enthusiasm should reach its highest pitch, for it is the foundation of school spirit. The visitors may be impressed by the concentrated efforts of the entire crowd in responding to the efforts of the cheer leaders or disfavorably regard the diverse responses of hundreds of individuals. Concerted action in cheering and singing is one of the potent factors which is bound to devolve a favorable impression upon the mind of the visitor.

Iowa spirit is advancing, but the words which formulate an outward expression of the spirit, have not been committed by the student body. Iowa's cheers resemble a mass of incoherent nothings. There is no unified articulation. A stranger on the ground could interpret the songs and cheers only by the services of the Y. M. C. A. manual.

One week from today there will be hundreds of visitors at the University. These visitors will be impressed by the spirit and enthusiasm of the University, either for good or for bad. The football game is bound to reveal the truth of Iowa spirit.

During the intervening time every loyal Iowan will learn the yells and songs in order that he may contribute his part to the Iowa victory. Organizations who have freshmen among their numbers should demand that they learn the words and songs, in loyalty to their organization and to their University.

Let a pep organization known as the "Four Hundred Club," be fostered by the student council and set in motion for the final game of the season The Iowan believes the club should be of voluntary membership and composed of loyal Iowans, with representatives from at least each organization on the campus. The purpose of the "Four Hundred Club," would be to create a greater Iowa spirit; encourage the learning of Iowa songs and yells, and be present to form the nucleus of cheering at all games. Primarily it would be a club which would fill a well known exigency on the campus.

If the University's guests are to return home with a correct impression of Iowa, the student body must know its cheers and songs and be able to repeat them in a uniform and audible manner. This may be accomplished by the organization of a "Four Hundred Club," and by the cooperation of all organizations in learning the yells and songs.

Let Homecoming be acknowledged by the expression of genuine Iowa spirit.

RAISE $200,00"

Can the University raise $200,000 for the Iowa Memorial Union?

This is the question which each student on the campus will be given an opportunity to answer individually during the next week by contributing his bit. The campaign for $200,000 will open at the University today. Student solicitors under the direction of student committees, will canvas for funds in behalf of the greatest project ever attempted on the campus.

Two hundred thousand dollars at a glance is a tremendous sum, but when contributed to by 4000 students, gradually diminishes in significance. Raising $200,000 can become a reality by each student contributing $1 a month for a period of four years, payable annually. Such a goal is within the possibilities of the student body. On some, it will require an average of more than $1, in order to preserve the average. The Iowan believes that $200,000 is at least a figure worth while striving toward.

When solicitors call on you today; be generous to the Alma Mater which guards you; be not forgetful to whom the Memorial is erected; be glad to contribute to a monument which will beautify the campus; be mindful of the need of such a building; be able to say I did my duty.

Upper Class Girls to Entertain Freshman Girls

The upper class girls of the University will entertain the freshman girls at a dancing party Saturday afternoon, November 15, from 2:30 until 5 o''clock in the women's gymnasium. Plans for the party are in the hands of Miriam Roe, Alpha Xi Delta, and Magdaline Grimm, chairman of the Y. W. C. A. social committee.

Freshman girls are anxious to go, say the girls in charge, and are waiting to be called up for that date. "If the upper class girls fail to find their freshman girl for the dance, the freshman girls are invited to bring any other girl and come to the party," said Miss Grimm. She also announces that these are several names that have not been drawn.

A three piece orchestra will play for the eighteen dances of the afternoon, stated the committee in charge. Refreshments will also be served.

The department of journalism at the University of Wisconsin now has an enrollment of 375.

150 STUDENTS RUSH THEATRE

Refuse to Pay Tax

Mr. McKenzie declared that all he demanded of the boys last evening when they requested admittance was the war tax. The raiders refused to pay the tax, according to the theatre manager, and endeavored to force their way into the building. When finally ordered out, by the manager, the marauders resorted to throwing eggs, tomatoes, cabbage, and stones at the entry-way.

The police were called to quiet the scene.

Students Frown on Action

Mr. McKenzie explained last night that he was responsible to the law for the collection of war tax from every patron who entered the theatre. "I did not object to the boys entering the theatre in an orderly manner if they paid the war tax," the manager declared, "but I can not permit them to enter without paying that fee."

One member of the senior class said last eevening, "It is the action of a few that brings the criticism to the whole University. This University is no place for the I. W. W., and any student who participates in such pastimes as took place tonight should be ousted from the University. The student body as a whole will not stand for such unlawful actions."

REFERENCE BOOKS REMOVED TO MUSEUM

In order to relieve the crowded condition of the University library, the hall of invertebrates in the natural science building has been converted into a reading room. Reference books on psychology, philosophy, commercial geography and introduction to political science have been moved there from the main library.

Miss Jane Roberts, librarian thinks that this will take away a number of people from the general library, since in psychology alone the sixty-five text books are often all out during the greater part of the day. This room was opened for use Wednesday.

QUADRANGLE MEN ELECT OFFICERS

Faculty Permits Men To Formulate and Administer Their Own Government

The constitution of the Quadrangle association having been framed and adopted by the majority of the men residing in the University's new dormitory for men, the general council elected its officers at a meeting for that purpose Wednesday night.

The faculty has seen fit to allow the men residing in the Quadrangle to formulate and administer their own government. For this purpose the building is divided into four sections, each section is composed of four precincts. Every section has a section committee of four members elected by popular vote from among the members of that section, a fifth member, appointed by the faculty committee acts as chairman of the section committee. Thus the general council consists of the four section committees, of five members each, making a membership of twenty for the entire council.

Elect Officers

At the meeting of the general council Wednesday night the following officers were elected: President Merril J. Ream; vice president, Geo. L. Woodward; secretary, E. A. McMurray; treasurer, Dwight A. Davis.

The following standing committees were also elected:

Social committee—Lawrence B. Sheldon, Louis Urdengen, W. P. Lawrence and J. Harold Evans.

Judicial committee—John Heldt, Robert E. Jensita, Clarence Michaelson and E. A. McMurray.

Financial committee—David N. Richardson, Richard Sinn, George L. Woodward and V. D. Peck.

Health committee—J. H. Woodman, Raymond Gerberich, Tom T. Norris and Herman Ihm.

The building being in an unfurnished condition since the beginning of school has made the matter of organization much more difficult than it will be in another year. However the association is well organized now and plans are under way to familiarize the University in general, as well as the people of Iowa City, with the Quadrangle, says Dwight Davis. Plans are being discussed for the holding of a house warming and a general mixer during homecoming.

The constitution of the Quadrangle association was formulated after a careful digest had been made of the constitutions and regulations of over ninety similar institutions scattered over the country. This association is the first of its kind to be adopted by any of the mid-western state universities.

Vice-President of National Drama League to Pay Iowa City a Visit November 15

Mrs. A. Starr Best of Evanston Illinois, vice-president of the National Drama league of America, will lecture before the members of the Iowa City Drama league at the Commercial club rooms Saturday, November 15 at 8 o'clock. She will arrive from Cedar Rapids where a big luncheon at the Montrose is planned in her honor for the same day. At a meeting, Wednesday evening, of the Drama league, of which Mrs. Jessie P. Hastings is president, plans were discussed for the recognition and entertainment of Mrs. Best. Arrangements are being made for a dinner to be given in her honor at 6 o'clock Saturday.

According to Miss Hastings the life and soul of the Drama league reside in Mrs. Best and the purpose of the Iowa City organization in bringing her here is to stimulate a greater interest in the league and to secure new members. Miss Hastings wishes all those interested in community drama to attend the meeting at the Commercial club,

Tentative plans are being laid by the play committee of the Drama league for a big community play to be staged a short time before Christmas holidays. Further information will be given out as soon as the committee has formulated the plans more definitely.

Friendly class meets Sunday morning at the First English Lutheran church. Mr. J. O. Maruth will speak on "Labor and Christianity."

NEXT VESPER SERVICE

The next Vesper service will be given Dec. 14th, at 4 o'clock by Dr. Philip G. Clapp, head of the Music department. This will be a musical program, and an unusual treat for everyone who appreciates good music. A very large crowd attended last year.

At the January Vespers Prof. William J. Kerby head of the Sociology Department in the University of Washington D. C. will speak. The subject of his address will be announced later.

FORENSIC LEAGUE TO BE ORGANIZED

Iowa Applies for Membership in State League in the Making

Cooperating in the plan for the organization of a Women's State Forensic League, the Women's Forensic League of the University has applied for membership and invited the organization to hold its first contest in Iowa City.

As yet the league is in the formative process. As voiced in the recommendations of the Associations of Deans of the Women of Iowa in its annual conference last spring, the purpose of the organization is to offer the college women of the state opportunities for competition in public speaking.

Tentative plans subject to change upon the final drafting of the constitution provide for the following: an annual state oratorical contest for women, to be independent of, or affiliated with the State Oratorical Association as the colleges may decide a program for inter collegiate debating whereby each college shall annually debate two other colleges in the state; a contest in extemporaneous speaking to be held in connection with the intercollegiate debates.

Marion Colegrove, Hampton, tentative chairman of the state committee on arrangements for the league, writes to Grace Altschuler, chairman of the publicity committee for the University league, that several questions for debate have already been suggested by various colleges and urges that questions be immediately submitted and that dates may be set for the contests.

In view of reports from various colleges, January will probably be the most acceptable time for the oratorical and extemporaneous contests with the debates coming a each college, representation in the league will probably be equal. The work of the league may be financed as is that of the State Oratorical association, by dues levied upon each college which is a member.

Further plans suggest the offering of prizes, the source and amount of which have not yet been determinded. Miss Colegrove says that the league would greatly appreciate the gift of some benevolent person to supply this need.

Arrangement of debate schedules the drafting of a permanent constitution, and other important considerations make urgent an early meeting of the league.
