CHAWA KWAI IS ON WAY TO ILLINOIS FIELD

Annual Japanese Celebration to Be Held in Chicago This Thursday

CHAWA KWAI, Japanese student group at the University of Illinois, has announced plans for an annual Japanese celebration to be held in Chicago this Thursday. The event will take place at the Japanese Center, located at 1115 S. State St., and is open to the public.

CHAWA KWAI is a cultural organization that promotes the study of Japanese language and culture. The group organizes events such as language classes, cultural workshops, and traditional art demonstrations to foster cultural exchange.

The celebration will feature traditional Japanese music and dance performances, as well as a variety of cultural displays and exhibits. Attendees will have the opportunity to learn about Japanese history, art, and cuisine.

Tickets for the event are $10 at the door and $8 online. Advance registration is recommended as space is limited. Parking is available around the center.

The celebration is open to the public and is a great opportunity to experience Japanese culture firsthand.

For more information, contact CHAWA KWAI at 217-333-4567 or visit their website at chawaiakwai.com.
