SCORE MADE ON FRESHMAN TEAM WITH SIX PLAYS

Devines, Belding, and Locke Easily Break Through Yearlings For Long Gains

LONGLEY SHOWING UP WELL

Indiana Plays Executed by Frosh Fail to Make Impression on Varsity — Aerial Attacks Net Many Yards — Minick and Block Work Well on Left Side of Line

Whether it was the new sweat shirts that the Hawks were wearing or whether it was due to something else, anyway you take it, the varsity had the yearlings fooled to such an extent in last night's scrimmage that it required but six plays to score one touchdown on Ashmore and Brigham's freshmen and only three more for another, in the third hard practice of the week before the Indiana contest. The forward passing attack that Kelly employed was bewildering to the frozen spectators; it was just one successful aerial toss after the other, Belding, Kadesky and Glenn Devine gathering the perfectly passed pigskin that Aubrey was throwing with the accuracy of a baseball.

Every play that the Hawks tried worked with the exception of one, and the only reason that this one failed to work was that Glen Devine missed the signal. Locke carried the oval over for the first marker with Glen Devine hooking a forward pass for the second. Three more plays had carried the ball for sixty yards in the march for the third counter when Trainer Jack Watson told the varsity to hike for the showers.

Longley Coming Fast

At the start of the season fans thought that the center position would be weak, but from the vast improvement that Longley has shown in the last three nights, this position should be a strong one. The big fellow is going better each night and with Jones working with him individually he should not take long to develop into a capable pivot man. Last night he charged through the frosh line in a Depler-like manner, throwing the backs for losses on more than one occasion. Along with him there were Minick and Block who kept up the rapid pace that they have been setting all week. Minick's hand is rapidly healing so that with the left hand ready for use he should be better than ever.

Kadesky took left end in the practice, although smaller than the rest of the linemen the Dubuque dent is putting up a battle for the left wing and from the looks of things he is likely to start Saturday. Ty Smith ran signals and followed the varsity's actions in the scrimmage. An injured leg has kept him out of scrimmage but the Marshalltown lad can be thankful that it is in early season that he is injured and not in the middle of the schedule.

RIDER CHOSEN MANAGER FOR 1922 HAWKEYE

Dwight G. Rider, Phi Gamma Delta, of Waterloo, was elected business manager of the 1922 Hawkeye at a meeting of the Hawkeye board of trustees held yesterday afternoon. Mr. Rider is a first year law student and has had previous experience at annual work. Other applicants for the position were Joyce Wengert, Phi Kappa Sigma, Harry W. Kamer, and Joe B. Lye, Alpha Tau Omega.

Mr. Rider was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the inability of Sherman G. Drake, who was elected business manager last June, to return to the University this fall.

A. F. I. FAVORS WEARING OF GREEN CAPS FOR FRESHMEN

A. F. I., honorary senior men's society, is decidedly in favor of the green cap movement according to resolutions adopted at the first meeting of the year held Monday noon at the Pagoda. These resolutions are in part as follows:

"We believe this to be to the best interests of the University in that it would strengthen the class and school spirit of the institution. We do not desire this to be construed as a step towards hazing or abusive class distinction, but earnestly desire the co-operation of the freshmen as well as the other classes in this attempt to better the school spirit.

"Previous experiments in other schools have shown conclusively that better class organization and unification of purpose have been the result wherever tried. Therefore, with the best interests of the school at heart, we heartily endorse and will endeavor to support and assist in the adoption of such a custom."

GAME REPORTS START SATURDAY

Telegraphic Account of Tilt With Hoosiers to be Held at the N. S. Auditorium

Direct telegraphic reports on the Iowa-Indiana game will be received in the natural science auditorium Saturday when Iowa begins its fight for the conference championship.

The game will be reported in detail so that every play and score will be given by the position of football on a miniature canvass field, showing the progress of the game just as it is played at Bloomington. Prof. Louis Pelzer will receive the reports from Leon H. Brigham, assistant athletic director, who will be in charge of the Indiana end.

Holders of "I" books will be admitted to the auditorium without charge, but the admission for others will be fifty cents. Mr. Brigham expects to have preliminary reports here a few minutes before three o'clock. The game is scheduled to begin at three.

EMERSON HOUGH WRITES FOR OCTOBER ALUMNUS

"The Trails of Letters" by Emerson Hough and "Opening Days" by President Ermitus Thomas H. Macbride, will be the two leading articles in the first issue of the Iowa Alumnus which will appear on the campus October 15th.

Emerson Hough was graduated from the college of liberal arts in 1880 and is now widely known as a novelist and writer. Among popular works are "54-40 or Fight" and "The Mississippi Bubble". Mr. Hough was in Iowa City last commencement time attending the reunion of his class and arrangements for the article were made then.

President Ermitus Macbride became a member of the faculty in 1878 and was named president of the University in 1914, serving in that capacity until 1916. His reflections on what opening days of the University were, are the subjects of his articles.

LAW STUDENTS CHOOSE STAFF FOR BULLETIN

At a meeting of the law students Monday night, in which new members of the editorial staff of the Iowa law bulletin were elected, it was decided to publish the first copy of the law bulletin some time in November, according to A. W. Smith, L3.

New members of the editorial staff are H. H. Miller, Webster City, F. M. Miller, Des Moines, F. H. Uriell, Elkader, E. V. Zahorack, Iowa City, Craig M. Arbuckle, Waterloo, Clyde H. Doolittle, Delhi, and G. H. Hoffman, Leon.

Members of last year's staff who remain in office are E. F. Rate, Iowa City, and A. W. Smith, Preston. Officials are picked from men of high rank in their representative classes.

L. A. COLLEGE HAS COUNCIL GUMMED UP

Failure of Liberal Arts Students To Ratify Constitution Leaves a Puzzle

COUNCIL TO MEET NEXT WEEK

Doolittle Says Sentiment of Students is Question—Constitution was Offered Last Year—Academic Students Must Indorse It or Suggest Plan, According to President

With campus politics in a tangle, due to the failure of the college of liberal arts to ratify the student council's constitution last spring, little is known about what angles may develop this fall until the first meeting of the council some time next week.

Last year a constitution was drawn up in which ten votes were given professional colleges and eight to the college of liberal arts. The academic college contended that representation should be based on the number of students, while professional colleges were of the belief that it was a question of a group of colleges without feeling.

"I do not know what sentiment the liberal arts college will take this fall," said Clyde H. Doolittle, president of the student council, last night. "There are only two things that can be done: either the liberal arts college must ratify the present constitution, or present some feasible plan, acceptable to all colleges."

As the matter now stands, there is a student council with representatives not from liberal arts.

from all professional colleges but

DEBATE TRYOUTS ARRANGED

Forensic Council Sets October 11 and 12 for Preliminary Tryouts

Preliminary tryouts for the intercollegiate debating team will be held Monday and Tuesday, October 11 and 12, it was decided at a meeting of the forensic council Tuesday evening. The final tryouts will be conducted on the following Thursday, October 14.

All undergraduate students except freshmen are eligible for a place on the team providing they have good scholastic standing, according to Earl W. Wells, president of the council.

In the preliminary try-outs each contestant will be given five minutes in which to present one side of the major issues of the present national political campaign. There will be no rebuttal in the try-outs. About fifteen men will be picked for the finals in which the contestants will probably be given ten minutes for their presentation. In these finals the subject will be governed by the will of the judges.

Every man wishing to tryout for the team must submit his name at the office of Prof. Mabie, head of the public speaking department, by 12 o'clock Friday, Oct. 8.

The hour at which the contestants should appear for the preliminaries will be announced on the bulletin board of the public speaking department in the N. S. building.

LAW COLLEGE BOASTS LARGE INCREASE IN ENROLLMENT

The college of law at present heads the list for increased enrollment. There are at present a total of 158 students enrolled in the law college, the largest since the two year college entrance requirement went into effect in 1915.

First year enrollment exceeds last year's registration in this college by three, while the second year class is approximately twice as large as in 1919-20. The senior class continues to be the smallest of the four, being almost the same size as last year.

LIMIT MAY BE MADE ON BASKETBALL ADMISSIONS

Admission to basketball games may be limited to holders of "I" tickets during the coming season, Leon H. Brigham, assistant athletic director announced today.

"It is a certainty," said Mr. Brigham, "that some method of limiting attendance to the games must be adopted because of the limited seating capacity of the armory." The plan most liable to be adopted is that of allowing admission to holders of "I" tickets only.

The Intercollegiate Basketball Association has ruled that in all Big Ten games, a cleared space of two feet between the spectators and the playing line must be maintained. This will further limit the seating capacity of the armory so that some definite action on the matter is necessary.

FRIVOL PLEDGES OLD GOLD FROSH

University Humorous Magazine Appears With Appropriate Green Cover Design

Two-bit pieces and dimes rapped impatiently on the board by students eager to buy the pledge number of Frivol, told of the popularity which attended the sale of the University's humorous magazine, which made its appearance on the campus yesterday morning.

This number dedicated to the freshman, the pledges of Old Gold, consistently carried out the idea of the unsophisticated: The green cover design, done by Edith Bell of the department of Graphic and Plastic Arts, the frivolous profusion of Greek-letter emblems, and a score of caustic contributions from the pens of its editors, Warren L. Bassett and Harold Andrews.

A number of upperclassmen have praised the pledge number as being the best of the five issues of this magazine. "In Order That You Won't go Wrong," "The Unhung Pin," "In Flapper Time," and the short articles "The Optimist" and "Our Short Story." The art work of the magazine has likewise been spoken of approvingly. "Roll Your Own," the big "I," "We Men Must Hang Together," and the cover design have been especially appreciated.

CHARLTON SEES BIG YEAR AHEAD FOR A. F. I. MEN

"A. F. I. is going to try this year to exemplify better than ever the all for Iowa spirit," said Clyde B. Charlton, of Rolfe, newly elected president of the senior men's honorary society. "We are going back to every University activity to the limit. A. F. I. has always been active in getting men to come to Iowa and we are going to work hard with this end in view this year."

Charlton, who has just been made the recipient of one of the highest honors that can be won by an undergraduate is a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity. He is a letter man in football. A bad shoulder has kept him from going on the team this year. He has always been active in his class, being class president his freshman year and chairman of the class dance committee for the other two years.

Other officers of the society are: Secretary, Robert W. Hayes, of Iowa City; treasurer, Floyd E. Page, of Ida Grove; and historian, Frank K. Shuttleworth, of Sibley. Hayes is a member of the editorial staff of The Daily Iowan and was a member of the class dance committee for two years. Page was president of his class in the law college last year and won his I in track. He is a member of Acacia. Shuttleworth is president of the Y. M. C. A.

LONDON DOCTOR LAUDS MEDICAL BRANCH AT IOWA

William Morris, Noted English Surgeon Visits University Wednesday Morning

CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL PRAISED

Well-known Specialist is a Record Swimmer — In Army For Five Years — Has Been at Rochester — Entertained at Luncheon by President Walter A. Jessup

"From what I have seen of your establishment, it does not seem to me that one could wish for any better," said Dr. William Morris, a noted London ear, nose and throat specialist, at the conclusion of his Wednesday morning's visit to the University hospital.

"Your children's hospital is truly wonderful," continued the surgeon. Dr. Morris then went on to explain that in London the hospitals were all started as charitable institutions, and have continued along that plan whereas in America a large number of them receive state aid.

Doctor Morris, who is only thirty-two years old, hold a fellowship in the Royal College of Surgeons in England, and is an athlete of some prominence, having won the King's cup in 1912, for the swimming championship of England.

He also has a notable war record. He served as a major in the English army for five years during the recent war and was in charge of England's base hospitals in France when hostilities ceased.

He is a special assistant to Doctor Sherren, celebrated London abdominal specialist, and was sent by Doctor Sherren to the Mayo Brothers hospital at Rochester, Minn. He spent two weeks there in research work under Dr. Charles Mayo. Dr. Mossis came to the University from Des Moines.

Following his visit to the hospital the doctor was entertained at luncheon at the Jefferson by President Walter A. Jessup, following which he left for Traer to visit friends. He plans to go from their to Chicago, returning to London by November 1.

RAINBOW VETERANS PLAN TO OPEN YEAR WITH BANQUET

A stag banquet at Hotel Jefferson will open the year for the Old Gold chapter of the Rainbow division veterans association at the University. The banquet is dated for Wednesday, October 6, at 7 o'clock.

James E. Thomas, president of the Rainbow chapter, says that almost all of last year's members have returned, and with some new additions the club membership may total more than thirty.

Business to be taken care of at Wednesday's banquet includes election of officers for the coming year, it is announced. The Rainbow division veterans association is composed of men who have served with the forty-second division overseas. The Old Gold chapter was organized in the University a year ago, and its official charter was granted about the first of January.

APPLICATIONS TO VOTE MUST BE FILED BY OCT. 31

Applications to vote by the men and women who are non-resident students, and who intend to vote at the coming presidential election, must be filed with the auditors of their respective counties not more than ten or less than three days prior to November 2.

Students who intend to make Iowa City their permanent home and who have been a resident here for sixty days, may cast their vote in Iowa City.

STANDING ON A HILL

A remark of Dr. William Morris, London specialist, about the equipment of the University, invites a little attention to the real scope of the institution.

A newcomer finds himself at first somewhat baffled by the size of the curriculum, the number of buildings, the groups of students and other groups of faculty members, but he may drop into his little niche in a short time, eat his meals regularly at a boarding house or cafe or live at a dormitory or fraternity house and go his little round of routine without any actual realization of what is included within the walls of the University.

He may pursue his course of study for months without being acutely aware of the existence of a college of medicine, of clinics, of operations, of a children's hospital, with more operations and more clinics, of crippled little people, and crooked little people being made straight; of students plugging at laws and jurisprudence; of other students remaking teeth for humans; of men working in drugs and acids; of men studying methods and tactics of war, painting, drawing; laying plans; harnessing electricity; cultivating voices, and studying music; analyzing the big mechanism of modern business learning a dozen tongues; playing a dozen games; and digging into a hundred different lines of research.

To stand on the hill and look over the expanse of the University and of what the University is doing and to reflect that every year marks another addition to its scope, and another step in its progress, engenders a feeling of pride that is built on something more than trumped-up enthusiasm.

If you can't see any other football team this fall but Iowa come down to the Iowan office and glance over the newspapers from other Big Ten universities. If early season confidence as expressed by undergraduate sport writers means anything there will be a ten sided tie for first place in the Conference this fall.

Why don't the baseball investigators sleuth out whether Babe Ruth splits any of that $500 he gets for each home run with the pitcher who tips him off when he is going to grove one?

If the socialists would only revive their old war cry of "Debs and free beer" more interest would be taken in the presidential campaign.

The student council without representatives from the college of liberal arts is like the league of nations without the United States.

Some of Iowa City's cafes make excellent rest rooms, don't they? All one has to do is to go in, sit down, order, and then rest.

Whose ice-wagon did you drive this summer?

FRESHMEN AT OHIO STATE

Men's Student Council has once more announced the rules governing freshmen men, and upperclassmen are anxiously waiting to see how the code of laws will be received by the yearlings.

When a man enters the business world the first things almost that his employer notices about his work is the spirit he displays, no matter how routine or dreary the task assigned may become. This is exactly the case with the incoming freshmen. Certain cut and dried rules which they must follow have been laid down. Upperclassmen can only judge the strangers at first glance by their enthusiasm and willingness to enter into the spirit of school affairs. This is the first duty cut out for the first-year men. Their failure to "come through" with a good record right at the start will brand them as unspirited and spineless.

Last year the rules were enforced with much success. The present sophomore class followed the regulations almost to the letter. Today the members are proud of it and congratulating themselves for doing such. It created a class spirit which is extremely difficult to obtain in a large school. Each and every freshman last year stood pat and he knew several thousand others were sticking with him to the last. Friendships that will never die are formed in this manner, and the slight ridicule and self-consciousness heaped upon the freshmen only bound them closer together.

Members of the present junior and senior classes, as well as graduates, have expressed regret that they did not have the chance of getting a taste of real class spirit.

Some years ago the "peanut" headgear was abolished in order to "save the yearlings from embarrassment." Class spirit declined slowly but surely and as seniors those men had no incentive as freshmen to stick together as a unit were unable to agree on matters of vital importance, not only in class affairs but in University matters.

The rules laid down by the men's governing body are not unfair. They are in themselves educational and only help the frosh to remember their class and learn more about the University. The old saying that a man gets out of his school just what he puts into it is ancient, but still holds good. The present freshman class is now on trial.—Ohio State Lantern.

COLD WEATHER BRINGS HEAVY COATS AND FURS TO CAMPUS

Although labor unrest may be beginning to diminish on earth, it seems that the trouble is reaching the solar system, as the janitorial staff on the heavenly heating system has evidently gone on strike.

The thermometer took a drop to thirty-five degrees above zero on Tuesday night according to U. S. weather recorder John F. Reilly, of the University, although there was no frost, due to the light wind all night.

Anyway its cold. And though fiction says that girls stow away the girls at the first hint of cold weather, they seem to be wearing 'em wrapped tight this morning and the men are springing heavy overcoats; even sheepskins.

But cheer up. The Tribune says rising temperature today and java has dropped back to a jitney.

LAWS HOLD SMOKER

The first smoker of the law college will be held in the law building library tonight according to Clyde H. Doolittle.

It is an annual custom to give a smoker during the first part of each year to give freshmen a chance to get acquainted. Plans for the entertainment and program are not yet completed.

SIGN ON PHYSICS BUILDING IS PERMANENT

Engineers as a body voted in favor of the freshman wearing green caps with colored buttons to distinguish the various colleges. G. Wyland, president of the A. S. of A. S. decided to leave the matter up to the Howling 300, with the engineers sanction at their meeting last night in the Engineering building.

The Juniors were assigned to the task of making the electric sign on top of the physics building a permanent asset to Iowa. It was agreed that this sign created a great deal of pep that otherwise would not be manifested. This movement will entail considerable expense and preparations have been started to offset this by various means.

PROFESSORS FINISH BOOKS DURING SUMMER VACATION

Several members of the University faculty have completed the writing of books during the summer and all will soon have them ready for circulation.

Dean Carl E. Seashore, of the graduate college, has written a text book on psychology. The name of it has not been decided upon.

Prof. Charles L. Robbins, of the college of education, recently finished a book on "Socialized Recitation," which is now in the hands of the publishers.

SWIMMING CLASSES START MONDAY

According to Miss Ann Boillin, athletic instructor of swimming classes will start next Monday. The pool will be filled the latter part of this week and recreational classes will start immediately.

The swimming pool was repainted and redecorated this summer and it is hoped by the instructors that the Women's Gymnasium will be able to secure a new diving board soon. The Seal club has already begun its year's work and expects to give an exhibition soon.

DENTAL STUDENTS HOLD MIXER

Tonight all members of the association of dental students will get together in Room 6 of the dental building for an informal smoker and mixer, according to announcement from William C. Cannon, president of the organization. Cannon said the purpose is "simply to get acquainted with all new students."

VARSIITY SCORES AGAINST FRESHMEN IN SIX PLAYS

plays garnered at the last Saturday Franklin tilt, Coach Ashmore had the frosh try them out on the Hawks, but they failed to work. Nearly every play attempted was smothered before it was started, the Hawks being through and on the backs before they found the line of scrimmage.

Coach Jones asked that his team might use the oval a while, and it was not long until the athletes were chasing from one end of the field to the other instead of wearing out the grass in one spot as they did when the yearlings had the ball. The first year backs were in a panic when the Devines and Belding started to employ the aerial route. Ashmore even took particular pains to introduce Mr. Anderson to tackle Block and also to Glen Devine, in the hope that the acquaintance might help the yearlings to stop the plays.

Varsity in Condition

Last night's scrimmage was the final before the kickoff Saturday. Tonight will find the team running signals, tossing the oval with the sure footed Aubrey trying a few kicks and trying a few passes. If necessary Aubrey can put one or two kicks between the posts for a victory. With a wind against his back he sent several over from the forty yard mark last night.

The squad, trainer, and coaches will leave over the Rock Island at 7:55 tonight for Bloomington.

Eliminating Non-essentials

Every one now-a-days is or should be eliminating non-essentials and we are endeavoring to do this in the operation of our business. To this end we have decided to omit our usual Fall Opening or style show—which would necessitate an expenditure of at least Two Hundred Dollars giving our customers the benefits of this saving.

Therefore, Thursday, Sept. 30, we will give

20 % discount on Suits and Overcoats until $1000 worth
has been sold.

It's an unusual opportunity for the thrifty buyer.

Remember $1000.00 worth only will be sold in this way.

Those desiring to take advantage of this saving should be on hand early.
