TRACK CANDIDATES TO ATTEND MIXER AT GYM THIS EVENING

Wrestling, Boxing, and Speeches Make up Program—Refreshments to be Served

JONES EXPECTS 400 MEN

Mass Meeting Most Satisfactory Way to Ascertain Material For Coming Season Say Members of Board—Captain Leon H. Brigham prophesies Big Year.

A track mixer will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the gymnasium for all candidates interested in track. The purpose is to ascertain what material will be available for the coming season. The board in control of athletics has found this a very satisfactory method of getting new men to signify their intentions of coming out for track work, members of the board say.

The program this evening will consist of short talks by Dr. Henry J. Prentiss, Coach Jones, Trainer Watson and captain Leon H. Brigham. Glenn Devine and Robert Smith, Charles Sweeney and Ray J. Parrott will wrestle. H. O. Pillars and Nathan Smythe will box. Probably "Pat" Wright, boxing instructor, and "Duke" Slater, Leland White and Arthur Starbuck will box. After the entertainment apples, doughnuts, and cider will be served to all.

Many Former Stars Back

"Prospects for a strong team are bright", said Jack Watson, trainer, yesterday. "A big track year for Iowa", is the opinion of Captain Brigham "because we have a veteran squad back from last year and more freshmen of high calibre to start with than ever before. Last year we were handicapped because of a late start but the initial call for track candidates will be tomorrow and an early start is assured." "Expect 400 to attend tonight," said Coach Jones.

Among the veterans who will again perform for Old Gold this spring are Captain Brigham, high jumper and broad jumper; Colby, Justin, Titus, Matthey, Wahl and Hill, sprinters; Dyke, javelin; Rosenbaugh, Steussy and Sharpe, half milers; Sweazey, miler; Kruse, two miler; Smith, Dyke, Davis, and Cumberland, quarter miler; Kostlan, Re-

RAINBOW VETERANS MEET

Business Session Called For Thursday Evening—Charter Here

Old Gold chapter of the Rainbow Division Veterans association is called to meeting by James E. Thomas of the school of commerce, temporary chairman, for a short business session Thursday evening at 7 o'clock, in the Y. M. C. A. building.

The charter from national headquarters has arrived and is in the hands of Eldon C. Anderson, secretary. Regular officers will be elected at this meeting to supercede those acting temporarily and various committees will be put to work.

STUDENT SOLICITORS GET INSTRUCTIONAL COURSE THIS WEEK

Representatives of Delegations From Every Iowa County are Selected to Complete Canvass

WILL HOLD FOUR MEETINGS

Dean Kay Spoke Yesterday—Professor Briscoe at Meeting Today—Solicitors Chosen From the Department of Public Speaking and the School of Commerce

Dean George F. Kay spoke to sixty student solicitors for the Memorial Union campaign in the liberal arts assembly room yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. He spoke of the loyalty of the alumni of the University and the students' duty.

Prof. Norris A. Brisco will speak at the same time and place this afternoon and Prof. Glenn N. Merry will speak to the solicitors Thursday afternoon. The last meeting of the instructional course will be held Friday afternoon when Prof. Forrest C. Ensign and Prof. C. H. Weller will talk.

Interview Every Student

The school for solicitors has been started in connection with the reorganized Iowa Memorial Union campaign. Some 250 students have been chosen from the department of public speaking and the school of commerce for instruction in the work. These students have been assigned according to the counties of the state and will be expected to personally interview every student from his county.

The school is being held that the solicitors may be instructed in the Memorial Union project and be able to explain to every student assigned to them the Union in detail, its plan and purpose. Enough solicitors have been chosen that no one will be assigned more than 15 students to interview.

Want Detailed Exxplanation

The selections were made from the school of commerce and the department of public speaking because those students are more accustomed to personal interviews and salesmanship. "We are not selecting salesmen necessarily," Ruth Rogers, field secretary for the Memorial Union, explained last evening. "We merely want students who can explain the Union clearly and in detail."

Dean George F. Kay spoke to sixty solicitors in the liberal arts assembly room yesterday evening at 5 o'clock. Prof. Norris A. Brisco will speak to them this evening, at the same hour. Similar meetings will also be held Thursday and Friday afternoons.

TRI-CITY IOWA CLUB FORMED ON CAMPUS

Tri-City Iowa Club is the name of the recently formed organization of students attending the University from Rock Island, Davenport and Moline. David Richardson, of Davenport, Quadrangle, is president, and Robert Kaufman, of Davenport, Sigma Nu, is vice-president, and Carl Matthey, of Davenport, Phi Kappa Psi, has been chosen manager. Membership in the Tri-City Iowa club is by invitation.

The purpose of the club, according to the announcement of members, is to promote the interests of the University in the Tri-Cities.

TRY NEW COMBINATIONS AT VARSITY WORKOUT

North at Center and McConnell at Forward Work Well in Scrimmage Yesterday

Still experimenting with different combinations from his varsity material, Coach James N. Ashmore put his Hawkeye basketball squad through a long scrimmage practice at the gymnasium yesterday afternoon.

This week Coach Ashmore has been working Worth at Center, and McConnell has gone to forward. McConnell is fast and clever in spite of his great height and seems to work in well at the new position. Lohman has been playing at guard and Finlayson at forward.

To start the workout last night Shimek and Finlayson played the forwards, Worth center, and Nicholaus and Kaufman guards. Against this combination Kepler and Ehresman took the forward positions, Olson center, and Wallon and Klatt guards. Prentiss worked in at a guard, McConnell displaced Finlayson at forward, and Lohman played guard before the long scrimmage ended.

Northwestern and Wisconsin will be played by Iowa on a trip to be taken this week end. Iowa is expected to give the Purple a great fight and the Hawkeyes have more than an even chance to win at Evanston, but to defeat the Badgers at Madison will require phenomenal

TRUNK THIEF SENT TO FORT MADISON

Ruth Van Law and Luke Linnan Identify Stolen Property at Hess Home

Pleading guilty to the theft of a wardrobe trunk belonging to Ruth Van Law '23, Gamma Phi Beta, Louis Hess, 18 north Front street, faces an indeterminate term of five years in the state penitentiary at Fort Madison.

The trunk, which has been missing since the evening of January 8 was identified Monday afternoon at the Hess home by Miss Van Law and her brother James Van Law, Delta Chi, who accompanied the police to the house.

In the confusion that resulted when the search warrant was served, revolvers were drawn but no shots were fired. "I was in a room talking to Mr. Hess's daughter when her mother pointed a gun at me. I don't know what I did. My brother and the police got there someway," Miss Van Law said yesterday afternoon.

Louis Hess pled guilty when arraigned in district court Tuesday morning and was sentenced by Judge Ralph Otto to an indeterminate term of five years in the penitentiary at Ft. Madison. Sheriff Evan Rowland took the prisoner to Fort Madison yesterday evening.

Miss Van Law has identified everything that remained in the trunk, which had been badly demolished. The missing goods are alleged to have been sold in Burlington and Ft. Madison by Mr. Hess. James Van Law and Detective O. E. Carroll went to Burlington yesterday in quest of the missing articles.

A second trunk, found in the Hess home when it was searched Monday evening, was identified last night as the property of Luke E. Linnan, Phi Alpha Delta, and junior law student. Mr. Linnan's trunk has been missing since the opening of school.

TRIANGLE CLUB MASKS

The Triangle Club, composed of faculty members, will hold its annual masquerade dance Thursday evening, February, 15 at 7:30 o'clock in the club rooms. Stunts and old fashioned dances will be the features of the evening.

IOWA SCULPTOR, IN LETTER, BELITTLES HER MASTERPIECE

Nellie Vern Walker Cares Less for "Her Son" Group Than Any Other Works

KEOKUK IS REAL FAVORITE

Her Lecture Thursday Evening at Natural Science Auditorium Will be of Impersonal Nature Because She Dislikes to Speak of Her Own Experiences

Indifference toward her masterpiece, the well-known "Her Son" group, is expressed by Nellie Vern Walker, Chicago sculptor, who lectures on "Sculptors of the Middle West" in the natural science auditorium tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

In a letter to Charles H. Weller, professor of history of art she says, "I am going to shock you by saying that I care less for the 'Her Son' group than for anything else I have done." Miss Walker then modified this statement by saying that her sentiment toward the popular work was possibly not quite so indifferent, but that her real favorite was the statue of Chief Keokuk at Keokuk, Iowa.

Lecture to be Illustrated

The lecture tomorrow evening will be illustrated with lantern slides and will probably be of an impersonal nature, as Miss Walker has intimated that she dislikes to speak of her own work. There will be no charge for admission.

The Chicago sculptor will be entertained at dinner Thursday evening by Miss Mary E. Moon, president of the Iowa City Fine Arts association. It is rumored that she will be the guest of faculty members of the art department sometime during her visit, but no definite plans have been announced. Prof. Charles A. Cumming, head of the department and an acquaintance of Miss Walker, has appended to a letter from Des Moines, a suggestion that the art faculty entertain her. The letter says that Professor Cumming will be in Iowa City

SCHROEDER ELECTED HEAD OF DIRECTORS

New State Association Formed to Promote Interests of Physical Education

E. G. Schroeder, physical director of men, was elected president of a new organization known as the Iowa State Association of Physical Directors, recently held at Des Moines. Marion R. Lyon, physical director of women, has been appointed as chairmen of the rules and by laws committee.

The purpose of this organization is to promote state conferences and legislation on physical education, to find out and classify the physical directors in this state and also to get statistics on schools having gymnasiums and the kind of work done in those gymnasiums.

"This organization is the outcome of the feeling at the present time in this country to influence national legislation for the purpose of requiring physical education in high schools," stated Mr. Schroeder.

TONIGHT'S TRACK MIXER

Every man in the University, interested in track activities, has been invited to attend a mixer to be held at the armory tonight. The athletic board is behind the affair and is putting it on in an effort to arouse interest in this branch of athletics.

Tonight's mixer will be the opening gun in the campaign to recruit candidates for a championship team next spring. It will be a get-to-gether meeting, where every candidate will become acquainted with others candidates. Candidates will meet the heads of the athletic board and will be told just what Iowa proposes to do this year in track.

There will be plenty of entertainment provided. Talks are on the program, but they will be short and will contain spice and information for prospective candidates for the track team. It will be a sociable mixer, an evening of worth while entertainment.

Tonight's mixer is being put on for the benefit of Iowa. Track men should attend if they are loyal to the University. Your attendance at the mixer may help win a conference championship for Old Gold. Plan to be present.

THE KAISER'S TRIAL

Does the nature of the case warrant the trial of the Kaiser? Some of the Allied powers, notably England, are expressing themselves in favor of placing the former Kaiser on the stand to account for the conduct of the war. Along with him they have selected a number of his followers.

This choice of miscreants is like picking out the goats from the sheep; who is there with that supreme power to draw the line of distribution? Doubtless penalties will fall on some of the guilty ones but those millions of people who backed the Kaiser in the war will suffer very little from such procedure, and the rest of the world will gain no benefit from it.

No war was ever fought without its accompanying malicious treatment of prisoners and outrages to non-combatants. This one was no exception and the multitude of crimes were probably not out of proportion to the enormity of the struggle.

The Kaiser's record is spotted but it is to be doubted if the remedy for his misdeeds can be found in a trial and conviction. Napoleon had to leave France but the moment he again set foot on French soil the country was aflame for him. He was the hero of the day and his martyrdom to Elba only placed his name in French history as the greatest of Frenchmen.

It may be the same with the Kaiser. Allow events to take their course; he cannot attain any position of trust. Punish him and what will be accomplished? It will never blot out the past or furnish a remedy for the future. Instead he will be a martyr to the cause and a hero in the eyes of many Germans.

He is no longer obstructing the progress of the world. Once the proud monarch of a mighty empire, he lives at Amerongen, a social outcast, alone with his thoughts, and they can afford him little pleasure.

Keeping sweet, with sugar at 20 cents a pound, will tax the most amiable disposition.

The Wilson-Bryan split is nothing new. There was a parting of the ways in the cabinet a few years ago.

That English woman who did not speak to her husband for three years, is surely un-American.

The Des Moines Register says, Cyclones put up better game against Missouri, but lose, 17 to 45," which is a diplomatic way of stating that Missouri trounced Ames.

Leap year advocates might find Friday February 13, an excellent day for popping the question.

It took an earthquake to turn seven cities into lakes in Mexico but it only takes Old Sol to make all of Iowa City's sidewalks, ponds.

Professor: "Well I'll give you credit for shaving."

We always knew we never would be clever. A professor conditioned us in his course for the past quarter simply because we cut a class or two in sneaking off to that Chicago game last November.

"There is no rupture in the democratic party," Mr. Bryan is quoted as saying. No rupture, just a couple of halves!

Once again a leading newspaper chronicles the fact that a man accused of murder "broke down and cried like a child." What sob artist will explain the difference in the manner in which an adult weeps and a child cries?

Now the prohibitions are going to detect the whisky traffic by smelling of the breaths of suspicious wets. It looks like a prosperous year for the mint manufacturers.

READERS' LETTERS

The Daily Iowan will gladly print any communication from its patrons providing the article is not over 200 or 300 words in length. The writer must sign the article to show his good faith in sending it, but no name will be printed if the sender so designates.

SHALL THE REDS CONTINUE

Editor Iowan:—In Tuesday morning's Iowan I read the article in the Reader's column which condemns the method the government is using in suppressing the Reds, and advocates a program of constructive reform to meet the situation.

The main argument the writer gives against the government's harsh measures in crushing the Reds is that such "persecution" is apt to arouse sympathy among others of radical tendencies and will give them grounds for saying, "There, I told you that this government does not stand for liberty or freedom of speech. Just as soon as we start bombing government officials' houses, stirring up strikes, shooting down returned soldiers as they march through our streets, or preaching the overthrow of the government, we are arrested and sent out of the country. The so-called democracy of this country is a sham. We have no rights at all."

Thus, for fear of getting such unfair criticism, the writer of the article thinks we had rather permit the Reds to go on committing their murderous deeds and preaching their hellish doctrines. For fear of stirring up the whole pack of wolves, we had rather let a few of them kill and destroy as they please.

I do not deny that a constructive program should be adopted providing for teaching the many foreigners who come to our shores, the true meaning of our democracy and explaining to them the principles upon which the government is founded. Such a program would go far toward making the foreigner see the right light so that he would not be susceptible to the preachings of the anarchist. But such a program would take time to get results. We are now in the midst of a crisis which must be met at once. Delay would be fatal. Twenty-five thousand out and out anarchists, assisted by many more radical followers, are doing every thing that the brain of man can conceive of to destroy this government.

Should we hesitate to deport these destructionists for fear of arousing the sympathy of their kind? I would be ashamed of my country if it hesitated for a single moment to accept the gauge of battle thrown down by these murderous curs. If they want to fight let the fight begin now.

REGISTRATION NOTICE

By Saturday evening, January 10, all students in the college of liberal arts whose last names begin with the letters A to O, inclusive, should have been registered. It is believed, however, that many of these students have not yet been registered. Since the registrar's office can accommodate each day from 30 per cent to 40 per cent more students than have been cared for daily since last Wednesday, it is suggested that many of the students who should have registered last week, according to the published alphabetical schedule, do so during the first three days of the week beginning with Monday, January 12. As far as possible, therefore, let all unregistered students from A to O, inclusive, come during the next three days, using whole vacant periods in the morning, especially, since it is in the morning that registration has been lagging somewhat.

We wish to complete the job by next Saturday evening.

Respectfully, H. C. Dorcas.
