LIFE MEMBERSHIP TO UNION IS $50 FOR ALL STUDENTS

Action Taken by Executive Board at Des Moines Reaches Decision At Meeting Saturday

ALUMNI WILL PAY $100

Executive Parley Regarded as Starting Point of a New Phase in Campaign—Miss Rogers is Employed as Field Secretary—Student Campaign Starts Friday

The meeting of the Iowa Memorial committee at Des Moines on Saturday, January 10, was attended by President W. A. Jessup, Prof. F. C. Ensign, Prof. C. H. Weller, and Ruth Rogers. Fred Sargent, Des Moines; W. O. Finkbine, Des Moines; Carl F. Kuehnle, Denison; John Grimm, Cedar Rapids; Charles Dutcher, Iowa City; Mrs. Shuermann, Des Moines; made up the committee. The important action of the committee was the fixing of the rate for life membership to the Union. For students the membership will be $50, and for alumni $100. This will entitle them to all the privileges of the Union for life.

Alumni to Pay $100

Alumni are required to contribute $100 in order to secure a life membership to the Union.

The Des Moines meeting is regarded as the starting point of a new phase in the campaign, Prof. Charles H. Weller said yesterday. An executive committee consisting of Carl F. Kuehnle, John Grimm, and Charles Dutcher, was appointed to aid in the campaign over the state. Mr. Kuehnle will serve as chairman.

Jessup Is Optimistic

Ruth Rogers of Manning has been employed as field secretary.

President Jessup declared that the campaign had gone much better than he had expected and that he was exceedingly optimistic over its success.

Besides the members of the executive board, Pres. Walter A. Jessup, Prof. Charles H. Weller, Prof. Forrest C. Ensign, and Ruth Rogers attended the meeting.

The second campaign among the students will start Saturday morning Miss Rogers said. The goal for the student body is $75,000.

Miss Margaret Z. Young, Xi Alpha Delta, pledged $150 in memory of her uncle, Douglas C. Filkins, and (Continued on page 4)

I. W. A. A. TO HOLD OPEN MEETING

I.W.A.A. will hold an open meeting at the Women's Gymnasium Wednesday evening at seven-thirty o'clock for all girls interested in athletics.

"Since this meeting will take the place of the regular business meeting it is hoped that all old members will be present," states Miss Adele Kimm president of the association.

The following program will be given:

- History of Organization Anne Thomsen
- Entrance Requirements Esther Graves
- Explanation of Point System Helen Hayes
- Aims and Ideals Miss Lyons
- Athletic Wedding Old Members

NELLIE V. WALKER TO LECTURE THURSDAY

Nellie V. Walker, the well-known American sculptor, will give an illustrated lecture on "Sculptors of the Middle West", at the natural science auditorium, Thursday, January 15 at 8 o'clock. The lecture will be given under the auspices of the graduate college and is free to the public.

Miss Walker was born in Red Oak, Iowa, and received her education as a sculptor in the Art Institute of Chicago as a pupil of Lorado Taft. She has executed several monuments to notable men in the United States, a statue of Chief Keokuk at Keokuk, Iowa, and a number of portrait busts. She has received wide recognition in artistic circles, being a member of four prominent societies including the Chicago Society of Artists.

MUSIC BY WIRELESS IS LATEST PLAN HERE

University Radio Operators Hear Victrola Music Played in Distant City

Dancing to the jazzy melodies of a leading orchestra in Chicago, may yet be a possibility at Iowa City if tentative plans of the wireless operators and senior electrical students are realized. Sunday afternoon from 3:30 to 4:30, and in the evening from 6:30 to 7:30 in the photometry room of the physics building, operators Carl Menzer and E. J. Sterba listened to the latest Victrola records played before a wireless telephone miles away. This is the first time that music has been heard by wireless at the University.

Suggestions were made that the electrical engineers hold a formal dance engaging the services of some orchestra in some distant part of the country. By means of a two stage amplifier and a loud speaker connected with the regular wireless receiving set the music would be as distinct as though the orchestra were playing in the same room, according to Mr. Menzer. After the matter had been discussed Mr. Sterba said it might easily be done with materials already on hand.

D. A. DAVIS APPOINTED ADVERTISING MANAGER

Dwight A. Davis, junior in the college of liberal arts has been appointed advertising manager of the Iowan to succeed Donald A. Nasby, president of the senior class, whose other duties occasioned his resignation the later part of December.

Eligibility to the office required that the applicant be of junior standing; when Edward Chamberlin, business manager, announced the vacancy, six students offered their services. As a consequence try-outs were held by written tests and actual street work. Davis was appointed because of his excellent showing.

Davis is treasurer of the Quadrangle's governing board, and was active in formulating the constitution by which that body is governed.

LOST ARTICLES RECLAIMED

Lost articles may be reclaimed at the office of the superintendent of grounds and buildings, room 102, Old Capitol building, according to an announcement under the signature of Pres. Walter A. Jessup last evening.

ATHLETIC BOARD WILL HOLD TRACK MIXER

Entertainments and Refreshments Are Planned for Men Interested in Work

A University track mixer will be held at the gymnasium Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock for men of the University who are interested in track work. The mixer is under the auspices of the board in control of athletics and they have sent out about six hundred invitations to men interested in track work and other forms of athletics. Coach Howard H. Jones states that anyone interested in track work who does not receive an invitation is welcome to attend this mixer as it was difficult to get the names of all track athletes.

E. G. Schroeder, director of physical training, states that there will be various stunts of amusement for the evening, including boxing and wrestling matches, and various indoor games. Arrangements have been made by the entertainment committee to serve light refreshments. Leon H. Brigham, captain of this spring's track team, says "Prospects for the track team this year are very good, and with the many old men back from last year's team they will make a strong showing among the track teams of the country."

WATER BASKETBALL TO FEATURE MEET

Novel Game Will be Introduced at Iowa for the First Time This Winter

Water basketball is one of the novel events scheduled for the dual swimming meets which the University of Iowa swimmers will compete in this winter. This game has never been played in the local pool before and Director E. G. Schroeder promises local fans an interesting exhibition.

The game is one that requires great endurance on the part of the swimmers. It is played with an inflated leather-covered ball similar to the regulation basketball. Baskets are set up at either end of the pool and the rules of the game are in general those that govern the more common gym court basketball.

The varsity swimming team this year promises to be one of the strongest that Iowa ever had. Coach David Armbruster has a squad of eighteen crack tank experts in training for the dual meets in February, one with Chicago on Feb. 13 at Chicago, and the other with Northwestern at Evanston on Feb. 14. The Hawkeyes will also compete at the annual Western Intercollegiate swimming meet held at Patton gym, Northwestern university, on March 20.

There are four veterans from last year's Hawkeye tank team that should rank high in conference competition this year. They are Capt. Weidlein, in the fancy diving; Shephard in the fancy diving and dashes; Dethlefs in the breast stroke events and dashes; and Anneberg, in the short dashes. Robert Brown of last year's yearling team, Richardson, Vedova, Stoner, Larson, Goodell, and Bond are all crack water athletes on the squad who may be heard from before the year is over.

LIBERAL ARTS COLLEGE TEAMS PLAN SCHEDULE

At a meeting of the presidents of the four classes of the college of liberal arts at Physical Director E. G. Schroeder's office Friday evening a basketball schedule was drawn up. The following games will be played to decide the inter-class championship:

- Juniors-Freshmen, January 24, 2 p. m.
- Seniors-Sophomores, January 24, 3 p. m.
- Juniors-Sophomores, January 31, 2 p. m.
- Seniors-Freshmen, January 31, 3 p. m.
- Seniors-Juniors, February 7, 2 p. m.
- Sophomore-Freshmen, February 7, 3 p. m.

Carl H. Umlandt is to captain the seniors and George Smyth has been chosen the junior leader. Howard M. Barnes has been selected to lead the sophomore class, and John "Tye" Smith, the freshmen. When the games have been played members from the four teams will be picked to represent the liberal arts college in inter-college games for the University championship.

BELDING TO REJECT WEST POINT OFFER

Army Eleven Will Have to Do Without Services of Iowa Football Players

Annapolis will beat West Point in football next fall if West Point is relying on University of Iowa football men to play with the Army eleven.

University athletes will not accept opportunities to go to the United States Military Academy, according to the latest reports. Lester Belding, end on the Iowa eleven, made his final decision yesterday that he would not consider West Point until June of 1921, and perhaps not at that time.

Belding will play football with the University team next year and continue with his course in engineering. "West Point has a good engineering college and it would be fine to take a year there, but I don't know yet. I'll not go before a year from next June anyway," said Belding.

William S. Kelly, of Newton, captain of 1920 football squad, and John S. McConnell of Mason City, sub end on the football team and a member of the basketball squad, did not consider their chances of appointment in the least. Unlike Belding's appointment, these last two men would be obliged to take entrance examinations into the academy since they are not in the college of engineering. "It is not the examinations," said Kelly. "It is just that I never considered the matter."

PROMINENT ALUMNUS GETS NEW POSITION

Dr. C. H. Edmonson, B. Ph. '03, M. S. '04, Ph. D. '06, has recently been appointed to a research professorship at the college of Hawaii at Honolulu. The position involves the directorship of the aquarium at Honolulu and the honorary curatorship of the Bishop Museum at Honolulu. Dr. Edmonson was professor of zoology at the University of Oregon prior to his appointment.

WALPOLE LECTURES ON THE PERIODS IN A NOVELIST'S LIFE

Many Interesting Facts Given by Author Both in His Lecture and in Interview

"YOUNG RUTH" NEW NOVEL

Will End Tour in April—Last Night's Lecture His Fortieth in America—Says He Will Not Lecture Again—Indianapolis is His Favorite City

By concrete illustrations from his own life, Hugh Walpole explained the three great periods in the development of a novelist at his lecture, "Creating a Novel," given to a large audience in the natural science auditorium last night.

New Writer Unselfconscious

Unselfconscious describes the first stage in the growth of a writer, Mr. Walpole says. The beginner is full of enthusiasm, has many ideas, and the impulse to write. When his first book is published, the criticism and comment and the realization that he is prominent in the public eye make him self conscious. Later the final period is reached and the novelist comes to a realization of "life as it is."

The third period in Mr. Walpole's life as a novelist began with his experiences in Russia during the war. At that time he gained the novelist's point of view in all experiences. His novel dealing with this phase is "The Secret City."

Religion Theme of "Young Ruth"

His first love story, "Young Ruth" will be published this autumn, says Hugh Walpole, British novelist. It will be a long, long novel, so long that Mr. Walpole is afraid he will never be able to finish it by the set time.

Religion is the theme behind the story of "Young Ruth," an English girl. It is not propaganda for any religious beliefs, Mr. Walpole said, but deals with the opposing forces of emotional religion and religion of the humdrum, dogmatic sort in the life of this girl. The setting is London.

No More Child Sketches

Mr. Walpole will not attempt another child sketch, such as "Jeremy," in spite of the fact that it has been his most popular book. He qualified his statement, however, by "at least, not for a long time." He agreed that the publishers advertised "Jeremy" misleadingly so that it appeared to be a "Pollyanish" book. "That phrase, 'a happy prism of laughter and tears,'" he groaned.

Last night's lecture was the fortieth one in his tour of America which will end in April, when he returns to England. Portland, Oregon, is his next stop after the lecture in Des Moines today. Indianapolis was a great favorite with the novelist, who visited that city three times.

He enjoys lecturing, but "I won't do it again," he said.

COOPER TO SPEAK

John Wallace Cooper, district agent of the National Life Insurance company, will speak at the meeting of the Commerce club Wednesday evening at the Commercial club rooms at 8 o'clock. Mr. Cooper received his Ph. D. degree at Columbia university and has done distinguished war service.

PRESS AGENT STUFF

The gullible American public, or at least that part which follows sporting events, is swallowing these days, hook sinker and line, stories of a fistic encounter to be staged somewhere in the world for a purse of $400,000. The principals to the affair are to be Georges Carpentier, a second rate Frenchman, and "our own" Jack Dempsey, champion of the United States by virtue of his somewhat sensational victory over Jess Willard six months past.

Four hundred thousand dollars, even in these days of "cheap money", represents no small fortune. Men who have paraded in millionaire's row have had less. That much money would keep the voracious wolf away from many a college professor's door for a long time. But that is not the question.

Four hundred thousand dollars represents the sum that is to be paid to a couple of dubs. All prize fighters are dubs. If they were not dubs, they would not be prize fighters. In the division of the purse, Mr. Dempsey will receive 75 per cent win, lose, or draw, it is said.

Mr. Dempsey's share, therefore, would be $300,000. Not so bad for a man who helped build ships during the recent disturbance across the sea! That is, it wouldn't be bad if he were to get that much money. But the press agents are the only ones who are willing to give it to him. They build air castles for all of us.

Jack is a good boy and a clever fighter, but when he counts his money after he gets through giving the Frenchman the same thing he gave Mr. Willard last Fourth of July, he is going to be disappointed—unless he is wary of the tricks of the press agents.

RESULTS OF THE CONVENTION

Iowa's delegates to the ninth International Student Volunteer convention, held in Des Moines during the holidays, have returned to their work at the University. Sharing the duties of hosts, with representatives from the colleges of the state, they formed the nucleus of an assemblage of 7000 students of the world.

Five days of mental, social, and spiritual contact between Iowa's men and women and the best of the world's leaders will automatically bear fruit for the good of Old Gold.

Iowa sent forty-six men and women to the convention. There have returned, not the forty-six, but a delegation strengthened 7000 fold by the sympathetic touch with other minds, and other personalities.

Strange indeed, if through the reaction of the delegates to the good things seen and heard, University life does not receive incentives for the better.

Students cannot be abruptly transferred from a selfish educational environment to an atmosphere religious and sincere, without being awakened to an analysis of the deficiencies in University life.

They cannot be enthused by a John R. Mott or a Sherwood Eddy without questioning the sincerity of their own lives and the value of their own life aims.

They cannot mingle naturally and sincerely with 7000 other individuals without a thought of shame for the standards which narrow one's friendships to a small group.

They cannot but feel with President King of Oberlin college, "the privilege of the obligation" to service which accompanies a college education.

NEED TRAFFIC REGULATIONS

"Keep to the right." This is the sign that greets one at the intersections where traffic is enormous. It is a law on the statute books. It has a purpose.

"Stop, look and listen." This, too, is a trite sign which is established at every rail crossing. It is a warning to augment public safety. It also has a purpose.

A combination of the two signs would not be altogether out of place, if posted in the hallways and doorways of University buildings. Four thousand students changing classes, hourly, give rise to congestion at places of exit. For this reason confusion may be avoided and time saved if students will keep to the right.

Until traffic regulations are established for the University halls keep to the right and establish a custom.

READERS' LETTERS

CHIEF FLYNN AND THE REDS

Dear Editor—Most questions have two sides, and a golden mean. I have always thought that college students, because of their opportunity to acquire a broad out look on affairs, should be the very ones to choose the middle path.

May I protest, then, at the ultra-conservative tone of many of the Daily Iowan's editorials; particularly the one on "Work of the Secret Service". After reading the article several times, I can find no shadow of a doubt so much as hinted at but that the recent raids on the so called "reds" are events of which every American is pretty proud.

However, many prominent magazines have taken quite a different stand and some facts seem to sustain them. Sociologists have been agreed for a long time that one of the best ways to promote a movement is to persecute its leaders. I wonder if Chief Flynn realizes that each one of the 2500 "foreign individuals" who await deportation has become a martyr in the eyes of every friend and sympathizer whom he leaves behind in America, whether these were before true radicals or just "liberals"? I wonder if he realizes that, far from being sorry, the "I. W. W." gloat over every such raid as one more justification of their repeated charges that America is not a land of freedom but a land of oppression; that free speech and free press do not in fact exist?

So provided that this "radical element" is as "dangerous and unworthy" as the writer of the editorial seems to think, there is some question of the efficiency of Chief Flynn's "detective drag net" (how like Czarist Russia that sounded), in safe guarding American liberties.

These are those of us who hold that the truly American way of meeting present day discontent is by a program of constructive reform rather than by an hysterical fear of bolshevism or an indulgence in "red raids." I have been wanting to speak out in behalf of liberals for some time, but have waited, hoping some one more gifted in the use of words would do so. But as no one has, this gives me, at least the satisfaction of standing up for my honest convictions.

HAWKEYE EDITOR SETS DEAD LINE FOR GROUPS

Pictures of All Organizations Must Be In By February 10, Declares Editor-in-chief

Group pictures for the Hawkeye must be in the hands of the editors not later than February 10, according to Fred Steiner, editor-in-chief of this year's book. A plan is being worked out whereby the organizations that have not already had their pictures taken will be allotted a certain date and a studio assigned to them for their sitting. Some forty organizations on the campus have not arranged for their sittings yet, and the sooner the matter is attended to, the better it will be for both the Hawkeye and the organizations in that better work can be done when the engraving is made, the management says.

The expense attached to these group pictures will vary somewhat. The price set for a fraternity page in the book is $16, exclusive of the expense to the photographer. Sororities will be given two pages that the photos may be mounted singly at a price of $25, exclusive of the expense to the photographer. Literary societies and clubs will also be charged $16 as are fraternities, since they take the same space in the book and are similarly grouped.

Pictures of class officers are being called for now and the editors have been busy for some time locating the various students interested in these pictures and arranging for a sitting.

FIRST COUNCIL DANCE IS FINANCIAL SUCCESS

Report Filed with Dean of Men Shows Balance of $5.35—Next Dance Friday Evening

A complete financial report of the Student Council dance given in the women's gymnasium has been filed with the dean of men. The report, submitted by Arthur Rosenbaugh, chairman of the Council's dance committee, is as follows:

Cash received from the sale of 96 tickets	$105.60
Expenses:
Orchestra	$56.00
Checking coats	4.00
Corn meal for floor	.50
Mailing and letters	.60
