GRAND WIND-UP DRIVE IN BIG MEMORIAL PUSH STRIKES CAMPUS TODAY

Howling 300 Adopts Lagging Project and Will "Howl" the Campaign to Eventual Success

CLOSE CAMPAIGN THURSDAY

Today Life Membership in Union Costs Seniors But $50; After Graduation it Will Cost $100, Says Professor Weller, Who is Directing the Last Student Campaign for $100,000

Today, tomorrow and Thursday are the "grand wind-up" days of the "Big June Push" for the Iowa Memorial Union.

Howling 300, organized a short time ago to further the best interests of the University, is going to demonstrate its ability to "howl" effectively, for they are taking over the campaign during the last three days. The officers are considering calling a pep meeting Wednesday evening.

Weller is Pleased

Prof. Charles H. Weller, campaign director of the Union, in speaking of the willingness with which the "howlers" accepted the responsibility for rounding up the June drive, said: "At last, I believe I have found a one hundred per cent crowd. They will turn the trick I am sure. Because getting $100,000 from students seems impossible is the reason the job is all the more attractive to them. No elaborate details are planned and no new sets of cards will be given out. Every member will have pledge cards and canvassing will be universal and enthusiastic all over the campus.

"It is well to remind seniors, too," said Professor Weller, "that they will be alumni in another week and that

SENIOR INVITATIONS ARRIVE AT BOOK STORE

Leather Covers Prove Popular With Seniors Who Order 3000 Booklets at Reis'

The 3,000 commencement invitations ordered by seniors are now ready for distribution at Reis' book store. More leather copies were ordered than any of the other covers shown. Paper covers ranked second in the list and the imitation leather third.

"We are getting these invitations for less than the actual cost," said Clarence M. Fackler, chairman of the invitation committee. "The cost of leather has raised since our order was placed, and the quality of the leather is exceptionally good."

The invitations are engraved. The cover has an Iowa seal, the class numeral, and the one word "Iowa." Six campus photographs are distributed throughout the booklet; these are, Old Capitol entrance, liberal arts entrance, law library, physics building, commencement exercises on the campus, and a canoe scene, on the river.

The program of commencement week is given first, followed by a list of the senior committees. The candidates for graduation in the various colleges are given under the following heads: college of liberal arts, college of medicine, college of law, college of applied science, college of engineering, and the graduate college, including the degrees given.

PROFESSOR GAW'S PUPILS IN RECITAL LAST NIGHT

The pupils of Prof. Esther Allen Gaw, violin instructor, and of Mrs.
Blancius Paddock, vocal instructor, appeared in a recital given in the University high school auditorium last evening. Those taking part in the program were: Helen Roberts, Charles Gutterman, Hilma Walker, Lorna Schuppert, Margaret Russell, Jeanne Wolf, Eunice Baker, Ceylon Hayden and Irene Whitaker. The accompaniments were played by Mamie A. Turnipseed, Bertha Roewe, Stella Culver, and Esther Fulton.

LAKE GENEVA MEETING WILL DRAW 21 WOMEN

Annual Conference for Y. W. C. A.
Folk Will be Held From August 17 to 27

Geneva conference of Y. W. C. A. college girls will be attended by twenty-one University women. This number has decided to go, according to lists in the Y. W. C. A. office.
Communications from the New York office say that registration cards and fees of $5 must be paid by August 1. The meeting is the annual Y. W.
C. A. college conference to be held at College Camp, Wis., on Lake Geneva from August 17 to 27.

Those who will go are: Maude Adams '22, Pi Beta Phi; Dorothy Banks '21, Delta Zeta; Dorothy Bar-foot '22; Leone Barngrover '21, Delta

Woodard '23, Iota Xi Epsilon.

Catherine Hamilton '23, Pi Beta Phi, will represent the University at Aislar, California. Ruth Wallace
'23, Pi Beta Phi, will represent the University at Estes Park, Colorado.

Twenty-seven other women have signed their names on a list for those who plan to go. Besides religious meetings and study classes in the morning and lectures in the evening, the University women will enjoy swimming, boating, hiking, tennis, baseball, sailing, excursions, and many unexpected good times, say the members of the Geneva club who have been there.

CRIPPLED KIDS MAKE STATE FAIR EXHIBITS

Under the direction of Mame Rose Prosser the school pupils at the Children's hospital are preparing work for the State Fair at Des Moines next fall. Many articles have been made in basketry, raffia work, crocheting, knitting, sewing, yarn work and drawing. The school has been under the supervision of the department of education in the University for four years and for the last two years Miss Prosser has had charge of the work.

About twenty-five or thirty pupils attend the school each day, although the children are constantly coming and going. All subjects from beginning reading, to Cicero and geometry, are taught. In this way children keep up in their school work and are able to enter their regular class when they return to their homes.

WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION GETS LEGAL SANCTION

Purpose to Establish Women's Self-governing Body to Handle Problems in Campus Activities

Women's Council constitution was approved by the administration at a meeting of the Social committee recently, which places the Women's association on the campus as a legal organization. Ratification is also complete as a result of the vote taken of the women of the University Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week.

The organization, according to the newly adopted constitution will be known hereafter as the "Women's Association of the State University of Iowa." The council will act as the executive body for the association.

Organization of the association dates from last fall, the idea originating with Staff and Circle, women's honorary senior society. The purpose of the organization is to establish a women's self-governing body whose duties it will be to take up various problems of campus activities of University women, social problems and social regulations, to assist Social committees and secure self representation of every woman of the University. The residence of the student women has been divided into twenty-four districts, and Currier hall. Two captains were elected from each district with four captains for Currier.

The association is now occupied revising for publication a new bulletin for the Women of the University, a yearly catalogue giving information concerning the various organizations on the campus both social and scholastic, social regulations, and self-help.
The catalogue is sent out to all Freshman women, and new students entering the University.

STATE BOARD EXAMS AT DENTAL COLLEGE

State Board examinations are being held for sophomore and senior dental students this week. A plan which makes it optional with the students, whether part of the State Board examinations be taken after the completion of the sophomore year or all of them at the close of the senior year has been adopted and has proved popular with the students.

SOLICIT SENIORS FOR IOWA ALUMNUS ORDERS

Members of Class of 1920 Will be Given Opportunity to Subscribe for Alumnus at Low Rate

Senior presidents in the professional colleges and a committee appointed by Donald A. Nasby, president of the senior class in the college of liberal arts, are soliciting the members of the graduating class for subscription to the Iowa Alumnus, the "University's monthly letter to graduates of Old Gold."

Order blanks were mailed last evening to the class presidents and the committee appointed by President Nasby. The subscriptions are being taken in the college of law by Edward L. O'Connor; in the college of dentistry by E. W. Harper; in the college of medicine by Dale Rogers; in the college of pharmacy by L. V. Carter; in the college of applied science by John Sproatt; and in the college of liberal arts by Ralph E. Overholser, Clarence Fackler, Russell Johnson, Mariam Brueckner, Eileen Galvin, Jacob Van Ek, Marjory Boyd, Helene Blattner, Grace Altschuler, Margaret Hayes and Sim Wherry.

"I hope that every senior in the University subscribes for the Alumnus at this time," Edward L. O'Connor, president of the organization of senior presidents, says. "There is no better way to keep up with affairs at the University and thus build up loyalty to Alma Mater."

A special price of $1 per year has been made to the seniors and the June issue of this year will also be mailed to them. The regular price of the Alumnus is $1.50 per year.

MOCKMORE AND BRIGHAM ARE GIVEN DUAL HONORS

Charles A. Mockmore and Leon H.
Brigham have been awarded the Intercollegiate Conference Athletic association medal, and the prize cup given by the Board in Control of Athletics at the University, respectively, at a recent meeting of the athletic board.
These prizes are given for high degree of attainment in both scholarship and athletics.

Charles Mockmore of Wilton Junction carried off the Intercollegiate medal, one of which is awarded to each "Big Ten" member to be given to the student who has attained the highest scholastic standing as well as a favorable athletic record. He is an associate member of Sigma Xi, honorary scientific fraternity, and Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity, as well as being a member of the football squad for two years and track for three years.

Leon H. Brigham of Iowa City received the prize cup offered by the Board in Control of Athletics at Iowa.
He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, social fraternity, Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity, A. F. I. honorary senior society, and captain of this year's track team.

ERNSTENE AND DRAKE ELECTED TO HANDLE NEXT YEAR'S HAWKEYE

New Trustees Are Installed After Retiring Editor Makes Report of 1921 Hawkeye Finances

BOTH MEN ARE EXPERIENCED

New Executives Will Assume Duties at Once—Retiring Editor Reports Profits for Year to be Near $1500—Contracts for Next Year's Annual Will be Let This Summer

Carlton Ernstene of Nebraska City, Neb., Phi Kappa Psi, and Sherman Drake of Waterloo, Phi Gamma Delta, were elected editor-in-chief and business manager respectively, of the 1922 Hawkeye at the annual business meeting of the new Board of Trustees of the Hawkeye, last evening.

Ernstene was unopposed as a candidate for the chief executive's position, no other petition being filed for that place. Drake, however, was chosen from four applicants. The others petitioning for the honors of business manager were Harris Krensky, Acacia; R. T. Kenworthy, Sigma Phi Epsilon; and Edwin Lighter, Sigma Nu.

Finances in Good Shape

A report of the financial condition of the 1921 Hawkeye was made by the retiring editor and showed a profit from the present annual of about $1500. This was accepted by the old board and, with final arrangements for an auditing committee, the new board was installed, and immediately proceeded to the election of a new editor and business manager.

"I hope I can please the campus with next year's annual as well as they have been pleased with the 1921 Hawkeye," said Ernstene last night.
"With the start given us by the retiring editor we should have the greatest Hawkeye ever, next year," said Drake.

Old Board Retires

The retiring Board of Trustees are Prof. Charles H. Weller, chairman; Prof. Herbert F. Goodrich; Prof. William S. Maulsby, Nancy Lamb, Delta Gamma; Marion Smith, Delta Delta Delta; Arthur Rosenbaugh, Sigma Phi Epsilon; and Carl V. Speicher, Delta Tau Delta. The new board retains the faculty members and the newly installed sophomores who will serve next year are: Winson Crary, Delta Delta Delta; Olive Yetter, Delta Gamma; Althea McGrath, Kappa Kappa Gamma; and David Mitchell, Delta Tau Delta.

Contracts for next year's book will be let during the summer, which will permit the newly elected heads to get under way in planning their volume before the opening of the coming year, said Fred A. Steiner, retiring editor.

ORGANIZER TO APPEAR ON CAMPUS THIS MORNING

The June issue and final number of the Organizer will be sold on the campus this morning, according to Paul K. Lovegrin, editor-in-chief. The magazine was to have appeared on the campus yesterday morning, Mr.
Lovegrin said, but unforeseen difficulties at the printers prevented delivery.

TO THE SENIORS

The first all-senior class meeting has been called for this afternoon at 4:15 o'clock in the liberal arts assembly room. It will not be a social hour; it will be a business session called for the transaction of senior affairs in the interests of the graduating class.

Presidents of all senior classes of all colleges have issued the call. It is the first attempt in recent years to gather the entire senior class into business session for the promotion of class interests. Its success depends on the turn out.

Seniors, several activities dependent on you, are lagging. One is the Memorial, one the senior class day exercises, one the senior play. You and you alone, as a body can inject the necessary enthusiasm to put them all "across."

Officers of the class set out to make the class one hundred per cent in life membership for the Memorial Union. One college, pharmacy, has gained its object. The others are responding, but more slowly. No student can afford to leave the University without a Life Membership pledge to the Union. Three cents a day for four years admits you to life membership in the Union. Can not you return that much to your University?

Over $1000 has been expended by the senior class play committee for the production of "The Great Divide." It is the most costly and gorgeous drama ever attempted by a local organization. The seat sale is dragging. Seniors, it is your play. The members of the cast have spent hours in practice, and money in scenery, to present a play which their fellow classmen might be proud of. Seniors, your job is small, give the play a moral and material boost. It will mean much to those of your members who are carrying the burden.

Saturday is Senior Frolic Day. A program has been arranged which will be an innovation on the Iowa campus. The senior class officers have shown their initiative; they have done their part to inaugurate a program which will appeal to all members. A like interest on the part of the class members will make the occasion one of hilarity and interest.

The present senior class has responded to calls before. It has shown interest and initiative in campus activities more than any other class. On this, the last lap, the class must not fall down, and if its enthusiasm of the past is any criterion, it will not.

The senior class officers have requested the senior's presence this afternoon. Four hundred and twenty-five seniors should respond to the call. There is business to be transacted which will affect every senior before he is graduated.

AN EYESORB

There is a hideous eyesore on the campus. Every alumnus who returns to alma mater during Commencement over the interurban will see the awkward board fence bordering the north end of the athletic field. It is unsightly and should be removed at once.

The fence was erected temporarily to keep small boys and stingy men from walking into the athletic contests. The athletic season is over; the homely boards have served their purpose. Let the fence be torn down as rapidly as it was constructed. Our campus is none too beautiful at its best. The fewer the eyesores, the better the campus beautiful.

A few clubs to insist on the lowering of h.c.l. would do more good than all the political planks in the world.

Be thankful that you were a freshman woman this year.

It's the early bird that gets the first date but the late bird that holds them.

Close your Commencement invitation with R. S. V. P.

Soon you will be out of the trenches.

CALL OFF PRESIDENTS RECEPTION TO SENIORS

Serious Illness of Little Dick Jessup Causes Rearrangement of Senior Events, Says Ensign

Invitations for President and Mrs. Walter A. Jessup's reception to the seniors have been withheld on account of the serious illness of little Dick Jessup, son of President and Mrs. Jessup. The invitations will not be sent out this year, according to Prof. Forest C. Ensign, chairman of Commencement exercises, and the annual reception will not be held at the president's home.

The band concert will be given by the University band on the liberal arts campus at 7 o'clock Saturday evening, June 12, instead of on the president's lawn, as previously announced. "No definite arrangements have been made for the reception," said Professor Ensign last night, "but the reception will not be at the president's home. Announcement will be made later concerning the reception," said the chairman, "and it may be a reception for the seniors given by the deans of the colleges."

Dick Jessup underwent two operations for double mastoid last week, and has been in a serious condition for several days. He is under the special care of Dr. Lee Wallace Dean, dean of the college of medicine, at the Mercy hospital. Dr. Dean reported Dick to be a little improved last evening, and that he was holding his own.

NEW MEMBERS TAKEN INTO PHI BETA KAPPA

Initiation Ceremonies Held for Those Who Received Scholastic Honors Yesterday

Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic fraternity held initiation yesterday at 5:30 p. m. in room 104 of the liberal arts building. The initiates are: Mary E. Anderson, Miriam Brueckner, Edward H. Chamberlin, Frances R. Dearborn, Elinor Douglass, Howard S. Ellis, Bess M. Goodykoontz, Helen S. Jenista, Russell Johnson, Henry J. Kroeger, Hope Leech, Helen M. McAlvin, Alice M. McMahon, Frances J. Nelson, Ida R. Schwind, Ethel E. Verry, and Irene Woods.

The welcome address was given by Gilbert G. Benjamin, professor of history and president of the chapter. The history of Phi Beta Kappa was given by Charles Bundy Wilson, professor of German. "Symbols and Tokens" was the subject of an address given by Nellie S. Aurner, dean of women.

Initiation was followed by a banquet at the Unitarian church. After dinner an address on behalf of recent alumni was given by Helen K. Mackintosh. Howard S. Ellis gave an address on behalf of present initiates. Charles H. Weller, professor of history of art, gave an address entitled, "A Lonely Soul in a New World."

MUSEUMS OPEN IN SUMMER

All museums and exhibits of the University will be open during the Summer Session. They will be in charge of an assistant of Prof. Homer R. Dill, director of the museums.

SENIORS WILL BOOST "THE GREAT DIVIDE"

at the Englert theatre tomorrow night at 8:15 o'clock. Other problems to come before the meeting will be the senior class day exercises and the Memorial Union.

Through the generosity of the managers and participants in "The Great Divide," all proceeds above expenses will be turned over to the Iowa Memorial Union to help swell the total for the "Big June Push."

Support Memorial Union

In speaking of their decision in the matter, Hugh Rosson, manager of the play, said, "Notwithstanding the fact that the present senior class has decided to take out individual life memberships in the Union as their parting gift to their Alma Mater, we intend to add to that sum the entire proceeds of our class play in the hope that this may prove an example to the student body and an indication to the hesitant alumni, that we, the seniors, are solidly behind the Union. "We feel that the Memorial Union is the biggest thing in view for the University and we want to get behind it with all the monetary support we can. In seeing "The Great Divide," the student will not only have a chance to witness one of the strongest plays presented locally this year, but in addition will be able to say that indirectly he has helped the biggest thing that Iowa has ever attempted."

Play Has Strong Cast

The strength of the cast is indicated by the fact that the leading roles in the play are taken by Jean Birdsall and Hugh Rosson, who are both members of University Players and have taken an active part in dramatic affairs throughout their University career. The supporting cast have also been connected with University dramatic work in the different plays that have been presented by University students.

No expense has been spared to insure the success of the play in the standpoint of scenery. The opportunity for depicting western scenic effects has been taken advantage of and more money has been spent in preparation of this feature than any other play ever presented to a University audience.

Large Scale Production

The managers of the play have expressed their confidence in the desire of University students and others to give their support to a play which will be presented on such a scale and with a grandeur never before attempted here. Gladys Powers, who has had charge of directing the play from the first, expressed the belief that it will be produced with all the force and interest-gripping qualities which gave it its first success with the acting of Margaret Anglin and Henry Miller.

The seats are selling for $1.00 and $1.50, and may be reserved at the Englert theatre beginning at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. The manager of the ticket sales indicated yesterday that the higher priced seats were nearly all taken and those who wished to attend would soon be forced to accept the $1.00 seats.

SENIORS, 1920---

One week from today you will bid your University good-by. Then you will be an alumnus of the institution—a student no more.

But you will not forget your Alma Mater. You will want to keep in touch with the campus; follow Old Gold athletic teams to victory; keep up with campus news—in politics, dramatics, social life.

And, most important of all, you will want to keep in touch with your classmates; following them as they go out into the world—in law, medicine, and in the arts and sciences; in business; in whatever field they may enter. There is one best way to keep in touch with the friends you have made under the banner of Old Gold—

COUNCIL WILL MEET TO ELECT CHAIRMAN

Election of Temporary Chairman and Reading of Financial Report is on Calendar

The Student Council will hold its last regular meeting of the year in the president's committee room this afternoon at 5 o'clock. At this time a complete financial report will be given by the secretary-treasurer of the council, Margaret Hayes.

A temporary chairman will also be elected to serve until permanent officers are elected at the first meeting of the next academic year.

L. A. Delegates Will Vote

The status of the Council has been somewhat bemuddled since the college of liberal arts, with half the delegates to the Council, refused to ratify the proposed constitution for the Council several weeks ago. At present the members from the college of liberal arts are serving until the end of this academic year, under a verbal agreement among the members of the undergraduate body.

"I presume no one will question the right of liberal arts to vote for temporary chairman this evening," J. Mel Hickerson, president of the Council said yesterday, when questioned in this regard. "Obviously though they will vote for the candidate that the professional group offers, since they are serving because of a gentlemen's agreement that the professional delegates could revoke at any time."

Suggest Two Names

The constitution has not been approved by the administration as yet, due to the fact that a meeting of the board of deans has been practically impossible during the last two months. Such a meeting will probably not be held this academic year, Dean D. O. McGovney said recently. Dean McGovney is chairman of a committee of deans that has the constitution in charge.

As to who will be nominated at the meeting this evening for the temporary chairman, professional delegates had no suggestions when interviewed yesterday afternoon. Rumors were afloat to the effect that Clyde Doolittle, from the college of law, and Clarence Baldrige, from the college of medicine, were being considered.

a life membership for them will then be $100 instead of $50. This $50 can be paid on almost any terms they wish to arrange."

Commercial Club Backs Union

The noon meeting of the Iowa City Commercial club yesterday was given over to discussion of the Iowa Memorial Union. Prof. Forest C. Ensign of the college of education, spoke on "Educational Meaning of the Union"; Judge R. P. Howell spoke on the "Meaning of the Union to Alumni," and S. E. Carrell of the Iowa City Daily Press spoke on "Importance of the Union to Iowa City Business Men." J. L. Records, chairman of the Johnson county organization held a meeting of solicitors at the Commercial club rooms last night.

Ruth Rogers, field secretary, still continues to hold meetings throughout the state to solicit the aid of alumni. She is frequently meeting real enthusiasts, is getting a number of subscriptions, and has some large gifts in view.

After the Frock, Skirt, Blouse, Sweater, Come Smart Accessories

And especially worthy of inspection and selection are the various lesser items of dress which we have gathered together with much thought for June selling. High quality is the outstanding feature of each and every display. And varieties in all instances are such that the most diverse preferences may be easily met.

The Newest Silk Gloves

Women who have the privilege of choosing here are never tempted to go without gloves in warm weather. Many, in fact, are constantly on the lookout for excuses for buying a number of pairs. We have a wonderful variety of both short and long gloves in white and colors.

Parasols for the Summer Girl

Parasols are to your costumes what high lights are to paintings. And here are many to choose from.

Small But Mighty Aids

—to good grooming are the various articles featured in our Toilet Articles Display. Almost all of the items are of convenient size and shape to tuck in your traveling bag when you depart on your vacation. Buffers, Finger Nail Files, etc.

Novelty Veils

One woman may look very smart in a Veil, and another may, when wearing the same identical Veil, look quite ordinary. It's all in the way the Veil is put on. Our salespeople are well versed in the art of properly adjusting a Veil. Come in and choose a fashionable Veil and we will be glad to show you several very clever ways it may be worn.

Notes About New Neckwear

One of the most bewitching arrivals in our Neckwear display is a sashed vestee of organdy. It is ruffled and has a Buster Brown collar, $2.00. It is particularly charming when worn with your Eton suit. Other styles are also moderately priced.

Linen Handkerchiefs

Who wouldn't want to choose them in quantities after seeing the wisps of colored linens, the exquisite Madeira offerings and the simple hem-stitched handkerchiefs which are features of our displays. Each and every 'kerchief is priced most agreeably.
