VARSITY SCORES VERY HIGHLY

While Coach Jumbo Stinchum's In-Training team was doing pretty well, Franklin eleven on Jordan field, coach Howard Jones's eleven were taking on the second team on Iowa field last night in preparation for the contest with Varsity Saturday. The game was played on the Hoosier field next Saturday night. A few Permitting, the game was played in a large crowd.

Last night's scrimmage, which lasted fifteen minutes, was the best of the season, and the Iowa eleven showed up well, with the Iowa coach giving the boys a hard time. The first time they took the oval on the kick, and they held the ball for nine minutes. But it was only until Aubrey drove right through for a toucher after a race. The right half carried the oval over the ten yard line to which place place passed by. He had advanced the advance.

In the battery, where the Varsity was given the ball, Kelly made the first score on a pass from Locke. Locke assured the line for good work, and the next pass was taken by Van from his run. Kade also broke into the line by drawing down a long pass heard Locke and from the half ball on the next play for the Iowa eleven. Locke had got his work hard for fifteen minutes. They were rotated and sent them to their original practice while the second and third divided the battery by the Iowa eleven.

When the Varsity lined up for the kickoff, Van Oosterbeek, the Big Oy, was at left guard while his regular Hunter in Friday night's play, was placed at right guard. This was the way he is going to be doing. Van Oosterbeek held it charged through and opened holes through the battery and led his team home for a past. Later is the practice Minick sends with the Varsity and from Van and Locke. Locke has been in to have dealt with in picking up a man from the Iowa eleven. The ball and Chicago for the position is the Iowa eleven. Locke used all at guard on his second team.

Kadence started at left end and also showed up well, on a kick off and another time when he hung one of Van Oosterbeek's aerial forces for a gain of fifteen yards. Locke still had better a step into the position later in the practice while he still held a little by injury. Longley entered with an all star trio, Keene, Flater, and Fielding on his right. In the backfield, Van Oosterbeek, and Locke and the ship, Aubrey and Gles at the halves, and Locke plunging the line. Before the scrimmage, when they had a few deep kicks the former showing that he was a fast foot listening.

Pretty Garments for College Days

EAGERLY and with delightful anticipation awaits the arrival of the new fall modes which are truly as much a part of the Autumnal season as are light frosts, changing leaves, and birds flying south. Newness is the keynote of every display. Lines, fabrics and colorings are different—only quality remains, in this store, forever the same. Your interest will not lag for there is so much here to be seen.

Modes of Evening

Scintillating fabrics, nets, laces and tulle all do their share to make milady appear more lovely in the Evening. Skirt sections of the gowns, brief in front, extend into trains of moderate length and exceeding richness. The bodices are artfully draped and in most cases sleeveless. The Wraps win the hearts of all who see them with their gorgeous fabrics and graceful lines.

Lay of Land in the Big Ten.

Iowa a Chance.

And Minnesota, but both of those places in the Big Ten are as uniformly successful as Mr. Zupke.

It seems but reasonable that in the view of anyone here out team has escaped defeat before the end of the season. But last year's team played its best and Chicago and Illinois come.

If you have escape defeat before the end of the season, the narrowest of half of the team has doubtless have reasons for their ability. There are good reasons for believing that that team will be Iowa. To begin with, Iowa has practically nothing to do with training. No other team has been as far from men and the number of men that left but two games last year and both of those by the narrowest of margins. A very slight change in the luck against either Chicago or Illinois would have turned defeat into victory. It seems reasonable that in the coming season, Iowa's veteran team can go without asking anything from luck.

Iowa is, moreover, very fortunate in the veteran that it has. Aubrey Dorr, Pluto, and Belling are a trio that can hardly be matched by any other Conference team. While other universities may have one man that they can't trade for any star that Iowa has, there can hardly be anyone that has three men that it would place those three from Iowa.

Neither has Iowa any concern about the coaching of its team. Mr. Jones has, as it were, come along as Mr. Hugg at Chicago, nor has he been as unaccountably successful as Mr. Floyd at Illinois. But he has turned out terms that had those of Mr. Williams and even within an ace of beating those of Mr. Hugg and Mr. Floyd.

Mr. Jones is, in his handling of the Iowa boys, all. Mr. Jones was able to avoid a mixed-up smash-up that occurred in the conference. This accomplishment is itself deserves as small amount of praise and great credit should be given to Mr. Watson, who has a remarkable record as a coach. The students of Iowa may consider themselves fortunate in having a trainer who knows how to keep men in shape and a coach who knows how to benefit by such a trainer. Both on the ground of efficiency and on the ground of coaching, Iowa can look forward with confidence to the coming season.

It would be interesting to know how many different students hold in the west really think that their team is just a little bit better than any other in the Conference. More than that, however, necessary to guess at these in the coming season. From the point of view of anyone here out team has a little edge on anybody else's team, and we can satisfy large reason for the faith that is in us. Before the season is over, we may have to earn us that we went mistakes, but it will take an actual beating to show us our errors.

The Iowa schedule is hard, but not particularly harder that that of its rivals. In fact, it perhaps unfavorable to the two of the three games that will settle Iowa's fortune this year. They are to be played away from home. But both of those are on the other fellow's fields, and this year because of that they are the same as if any of them went through the schedule and defeat those four. If so, the conference will be all out for the Iowa-Cornell battle.

It's difficult to play the other fellow in his own territory, but Iowa will have to learn how to keep men in shape and a coach who knows how to benefit by such a trainer. Both on the ground of efficiency and on the ground of coaching, Iowa can look forward with confidence to the coming season.

EXAMINATION OF PUPILS IS BEGUN

Physical and Psychological Tests Introduced to Elementary and High Schools

Significant findings are made in physical and psychological examinations begun at the Child Welfare Research station to be given every three months to pupils of the University elementary and high schools.

Anthropometric measurements are made on boys and girls in the lower grades and in addition a general health inspection is made by the school nurse and by the teacher of physical training, with a view to locating specific defects and conditions needing corrective work in the gymnasium.

The psychological division of the research station has been equally busy preparing for the individual mental examinations which are made each year on all observation school pupils and group examination which is given to all children above the third grade.

The diary of this division shows for this week the following entries:

"Physical examination of a boy, 2 yrs. 11 mos., age and a girl two years, seven months, children of two professors in the University. Both children are of superior mentality.

"Psychological examination of a boy, thirteen brought from Dubuque by a lawyer who wished to have him admitted to the Mooseheart home. The superintendent of the home would not receive the boy without information as to the boy's mentality. The boy was examined by a number of the research station staff three months ago, at the request of a physician in the University hospital, where the boy had had an operation. At that time he was in very poor physical condition. The examiner felt, however, that the boy was of normal intelligence and recommended reexamination when he was in better physical condition. The second examination confirmed the impression that the boy was of good average ability, and he will probably be admitted to the home on the strength of the research station's recommendation.

"Test given a girl who had been transferred from a rural school to determine the advisability of admitting her to the ninth grade of the University school, though she had not completed her eighth grade work. The girl was found to be above the average in intelligence and well able to make up any work she had missed through the difference in grading of the two schools.

"Examination of a six year old boy. Cerebral case in a state school recommended.

"Interview with a mother of a ten year old girl, examined to determine the cause of pedagogical retardation. The mother stated the child probably explained her school history, but in a possible thyroid disturbance medical examination at the University hospital was recommended.

"In the school survey now being carried on by Dr. Bird T. Baldwin, Dr. Leslie J. Rorer, and Mr. Robert Mayberry of the research station are cooperat­ ing with Dr. Ernest Horn, Dr. T. J. Kirby, Dr. William J. McDonald, Mr. Elinor L. Bier, Miss Laura Chamberl and Miss Joan Green Speirs of the University schools.

Week’s Drill for Hoosiers

The Hawks have a whole week in which to prime themselves for the clash that will eliminate the loser in a conference championship contender. This means that Iowa field will be the scene of hard drills in the next few days, for the Hawkeyes center is taking no chances with the Indiana eleven, a team that is considered by many to be of the first water. Earl Wells, president of Irv-

The Student Christian Associations Co-operating
SUMMER SESSION BREAKS RECORD
Largest increase in enrollment and number of courses made 1920 Session Successful

The Summer Session of 1920 was easily the most successful one in the history of the University, according to C. H. Weller, superintendent of the Summer Session. A greater enrollment than ever before is being made to the number of courses offered gave ample proof that the Summer Session has become a very important part of the school year.

Various events were held for the entertainment of the summer school students. 160 men attended the University Men's Dinner held at Reichardt's Restaurant early in the first term. A number of excursions were made in different points of interest. It was necessary to make three trips to Ames in order to accommodate all the applicants. Fifty students made the excursion to the Rock Island Arsenal in the latter part of July. A large number took the trip to the Quaker Oats factory at Cedar Rapids.

There was a large increase in the enrollment for both first and second terms. The total registration for the summer was 1890 as compared to 1909 for the session of 1919. According to Mr. Weller more students studied for both terms this year than in any former season. Comparison with figures from other institutions shows that this tendency is also prevalent at other institutions.

Plans are already being made for a still more successful session next summer with a greater enrollment and an increase in available courses.

COMING TO COLLEGE

The change from a life at home to a life "away at school," which is being realized by a large number of Americans this fall is one of adjustment and adaptation to new surroundings. Many freshmen will find life in college entirely different from that which they had pictured. They will find that their college friends have come home and "told them all about it" have each stressed different things, inconclusively giving the prospective student a rather confused idea of his new life.

To those who have heard nothing but stories about the gay social life at college, colleges may appear rather disappointing, while those who come to college with pictures of themselves dallying up all night every night with a towel around their heads, studying, may also suffer disillusion.

The first thing to learn, when leaving one environment for another, is to be able to adapt one's self to the established customs and circumstances of the new life. For a newcomer to try and resist all college customs and to establish new routines for his own ideas, is little short of suicide, in the eyes of a body of critical college students, and where there is a group so critical of personality and practice as is found in college?

Freshmen and prospective freshmen, learn to be yourself and spend a few weeks in thought before you pass judgment on the present manner of doing things—The Grinell Scarecrow and Black.

HOWLING 300
Every Hart Schaffner & Marx tailor is an expert in one operation; if one man makes better edges than another man, he makes nothing but edges. If one man does best on buttonholes, he makes nothing else. So nothing but the best tailoring skill goes into each garment.

What They'll Wear This Fall

Simplicity is the main note in men's clothes this fall; plain single and double breasted models.

The style is in the drape; in the lines; in the lower coat opening; the slightly looser coats; the shorter vents; the lower waistline.

It takes real designing art to make such clothes distinctive. Hart Schaffner & Marx know how better than any makers we know of. They know how to make clothes that last, too.

That's the reason we feature their goods exclusively. New fall models at $55.00
