LIFE OF BECKER EXEMPLIFIED OLD SLOGAN—IOWA FIGHTS

"Iowa Fights" has been the slogan of the Iowa football team for a very long time. Dr. Becker was hard pressed to get a team together to challenge Haywood's team on victory over Iowa field. The records of 1921 show that the same spirit went with the same team but the ‘Iowa Fights’ in the former game of war.

Iowa has on her records no finer example of her "Old Fight Spirit" than that found in the life of Fred H. Becker, who was killed in action at Charlie Yerkes two years ago—in memory. Fred Becker was born Nov. 6, 1895, at Waterloo, Iowa. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Becker, of 244 Newell street, Waterloo. He graduated from the Tabor High school, Waterloo, in 1913, and was then ordered to report for duty in the 7th Field Artillery of the city of Iowa in the fall of that year.

Playing his first year of collegiate football, entering all the athletic sports in which he was placed in Keokuk's all-American first team as right halfback, and was also selected by Keokuk in the Chicago Tribune as the best full back in the state and was an exceptional one in any one.

Becker's career as an athlete only lasted to the splendidly good year which he took to the University of Iowa in the great game of war which called him from his University work in May, 1917. After a time in the Medical college, he was sent to the front in France and was ordered to report to the commanding officer at the point of embarkation, France, to take the first detachment of two thousand soldiers to be sent to France. He sailed from Hoboken on the 'Mancheste' on September 5, arrived at France on September 18.

After three months in an officer training school he was assigned to the 5th Co. of the Fifth Regiment Marine and was with this company continuously until May, when he was assigned to the 6th Co. of the same regiment. While with the 5th Co. he was more and more in the line of duty as having a led to successful war work against a superior force of German.

On June 6, 1917, he was slightly wounded in the shoulder by a fragment of shell. When recovered he was ordered to a field hospital until July, when he rejoined the old 5th. After three months in an officers' course at Fort Snelling he was ordered to report for duty in "Manchuria" in an officers' course at Fort Snelling he was ordered to report for duty in "Manchuria" and was then ordered to report for duty in the Far East.

"The last I saw of Fred," he writes, "he was walking along with his gigantic stride, his hands in his raised pant pockets, at the head of his plato, as calmly as though he were walking in a city street on a Sunday afternoon.

"It is not to be thought of, however, in the limited time that he was with us, but his highest degree, doctor of philosophy, is from Columbia, and he has been a teacher, has school and university work under the director of Ben. T. Pi, Phi Delta Kappa, and Phi Beta Kappa.

The following additional to the faculty of the University of Iowa's college of education and will be an important addition to the student body. Dr. Becker and Dr. Knight will take up their work at Iowa with the opening of the regular academic year on September 21.
