Address is Short and to the Point—
Facts Out Clearly

PRESIDENTIAL YEAR IS TOPIC

Every Voter Is Urged to Study the Question of Pluralists and Conditions—to know What He Really Does When He Votes and to Have His Own Ideas

Prof. Charles H. Weller, director of the second session of the council and head of the political science department of the University. In his address delivered yesterday morning, he stressed the importance of the presidential year and said that it is adult voters who constitute the voters of the United States. He also said that the voters who constitute the electorate by their votes and not by their voices are those who will decide the election.

The purpose of the address was to educate the people and to make them aware of the importance of the presidential year. The speaker emphasized that the voters should be informed about the issues and the candidates before they vote. He also said that the voters should not be swayed by false promises and propaganda. He stressed the importance of the vote and said that the voters should use their votes wisely. He ended his address with a call to action, urging the voters to exercise their civic duty.

MEN TO DINE AT REICH'S TONIGHT

One Hundred and Fifty Is Limit Set; $100 Tickets Held

The dining hall was packed with diners and the atmosphere was lively.
People were enjoying their meals and engaging in conversation. Prof. Drucil Starr, the university president, was among those present, and he was enjoyed by the diners. The hall was crowded with people, and the tables were full of food.

Women's and Men's Swimming Pool
OPEN AGAIN FRIDAY

The swimming pool at the women's and men's swimming pool will be open again on Friday. The pool is located on the campus and is open to all members of the university.

This is a great opportunity for students to enjoy the water and stay cool during the hot summer months.

NEW DISCOVERIES FOR ORANGE JUICE

A new use for orange juice has been discovered. Dr. Albert C. Rybicki and Dr. Amy Daniels Find a Preventative for Scurvy

Dr. Albert C. Rybicki and Dr. Amy Daniels have discovered a new use for orange juice. They found that orge juice can prevent scurvy in children.

The researchers conducted a study in which they gave orange juice to children and compared them to a group of children who did not receive orange juice. The children who received orange juice had a lower rate of scurvy than the children who did not receive it.

This discovery is important because scurvy is a disease that can be caused by a lack of vitamin C. It can lead to bone fractures, bleeding gums, and other problems. The new use for orge juice could help prevent this discase in children.

The researchers plan to continue studying this new use for orange juice and hope to find more ways to use this nutrient-rich fruit.

GLOCK BANES THREE

Civil Service Examinations Give Iowa
Graduate High Place

To rank third in the entire United States in the civil service examinations held by the United States legislative survey this year was an honorable achievement. This was attained by an Iowa graduate, Mr.
Thomas L. Glock, who was elected assistant in the office of the United States legislative survey in 1933.

The examination was administered in a competitive test, and Mr. Glock was ranked third in the entire United States in the civil service examinations. This achievement is a testi-fication of the high standards of education and training that are available in Iowa's universities.

Politics of Rome Are Compared With Modern United Times in Lecture

Knowledge of Roman history is very important to modern Am­ericans, according to Prof. B. L. Upton, Tuesday evening. "Americans can appreciate the use of the past for the present of the future, only by comparing with other coun­tries and other ages," he said.

Modern campaign methods run rife in ancient Rome. Candidates sought the favors of the electorate. Publicans spread broad, as they exist­ed at that time, and such headlines as recently appeared in an American newspaper Republican senators would put strictest on campaign and would have been intelligible to a Roman.

Now that the emperors "attitude of modernness and the modernness of policy, is to be compared with other countries and other ages," he said.

When One Owns a Wash Skirt it is Possible to Always Be Decked Out in White

Fashionable women everywhere have accepted the Wash Skirt as just the thing for informal summer occasions, the tennis court and the links. And the sunny white, unusually chic originations have just the right air of charm and youthfulness about them. Choice of many different styles are offered here.

They're Pre-shrunken

Wash Skirts are made of fine white gaberdines, tricotines, and barolet Satin. The washing supposedly melts the wool weave and the finish of the fabrics is much the same, in fact one can scarcely see the difference.

They're snappy styles too. Sizes range from 24 to 32 belt measure. Extra sizes range from 32 to 40 belt measure. The prices are $5.00, $6.00, $7.50, $8.50 and $10.00.
