NO PLANS ARE GIVEN OUT FOR TAFT'S COMING

Ex-President Will Speak at University Armory Friday Night October 22

LEAGUE IS PROBABLE TOPIC

Republican Club Has No Arrangements to Announce — Dolittle Is Out of Town — Taft on Campaign Tour for Harding — First Appearance Here for 13 Years

No arrangements have been made public for the reception of William Howard Taft, ex-president of the United States who speaks at the armory Friday night, October 22, but it is expected that extensive preparations will be under way in a day or so.

Announcement of Mr. Taft's appearance came as a surprise to many of the leaders and members of the republican party in Iowa City. Clyde C. Doolittle L4, president of the republican club, was out of town yesterday afternoon and nothing definite is given out as to the plans of that organization.

In regard to the subject of Mr. Taft's address, Attorney Harold D. Evans, chairman of the republican county central committee, said that it would probably be on the League of Nations.

Mr. Taft is touring the country making addresses in the interest of Warren G. Harding, republican candidate for the presidency. It is thirteen years since ex-president Taft visited Iowa City. His last appearance was made here in June 1907, when he gave an address before the graduating class. Much interest has been aroused over the announcement that Mr. Taft will address the republicans of the city next week, and it was considered necessary by the committee to secure the armory for the occasion in order to handle the crowds anticipated.

STUDENTS IN COLLEGE OF LAW INSTITUTE A HERRING CLUB

"Herring for Governor" is the slogan for the new club to be organized Wednesday evening at the city hall at 7 o'clock. This is a club starting in the law school and spreading over the campus. Its purpose is to boost Herring for governor, and to help the non-resident students to get the privilege of voting. At the meeting Wednesday evening there will be a speaker from the Herring headquarters at Des Moines, who will give an address.

There will also be election of officers and probably the drawing up of a constitution or by-laws. The meeting is open to all University students, whether democrats or not.

ALL-MASON SMOKER TUESDAY

A reception for all University Masons will be given by the local lodge at the Masonic Temple, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

The address of welcome will be given by Attorney H. Walker, and the response for the students by Floyd E. Page. It is hoped that President Walter A. Jessup will speak on "Masonry and Its Place in the University." George F. Kay, dean of the college of liberal arts, will also take part in the program. The latter part of the evening will be given over to a smoker and a general get-together.

TESTS GIVEN TO ALL BUT 300

Eighty-six freshmen took the intelligence examination which is being given to new students by the psychology department to-day. This brings the total number of students who have taken this examination up to 838. According to Mabel Williams, assistant professor in the department of philosophy and psychology, there are over 1000 freshmen in liberal arts this year, making almost 300 who have not yet taken the required examination.

HORACK WILL DISCUSS VOTES AND PROCESS OF BALLOTING

President Walter A. Jessup has appointed Prof. F. E. Horack of the department of political science to make necessary arrangements to facilitate voting by University students under the absent voters' law, and to give members of the student body information to enable them to proceed properly in casting ballots.

Professor Horack will contribute four short stories to The Daily Iowan during the coming week on the right of suffrage, registration, the absent voter's law, and marking the ballot. These articles will contain interesting information on the mechanics of the coming election.

HAWKEYE CONFERENCE HOPES GET JOLT IN ILLINOIS VICTORY, 20 TO 3

CROWD OF 3000 HEARS REPORTS OF ILLINI GAME

Long Map of Football Field in the Front of Middle Section is Center of Interest

RECORD CROWD FOR REPORTS

Tent in Field Houses Telegraph Operator and Apparatus — Crowd Showed Pep to Last Whistle — Professor Lambert Reads Reports — Same for Chicago.

With weather conditions perfect, 3000 students heard the reports of the Iowa-Illinois game at Iowa field yesterday afternoon. There was plenty of pep and most of the crowd stuck until the last telegram was read.

A long map of a football field was painted and stretched before the center section. A tent was erected in the middle of the oval for the Western Union operator and his sounder.

Everyone was on his toes during the entire game. Lloyd W. Burns, cheer leader of the Howling 300 led yells between halves.

Byron J. Lambert, professor in the college of applied science, carried the ball on the map and announcements were made by Louis Urdangen. Many remarks were current about the number of rooters present aggregating the largest crowd that has yet listened to telegraphic reports. The same method is expected to be used for the Chicago-Iowa game next Saturday, if weather permits.

WOMEN ATTEND LECTURES AND LEARN TO VOTE

University women prepared themselves to vote at the presidential election, November 2, by attending a series of school of citizenship lectures delivered by University professors. Prof. A. M. Schlesinger explained "The Function of Parties," and "What Parties Stand for Historically"; Prof. Benjamin F. Shambaugh explained "The Constitution of the United States," and "The Constitution of Iowa," Prof. Kirk H. Porter explained "The Recent Conventions and Party Platforms," and O. E. Klingaman, director of the extension division, explained "The Machinery of Voting."

According to Mr. Klingaman, the three state political parties are the republican, the democratic and the socialist. He explained the methods of voting.

Registration is required in all cities with a population of 6000 or more. Days for registration are October 21, 22, and 23.

WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION HOST TO 75 UPPER-CLASS GIRLS

Seventy-five new upper-class women were entertained by the members of the Women's Association in the liberal arts drawing room Friday afternoon from 4 to 6. Margaret Holmes, president of the Women's Association, acted as master of ceremonies. Talks were given by Mrs. Nellie S. Aurner and Miss Violet Blakely, Margaret Holmes of Women's Association, Alice Cavin of Y. W. C. A., Jean Speirs of the W. A. A., and Dorothy Banks of Staff and Circle. Irma Dorgan A1, gave a solo dance, and vocal selections were given by Alice Ingham and Lorna Schuppert.

RUNNERS TO TRY OUT TOMORROW

First Competition for Hill and Dale Squad Will Be Held on Armory Track

First tryouts to pick candidates for the University cross country team will be held tomorrow, on the inside track of the armory. At this time fifteen men will be picked, according to M. F. Carpenter, assistant to Watson, trainer. A subsequent tryout will be held within a week at which time ten men will be selected. Everything will then be in order for the final test when six men are to be picked, five regulars and one substitute.

Among others who have been working for places are Captain Arthur G. Kruse of last year's team, George C. Ashton, Alfred E. Baldrige, O. K. Burrell, Byron Biersborne, Lester Dyke, J. R. Hansen, T. R. Hansen, J. F. Loeck, Frederick M. Miller, Harold Murray, Donald Madee, Robert Nelsen, Gus Nelsen, Harold Park, Albert Pertle, Lester V. Peterman, L. F. Ristine, Vernon Sharp, Carl Tucker, O. W. Bunker, W. H. Drummond and Theodore Benzigerdes.

Captain Arthur G. Kruse is a runner of experience. Ristine and Peterman are two milers of last year's team. These men bid fair to hold their old positions against stiff competition.

A dual meet has been arranged with Cornell for November 6. "This will be a hard fight, said Mr. Carpenter, "because Cornell always has a strong cross country team."

A dual meet is to be held here, November 13, with Minnesota. Little is known regarding Minnesota's strength this year but if last year is a basis for dope, Iowa will not be hard pressed by the Gophers.

TWO FUMBLES TURN TIDE TO URBANA TEAM

Hawkeye Passes Working Smoothly But Fail to Penetrate Enemy Territory

BREAK COMES IN THE THIRD

Play Kept in Illinois Country During First Half — Zupke's Men Forced to Punt Three Times in Opening Session — First Touchdown a Run from Fumble — Devine Gains

Although Illinois men failed to complete a forward pass and three times failed on place kicks from the field and one drop kick, they were able to slip a 20 to 3 score over on Coach's Jones' conference hopes yesterday afternoon.

Two bad fumbles at the opening of the first half put the Iowa eleven in a hole from the start, forcing A. Devine to kick immediately and Illinois backs were able to gain through and around Iowa's line. Fletcher and Sabo took advantage of four opportunities to boot the ball over from placement but only one was a success. Hellstrom made the drop kick in the third quarter.

Iowa repeatedly worked passes successfully but not successfully enough to get into Illinois territory deep enough for danger but twice, once in the fourth quarter, when Devine dropped one neatly over the goal from the Illinois 40 yard line.

The first half saw most of the play in Illinois territory. Illinois was forced to punt three times during the game and two of these were fumbled by Iowa backs.

Although doped to be a close game, the breaks of the play threw Iowa in the hole and they were not able to cope with the battering plunges and speedy shifting of the Illinois backs. Illinois touchdowns both came in the third quarter, the first half ending 3 to 0 for the orange and blue. Illinois first touchdown came when Carney picked up Kelly's fumble and raced 35 yards over the goal.

Devine was frequently called on for plunges and passes, and was usually good for a gain, while Crangle, Fletcher and Walquist of Illinois repeatedly hit the Iowa line for gains. Locke was only called upon few times and Galloping Joe Sykes who entered for A. Devine in the third quarter was not given a chance to show his speed.

First Quarter

2 p. m. It is clear and too warm for football by far. A slight southwest wind is blowing. The west stand is to hold the Iowa rooters and is filling rapidly. Over two hundred Hawkeye fans have purchased tickets and will make a life sized rooters section. The Illinois band is on the job early. A large Iowa pennant marked the Old Gold rooters section.

Ten Illinois cheer leaders come on the field followed by the two Iowa cheer leaders, Barney Dondore and Don Searles in uniform. Iowa squad comes on field at 2:18 and the varsity runs signals. Illinois team comes on field one minute later. Illinois runs signals and Hellstrom is called on to do boting. A. Devine practices kicking. Toss coins. Depler wins toss and chooses to defend south goal. A. Devine gets ready to kick off for Iowa.

Devine kicks over goal line. Ball is brought out to the 20 yard line. Hell-

UNIVERSAL SOCIAL TRAINING

To-day the reception committee warbles unintelligible introductions, self-conscious young men with hands that feel like picnic hams juggle cups of tea and frappe, and "our freshmen," and "your freshmen," and "their freshmen," and "freshmen," and light wafers, and afternoon gowns, and bouquets, and bromides mingle at open house in the homes of seven sororities in Iowa City.

Back in the municipal center of New England culture, some wag concocted a little poetical toast which runs something like this:

"Here's to dear old Boston, The home of the sacred cod; Where the Cabots speak only to Lowells, And the Lowells speak only to God."

One of the drawbacks of a large University is the fact that it is necessary to divide the student body into certain social groups. Society naturally divides itself that way, but except in colleges and in Boston the division is ordinarily a less arbitrary one. In Boston it is the Cabots and Lowells, in college, acquaintance is more or less limited to membership in social organizations.

It is of course foolish to assume that a sorority, or even seven sororities could open hospitable doors to all of the masculine undergraduates on the campus, but it seems unfortunate that the discrimination must be made on the basis of fraternity membership even in view of the character and worth that is behind it.

Would it not be a feasible plan, for consideration at least, to think of an all-University reception, an open house for everybody, or an open house by classes, under the direction of a woman's organization. Perhaps there might be worked out here in a part of the country which is less bound by convention and tradition, a larger notion of friendship, of everyday democratic conduct, even in a social group of five thousand.

VOTING ON BEAUTY

A most amusing incident is an argument between two or more fairly rational gentlemen over the relative merits of light and dark meat in roast fowl, or upon the subject of the contrasted pleasantness of the different colors in the spectrum, or upon the qualities of beauty in human beings.

Some writers have gone very extensively into the subject of beauty and some of them seem to have had very pleasing results. One epigrammatic fellow averred that beauty was only skin deep, and straightway created a more or less diplomatic conversational bromide that has had a long and healthy career. But for the most part the lesser lights in defining beauty have wandered delightfully about the glade and come out at same old gate at which they entered.

The great poet who contended that "Beauty is in the eye of him who sees it," had run through the matter thoughtfully, and arrived at some workable conclusion, elusive as it is. Beauty reflects itself in as many ways, perhaps, as there are eyes to see it, and the gentlemen who argue about the light and dark meat are embarking on a disagreement that is probably endless because it involves their varying constitutional makeups.

A beauty contest, one of our recent vanities, seeks to arrive at a consensus of opinion on human attractiveness, to record a majority's voice on what is beautiful. It can hardly be taken seriously enough to encourage collusions in favor of any candidate. No amount of the cleverest politics can make a face more beautiful than nature intended, and it only detracts from the fairness of the result.

PALPITATING JEST

A Grinnell professor believes that the nation is losing its sense of humor. "Modern thought tends to be either too radical or too conservative," said the professor. He went on further to point out that the students at Grinnell had lost their sense of humor and had fallen into a sense of complacency.

The professor who made these remarks should not infer from the conduct of the students in his own college that the entire world has fallen into tedium. Quite the reverse. Since the war a reaction of levity has seized the entire country. It has not affected Grinnell perhaps—but then we should be unfairly caustic to lay the entire blame on the professors themselves. All that the professor has to do to change his opinions in the belief that humor and levity has fallen into memory is to visit the University of Iowa.

We especially recommend that he pass a weekend here. After an hour in some of our cafes with the "Campus spirit, etc..." he would return to Grinnell with a different cry on his lips. Iowa at least has not cast off the purple robe of pleasure. Even "Frisol" is among us! L. P.

LISTENING POST

"The republican party must send a vacuum cleaner through Washington," shrieks Lillian Russell. Wonder what Lillian would do in the White House if someone handed her a broom?

Don't become too harsh in denouncing the housewife who refuses to go to the polls and vote. Perhaps she has nothing to wear.

Carter, Amber, and Patrick!

The amber cigarette holder which Lawrence Carter A4 of Des Moines is offering for sale was given to him by David Patrick A4 of Iowa City. David vouches for the quality of the amber and insists that it contains absolutely no rubber.

Yes, Shakespeare, the College man whose university career is characterized by all the Jazz of the century.....

By Fox-trots, Mandolin Clubs, Green Caps, Derbies, Quartets, Pennants, Fussing, Port Wine, Cigarettes, Polished Canes, Formals, Dates, Varsity, Basketball, Waltzes, Banquets, Automobiles.....

A check from Dad several times Each month.... Believes he understands Shakespeare's line about, "All The World's A Stage and We Are Merely Players!" But when he is graduated and gets a job

A glance at his pay envelope Causes him to wonder if William had said, "All the World's a Stage, and We Are Merely Stage Hands!"

Alas! Alas!

If it is true that England is rapidly destroying the Irish spirit the world will soon be out of policemen!*

Echoes!

Dear Ed: "I remember way back when I could get three squares a day for $3.50 per week in any of Iowa City's eating houses, but now if I take my girl out to dinner the change handed me from a five dollar bill wouldn't buy a package of Camels."—MUM.

Candidates whose inexperience politically resulted in their defeat because of their receiving only a few votes may find some consolation with thinking that if the quality and not quantity of the votes had determined the result everything would have been quite different.

No woman entered in the beauty contest is unaware of the truth that photographs often fail miserably in snaring the salient features of one's facial beauty. Now we pity the girl who faces the task of choosing a picture suitable to be placed in Townsend's window before the critical eye of the aesthetic student body. Why not relieve her on this point by pasting a little notice over her picture to this effect: This does not do me justice!

If opportunity knocks at our door to-day we shall be out of luck. This is our day for dating! H. A.

533 Membership Cards Signed — Financial Campaign to be Launched Separately

Y. W. C. A. membership campaign ended Thursday with a membership committee banquet in the liberal arts drawing room. Miss Charlotte Adams, director of the biblical work at the national Y. W. C. A. training school in New York City, gave a talk to the committee.

Reports were given by the squad leaders. Out of more than 700 solicited, 533 signed membership cards and 376 of that number signed activity cards. This means that approximately nine-tenths of the women who are members, are active members, doing work on some one of the different committees, such as membership, finance, helping new students, hospital work, mixers, devotional meetings.

Dorothy Banks, head of the department said, "We are not out so much this year for mere numbers as for active members."

Miss Mary I. Bash, Y. W. C. A. general secretary said, "At the close of our campaign last year we had only 300 members." The campaign was carried on by dividing the town into fourteen districts with a squad leader over each district.

The squad leaders were: Lynette Westfall, Artie Hekel, Agnes Knight, Maude Adams, Roberta Anderson, Eloise Nelson, Anna Singer, Grace Watson, Charlotte Thornton, Mildred Waddell, Grace Owen, Ruth Reeder, Gail DeWolf and Madge McCord.

Margaret Young, chairman of the membership campaign committee said, "I believe one reason why the campaign was such a success was the new membership basis which makes a personal pledge of faith the requisite for membership."

The finance campaign was not put on at the same time as the membership campaign as has been the case in former years. That campaign will start October 27, this year with Mary L. McCord, Kappa Kappa Gamma, as chairman.

GARLAND WILL LECTURE SOON

Author of Many Mid-West Stories to Be Here October 27 and 28—Home Is at West Salem, Wis.

Hamlin Garland, novelist, historian, and lecturer, will deliver the first University lecture Wednesday, October 27 at 8 o'clock in the natural science auditorium; according to Prof. Benjamin F. Shambaugh, chairman of the committee on University lectures, Mr. Garland will deliver a humorous lecture on the "Song and Seasons of the Old Time Middle Border," and which presents the joys and sorrows, the work and worry, and the holiday recreations of the farmer's life.

A special lecture has been arranged for 4 o'clock in the liberal arts auditorium on Thursday, October 28.

Hamlin Garland was born in 1860 in Wisconsin. Nine years later the Garland family moved out on the prairie of Mitchell county, Ia., the scene of his "Boy-Life on the Prairie," and many of the stories in "Main-Traveled Roads." In 1898, after completing a volume of essays called, "Crumbling Idols," and "Rose of Dutcher's Cooly," and the "Life of General Grant," Mr. Garland went into the Yukon Valley overland. This trip consumed nearly six months and formed the basis of a volume called, "The Trail of the Gold Seekers." Other publications are "The Captain of the Gray Horse Troop," "The Light of the Star," "Hesper," "The Forester's Daughter," "The Shadow World," "Other Main Traveled Roads," "The Long Trail," and "A Son of the Middle Border."

Hamlin Garland's home is in his native village, West Salem, Wis. A part of each year, however, is spent by the author in mountain traveling. In this way he made the studies for his novels, "The Eagle's Heart," "Money Magic," and "Cavanagh, Forest Ranger."

Mr. Garland's wife was formerly Zulime Taft, a sister of Lorado Taft, the sculptor. He has two daughters.

The cliff Dwellers, the leading artistic and literary club of the West, was originated by Hamlin Garland. At present he is acting secretary of the academy of art and letters.

PUBLIC HEALTH DIRECTOR CONFERS WITH JESSUP

Maurice Ricker, assistant director of the U. S. Public Health Service is in the city this week in conference with President Walter A. Jessup and Dean William F. Russell, head of the college of education. It is quite probable that arrangements will be made by these men will be approved by the Surgeon General and an important piece of work will be done in the evaluation of educational methods in teaching public health subjects.

Nutting's lectures after the return of the expedition. He was chief director of the motion picture service of the Y. M. C. A. and has recently returned from France and England.

"President Jessup took me over the west campus and through the hospital," said Mr. Ricker, "I was not prepared for such a surprise as the Children's Hospital. When I last saw Dr. Steindler he was on the fourth floor of the University Hospital doing splendid work although hampered for room. The development of this work under the Perkins act is one of the most commendable pieces of work in the country."

WIENER ROAST PROVE AN IMPOSITION TO OWNERS

Sticks cut from the shrubbery about suburban homes on the outskirts of the city are not just the proper things upon which student picnickers should impale the wieners on ever-popular wiener roasts at this time of year, say University officials to whom complaints have been made of petty vandalism by picnic parties.

The effect of dozens of picnic parties just across the river in Manville Heights and on the hills north of the city is beginning to be felt in the executive offices of the University. While property holders are more than willing to be tolerant, they say that student picnickers should give them some thought and some consideration in return.

One man complains that too large fires are being built beneath his trees and that the blaze and heat fly so high as to kill the limbs. Such fires might just as conveniently be built in the open, he says.

The gentleman who found students cutting the shrubbery about his home to get sticks for wieners was somewhat disgruntled. He felt that the young people might have found other sticks if they had but looked a little bit longer.

And there has always been the danger from fires not put out when the picnickers leave for home. With dry leaves and dry grass in abundance at this time of the year special care should be taken to put out the last spark, say property owners along the river.

EDUCATION COST FOR MEN LOW AT IOWA SAYS DEAN

"Tuition and living expenses seem to be cheaper at the University of Iowa than at most of the larger universities in the middle west," said Robert E. Reinow, dean of men, when asked for an opinion on the average expenses of students at the University.

Any male student of the University can dress well, live well and enjoy all the social advantages of the University for $600 a year. The proportion to which he exceeds this figure depends on the number of dinner dates he has, the formals he attends, taxicab fares, or in other words, the extent he wishes to indulge in social affairs. The average for fraternity men seems to be somewhat higher than that for non-fraternity men.

The difference in expenses of different men depend to a great extent upon the standard of living to which they are accustomed and to the way they devote their time. It is usually the case that the man who works his way or who devotes a great deal of time to his studies spends the least. Expenses of men in the same fraternity sometimes vary $1000 dollars. A number of men who have left Iowa with a degree and with more money than when they came. On the other hand, there are many who come with sufficient funds to enable them to complete their courses and who have to leave because they have wasted it all in spendthrift means. With good board at $7.00 a week and rooms from $10 to $15, a student should get by quite respectably for $60, excluding tuition and books.

GREEN CAPS FOR ALL FROSH FAVORED BY FRATERNITIES

That all first year men in the University should wear the green caps was the recommendation of the interfraternity council at its meeting last night. This decision is intended to do away with the discussion of whether or not the freshmen in the professional colleges should wear the caps. The recommendation means freshmen in the University, classified or unclassified.

The council also recommended that the freshmen be compelled to wear the caps at all times, including evenings and Sundays, until a hat burning day in the spring. During the winter the freshmen would be allowed to change off the small caps with green stocking caps or toques at will, providing that they wore one of the prescribed caps at all times.

Leland B. Irish, Horace Yeisley and Robert T. Kenworthy were appointed as a committee to confer with the executive committee of the Howling 300 as to the best means of enforcing the ruling.

The council went on record as favoring the presentation of the Y. M. C. A. membership campaign to the fraternities by means of individual speakers to each of the respective fraternities. A ruling was also passed to the effect that all salesmen of any kind with the exception of the official jeweler of the individual fraternity, should be excluded from showing their goods at the fraternity houses.

A program including boxing matches, fancy diving, demonstration of different strokes, speeches, and eats will be features of the evening.

Coach David Armbruster will soon make his call for varsity swimmers. Armbruster said, "We can use every swimmer in the University." The training season will begin Wednesday for all the men who go out for the varsity team.

Something Human

By Dr. Frank Crane

As we go up and down the ways of this busy age, the thing that makes us stop and wonder, the thing that is like the discovery of hidden treasure or a pearl of great price, is Something Human.

I have just seen two whopping human treasures. One is the writing about Mexico by Ibanez, a wonderful piece of journalism of which I may speak later.

The other is a moving picture entitled "Humoresque," based on a story by Fannie Hurst.

The intense humanity of it is emphasized by the fact that it is all about people who live in a world entirely different from any I have ever known. Something human appears all the more human when it is Japanese, or Hottentot, or Eskimo. Then it is brought home to you that these people, so different in their environment from yours, are, after all, blood of the same blood and spirit of the same spirit.

The characters in this movie are taken from the Ghetto. They are all Jewish. In this story we are thrust into the midst of this little world, as close and clannish as ever a little world was, and our hearts are melted within us at the realization of our common humanity.

The real star of the play is the Jewish mother, performed by Vera Gordon, who is not starred at all on the program and of whom I have never heard. I have no hesitation in saying that it is the most remarkable and appealing characterization I have ever seen upon the screen.

She is the incarnation of what, after all, is the most interesting type in all the world—a mother. She is the most perfect representation of motherhood I have ever seen. All the strong current of mother feeling—affection, fear, tenderness, apprehension, gloating, pride and joy—stream from her face in an overwhelming tide.

While I have never had the acquaintance of any lady of the Ghetto, I had the feeling as if my own mother had enveloped me in her personality.

The art of the thing is unconscious. Somehow the spectator feels that neither the writer of the play nor the director of the film production nor the actors themselves really intended to do the smashing thing they have done. They were intent upon telling a story and making good pictures and developing the love scenes between the boy and the girl and showing the trials of a struggling artist. But all these are by the way. It is the simple, naive, child-hearted Jewish mother that walks away with the whole performance.

Most books are written, most plays are tinkered up. Once in a while a story is born, not made. "Humoresque" was born, and don't forget that the greatest figure in it is the Jewish mamma.

You are going to have the opportunity of seeing

Parcout, Middle-weight Champion, May Coach Varsity Team This Year

All men who wish to tryout for the varsity or freshman wrestling teams may report at the office of E. G. Schroeder, director of physical education for men, in the men's gymnasium, at 5:15 tomorrow afternoon.

Preliminary work will be started under the direct of Mr. Schroeder. However, negotiations are being made with Ralph Parcout, middle-weight champion wrestler of the world, to coach Iowa's wrestling team this year. Mr. Parcout recently threw Johnny Myers of Chicago, former world's champion, and also alleges to have thrown Paul Prehn, the inter-allied champion, twice in four minutes. Prehn is now coaching the University of Illinois wrestling team.

The men who will probably form the nucleus of the team this year are Captain Leland C. White, C. J. Francois, Edward Vana, John P. Sweeney, Glen Devine, Paul Minnick, Robert Hunter, Herbert Prince, Bob Cahail, R. Smith and P. O. Veedova.

Le Roy Jensen and John Heldt are the only members of last year's team who will not appear on the mat the coming season. "Considering the material we have from last year," said Mr. Schroeder, "we should develop a winning team this year."
