STUDENT COUNCIL WILL GIVE BANQUET TO FOOTBALL MEN

Three Hundred Tickets Will be Sold to Both Men and Women Students

INVITE TEAM AND COACHES

First Time Affair Has Been Given Coaches and Captains to Speak—Ralph Overholser to Act as Toastmaster—Abandon Plan to Use Woman's Gym

Iowa's new student council will give a banquet to the members of the football team December 10 at the Burkley hotel. All "I" and "I-2" men will be invited, as well as Coaches Howard Jones and James Ashmore, Trainer Jack Watson, and Dr. H. J. Prentiss, chairman of the board in control of athletics.

This is the first time anything of this kind has been undertaken by the undergraduate body, and the student council has made arrangements to entertain three hundred students at the affair. The tickets will be on sale Monday at the price of 75 cents by the members of the council. One hundred tickets have been reserved for women and may be procured from any of the women delegates to the council: Margaret Hayes, Kathryn Dayton, Margaret Dolliver, Marion Smith, or Mabel Turner. Tickets have also been provided for the nurses.

Want Many Women

Speaking on the reservation for women, Edward Chamberlin, chairman of the committee in charge, stated, "This is an affair that should interest women as well as men.
Hundreds of them have backed the team and it is the desire of the student council that they show their spirit and be well represented at the banquet."

The remaining tickets will be given to the other delegates to the council and men students may get theirs from the representatives of their college, for the price of 75 cents.

Overholser Toastmaster

Ralph E. Overholser will be the toastmaster for the occasion. Toasts will be given by Captain Frederick Lohman, by the captain-elect, Coach Howard Jones, J. Mel Hickerson, president of the student council, and Leon H. Brigham, sports editor of the Daily Iowan, who has been with the team at all the games.

It was originally planned to give the banquet at the women's gymnasium but the shortage of coal and lack of other facilities caused the change to be made.

NUTTING AND WILSON TO ATTEND WELD RITES TODAY

Prof. C. C. Nutting of the zoological department, and Prof. Charles Bundy Wilson of the English department, will attend the funeral of Laenas G. Weld, former dean of the college of liberal arts, at Cedar Rapids today as representatives of the University.

The remains of the late dean will be shipped to Iowa City for burial following the funeral services.

MISS DALEY TO SPEAK

Prof. C. M. Daley will speak to the Friendly class Sunday morning at the Lutheran church on the subject "Educational Ideals."

FOUR QUINTETS IN BASKETBALL SQUAD

Coach Ashmore Driving Men Hard in Order to be Fit for Early Season Games

Coach James Ashmore of the Iowa basketball team is losing no time in getting his men in condition. With the season less than a week old he has started his tilters to scrimmaging for short periods each evening.
No attempt has been made to pick a first team but four quintets are given a chance to show their mettle each practice while the coach busily sorts and sizes up the various individuals.

Hard work must be the program up until the Christmas holidays for Director Howard Jones has scheduled three games to be played before the vacation. Iowa will meet the Cornell five at Mt. Vernon December 13 and again in Iowa City on the armory floor December 15. The Coe college hoop artists will also stack up against Iowa on December 18, with a possibility of a return game being played in Cedar Rapids.

Must Watch Minors

Both Cornell and Coe have caught the Old Gold five off its guard in seasons past and always possess high calibre teams. Consequently, the Hawkeyes will have to work fast to be in condition.

Keen rivalry for the various varsity jobs has characterized the first few workouts. An abundance of material has created a real problem for the coach to select accurately the best five men. Among the guards, there are Captain Nicholas, Barnes, Newcomb, Prentiss, Leighton, Glen Devine and Kaufman, who are promising men.

Many Centers on Squad

The last two named have not yet been able to get out for practice but are expected to report next week.
There is also a wealth of centers, with Worth, Dyke, Frohwein, and Hamilton as the main contenders.
Chief among the forwards are Shimek, lately transferred from guard, Riddlesbarger, Muckler, Van der Wicken, Finlayson, and Aubrey Devine.

JACOB VAN ECK, IS NAMED AS ZETAGATHIAN LEADER

Jacob Van Eck, senior liberal arts, was elected president of Zetagathian literary society Friday evening, November 28. Van Eck is a member of the intercollegiate debate team which will clash with Illinois and Minnesota December 12.

The vice presidency went to Warren P. Lawrence, senior liberal arts.
Harry W. Kamer was elected recording secretary and William P. Berghuis, corresponding secretary. Clarence Fackler, the retiring president, was made sergeant at arms. These men will hold office throughout the winter term.

CHICAGO CRITICS PUT THREE HAWKEYE STARS ON MYTHICAL ELEVENS

"Duke" Slater Honored by Sporting Editors of Two Evening Chicago Papers

POST CRITIC "SEES" BELDING

Aubrey Devine Given Place on Second Team by Some Experts—Purdue and Ohio State Pick Old Gold Players, With Negro Star
the Apparent Favorite

Recognition of Iowa's rank in the Big Ten is evidenced by the naming of three Hawkeye players on the first and second all-conference football teams as selected by sporting writers of the two leading evening papers in Chicago. The teams appeared in Saturday evening's issues.

Fred "Duke" Slater, the star negro tackle of the Iowa eleven, seems to have won the favor of all who saw him play. Malcolm MacLean of the Chicago Evening Post, and the sporting editor of the Chicago Evening Journal, place Slater on their first all-conference teams. The Journal critic also puts the Negro star on his all-western team. MacLean did not choose an all-western eleven this year.

MacLean Honors Belding

Belding is placed on MacLean's all-conference team along with his teammate Slater, but the Hawkeye star end is ignored by the Journal man.

Aubrey Devine, Iowa's sterling quarterback, whose friends predicted a berth for him on the first all-conference eleven, was placed on Mac-Lean's second team. Like Belding, he is overlooked by the Evening Journal.

Colleges Recognize Hawkeyes

In college circles the Hawkeye players were likewise honored. The all-conference selection made by the sporting editor of the Ohio State Lantern places Slater at tackle and Hunzelman at guard on the first team, Aubrey Devine at quarter on the second team and Belding at end on the third team.

Belding is the only Iowa man placed on the first all-conference team selected by the critics of the Purdue Exponent. Slater and Aubrey Devine are placed on that newspaper's second team.

WHITBY INITIATES UPPERCLASS WOMEN

Whitby initiated the following upperclass women at a dinner in Close hall, recently. Mildred Sharp, Esther Fonda, Constance Chapman, Mabel Crawford, seniors; and Florence Castle, Francis Gillis, and Frieda Leichsenring, sophomores.

At the business meeting, Constance Chapman was chosen senior delegate to the women's forensic council to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Bess Goodykoontz, president of Whitby.

Military classes for Monday and Tuesday will meet as usual in the room under the Armory. On Tuesday, the engineers will meet in the L. A. assembly at the usual hour.
Schedules for classes after Tuesday will be announced later.

HOLD MILITARY BALL EARLY IN NEW YEAR

Two Formal Parties Scheduled for January, Announcements by Chairmen Show

The military ball will be the first formal of the school year and will be held at the armory. The date is set for January 9, the first Friday after the Christmas holidays.
"It has been the custom during the six years I have been connected with the University, to have the military ball on the first Friday after Christmas," said Col. Morton C. Mumma, yesterday.

The formal is in charge of the twenty-seven commissioned officers of the cadet regiment of which Verne Meyers, cadet colonel, is chairman. Definite plans will be decided upon this week, according to Mr. Meyers.

The grand march, led by the cadet officers at the beginning of the evening will be one of the main features of the military ball.

Sophomore Cotillion

Sophomore Cotillion, the first class party of the school year, will be held January 23, in the women's gymnasium. The party committee met Friday evening and heard the reports of the various sub-committees in connection with the formal. These committees are, music, David Mitchell and Douglass Boynton; supper, Sherman Drake and C. S. Lideen; punch, Harlon Baldwin and A. J.
Mulroney; decoration, Douglas Boynton, David Mitchel and John Hutchings; program, Harold Reinecke and A. J. Mulroney; advertising, Paul Olson and John Hutchings. The committee elected John Hutchings as treasurer of the class party.

Definite arrangements will be ready for publication the first week after vacation, says William W. Peterson, chairman of the general party committee. No flowers will be worn at the sophomore formal, according to a vote of the committee Friday evening.

Freshman Party

Freshman party will be held at the women's gymnasium Friday, February 6, according to definite arrangements of the committee which met Friday evening. This will be the second of the class parties to be given this year. According to tradition and custom, the freshman class annual function will not be formal.

Details are in charge of sub-committees under the following chairmen: program, Catherine Pyles; refreshments, Josephine Moffit; place, Wallace Peterson; decorations, Lauren Smith; orchestra, James Van Epps; advertising, Lawrence Organ.

CAMPUS RUMORS OF SCHOOL SUSPENSION BRING FORTH DENIAL

University Not to Close Before the Scheduled Time, Says Dean of Women

BOARD WILL MEET MONDAY

Definite Action on Fuel Situation is Expected to be Taken at Gathering of Deans Tomorrow—Iowa City Mayor Fails in Effort to Have Coal Delivered

Contrary to numerous campus rumors that University activities would be suspended before the scheduled date of December 19, Mrs. Nellie S.
Aurner, secretary of the board of deans, announced last night that no official action had been taken in this regard.

No change in the coal situation which concerns the University has taken place since the adoption of the conservation program by the board Friday, Mrs. Aurner explained, and intimated that no official action would be taken on the matter until the meeting Monday.

Fuel Remains in Yards

J. M. Fisk, superintendent of grounds and buildings, supplemented Mrs. Aurner's statement with the announcement that nothing had developed Saturday which would have direct bearing upon fuel conditions.
In spite of the efforts of Mayor Ingalls Swisher the ten cars of coal lying in the Rock Island yards have not been released to local dealers.

City to Sell Wood

Mayor Swisher announced that he had been able to buy thirty-six cords of wood, which would be sawed up and sold by the pound, at actual cost, to the more needy consumers.

FOOTBALL MEN BOARD GUESTS ON WEDNESDAY

Over 100 to Attend Annual Banquet at Hotel Jefferson When 1919 Captain is Named

Over one hundred football men, including letter men, second team, freshman team, old gridiron stars, and officials connected with University athletics will be the guests of the athletic board at a banquet Wednesday evening, December 3, at the Hotel Jefferson.

It is officially announced that next year's football captain will be elected at the close of the dinner.
Apparently no candidate for the captaincy will have the field to himself. Several persons in close touch with the team express the opinion that the election will surprise many who are expecting a senior man to win the coveted leadership.

Stunts for Guests

Stunts of various kinds will enliven the course of the banquet and speeches will be given by a number of the diners, according to Asst.
Professor Louis Pelzer, in charge of arrangements.

The complete list of those invited follows:

"I" Men

Belding, L. C.; Pyles, Arthur; Charlton, Clyde B.; Slater, Fred;

THE COAL SHORTAGE

Although the government has seized the coal mines and offered 14 per cent additional pay and guaranteed protection for all miners who wish to work, the coal situation has not been relieved. Iowa miners will refuse to return to work, officials declare, and national representatives of the miners believe that the new presentments will be no incentive. This delay makes a coal shortage inevitable. From it must come hardship, suffering, and conservation.

Even though the miners returned to work today the situation is so acute as to cause inconvenience and suffering. Dealers in all parts of the middle west have a limited supply. The amount on hand is so meagre as to require consumers to stint themselves in its use. Transportation facilities will be scarcely able to meet the clamor of the public for fuel when coal is available because of congestion and lack of rolling stock. There is bound to be inconveniences for some time.

Bickering will no longer solve the immediate problem. What the people need and must have is coal. High sounding phrases and further parleying will no longer take the place of fuel. The people want action, need heat, and demand coal.

During the interval between action and arrival of fuel, the public will be called upon to be patient; to conserve coal; to practice economy; to be long suffering. It will be the part of Americans to play the role of a goodfellow.

The time to conserve is the present. While we have sufficient coal in the bin for immediate needs it is well to save for the future. State and municipal agencies should provide restrictions in behalf of conservation at once, and should be aided by the goodwill of private citizens in saving. Non-essential establishments should be the first to be affected while all essential agencies should be guarded with fuel.

The University has of its own volition adopted means of conservation by closing its doors each afternoon at 5 o'clock. The measure is the outgrowth of the seriousness of the situation and has been effected in order that the supply on hand may be extended as far as possible. Although the situation in Iowa City and at the University is acute, there is no apparent need for alarm. There is coal for the present and promise for more in the future. The doors of the University will not be closed until it is essential. Future shipments of coal and whether the miners return to work, will determine future action of the board of deans of the policy of the University.

During the coal shortage the townspeople and the students can be of service by conserving the supply, being patient, and "sitting tight," until the situation is relieved.

Dancing in Paris has been tabooed on account of the fuel shortage. If the dearth of coal continues, we'll have to dance to keep warm.

On days like thim, even the Mexican border seems to have virtues.

The weather man seems to be in cahoots with the miners.

Anyway, one can keep the coal shovel shined up by applying it to the sidewalk.

So this is winter.

THE LISTENING POST

Judging from the amount of soot that flies these days, one wouldn't think there was much of a coal shortage.

It looks like another winter of watchful waiting down on the Mexican border.

Chicago deserves the prize for optimism. They call the temperance bars saloons there. But perhaps, like grapenuts, there's a reason.

"He is very good looking for a professor," we overheard a fair coed remark the other day.

Birds of a feather flock together, some bird once chirped. That's the reason, probably, they are holding the poultry show in a dance hall.

The miners are reported as being angry at the fuel administration. When the thermometer starts tearing downward, the American public is going to do the cussing.

Governor Lowden's managers in Illinois deny that he is one of the so-called favorite sons seeking the Republican nomination for president. He can't very well be a favorite son of Illinois since he is an Iowa man.

Dr. Charles E. Chadsey resigned his $18,000 job as superintendent of the schools of Chicago to take a professorship at the University of Illinois at $6,000 because he didn't care to be a figurehead. Rather a figurehead, for us, than one of these down trodden professors they've been talking about.

They're executing Mexican generals as well as killing American citizens down in Villaville these days.

Did you say, "My kingdom for some rubbers!"

HOLD MILITARY BALL

Monday, according to an announcement of William S. Kelley, president of the junior class. No plans have been made for the junior formal as yet, but will be before another week has passed, states the president.

Senior Hop

Senior Hop, the last formal of the year, given during commencement week in past years, will be under supervision before Christmas vacation, reports Donald A. Nasby, president of the senior class. "My committee for the senior class party will be appointed by Christmas," said

Mr. Nasby.
