JUNIOR WOMEN CHOOSE TWENTY CANDIDATES TO STAFF AND CIRCLE

Preliminary Election is Held in Liberal Arts Drawing Room at Junior Breakfast

LOW GRADES CUT THE LIST

Uncertainty of Returning to the University Next Year Removes Many From Eligibility—Twelve Successful Candidates Will be Announced Thursday

Twenty women from the junior class were elected in the preliminary Staff and Circle election at the junior breakfast given by Dean Nellie S. Aurner and Staff and Circle yesterday morning in the liberal arts drawing room.

The junior women who were elected are: Dorothy Banks, Leone Bargrover, Beatrice Blackmar, Marion Briery, Alice Calvin, Genevieve Cleary, Margaret Dolliver, Marion Dyer, Grace Emory, Eda Kelley, Esther Mackintosh, Mary Moss, Margaret Mulroney, Helen Peterson Helen Rolleston, Henrietta Schell, Marion Smith, Helen Von Lackum, Alvaretta West, Claribel Wright.

Low Grades Cut List

Because of scholastic delinquency and uncertainty of returning to school next year several names were taken off the list. A requirement for membership in this honorary senior women's organization is a scholastic standing above the average.

An innovation in announcing the elected members will be tried out next Thursday evening. Between 7 and 8 o'clock a procession of junior and senior women will form on the campus and proceed to the point at the intersection of Clinton and Church streets in front of the president's house. There the newly elected members will be summoned before the present members and each one will be presented with a red rose, the customary method of announcing the choice of the election.

Mortar Boards in Procession

Margaret Dolliver, Ada Yoder, and Helen Evans of the junior class were appointed at the breakfast to work with Staff and Circle and representatives of the senior class in planning the details of the ceremony. It was suggested at the breakfast that the senior girls wear their mortar boards for the first time during the procession.

IOWA CITY HIGH SCHOOL GIRL TO GIVE RECITAL

A piano recital will be given by Edith Louise Buck, senior in the Iowa City high school, assisted by Winsor Crary, soprano, and sophomore in the college of liberal arts, Tuesday evening, May 18, at 8 o'clock in the natural science auditorium. Lucile Bruner' Delta Delta Delta, will accompany Miss Crary.

The program includes selections from classical, romantic and modern music. One group is selected from Russian composers. Miss Buck is a pupil of Esther McDowell Swisher, piano teacher in the school of music. Miss Crary is a pupil of William E. Hays, professor in the school of music.

HAWKEYE BILLS PAYABLE

All bills payable the Hawkeye, Inc., must be settled this coming week. Kindly see to it that all statements are paid to Arthur Pyles, at the Secretary's office, or to Fred A. Steiner, at the Hawkeye Office, Physics Building.

LELAND WHITE IS NAMED CAPTAIN OF WRESTLERS

Leland C. White '21, of Harlan, has been chosen to lead the Hawkeye mat men next fall at a recent meeting of the members of this year's wrestling squad. He is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity and wrestled in both the 178 and 158 pound class this year.

"With the loss of only one man this year prospects for a good wrestling team are bright," said Coach Ernest G. Schroeder. Captain LeRoy Jensen is the outgoing member and with such men as Vana, Francois, Locke, Hunter, Sweeney, Bob Smith, Vedova, Devine and Heldt back for next year Iowa should worry other teams in the conference considerably.

There are also a number of promising freshmen who will be strong competitors for wrestling honors next year, and with proper coaching will do themselves and the team justice. It is the desire of the Physical Training department to see this sport among the majors.

FIVE COLLEGES VOTE YES ON COUNCIL PLAN

Approval of Constitution by Dents and Engineers Takes Pact to Administration

Endorsement of the proposed constitution of the student council by the engineers and dents yesterday brings the total number of colleges ratifying the eight-and-ten plan up to five and the issue will now go to the administration for final decision. The liberal arts college is the only college to turn down the plan and the school of nurses will vote next week.

If the constitution is accepted and approved by the administration as it now stands it means that the college of liberal arts will have eight votes on the council and the professional colleges will total ten votes. This fact is the reason given for the failure of the college of liberal arts to endorse the constitution in last Friday's election.

What action will be taken on the proposed plan by the administration is not known but the feeling that the college of liberal arts should have at least equal representation on the council because of the size of the college was the basis for the belief of several prominent students that the constitution will still undergo revision.

SIGMA PI INCORPORATES

Xi chapter of the Sigma Pi fraternity has filed articles of incorporation at the office of the county recorder. The incorporators are the trustees for the fraternity, Peter H. Peterson, Leland G. Ackerly, Hugh G. Guernsey, Charles H. Merchant and Richard C. Smith.

FACULTY MEMBERS, STUDENTS TO TAKE PART IN PROGRAM

Several members of the faculty and student body will take part in the program to be given under the auspices of the seventh division of the Ladies' Aid society at the Methodist church Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

The University Women's Glee club and quartette will sing several numbers. The duet, "O Divine Redeemer," by Gounod will be sung by Prof. W. E. Hays and Mrs. Mildred B. Paddock of the department of music. Prof. O. E. Van Doren, band director, will play a trombone solo and Marie Colfix '20, will sing the "Kiss Waltz," by Ardite; Mrs. Elizabeth P. Hunt of the department of public speaking will give a selected reading.

Admission to the program will be 10 cents.

Heaves Discus 134 feet, Three-fourths Inches for New State Mark—Ty Smith Shows Real Stuff in Dashes—Both Teams Run True to Their Advance Notices

By Kenneth C. Noble (Sports Editor Daily Iowan)

Special to the Daily Iowan: Ames, Ia., May 15—When Colby broke the tie in the half mile relay, the deciding event of the Iowa-Ames meet here today, the Hawkeyes snatched a close victory from the Cyclones by a score of 69 2-3 to 66 1-3. Justin, Ty Smith, Matthey and Colby represented Iowa in the event.

This afternoon's meet was exciting from the start with both teams running true to form. Ames swept everything in the long runs while Iowa got the edge in the field. It was in the doubtful races, the dashes and hurdles, that the victory went to Coach Jack Watson's men.

Slater Breaks Record

"Duke" Slater, Iowa's Negro star, broke the state record for the discus throw, heaving the object 134 feet and three-fourths inches. In the races, Ty Smith shared much of the honor. He finished second in the 100-yard dash and it was his running in the half mile relay that aided Iowa materially in crossing the tape in front.

TO LIMIT SOPHOMORE DENTISTS NEXT TERM

Only 110 Second Year Students Can be Accommodated, Says Order From Dean Breene

Out of the 160 freshmen registered in the college of dentistry during this year only 110 will be permitted to register for sophomore work next fall according to notice from Dean Frank T. Breene and President Walter A. Jessup. This is necessary because of the limitation of clinical capacity in the dental infirmary and the equipment in the sophomore laboratory. Just who the fortunate 110 and the unfortunate fifty will be will depend entirely upon scholarship.

Applicants for registration will leave their names at the general office and will receive credentials for registration soon after the third term examinations. Then within ten days fees should be presented or sent to complete the registration of those who have the highest scholastic standing.

"Feeling seems to be running rather high among the members of the freshman class over this measure, since a great many of them feel that perhaps their whole freshman year's work will be wasted to a certain extent. Some of them feel, too, that they have made sacrifices to come here and would naturally feel disappointed at having their course cut off when they have already completed one-fourth of it," said a student who is identified with the college of dentistry yesterday.

CONFERENCE CHAPS PLAY HERE MONDAY

Iowa and Michigan to Clash in One of the Most Important Games in the Big Ten

The Iowa baseball team, with one more victory to its credit, will meet the Michigan nine tomorrow afternoon in the second conference game on the home lot. Michigan, with a perfect conference record, will enter the Hawkeye camp loaded for bear, but at the same time recognizing the strength of Coach James Ashmore's men and expecting one of the hardest fought games of the season.

The Wolverines boast of an excellent hitting team and place unlimited confidence in Captain Parks, who will undoubtedly do mound duty for the visitors. Captain Hamilton, backed by a nine itching to avenge Iowa for the two defeats handed them last year, will probably be Coach Ashmore's choice to work in the box.

Coach Lundgren and fourteen players will arrive in the city some time today. Those making the trip are Captain Parks, Ruzicka, Scheidler, Genebach, Newell, Froemke, Karpus Knode, Mraz, Kirchgessness, VanBoven and Weadock.

STUDENT EDITOR ELECTED

Ames, Iowa, May 15—P. A. Potter of Ames, junior agricultural student, was elected editor-in-chief of the "Iowa State Student" for next year, by the publication board at a meeting yesterday. The "Student" is a newspaper published three times a week at Iowa State College. A. L. Mabon, of Independence, was elected business manager. Mr. Potter succeeds E. S. Hurwich, Waterloo, and Mr. Mabon succeeds B. W. Lodwick, Mystic.

TO PUBLISH MEMORIAL UNION INFORMATION

Eileen Galvin and Ruth Rogers, both affiliated with the Iowa Memorial Union campaign are preparing a series of questions and answers concerning certain queries arising about the campus in regard to the site and construction of the Union. In the series will be information relative to the progress of the campaign and it will be ready for publication in the Daily Iowan early in the week.

Miss Galvin is the newly elected editor of the Iowa Memorial Union magazine and is rapidly getting material in readiness for the first issue.

Plagge of Ames Proves Easy Mark for Iowa Sluggers—Twelve Errors by Ames Are Costly Factors in the Pile-up of Runs—Ames Gets Three Hits Off McIlree

By Kenneth C. Noble (Sports Editor Daily Iowan)

Special to Daily Iowan: Ames, Iowa, May 15—Five smashes in rapid succession by the Iowa sluggers toppled the mighty Plagge in the fourth inning and the Hawkeyes ran away with the baseball game in easy fashion 12-3, this morning. Captain Hamilton's lusty three bagger with the bases loaded quieted the Cyclones. After pitching stellar ball for three innings Plagge went by the wayside.

Anderson started the trouble in the big frame with a single to center. McIlree followed suit and Michaelson walked, and then came Hamilton's terrific line to center that sent all three home. With the bases then nearly free the bombardment began again and for a half hour the Aggies' outfielders were on the fritz trying to retire the side. With their pitcher gone the Cyclones helped things along with six errors during the remainder of the game.

Ames scored first on Plagge's triple and a close play at the plate. McIlree pitched steady ball throughout, allowing only four hits.

FRESHMEN WOMEN MAY GET NO MORE MID-WEEK DATES

No dates except on weekend nights for freshmen women next year is the substance of a resolution passed by the Pan-hellenic council at its meeting Thursday evening, according to Julia Wade, vice-president of the council. The resolution has been recommended to the social committee to be acted upon.

The plans embodied in the resolution provide for no dating except on weekend nights during the first semester only. Freshmen women of good standing will probably be given special privileges in this respect during the second semester, according to the decision of the council.

A CHANCE TO COMPROMISE

The failure of liberal arts college to ratify the proposed constitution is indicative of the majority sentiment of the 2500 students in the non-professional college. The only article in the proposed pact upon which liberal arts students balked was that pertaining to the Eight and Ten plan of representation in the Council. Apparently in all other respects the constitution met with the favor of the electorate. But the majority sentiment of the liberal arts students does not favor sending delegates to a Council under such provisions for membership.

With the adoption of the constitution by the five professional colleges the new constitution automatically goes into effect in accordance with the proposed pact, providing the pact is favorably acted upon by the administration into whose hands it is to be turned for adoption or rejection. Opponents to Eight and Ten believe that the administration will see the injustice in the Eight and Ten plan and above all will be chary of sanctioning a constitution which does not include in its scope the colleges of the entire campus and bind them into a strong union.

A campus divided against itself cannot function to the best interests of the University. A Student Council cannot attain major successes without representatives numbered in its membership from all divisions of the campus. There must be cooperation and there must be unity.

The present Council has attempted to compromise in the past. It has failed. Liberal arts delegates relinquished a foothold on a Ten and Ten plan to pacify the advocates of Eight and Ten. The election proves that the constituents of the liberal arts delegation are dissatisfied with the proposed plan. They failed to give their representatives a vote of confidence. The liberal arts delegates have done their part. They permitted a decrease from Ten to Eight in good faith to save the Council, hoping their electorate would support them. It did not. Now liberal arts college will not have a place in the Council unless a compromise measure is reached. That is assured by the vote of Friday.

The professional colleges have the same opportunity of relinquishing a post on the plan of representation as did liberal arts representatives. Liberal arts delegates gave ground in an attempt to unify the Council. Professional colleges might do likewise. The question arises just how badly they desire liberal arts in the Council.

A Student Council can exist without liberal arts college. Opponents to the Eight and Ten plan were aware of such probabilities before they opposed the constitution. But any Student Council cannot be healthy without every college on the campus enrolled in its membership. Every one of them is essential to the successful workings of student self-government.

DANCE HALLS AND IDEALS

At one of the fraternity houses recently discussion arose as to whether the Iowa Memorial Union was to provide a dance floor. The opinion prevailed among the men, through only slight perusal of the plans, that the new structure would not house any hall that could be used for reception and dancing purposes.

"We certainly do not feel that we want to support the project any further if no provision is made for a dancing auditorium. We know that the Iowa Memorial Union does not have as its prime object the furnishing of a place for students to dance but we do believe that that should be one of its secondary objects," said one member of the fraternity, who seemed to be expressing the opinion of his house.

The prevailing opinion of that fraternity is wrong, of course. Members of the fraternity in glancing over the plans of the building failed to see that one of the drawings, perhaps, that contained the plans for the memorial hall where dances are to be held. They drew their conclusions too hastily. In the cathedra of the Iowa Memorial Union the tenth article reads: "Will the building have any large hall?—The plans contemplate a large and beautiful memorial hall with upwards of 800 feet of floor space and suitable for Homecoming, formal and informal receptions, and dances. This will be one of the features of the building."

The Iowa Memorial Union does not have as its prime object, as the fraternity man said, the providing of a place to dance for the students. A dance hall is only a secondary object. Its ideals are higher than dance halls.

"It will be dedicated to true Americanism, and its very existence will be a pledge of earnest and patriotic service. Arising out of a desire to honor those who have shown their willingness to sacrifice for America, its very influence will be for a devoted patriotism," says the sixth article of the Iowa Memorial Union. That article manifests its highest ideals.

That professor who was the object of an egg shower at the hands of some indignant students need not feel necessarily insulted in such times as these.

is courteous enough to withhold his prediction as to Obregon's career.

THE LISTENING POST

On speaking to a bunch of the embryo rookies, familiarly known as Mumma's mob, we found out that a lot of them were crazy about the twenty-mile hike they made Saturday. In fact some of them were almost mad.

The corner druggist has a comparatively simple method of determining the number of warm days in a spring month. When the sale of hairnets goes booming, he knows that there have been many spring days.

A well known member of the Eels club and prominent canoeist says the difference between a young girl and a young man lies in these statements: "I have only been kissed by two young men."

"I have only failed to kiss two girls."

While the determination of Congress to limit the soldier bonus to $500 disturbs us from the standpoint of some of our friends, we must admit that we aren't scratched yet.

Anyway, the students who hurled eggs at their professor because his grades were too low, expressed their sentiment expensively. However, he probably wouldn't agree that an egg in the hand is worth two in the nest.

FIELD EVENTS, REVIEW AND HIKE GIVE CADETS STRENUOUS WORK DAY

Hold Battalion Eliminations Preparatory to Annual Meet Schedule Saturday

ARE REVIEWED BY MUMMA

Events Next Weekend Are to Take Place of Former Governor Day's Exercises Which Have Been Discontinued for the Present—Companies March to Indian Springs

Preliminary field events, a military review, and a practice march to Indian Springs kept the University cadet regiment busy all day yesterday. The field meet was a battalion elimination preparatory to the annual meet and review scheduled for next Saturday.

The morning was occupied with the program of field events including contests for qualification as the best drilled freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior, squad drill competition, tugs of war, equipment races, and relays.

Mumma Reviews Regiment

At 1:30 o'clock the regiment passed in review before Major Morton C. Mumma, commandant of the military department, and other departmental officers. Following the review, the regiment took up the hike to Indian Springs and return, a march of about six or seven miles.

Next Saturday's review will take the place of the former Governor's Day exercises, which have been discontinued for the present. With the exception of the final company examinations to be held May 24 and 25, Saturday's event will complete military requirements for the year.
