FOURTEEN MEN WIN FOOTBALL LETTER IN PAST SEASON

Board in Control of Athletics Awards Letters at Meeting Wednesday Night

NINE MEN WIN "I-2"

Participation in Six Quarters of Major Football Games is Basis Upon Which Insignia is Granted—Will Elect Captain at Banquet at Jefferson Wednesday

Fourteen football players of the 1919 Iowa squad were officially awarded the honorary letter "I" Wednesday night by the board in control of athletics. Participation in six quarters of major games is the basis upon which the coveted insignia is granted and the following men were declared to have fulfilled this requirement: Captain Fred Lohman, Aubrey Devine, Guerdon Parker, Glen Devine, William Kelly, John Heldt, Charles Mockmore, Robert Kaufman, Harry Hunzleman, Fred Slater, Lawrence Block, Lester Belding, Clyde Charlton, and Arthur Pyles.

To nine men who have given faithful service to the Old Gold on the second team, the secondary insignia or official "I-2" was awarded by the athletic board. These nine stalwarts are Charles Smith, Rich, Jaqua, Rath, Paul Smith, Everett Smith, McConnell, Van Oosterhaut and White.

Election of a captain to lead the Hawkeyes in 1920 is scheduled to take place at a banquet to be given at the Jefferson hotel Wednesday evening, December 3, by the board in control of athletics for all of the football men of the University, including the freshman squad.

This banquet has been an annual affair for several years now and is usually the first active step in laying plans for the next year's football team. Dopesters are at a loss in attempting to pick the probable choice of the fourteen letter men for a 1920 chieftain. If the long established custom of selecting a man of junior standing who will be a senior next fall, is followed, Captain Lohman, Block, Bill Kelly, and Slater are eligible for the honor, but it is rumored that Aubrey Devine, Belding, and Heldt are also being considered seriously. All of the latter are sophomores with two more years of varsity competition.

THREE GOLD STARS ADDED

University Service Flag Records Deaths of Former Students

Three more gold stars have been added to the University's service flag. Word has just been received by the alumni association concerning the deaths in France of John G. Mapes ex-'19 engineering; Sergeant Ralph Whittle ex-'19 liberal arts; and F. J. McNiff ex-'11 pharmacy.

Mr. Mapes formerly lived in Anaway, Illinois. He enlisted at Des Moines on April 19, 1917, and was killed in action on the Argonne front September 26, 1918. Sergeant Whittle was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Whittle of East 14 and Cleveland streets, Des Moines, Iowa. He was a member of the 358th infantry and was killed in action on September 26, 1918. Mr. McNiff lived in Anthon, Iowa, and died in France on December 15, 1918.

ARTISTIC READING CONTEST IS MONDAY

Artistic reading contest preliminaries will be held Monday evening, December 1, in the natural science auditorium at 7 o'clock, according to Ethel Verry, president of the Women's Forensic council.

The preliminaries were postponed from Friday afternoon to Monday evening. Out of twenty-one students registered for the try-outs, six will be chosen to appear in the final contest Tuesday evening, December 2, at 7:45 o'clock in the natural science auditorium, said Miss Verry.

HUMOROUS MAGAZINE WILL APPEAR SOON

Friivol Will Contain Many Novel Features Including Uncensored Iowan

Friivol, the University's new magazine of humor, which will appear on the campus December 15, is now complete and will go to the printers Monday, according to Warren Bassett, editor in chief.

"Contributions from the student body were at a minimum," he stated further, "but we are certain that after our first issue lovers of humor will vie with each other to be represented in Friivol. Every live university in the country has a humorous publication; it is as much a part of their activities as a daily."

Friivol is being published by Sigma Delta Chi and Theta Sigma Phi, men's and women's journalistic fraternities respectively.

Miss Bell of the art department, has completed a cover for the magazine said to be the veriest ultra, according to members of the staff.

Several novel features will characterize the pages of Friivol, notably an uncensored issue of the Daily Iowan. Cartoons and cuts have been contributed by art students.

The first issue of Friivol will consist of 1000 copies and will be on sale on the campus for twenty-five cents.

WRESTLERS TO HOLD THREE DUAL MEETS

Three dual meets will probably be scheduled for wrestlers according to a recent decision of the University athletic board. The place and time of holding these meets have not yet been decided upon.

In case a conference meet is held at Illinois this winter there is a probability that Iowa will be represented.

Seventy men are already enrolled for wrestling, and E. G. Schroeder, director of physical education, intimates that a class of 100 is not at all improbable.

Pat Ryan is given full command of the wrestlers this year, since Mr. Schroeder finds it impossible to give the class his time.

CHANEY SELLS SEALS

Dr. Ralph W. Chaney of the geology department has charge of the sale of Christmas seals in Iowa City and Johnson county for the benefit of the national tuberculosis association.

GOES TO STORM LAKE

E. J. Ashbaugh of the extension division has been asked by the superintendent of public schools at Storm Lake, Iowa, to make a survey of their school system. He expects to begin the work next week.

LAENAS G. WELD DIES AT PULLMAN OF HEART FAILURE

Death of Former Dean of the College of Liberal Arts is Announced in Telegram

WAS AUTHOR OF TWO BOOKS

Received His A. M. and LL. B. Degrees From Iowa—Was Dean of Graduate College and Director of Applied Science—Director of Pullman Institute of Technology

Laenas G. Weld, at one time dean of the college of liberal arts at the University, died suddenly of heart failure at his home in Pullman, Ill., according to a telegram received at the president's office yesterday afternoon. Professor Weld had been serving as director of the Pullman Institute of Technology.

Professor Weld received his A. M. and LL. B. degrees from the University and while connected with this institution was head of the department of astronomy, dean of the graduate college, director of the school of applied science and dean of the college of liberal arts. He was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Sigma Xi, and Phi Delta Theta fraternities. He was the author of two books, "The Theory of Determinates" and "Determinants."

Professor Weld was born at Sherwood, Mich., December 30, 1862. He attended Northwestern University 1878-1880 and came to the University shortly afterwards where he received his B. S. degree in 1883. It was not until 1912 that he won his advanced degree of LL. B.

It was in 1886 that he became a member of the University's faculty, later serving in many capacities until 1911, when he was called to Pullman, Ill., as director of the Pullman Free School of Manual Training. It was here that he spent the last years of his life.

His wife, formerly Harriet Magdalene Doane of Cresco, survives him.

Professor Weld's last visit to the University was two years ago when he delivered the convocation address. The parents and a brother of the deceased educator live in Cedar Rapids. His brother is instructor in mathematics at Coe college.

The flag on Old Capitol was at halfmast yesterday afternoon in his honor.

GYM CLASSES AS USUAL

All classes in swimming, wrestling and gymnasium will meet Monday as usual according to announcement given out by E. G. Schroeder, director of physical education for men.

JUMP JUNIORS! POSE PICTURES! HELP HAWKEYE!

Only a few days remain until December 15. That is the last day it will be possible to have individual junior pictures taken for the Hawkeye. Two hundred and fifty students have already complied but there are many others who have not, says Fred A. Steiner, editor-in-chief.

Any student who has had two years of college work or will have completed that amount at the end of the quarter is eligible for the junior section of the Hawkeye. This includes students of law, medicine, dentistry, applied science, and pharmacy who are attending college for the third year.

STUDENT COUNCIL WILL BANQUET FOOTBALL MEN

Football men will be guests of the student council at a banquet, the date of which is set tentatively as December 10. Edward Chamberlin is chairman of the committee in charge, with Ira Stanton, Kathryn Dayton, and Margaret Hayes as co-workers.

"The banquet is to be an expression of the student body's appreciation of its fellow comrades," says J. Mel Hickerson, president of the council.

Tickets will be sold to the student body for the banquet which will probably be held in the women's gymnasium.

BACHMAN'S BAND IN TWO VARIED CONCERTS

Million Dollar Artists Please Two Small Audiences at Local Appearance

Small audiences attended the afternoon and evening concerts of the Million Dollar band in natural science auditorium Wednesday.

A ragtime version of Donizetti's Sextette from Lucia was the feature of the evening program. A violin solo, Souvenir by Drdla, played by Earling Sodahl, was probably the best received number.

An orchestra from the personnel of the band furnished the music for the dance in the armory after the evening concert. About 100 couples attended the party, and dancing continued until 1 o'clock.

Dr. Philip G. Clapp, head of the school of music and formerly conductor of the 73 field artillery band, says, "The concert was a real musical production, ranking well above that of the average military band."

Harold Bachman, conductor of the band said that the small audiences in attendance were the most enthusiastic he had ever played for.

IOWANS IN HAWAII AID MEMORIAL UNION

Hawaii now boasts a committee supporting the University's Memorial Union. Dr. Charles P. Dowson, who was graduated from the college of dentistry in 1916 and is now residing in Honolulu, is organizing the Iowa graduates in Hawaii. He is the first chairman of the Memorial Union outside of the United States.

Rush Butler of Chicago, member of the Union committee, has contributed $5000. Other pledges amounting to $3800 were also sent by him. Mr. and Mrs. William E. Lamb of Chicago, both former University students, have contributed $2000.

E. C. Crellin of Pittsburg sent $1000 and Charles R. Rawl also of Pittsburg sent $500 toward the fund.

Results of the student campaign which was to have ended yesterday will be given out soon, according to Frederick G. Crone, campaign manager.

U. HI LIFE PRINTED

Thanksgiving Day saw published the initial edition of this year's U. Hi Life, by the pupils of the University high school of Iowa City. The success of the little paper in mimeograph prompted its editor, Lois Atkins, to attempt a regular printed edition.

DEANS TAKE ACTION TO CONSERVE SUPPLY OF UNIVERSITY COAL

All Buildings Except Hospitals, Dormitories and Library Close at 5 O'Clock

SUSPEND ALL GYM CLASSES

Announcement Denies School Will Close Before Scheduled Vacation at Christmas—Fuel Bins in Iowa City so Low Amusement Places May Lock Doors, Says Mayor

Program for coal conservation adopted by the board of deans in session yesterday:

All University buildings except the University library, hospitals and dormitories will be closed at 5 o'clock p. m., beginning today. Men's and women's gymnasiums will be entirely closed for an indefinite period. (Women's gymnasium classes will meet as usual Monday and Tuesday.)

Homeopathic hospital and Close hall will be closed as soon as arrangements can be made to carry on the work elsewhere.

First indications of a serious turn in the local coal situation were revealed yesterday by the adoption of a strict program of coal conservation at the official meeting of the board of deans. The prevalent rumor that action was taken to suspend University activities before the scheduled Christmas vacation was denied last night by Mrs. Nellie S. Aurner, secretary of the board.

J. M. Fisk, superintendent of grounds and buildings, explained the complexity of the situation at the University due to the absolute necessity of supplying the hospitals with heat at all costs. He added that the present measures were only of a precautionary nature.

Suspend Gym Classes

Preceding the action of the board of deans was the suspension of all classes in the men's gymnasium, which took effect yesterday afternoon, according to E. G. Schroeder, director of physical education. Mr. Schroeder explained that this suspension was necessitated by the lack of heat, and at the time was only temporary.

Further consideration of the fuel problem will be taken up at a meeting of the board of deans early next week, probably Monday, according to Mrs. Aurner. President Jessup's secretary announced that he would probably return to the city Sunday.

Little Coal in City

Coal shortage in Iowa City proper is imminent unless some change takes place in the present situation, according to a statement of Mayor Ingalls Swisher, yesterday. He explained that unless some relief was quickly brought about, it would be necessary to close some of the business houses in a few days. Those closed would be places of entertainment or refreshment—theaters, ice cream parlors, and so forth, he pointed out.

According to Mayor Swisher, Iowa City dealers have about 100 tons of coal on hand at present. There is a supply of ten cars, approximating fifty tons to the car, in the yards. As a result of communications which Mayor Swisher had with Chicago

DO A BETTER JOB

"Is your little voice ever heard in this big chorus?" asks Al Jolson in the American magazine.

Having put the question the prominent comedian proceeds to show that the merchant grumbles if people don't buy his goods, the artist complains because his pictures will not sell; the writer grouches when people will not read his poems; the hotel keep is disgruntled when his customers patronize his rival; and the actor walks off the stage in his high dudgeon when his audience sits impassive.

Al didn't mention the student factor of "this big chorus" of the unappreciated. Maybe he didn't know that University women censure their instructors when they get E; their I. W. A. A. sisters when they do not make the baseball team; the world in general when they do not make the women's council, that sorority, and that literary society.

Maybe no one ever told him that University men censure the coach when they do not make the varsity squad; the judges when they lose out on the debating team; the boarding house because that do not like the cooking, and everybody but themselves because they are not popular. It is hoped he didn't know that all are candidating for front row places in the chorus.

Al says he was down and out once himself, that is, once in particular. He was a fourth rate vaudeville actor whose jokes drew nothing but horse laughs. He wanted to go into the garden and eat worms, but they were not plentiful in the Winter Garden. He thought perhaps he would like to die. But after all Al was a comedian and he realized that the joke was on himself.

His name was Al but he had something in him that was called Will and he took it for an outing and told it a few things.

Al told Will that:

If you can weep for yourself you don't need any help;

If you think that by weeping you'll get sympathy, you will once;

If you try it again, the other fellow will yawn; reach down under his seat for his hat; and walk out;

If people don't appreciate you—make them, do a better job.

Al practiced what he told Will; and today he is a leading man in his profession. He didn't know about the poor complaining individuals whom University fellow students tolerate; but his philosophy goes marching on.

"If folks won't appreciate you—make them. Do a better job."

THE FOOTBALL BANQUET

The students of the University, through their duly elected representatives, the student council, will banquet the football team in the near future. The tentative date has been set as December 10. This banquet will be a definite and concrete appreciation on the part of Iowa's 5000 students of the efforts of their fellows on the gridiron.

The football men have earned a reward of some kind. They have earned something more than their letters, their publicity, their cheers. Countless hours have they spent on the field. Perhaps their class work has been neglected; at least much of their social life and extra-curricular activities have. But they have carried Old Gold forward, never complaining, and never heistating, for "Iowa Fights."

It would seem particularly fitting that the students themselves should pay this courtesy to their fellows. It is the students duty; it will be their pleasure. It has been their comrades and classmates who have made Iowa's name respected and feared among midwestern football rivals.

The number of students who can be accommodated at the banquet is limited and some method of distributing the cost-price tickets among the several colleges should be devised. The various details of the banquet are being worked out by a committee from the student council.

The Daily Iowan commends the student council for its action. The only regret is that a place for the banquet, large enough to seat all those who will want to attend, is not available.

Wesley Club will meet in the Epworth League rooms Saturday at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. H. H. Brueckner will discuss the subject, "God the Father." A brief fellowship period will follow.

Professor Whaling came to the University in 1917 as associate professor of economics.

Mr. and Mrs. Whaling will make their home in the Summit apartments.

W. Emslie Hutcheson, intercollegiate debate coach, said, "The date of the final championship debate will probably be January 16. On that date the Irving team will clash with the Zetagathian team composed of James H. Van Law, William P. Burghuis, and T. M. Ofelt. The Zets hold the championship at present."

DAN CUPID APPEARS TO BE OFF JOB WITH GIRLS WITHHOLDING ENGAGEMENTS

Is old Dan Cupid on a strike too, has he neglected the University, or is he getting out his amorous propaganda on the sly? Whatever the answer, there hasn't been a published announcement of an engagement in the institution during the entire season. September brides, October brides, November brides and fiancées refuse to appear, and all this in a social whirl of some 5000 persons of a tender, romantic age.

The society editor of The Daily Iowan says that it is all because of the old folks, that the young ladies' parents, from whom an announcement would normally be forthcoming are so far separated from Iowa City as to make this customary procedure impracticable.

One young girl undergraduate insists that the average University woman has three or four engagements during the year and that she hasn't time to announce them all.

A cynical senior man argues that he takes no stock in these college engagements.

Mrs. Nellie S. Aurner, dean of women, explains that in her opinion the failure of the little winged figure to make a public appearance was due to the length of time normally occupied by college engagements and the inadvisability of making a formal announcement so long before the marriage.

"In spite of this fact," she said, "one could, I think, be safe in saying that there are almost hundreds of quiet engagements in the University yearly." Mrs. Aurner denies any belief in the more or less popular impression that the so-called "college affair" is an altogether frivolous matter. She asserts that it is her conviction that engagements of University people are entered into as seriously or more so than those of the social world outside of University walls.

Any way they're not advertising it.

DEANS TAKE ACTION TO CONSERVE COAL

Yesterday, this supply will probably be released today. This aggregate of some 600 tons will, according to the mayor, only relieve the city for a few days at best.

Hospital Supply Low

He stated that the Mercy hospital has a supply which will run them for about eight days.

"All of the coal on hand or that is obtainable at present is only such as was in transit when the strike started, and not a ton has been shipped since that date," the mayor asserted.

In spite of the seriousness in the situation as it now appears, Mr. Swisher asserted that Iowa City is far more fortunate than many of its neighbors.
