GENERAL SALE OF ALL PROM TICKETS BEGINS FEBRUARY 2

160 To Be Admitted to Annual Junior Formal Set For Friday, March 5

PRICE IS NOT CERTAIN

University Men Will Make up Ten Pieces Orchestra—Three Feature Dances and Novel Decorations Kept Secret—Proceeds May Go to Memorial Union.

Three feature dances, surprise decorations, general sale of tickets, and a University orchestra will be the big events of the Junior Prom, the annual formal dance of the junior class. The Prom will be given Friday evening, March 5, from 8:45 o'clock until 1 o'clock. The party will be held in the women's gymnasium, according to Clyde Charlton, chairman.

All of the 160 tickets will be put on general sale at Whetstone's Drug store Monday morning, February 2, at 10 o'clock and will be sold there for three days, February 2, 3, and 4, according to the plan of Mr. Charlton's committee. "If they are not all sold by Wednesday evening, Feb. 4, they will be put in the hands of the committee," said the chairman yesterday. "The exact price of the tickets is not certain as yet, but the price will probably be $4.50 including war tax. We are talking of giving all proceeds to the Memorial Union and if we do that the price of the tickets will no doubt drop to $4. for there would be no war tax."

To Give Favors

"Those three features dances are all surprises," said Mr. Charlton, "and each fellow on the committee is pledged to absolute secrecy." "And here's a tip for the men," said

ORGANIZER, COMMERCE ORGAN, OUT MONDAY

New Magazine, Edited by Paul K. Lovegren, to Contain Many Articles of Business

The Organizer, a new monthly magazine, edited by members of the commerce club, will make its appearance on the campus tomorrow.

Among the contributions are "The commerce school and business," by Prof. Norris A. Brisco, director of the school of commerce; "Scanning the business horizon," by Associate Prof. Nathaniel R. Whitney, a forecast of business for 1920 and "A new phase of banking," by Clarence E. Fackler, president of the Commerce club.

"Interest manifested among students warrants a large circulation, and the business men in Iowa City have shown particular interest in the material and some have asked that several copies be reserved for them," said C. W. Griebing, circulation manager.

"If present indications have any bearing we will have to increase the number of pages of our future issues because of the interest shown by business men wishing advertising space has been so great," said Paul K. Lovegren, editor in chief of the Organizer.

The book will consist of thirty-two pages and sell for ten cents.

KATHERINE ROBERTS ON WAY HOME FROM BELGIUM

Katherine E. Roberts '17, of Fort Madison, a former student of the University, is now on her way home from Belgium where she has been as correspondent for the Western Newspaper Union since September, 1919. Miss Roberts is a member of the Delta Gamma sorority and Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic fraternity. She is expected to visit with friends in Iowa City soon after her arrival in this country.

HAWKEYES PREPARE FOR CHICAGO GAME

Pat Page to Bring His Quintet Here For Return Contest On Tuesday Night

With the Ames game chalked up in the victory column, the Hawkeye basketball squad has jumped at once into preparation for the Chicago team which comes here for a conference battle on the armory floor Tuesday night.

Iowa performed true to form in the game with the Aggies. While the offense was a little slow in getting started, the Old Gold defense had the Cyclones sewed up most of the time. Finlayson proved himself an able running mate of Shimek and in many respects played the best game of his career. His work on the floor was polished and clever, and he had a deadly eye for the hoop in the second period. Captain Nicolaus at guard, also got into the offense in splendid style besides watching his man closely on defense.

May Defeat Maroons

If the Old Gold men can show the same form against the Maroons, there is a chance to send Pat Page's hoop artists back home with the unfortunate end of the score. Chicago defeated Iowa 37 to 18 in an early season game, the night after the latter had a terrific scrap with Minnesota. The Hawkeyes more than held their own with the Midway team until weariness forced them to slow up. Since that time, Coach Ashmore has developed a five with fifty per cent more power and Chicago must have improved accordingly to again triumph over the Old Gold on the armory floor.

Worth, having satisfactorily made up his scholastic deficiency, will jump at center against Chicago. Consequently Iowa fans are assured of having their strongest lineup against the visitors. It is not likely that any scrimmaging will be indulged in by the squad before Tuesday. Coach Ashmore will devote the time in polishing up little weaknesses and in preparing an offense and defense for the Maroons.

At the present time, Iowa stands fifth in the Big Ten basketball title race and a win over Chicago would mean a fifty-fifty percentage. Athletic coaches and directors from colleges all over the state, who will be in the city Tuesday to attend a spring schedule-making bee, will be in attendance at the game as guests of the board in control of athletics of the University.

CRAWFORD DIES AT CHICAGO

R. L. Crawford, star negro outfielder on the Hawkeye baseball team last year, recently died at Evanston, Ill., according to word received by his fraternity here. The former Hawkeye athlete was one of the best all-around baseball players that ever wore the Old Gold.

KERBY, SPEAKER AT VESPER TODAY, IS NATIVE OF IOWA

To Deliver Sermon This Afternoon at 4 O'clock on "The Value of Education"

AT MASS THIS MORNING

Will Address Students in Natural Science Auditorium—Will Attend St. Patrick's Church at 9 A. M.—Gave Religious Lecture Here Last Year.

The Rev. William J. Kerby will give a vesper sermon upon "The Value of Education" this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the natural science auditorium. He will address University students at 9 o'clock Mass at St. Patrick's church this morning.

D. D. Murphy of Elkader, president of the state board of education and an intimate friend of Father Kerby's, is expected in Iowa City today.

Was Here Last June

At the religious conference held last June, as part of the summer session, Father Kerby gave the opening address and a series of lectures. Those who heard him at that time speak very highly of him as a lecturer. "He is a very scholarly man," said Prof. A. O. Thomas, member of the vesper committee. Professor Thomas likens Father Kerby's manner of lecturing to that of Judge Martin J. Wade.

The Reverend Kerby was born in

VARIETY FEATURES SCENIC PAINTINGS

Redfield Display, Characterized By Wide Range of Subjects, At Commerical Club

Variety, both in subject and treatment, characterizes the twenty scenic paintings by Edward W. Redfield which were placed on a ten days exhibition at the Commerical club rooms last evening.

Mr. Redfield's subjects range from a view of Pittsburg to a brook in sunlight and he has treated each subject in an individual manner.

Prices of the paintings vary from $800 to $3000, two large pieces, "The Panther Hollow" and "The Island Farm," being placed at the latter figure. A majority of the canvasses in this group are priced at $1200.

Pittsburg is the setting for four of the paintings, and most of the remainder appear to have been done from a Pennsylvania landscape. The Pittsburg scenes have a dominance of atmospheric effect which is not so noticeable in Mr. Redfield's representations of conventional landscape subjects.

Purple is the out-standing tone in the exhibition as a whole, but some of his smaller canvasses, as "Brook in Sunlight" and "Sunlight and Shadow" are treated with more brilliant colors.

Prof. Henning Larsen, of the English department, and Miss Edna Patzig, instructor in the department of graphic and plastic arts, superintended the hanging of the paintings yesterday afternoon. Professor Larsen is secretary of the Iowa City Fine Arts association which is exhibiting this collection.

APPOINT 1916 GRADUATE TO THE DENTAL FACULTY

Dr. Kingley Orr has recently been added to the instructional staff of the college of dentistry, and as such occupies the position of demonstrator in operative technique. The appointment of Dr. Orr was necessitated by the unusually large classes in freshman and sophomore classes.

Dr. Orr was graduated from the college of dentistry of this University in 1916, and has since been practicing in Decorah. During the war he was in active service in France with the United States dental corps.

FRESHMAN STUDENT DIES AT HOSPITAL

Donald Robinson, of Burlington, Is Pneumonia Victim After Illness of Few Days

Donald Robinson, twenty years old, freshman in the college of liberal arts of the University, died Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Isolation Hospital in this city—the first victim of the prevailing disease which is sweeping the country. He had been sick but a few days, first being ill with a bad cold which later developed into bronchial pneumonia. Contributing factors in his death were bronchitis and asthma, from which diseases he has suffered since childhood. His home is in Burlington. A brother, Kenneth, is also enrolled as a freshman in the University. Both men resided at the Quadrangle.

Donald Robinson was born in Burlington September 2, 1899, and was a son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Robinson. Mr. Robinson is a druggist at that city. Robinson was graduated from the Burlington high school with the class of 1919. He was a member of the Presbyterian church. He and his brother entered the University last fall.

Funeral arrangements have not been made, but the body was taken to Burlington last night.

LIVE WIRE SOLICITOR MAY GET A FIELD JOB

Opportunity to do field work in the Iowa Memorial Union campaign will probably be given to the most promising student solicitors taking part in the present drive.

The executive committee of the board of trustees of the Memorial Union in a meeting yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock authorized Ruth Rogers, field secretary to begin actual work as soon as the present student campaign is completed, and it was suggested at the meeting that the most successful of student solicitors take part in the county field campaign.

NAME MURRAY SMITH FRESHMAN SECRETARY

Murray D. Smith '23, has been appointed as secretary and treasurer of the freshman class to fill the vacancy left by Grace Haring '23, Alpha Delta Pi pledge, who was called to her home in Clinton last quarter.

WEST POINT COACH HERE

WHITE AND SWEENEY WIN PLACES ON MAT TEAM AFTER TUSSLES

Will Be Two of the University Men to Meet Indiana Grapplers Saturday

CLASS FINALS ON MONDAY

Vana to Meet Prince for Honors in 125-pound Class on Monday—Glenn Devine, Football Star, is Expected to Make It Hot For 158-pound Candidates

In the tryouts held yesterday and Friday afternoon in the wrestling room of the Men's gymnasium White and Sweeney won places on the varsity wrestling team which will meet Indiana here January 31. White won from Tuttle in straight falls in the 175-pound class and Sweeney won from Twedt in the 135-pound class in the same manner. These were the only men entered in their weights and their matches were final.

Vana won a decision from Hayes after a spirited bout and will meet Prince in the finals tomorrow. These men wrestle at 125 pounds. As a 145 pounder Mendenhall looked good against Madsen and won by a fall and a decision, and in the finals tomorrow is expected to throw Nefsted, dopsters predict.

Mix To Be Exciting

The mix in the 158 pound class promises to be exciting. Vedova and Tainter are both good men and the winner will have a tough proposition in Glenn Devine. The heavyweights have not yet wrestled. Heldt is matched against Thompson and there has been little opportunity to get a line on these men. Heldt weighted in at 192 during the football season.

The team will meet the Iowa City athletic association mat artists in a practice affair Monday night.

ENGLISH FRIENDSHIP

That thinking men, men prominent in institutions of higher education both in United States and England, are endeavoring to arrange and promote mutual understanding and friendship between the United States and Great Britain, through the great Universities of each nation, is a unique factor which has grown out of the war. Leading educators have come to realize that the two great English speaking peoples are dependent one upon the other and that their friendship should be inseparable.

International relations have come to the fore in the past five years and the only sure basis of maintaining good friendship in these relations is understanding. As a means to the end a club known as the Oxford University British-American club came into existence last summer at Oxford university, England, sponsored both by Americans and Englishmen.

The mingling of a number of American Expeditionary Forces with the English students last summer brought to a head the sense of importance of American-British friendship. It became apparent that the method should be evolved to keep alive and generate friendship between American and English Universities. With the object of bringing together undergraduates from Great Britain, the Dominions and America, for the serious discussion of problems affecting the two peoples, the British-American club was formed.

In the past little has been done to establish relations between British and American Universities. The Rhodes Scholarship is looked upon as a link between America and England more than a link between the American universities and Oxford university. What the Scholarships accomplish must not be minimized but its idea should be assisted and developed. One means of doing this is the Oxford club which will study American-British relations and open them to round table discussions to the undergraduate body and other Americans and Englishmen, members of the club.

It is commonly known that the American doughboy and the English Tommy held many differences of opinion concerning each other during the war but in the minds of two thousand American soldiers who attended Oxford during the spring term of 1919, many of the old prejudices were dismissed and many friendships restored. As a result warm friends were made for England and lasting friendships for America. It is good. The United States needs the friendship of England and England needs the good will of the United States. Their friendship should be inseparable.

Social organization of the world is vitally dependent upon the influence and co-operation of America and Great Britain. To accomplish this task and to accept the challenges of unrest prevalent in the world, the United States and Great Britain must be good friends and each must understand the others customs and people. It is the privilege of the American and English Universities to foster this spirit. As Universities have a distinct influence in our national life, so they should have influence in American-British friendship. Oxford has led the way; what will American colleges and universities do?

An enthusiastic freshman girl wants to know what is under these derbies the college boys are wearing.

THE LISTENING POST

"Shortly after the saloonkeeper had told his story, Stwierkinia leaped into the station," reports a Chicago newspaper. With a hop, a skip and a jump, no doubt.

Our acquaintanceship include two peculiar birds. One orders head lettuce only at a lunch counter because there he can cut it with his knife. The other is spending the winter in a summer resort.

"I would not vote for any Englishman," Senator Kirby, democrat, of Arkansas, is quoted as saying in regard to Herbert Hoover for President. Doesn't Senator Kirby know that 'Erbert 'Oover was raised on corn beef and cabbage on a farm in Iowa?

The announcement that Holland has flatly refused to give up the Kaiser should not cause a ripple of excitement. Just now the weary world has its hands full attempting to tame the bolshevists. To add a snake to that collection would quite overcome the leading animal tamers of the universe.

It was not a democratic party, according to the women of Currier hall. Out of their number of 170, only one attended, they admit.

But one can't always vouch for the veracity of statements by residents of that dormitory. For instance, the other day one of them told us that everybody there registered a protest whenever the Listening Post failed to appear.

Let's put some blue into the Maroons.

REPORT NEW CASES OF "LIGHT FLU"

Several Are Serious—Students Not Especially Hard Hit By Disease

Ten new cases of the "flu" were reported yesterday morning, according to George J. Dohrer, city clerk. A temporary isolation hospital has been established at 26 E. Jefferson street, where patients not living in the city are taken to recover. This hospital already contains about thirteen cases, several of which are serious, according to information secured at the office of William J. McDonald, student director of health.

A number of these persons on the sick list are University students but the number at present is not large. Last night a report from Currier hall contained eleven names, Ruth Follwell '23 of Davenport, Ruth McCord '23 of Des Moines, Evangeline Holmgren '22 of Ruthven, Ruth Nelson '22 of Odebolt, Gazelle La Bounty '22, Charles City, Lola Heinselman '20, Mason City, Anna Samuelson '22 Odebolt are quarantined at Currier Hall.

In regard to the seriousness of the epidemic, however, Dr. John Mullin, city health officer, says, "The cases which we have on hand now are not the genuine Spanish influenza, but are more like the old-fashioned La Grippe, which we experienced years ago."
