FILIPINOS UNITED ON QUESTION OF OWN INDEPENDENCE

Kalaw, Member of Philippine Commission, Says Can Govern Self

SPOKE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Says Congressman H. M. Towner of Eighth Iowa District, Chairman Committee on Insular Affairs may Play Great Part in Philippine Development

The Philippines are able to govern themselves, and are united on the question of independence, according to Maximo M. Kalaw, member of the Philippine commission, who lectured on the political situation in his country at the liberal arts auditorium Wednesday evening.

An Iowa man, Congressman Horace M. Towner of the eighth Iowa district, chairman of the House committee on insular affairs, may play a great part in the development of the islands because of his position among the representatives. "We of the Philippines consider this state an important and indispensable factor in the final solution of the Philippine problem."

Pleads for Freedom

Speaking for his island country in the Pacific ocean, the Filipino commissioner said independence under a league of nations, guaranteeing territorial integrity; protectorateship of the United States for the first few years; or national independence un-

VALENTINE FRIVOL ON CAMPUS TODAY

Van Meter Wins $5.00 Prize For Most Humorous Contribution "Vangie's Stag Book"

"Frivol" will be as welcome on the campus this morning as a certified check from home, if the number of tickets sold is any indication.

Maurice Van Metre, the conductor of the well-known Listening Post, was awarded the $5.00 prize for his contribution in the style of a George Ade fable, "Vangie's Stag Book," in which he proves that Cupid is a clever youngster with a fondness for O. Henry plots.

Frivol opens with a ballade entitled, "Love Finds His Way To Every Heart" which will be manna to the young men who are for the moment out of luck, and soothing syrup for the unlucky girl who is fearful that she may have to enter the business world. Cartoons, jokes, and the jocund lyric fill the pages with a profusion of mirth-provoking material which prove everything from the origin of the milky way to devils devices employed by the unfair sex to get a date for the Prom.

Slightly over two-thirds of the 2000 tickets placed on sale have been sold, according to Dorothy Lingham, business manager. Frivol will be placed on sale as long as the 500 copies hold out. The magazine may be secured by ticket or purchase at all the bookstores, Kirk's and Racines No. 2 Cigar stores, and at tables in the liberal arts and natural science buildings. The sale will begin at 9 o'clock according to the business manager.

SETTLING THE ISSUE

STUNTZ IS NEXT VESPERS SPEAKER

Studies Ministry at Northwestern University—Received Degree of D. D.

Bishop Homer C. Stuntz, bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church of the Omaha district, which includes Iowa and Nebraska, will speak at the vesper services to be held Sunday afternoon February 15, at 4 o'clock.

Bishop Stuntz, after completing a course in law, decided to enter the and studied for this at the Garrett Biblical institute at Northwestern university. He received his degree of doctor of divinity from Upper Iowa University in 1896.

After completing his course of study he entered the foreign mission field and was administrator of the work of his church in India. He also had charge of the Methodist work in the Philippines during ex-president Taft's administration as governor of these islands. When elevated to the rank of bishop he was given charge of the South American field. While working here he collected the material for his book "Our South American Neighbors." He also wrote "The Philippines and the Far East." During the war Bishop Stuntz was considered an authority on matters pertaining to the far east.

Prof. A. O. Thomas, chairman of the vespers committee, said, "As a speaker, Bishop Stuntz is considered without a peer in his church and his talk should be of special interest to the student body." Bishop Stuntz was pastor of a college church at Mount Vernon for a number of years.

SEVEN MEN ELECTED TO ORDER OF ARTUS

Honorary Economics Fraternity Is A National Organization With Ten Chapters

Seven men have been elected to the Order of Artus, honorary economics fraternity. They are Floyd Walsh and Earl Fullbrook of the graduate college, Edward H. Chamberlin '20, business manager of the Daily Iowan, Robert T. Paramore, '21, R. W. Nelson '20, Dale A. Kilpatrick '20 and Clarence W. Fackler '20.

The Order of Artus is a national organization composed of ten chapters in American universities and colleges. It was founded in 1913. The national chapter of Chicago elects members from lists submitted by the department of economics, sociology and commerce. Membership in the fraternity is limited to men who are specializing in the subject of economics and who have twenty-four hours work in the course with a grade above B.

Professor Norris A. Brisco, director of the department of commerce, and Robert Warfield of the University of Denver have been nominated for the positions of grand counselors in the fraternity.

DISCONTINUE SATURDAY DANCES AT GYMNASIUM

Saturday dances at the women's gymnasium are a thing of the past. The immediate reason for stopping these dances is the fact that the corn meal used on the floor did not work as satisfactorily as the authorities desire.

"There will be no University dance Saturday night," said Arthur F. Rosenbaugh, chairman of the Student Council dance committee yesterday, "and in all probability no more will be given."

WICKHAM ADDRESSES BACONIAN CLUB

Henry F. Wickham, professor of entomology, will speak on his work with injurious insects on the United States biological survey at the meeting of the Baconian club tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the physics assembly room.

IOWA FIVE DEPARTS FOR BLOOMINGTON

Will Meet Hoosier Squad in Return Game Tonight—Purdue an Unknown Quality.

Coach James Ashmore and eight Iowa basketball players left yesterday morning for Bloomington where they will meet the Hoosier five in a return game tonight. The following players made the journey: Captain Nicolaus, Finlayson, Kaufman, Aubrey Devine, Worth, Shimek, Frohwein, and Lohman. All of the men were in first class condition and ready for the battle of their lives.

Wednesday night saw the completion of the hard work preparatory to the games Friday and Saturday. Coach Ashmore started Finlayson and Devine at forwards, Worth at center, and Kaufmann and Nicolaus at guards against the second team while Shimek remained on the sidelines for the second evening in succession. The varsity was not up to its usual form and the second team scored as frequently as the regulars. Lohman at Forward for the latter crew showed up to advantage. His floor work was little short of brilliant and he lost no opportunity to hit the iron hoop for ringers. Undoubtedly his playing last night decided the coach to take him on the invasion of Indiana and there is a strong likelihood that he will get into one or both of the games this weekend.

Coach Ashmore had little to say regarding the coming games. He is confident of trouncing Indiana again after a hard battle but Purdue is an unknown quantity, a team of surprising strength and weaknesses. It is a safe bet that the men who started in scrimmage last night will line up against the Hoosiers Friday.

1700 HAWKEYES ORDERED

Campaign For Sales of 1921 Year Book Comes to Close

The subscription campaign for the 1921 Hawkeye came to a successful close last night with a total of 1700 sales actually reported to the Hawkeye office. Two thousand subscriptions are expected when final returns are made.

Those who have not had the opportunity of ordering an annual may do so at the Hawkeye office in the physics building before Saturday February 28, according to Arthur G. Kruse, associate editor in charge of the sales campaign.

The number of copies that are in at that time will be the number ordered from the printer. There will be no extra copies ordered unless actually subscribed for.

HOOVER BACKERS NOT TO BE OUTDONE ARE ORGANIZING FORCES

Palmer's Friends Believe He Has Chance in Division of Republican and Independent Votes

MAY VOTE IN HALLS TODAY

All Ballots must be signed to Prevent Stuffing Ballot Box—Results of Straw Vote Will be Sent Over United States as University's Preference for President.

Rumors that the "Lowden for President" club is going to descend upon voting places today in full force, and carry the Iowan's straw vote on presidential candidates with an overwhelming majority for Lowden, have added interest to the election today.

However, Hoover adherents are said to have been out canvassing the campus for votes for their candidate, and the results of their efforts are expected to be shown by a big increase in the Hoover votes today, at the various election tables.

Palmer In Running

Palmer, too, is still decidedly in the running. His friends have been heard to say that the fact that both Hoover and Lowden are running so strong, will be an advantage to Palmer, since the Republican and Independent vote will be split between the first two, leaving the Democratic vote practically solid for Palmer.

Results of college ballots on presidential candidates are being read with interest in all parts of the country, and it is hoped that the Iowan poll will actually represent student sentiment at the state University of Iowa.

Women Favor Hoover

"It will be a substantial boost for the candidate who is elected, to be chosen in such a poll of student sentiment," declares Dr. Cyril Upham, of the political science department.

"The results will probably be published all over the country, and will have influence especially in all parts of Iowa. Therefore, students who are really interested in some candidate should do their best to support him."

The leaning of the women voters today will be watched with particular interest. It has been said that Herbert Hoover will be the women's candidate for president.

At present, although no official count has been taken, Lowden is far in the lead, with Hoover still holding second place and A. Mitchell Palmer pushing him close in third. For second honors, Wood and Hoover are running neck and neck.

Voting tables, at which the Iowan's straw ballots may be secured, will be placed in the central halls of the various colleges of the University today.

It is requested that all ballots be signed to prevent stuffing the ballot boxes. Unsigned ballots will not be counted.

The polls will close at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

"I believe we have room for but one soul loyalty, and that is loyalty to the American people."—Theodore Roosevelt

PHILIPPINE INDEPENDENCE

Will the United States vindicate the ideals it has published to the world and will repudiate its promise of freedom to the Philippines, is the question asked by Prof. M. M. Kalaw, professor of the University of the Philippines, and secretary of the Philippine mission to the United States in behalf of insular independence, who spoke at the University Wednesday evening.

Mr. Kalaw's question is a fair one to all Americans. What is United States going to do with the insular possessions? America's leadership in the islands came by a mere chance and not as a direct result of the war to liberate Cuba from Spain. A wave of surprise swept the entire nation when word was received that Admiral Dewey had hoisted the Stars and Stripes above the Philippines. It was a new step in the policy of colonization for the United States. It was a surprise to the world.

Freedom is an inborn characteristic of the Filipinos. Contrary to the once common belief that the Filipinos are but shortly removed from a life of savages, the history of their islands will show that they possessed culture long before the Spanish conquest and that under the strict and stern rule of Spanish dominations for three centuries this culture expanded considerably. Even before America came, their love for freedom was dominant. A republic had been set up even before the Stars and Stripes waved over their soil. They resisted the entry of the United States until its policy was explained and declared to be not one of colonization and exploitation but one of help and advice for a backward people. The Filipinos yielded but their spirit of nationalism smoldered until 1916 when it broke into flame again and was the direct cause of the passing of Jones bill which promised the islands' independence as soon as a stable government is established by the Filipinos. There can be no denying that the islands want their freedom and that they have been patient with the United States.

The granting of independence has been held up by two main questions. The first one concerns the fitness of the Filipino to govern his own state. To this Governor General Harrison recently appeared before congress and declared the Filipinos ready to become an independent nation. The second question concerns the Japan bugaboo. To this Premier Hara of Japan has said, "Once the United States decided to give the Philippines their freedom, the Japanese government will be the first to sign an agreement for their neutralization." There are but 10,000 Japanese in the islands today as against 10,500,000 Filipinos. It is presuming a great deal to fear aggression from Japan for it would be financially and physically impossible for that nation to protect and fortify the 3000 islands of the Archipelago. The Filipinos do not fear Japan and in the matters of government they are practically in control today.

The Filipinos will accept most any agreement to gain their independence. They have promised America coaling stations, Manila as a threshold to trade, military and naval bases, anything that the United States may desire in exchange for their freedom.

The Philippine mission has been in the United States presenting its cause for some time. It is now returning home, its proposition tabled, perhaps for an indefinite period, perhaps for a short time. The United States has been one of the leading advocates of the self determination of peoples. What will its answer be to Mr. Kalaw's question?

DON'T FORGET TO VOTE

Today is the last opportunity for the man and woman of the university to cast their ballots for a presidential choice in the Daily Iowan's straw vote. The campaign has been carried on for a week during which time considerable interest has been shown by the students.

The Iowan believes that every student should vote, not merely to make the campaign a success from its own point of view but for the benefit of the students themselves. They will be the ones who lose if they fail to register their expression today.

Ballot boxes will be maintained in all of the University buildings. No student can give as an excuse for non-voting that he does not have time to do so. It will take only a moment to fill out the ballot. You should not fail to use your prerogative today.

Is it heroism or egotism that prompts the crown prince to offer himself in place of the 900 compatriots wanted for alleged war crimes?

Any man who survives Friday the Thirteenth and Saturday, Valentine's day, should cease to be superstitious.

Signs of an early spring, "knuckles down," "no dubs."

Straw ballots will separate a bit of the chaff anyway.

Select your candidate today and vote straight.

The perpetual circle theory has been exploded.

Corneal covers a multitude of difficulties.

THE LISTENING POST

The stuff that most people laugh at does not amuse us very much. When we catch ourselves grinning at anything we have written for this column we throw it out.

One day last week when we were a little under the weather and lay in bed rather late, our landlady, thinking we had the "flu" brought us a hot lemonade and a little of that stuff which is now but a memory of better days. It was so good that we told all our enemies. When our clever roommate heard of the fact he lay in bed all the next morning and coughed like a consumptive.

Frivol comes out today. It is reported that its editors are leaving for parts unknown.

At the Iowa-Minnesota basketball game the band played, shortly after which time the astonished bleachers collapsed.

Once the editor of this column threatened to appear some time without saying a word about himself. But not this time. Before we started writing this he gave us strict injunctions . . . etc.

How many men from West Branch have been suggested for the presidency . . . Or is Hoover the first?

The editor of the Listening Post has not been seen since he won Frivol's five-dollar prize. This shows what money will do to the best of men.

Was it the man with the hoe who said: "Money is the root of all evil?" X. X. X.

R. O. T. C. CAMPS START JUNE 17--WAR ORDER

Infantry Officers Will Be Sent to Camp Custer—Engineers and Motor Transport in East

The summer R. O. T. C. camps will start June 17 according to an announcement made by the war department. The infantry camp in the district in which is located will be held at Camp Custer, Michigan near Detroit.

The motor transport camp will be cated in Baltimore where the largest repair and assembly shops in the world are located. The engineer camp is at Camp Humphreys Va.

"The camps in which university students will be interested are most admirably located," says Major Morton C. Mumma, commandant, "and will, with their splendid equipment, offer the best instruction possible, while their location affords ample opportunity to visit points of great interest." Each camp will continue for six weeks.

Any student who has completed one year of R. O. T. C. may be granted authority to attend and will be furnished transportation to and from the camp. Uniforms and subsistence while in attendance will be furnished by the government.

Those desiring to attend any of these camps should register their desires at the commandant's office at the earliest date as the attendance will be limited. The number allotted to the University of Iowa is not yet known.

IOWA SWIMMERS MEET MAROONS TONIGHT

Northwestern Scheduled For Saturday—Armbruster Is Confident of Winning

Iowa's swimming team, headed by Captain Ivan F. Weidlein, is ready for the first conference dual meet tonight at Chicago gymnasium. Iowa will go to Evanston the following evening for a dual meet with Northwestern in Patten's gymnasium. "Prospects for winning both dual meets are bright," said Coach David Armbruster, "although Iowa will go through a stiff grind the night before at Chicago."

Chicago and Northwestern have each had a dual meet with Milwaukee Athletic club and the latter was victorious in both meets. Chicago was decisively defeated by a thirty point margin while Northwestern was nosed out by a few points. der a treaty of neutrality between the United States, England, Japan, France, and other powers, or unconditional independence would be gladly accepted. The nearness of Japan is no objection, he thinks, for there are six times as many Japanese in California as there are in the entire Philippine archipelago.

For League of Lodge

Mr. Kalaw, in an informal conversation Wednesday afternoon, after discussing the parties in his own country, the Nationalists, who believe their national independence is a purely American question; and the Democrats, radicals, who think the question should be taken directly before the representatives of the nations at Paris, spoke of the League of Nations. "Of course it is not for an outsider to say what is best, but I am for the League with the Lodge reservations."

This is about the sixth year that Mr. Kalaw has been directly connected with this work, for he was secretary to the Philippine commissioner in Washington for five years, before becoming member of the Philippine commission. He was formerly professor of political science at the University of the Philippines at Manila. George Washington university at Washington, D. C. granted him his B. A. Degree, Georgetown, university the degree of bachelor of laws, and he has done work in political science at the University of Wisconsin.

INCIDENTS IN LIVES OF PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES

From Day to Day The IOWAN Will Run Short Biographies of The Men Who Have Been Suggested As Candidates For President.

A. MITCHELL PALMER

Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer has been called the "cabinet favorite" among suggested democratic candidates. His handling of the coal strike, at which time he insisted upon injunctions against the leaders of the United Mine Workers, has brought him before the public eye recently.

Palmer is known as the "Fighting Quaker." During peace he refused to accept the position as secretary of war, but when war was declared, he got busy. As head of the department of justice he enforced laws against alien agitators, enforced wartime prohibition and war legislation against profiteering. Earlier he was a valuable member of congress, and custodian of alien property.

Palmer was born at Moosehead, Pa. May 4, 1872. He received his B. A. from Swarthmore in 1891, and was admitted to the bar in 1893. In 1898 he was married to Roberta Dixon. His home is in Stroudsburg, Pa.

JAMES W. GERARD

James W. Gerard was for four years American ambassador to Germany. He was appointed in 1913 and served until diplomatic relations were severed in February, 1917.

He is the author of two books, "My Four Years in Germany," and "Face to Face with Kaiserism."

Gerard was born in Geneseo, N. Y., in 1867. He received his A. B., from Columbia in 1890 and his A. M. in 1891. In 1892 he was graduated from the New York law school and was admitted to the bar. He married Mary Daly, and began to practise law in New York.

JAMES M. COX

Another state governor in the race for nomination for the presidency on the democratic ticket is James M. Cox of Ohio. Born March 31, 1870 at Jacksonburg, Ohio, he attended the rural school near Jacksonburg, and later received a high school education.

His early work was in a printer's office. He taught country school, and finally became a member of the editorial staff of the Cincinnati Enquirer. In 1898, he bought out the Dayton, Ohio Daily News, and in 1903 purchased the Springfield Press Republic. The same year he formed the News League of Ohio. He represented the third Ohio district in the sixty first and sixty second congresses. He served two terms as governor of Ohio, 1913 to 1915, and 1917 to 1919.

Cox is termed one of the democratic favorites by some editorial writers but Senator Pomerene of Ohio is also a candidate and embarrassment may result since the men are political friends.

EDWARD I. EDWARDS

Edward I. Edwards, governor of New Jersey, is one of the dark horses for nomination on the democratic ticket for president. His name is not even in the last edition of "Who's Who in America" and press comments on him are very scarce.

The Review of Reviews charges Edwards with election on a "wet ticket" two years ago. At any rate, he expressed himself as determined, "to preserve the personal rights of the people of the State," and to favor the measure, "for the purpose of exercising the concurrent power reserved to the state of New Jersey," in relation to the prohibition amendment.

HIRAM W. JOHNSON

Hiram Warren Johnson of San Francisco, now senator of California, was born at Sacramento, California, in 1866. He was elected governor of that state for the terms 1911-15 and reelected for the terms 1915-19 by a majority of 15,000 votes, but he resigned from this office in March, 1917. He ran for vice-president with Roosevelt on the progressive ticket in 1912, and his present appeal will be made to the Roosevelt following. He was a vigorous supporter of Hughes.

In announcing his candidacy for the Republican nomination he said that he intended to make a personal campaign in every primary and convention state. He has been an advocate of the government ownership of railroads and is waging an uncompromising fight against the league of nations. He demanded the withdrawal of our troops from Russia.

It was said of Mr. Johnson during his senatorial campaign—"He is the greatest campaigner in the country not excepting Byron. The secret of his popularity lies in his courage, for he is bold in declaring his policies. He looks the public fairly in the face and speaks his purpose without fear."

ARTHUR CAPPER

Senator Arthur Capper was born in Garnett, Kan., in 1865. He was a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor in 1911 and was elected for the terms 1915-1919. Senator Capper is a bank director in Topeka Kansas and publishes the Topeka Daily Capital and several other papers. He endorses Senator Allen's (of Kansas) anti-strike law.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN

William J. Bryan is a people's champion. He is against private monopoly and profiteers, and favors the nationalization of railroads and wire services.

In regard to the league of nations, he now favors the acceptance of the republican reservations. He would either compromise or allow the issue to go to the people.

"Women saved our party for defeat in the last campaign," Bryan stated in a recent speech. Initiative and referendum are also a part of his platform.

William Jennings Bryan was born at Salem, Ill., March 19, 1860. B. A., Illinois college, (valedictorian), 1881; A. M., 1884; LL. B., Union College of Law, (now Northwestern) 1883; LL. D. University of Nebraska and Union of Arizona. He married Mary Elizabeth Board of Peoria, Ill. In 1883 he was admitted to the bar. At the beginning of the Spanish American War he organized and was colonel of the 3rd Regiment of the Nebraska Volunteer Infantry.

NEWTON D. BAKER

Newton Diehl Baker, Secretary of War, was born at Martinsburg, W. Va., December 3, 1871. His B. A. was obtained at Johns Hopkins, 1892, and his LL. B., at Washington and Lee University, 1894. He married Elizabeth Leopold of Pottstown, Pa.

From 1896 to 1897 he was private secretary to Postmaster General Wilson and then practised law at Martinsburg. For two terms, 1912 to 1916, he was Mayor of Cleveland.

LEONARD WOOD

Major General Leonard Wood is the man whom many Americans acclaim to carry the ideas and work of Roosevelt.

Major-General Wood was born at Winchester, N. H., Oct. 9, 1860. He attended Pierce Academy at Middleboro, Mass., and received his M. D. at Harvard University Medical college in 1884. LL. D. Harvard 1899; Williams, 1902; U. of Penn., 1903. He married Louisa A. Condit Smith of Washington. There are three children.

The Congressional Medal of Honor was awarded him soon after his graduation at Harvard for his work in the campaign in Arizona against the Apaches. In 1895 he was ordered to Washington and became assistant attending surgeon (physician to Secretary of War and medical attendant to the President). He was a Colonel with the Rough Riders and with Roosevelt organized the corps. After the Spanish-American war he was made Governor-General of Cuba. President Roosevelt sent him to the Philippines later to quell the Moro rebellion. For several months he acted as special ambassador to Argentine Republic. In 1910 he was elected chief of staff, and since 1914 has been commanding several different departments. The idea of the Plattsburg training camp and other preparatory measures are accredited to him.

PLUM MADE CHAIRMAN

Prof. H. G. Plum of the department of history has been appointed chairman of the committee of Americanization by P. E. McClenahan, state superintendent of public instruction. The purpose of the committee is to revise courses of social sciences in the secondary schools of the state.

A Good Thing to Keep in Mind

While you are storing up knowledge to be used in after college days, it is a good thing to store up what money you can as you go along.

This bank will help you to increase your savings by paying 4 per cent interest on them, compounded semi-annually.

A savings account may be the means of enabling you to take advantage of a business opportunity which demands more than a knowledge.
