LEAGUE TO BE TEXT OF TAFT'S SPEECH TONIGHT

Ex-president is Now a Professor of Law at Yale — Speech Will Be Political

GYM ACCOMMODATES ONLY 2500

Doors Will Open at 7 O'clock—Taft's Last Appearance in Iowa City Was in 1905 When He Was Given an Honorary Degree — Seats Reserved For Banqueters

William Howard Taft, ex-president of United States, now professor of law at Yale, will speak at the men's gymnasium tonight on the league of nations. Mr. Taft will arrive in Iowa City this afternoon at 3:41. A banquet in his honor will be held at the Jefferson hotel this evening, and he will speak at the gymnasium at 8 o'clock.

According to H. D. Evans, chairman of the republican county committee, only 2,500 will be able to obtain seats for the speech, and so those expecting to attend should come early. The doors will be opened at 7 o'clock and the only seats reserved will be for those who attended the banquet.

Speech Will Be Political

The speech will be purely political, Mr. Evans said, "This talk will certainly make plain the attitude of republicans in regard to the league. The republican committee wished to obtain some prominent speakers in preparation for the coming campaign and finally selected Mr. Taft as the most likely to stir up enthusiasm for the republican cause." This is Taft's first appearance in Iowa City since 1905, when he was given the honorary degree of LL D by the University.

Taft is President of Peace League

Taft is president of the League to enforce peace and was an ardent supporter of the league of nations. Local politicians are very anxious to find out what his attitude is and Mr. Evans predicts that hundreds will be turned away from the speech tonight.

BON-FIRES, NOISE AND SNAKE-DANCE MARKS SEND-OFF

A giant send off for the team was staged last night when they started on their way to Chicago for the big game Saturday, and ended in a series of long snake dances and a huge bonfire at the southeast corner of the campus.

The University rooters and the band assembled on the east side of the campus and had a grand session of yells, music, and noise in general.

At 7:30 they started from the southeast corner of the campus and marched around the Hotel Jefferson block, back to Clinton and down to the station, in a grand parade that showed that all the pep was still on the campus.

The band played and cheers were given for all the members of the team while waiting for the train to arrive. Here the booster program was completed by a pep demonstration of noise and enthusiasm until the train was well on its way with the team.

The most novel part of the evening was that given to the snake dances and the bonfire. Every one fell into line and Iowa City streets for the time were given over to a wriggling, running, cheering bunch of Iowa enthusiasts. The bonfire at the corner of Washington and Clinton streets was the largest of the season and speaks well for Iowa spirit.

The University Military band of fifty pieces and the four yell leaders will leave for Chicago tonight at 12:25 and will be on the field Saturday to help our team win from the "Stagers."

ERNSTENE SETS DEADLINE FOR JUNIOR PICTURES

Junior pictures for the 1922 Hawkeye must be in by November 25, according to A. Ernstene, editor-in-chief. This date is the absolute deadline, according to Ernstene, as the contract for the printing of the Hawkeye calls for all Junior pictures by that date. Any pictures handed in later than November 25 will not be accepted.

Fraternities, sororities and other campus organizations can now make their appointment for pictures. Deadline for these pictures will be announced at a later date.

"We urge the organizations of the campus to have their group taken immediately, as this will facilitate the printing of the annual," states Ernstene.

54 ROOTERS TO BACK HAWKEYES ON STAGG FIELD

An Iowa band of 54 men will leave here tonight at 12:25 and be on the Stagg field tomorrow when Iowa meets the Chicagoans. Thanks to Tag day, the sale of On Iowa, and the support of the business women of Iowa City an amount of over $1,000 was collected and will be entirely sufficient to cover the expenses. The athletic board is sending three of the yell leaders but they could not send the four men. But as one of the band men has a railroad pass, the fourth yell leader will be accommodated in his place. "This campaign has been a decided success and was by far the most successful that I have seen" said Joe B. Bengé, drum major.

LAMBERT GOES TO MEETING OF COLLEGE BOARD

Prof. Byron J. Lambert, chairman of the athletic board of the University of Iowa will leave for Chicago this morning to attend a meeting of the Western Intercollegiate League at the auditorium at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

The meeting is to decide the eligibility of men who participated in athletics during the first quarter of the year of the S. A. T. C.

Under the present interpretation, the first quarter of the S. A. T. C. year is not counted in a man's football period but some universities have raised the question and probably all of the big ten members will be affected this year or next if the S. A. T. C. year is counted.

SOUSA TO BE HERE NOV. 12

Ten Pieces Are Added to Personnel of Band — Will Give Only Afternoon Concert

Sousa's band will give a concert here Friday afternoon, November 12, Prof. Philip G. Clapp, head of the music department announced yesterday evening.

Final arrangements were completed by wire yesterday whereby Sousa and his band can appear in an afternoon concert but it will be impossible to have two concerts as has been the custom before.

Sousa is carrying his full military band this season and will have ten more pieces than were with him last year. His expenses will be much heavier this year than before but the music council hopes to be able to put the tickets on sale at no or little more than last year's prices.

The concert is planned to make an excellent opening for the homecoming season and the music council is making preparations for a large crowd because of the many out of town people who will be here for the Minnesota game and other homecoming features.

It has not yet been definitely decided where the concert will be given but it may be necessary to have it in the natural science auditorium because the armory, where the concerts are usually given may be used for the Homecoming banquet Friday evening.

LITERARY MEN POSTPONE MEETINGS FOR TAFT SPEECH

All members of the men's literary societies are requested by their organizations to attend ex-President Taft's speech at the armory Friday night in announcements made yesterday. On account of this request none of the societies will hold their usual programs and business meetings.

The Philomathean literary society and the Irving Institute have postponed their programs and business meetings. The Zetaganian literary society has postponed its program, but will hold its business meeting immediately after ex-President Taft's speech.

IRVING SOCIETY PLEDGES TEN

STATE PARK TO BE DEDICATED AT KENOSAUQUA WEDNESDAY

President emeritus Macbride, Prof. Bohumil Shimek and Dean George F. Kay will take part in a program next Wednesday in connection with the dedication of the Second State Park, which is located at Kenosauqua.

JONES TALKS TO MEN ON EVE OF CHICAGO TRIP

Coach Says That Stars of The Game Are not The Product of Boasting

FINAL LINEUP IS UNDECIDED

Twenty-four Men Are on Squad That Goes to the Windy City — Signal Drill Run — Freshmen Go Through Shift Formations — Frosh Seconds Meet Third String in Scrimmage

The last scrimmage of the Hawkeye eleven before meeting Chicago Saturday was mostly a moral talk by Coach Jones in which he put across the fact that stars are not made by boasting or publicity.

"It is hard every day practice and hitting the opponents line with a fight that never gives up until the whistle blows, that wins football games," the coach told his men.

Lineup Is Indefinite

There is some question as to who will play and Jones will not finally announce his lineup until they trot out on the field at Chicago. Kadesky and Ty Smith have been doing some alternating at left end, A. Devine at quarter, G. Devine and Sykes at halves and Locke at full. Longley, who has been out of the hard work this week on account of a bad foot, ran signals with the second string.

Lecture on Hitting and Blocking

The first year men came over for a demonstration of shifts and as a means for an illustrated lecture to the varsity on hitting and blocking. The freshmen seconds and the third string had a hot scrimmage on the north field during the varsity final workout.

Coaches Jones, Ashmore, and Reed, Trainer Jack Watson and Assistant Athletic Director Brigham are accompanying the twenty-four players on the trip. The team left on the Rock Island railway at 7:55 last night.

DEAN TO GRANT LATE LEAVE FOR APPROVED PLAYS

Late leave on week nights will be granted to University women for the plays and concerts that are recommended by the office of the dean of women.

A complete list of all plays and concerts recommended will be posted at the beginning of every week on the bulletin board outside of the office of the dean of women. On the nights not given in this list the usual ten o'clock ruling will be in effect.

The object of this plan is to give the women of the University an opportunity to attend all the better types of entertainments that come to the city or University. The ruling against mid-week dates for freshmen women will not be in force for these plays and they may sign out for late leave in order to attend them. "The women of the University are co-operating with us very well," Mrs. Nellie S. Aurner, dean of women, said yesterday, "and are showing the proper spirit in the interpretation of the rules."

CHAWA KWAI POSTPONED

On account of the parade and pep meeting, the annual Japanese festival ChawKwai, which was to be held last night on the University campus, was postponed until next week Thursday, Oct. 28.

New arrangements were made at a meeting of the committee called last evening, in a conference with Nellie S. Aurner, dean of women. Original plans were made without knowledge of those of the Howling 300.

CLEAN FOOTBALL

It goes without saying that football when it has reached the standard of the Big Ten should be a clean game, and that coaches of the sport will not for any reason sacrifice good sportsmanship to any end at all. But then too, it was supposed that all baseball games when they reached the standard of the big leagues were devoid of "fixing."

It is with a sort of complacency that one reads of the gentleman's agreement between football directors in the conference to stand for a clean game. It seems only the open expression of what has been the understood ethics of the sport.

Coach Zuppke of Illinois told a sports writer of the Chicago Daily News that he has a gentleman's agreement with Jones of Iowa, Wilce of Ohio, and Williams of Minnesota, to play only clean football. He added that he had nothing against Coaches Stagg and Yost, Chicago and Michigan directors, but had not had the opportunity to speak to them.

The Big Ten would not be injured if all of its coaches were in this agreement, as they probably will be in a short time. It hardly seems a "willy-boy" move. The time has passed when a man is a tin-horn hero who can play dirty and get by with it. Strong men and good teams play white men's ball.

Few persons expect anything but clean play of Big Ten teams and few persons see anything else, but there was a time within memory when dirty football got a much more lenient hand from coaches than it gets now, and it is encouraging to see the big men who pull the strings in a gentleman's agreement to run a gentleman's game.

IOWA PLAYWRIGHTS

Late last year, in a literary competition at the University of Kansas a hitherto unheard of student won the prize with a play that incited much favorable comment because of its high artistic merit. Apropos of that there is this to be said: if there are playwrights in embryo at the University of Kansas there are playwrights at the University of Iowa.

When the University players held their annual tryouts last week an astonishing number of undergraduates made serious efforts to make that organization proving thereby that among Iowa students the "play is the thing." If 150 students will show enough interest to study for the University players' tryouts, it is reasonable to suppose that there are students in the University who can write or would try to write plays.

Every student body contains latent genius, and it seems that this should be given a chance for expression. Nothing could be better for the encouragement of inherent talent than the announcement that some of our literary societies or even the University players are offering prize for the best play submitted by any member of the student body.

Of course such a proposition demands many varied and detailed suggestions. It would require much time to determine rules for such a contest. Many things would have to be considered such as the length and nature of the play, the scholastic standing of the author, what organization would reproduce it, and how much the author would benefit from its success.

This last admits a lot of consideration. It would surely be a success. The interest exhibited last year when a play written by a professional playwright was staged, equalled almost the enthusiasm demonstrated at a football game. We refer to "Nothing but the Truth." It is not illogical to suppose that were a play written by some student on the campus the interest would be increased tenfold. Last year the University players presented a play which was written by a professional playwright and no doubt that organization paid a nice slice of the profits in royalties for the privilege of presenting it. We do not know how much that was. Still we believe that the money would have been better spent had it been given as a prize to an Iowa student for having submitted an original composition.

GOLD AND WHITE

She was a vision of delight
As gracefully she lingered there,
Poised lightly on the marble stair
A fair dream of gold and white.

Her skin was smooth as ivory
Her silken dress was dull, deep gold,
And fondly hung in clinging folds
About her form fair to see.

Of liquid topaz, golden brown,
Her eyes were caught, and rare delight,
She saw me, and mimic flight
Straight to my arms, came tripping down.

—Green Carnation.

The life of a beauty contestant must be ideal. All she has to do is powder her nose several times each day and wear her best clothing until after the balloting is over. Then she may dress as she pleases with impunity. If the men who voted for her don't like it and see their mistake. . . . what does she care?

A college man is known by the weekends that he spends. For instance draw your own conclusions from these: Tomorrow some of us are going to stay in Iowa City because we can hear ex-president Taft weave mystery 'round Article X; some of us will stay in the old town because we can dance with HER at Varsity; some of us are going to Chicago to yell in front of the La Salle hotel; and still others of us are going to Des Moines to the opera.

"About the time the formals come around a nice cigarette holder will come in handy," said Lawrence L. Carter A4, yesterday. Lawrence is offering a genuine amber cigarette holder for sale.

There are men on the campus who will call aside the man who counted the votes in the beauty contest and whisper: "Say, ah! Who got it old man?" H.A.

CONTRIBUTORS' COLUMN

HEY, YOU FRESHMEN!

The question has arisen about the campus as to what should be done with the freshmen who are failing in the "Wearing of the Green."

Now, all of the freshmen should be and are, it is safe to assume, aware of the fact that they should wear green caps. But they don't all do it! Of course, this condition must be remedied and many organizations have pledged enforcement of the ruling, but we are heartily opposed to many of the drastic measures proposed for punishment.

Such moderate methods as ducking them in the river, sending them to a party dance in pajamas, or draping them with green are all right and highly commendable but we do not believe in starving them to death or in driving them out of the state.

Lay off the rough stuff boys! Move their beds to the cemetery if you want but don't exterminate them—we may find some use for them sometime. Who knows?

It will be of no avail to elect Senator Harding to the Presidency of the United States unless he is given a working majority in Congress to sustain him in his principles.

The Republican Party gladly assumes responsibility for the Cummins-Esch Railroad Bill recently enacted into law by the last Congress. It marks the point of highest economic statute-making--fair to labor, just to the carriers and essential to the very existence of the American public. By its terms, all disputes between labor and capital are adjudicated by a non-partisan Labor Board upon the following considerations--first, the scale of wages paid for similar kinds of work in other industries; second, the relation between wages and the cost of living; third, the hazards of the employment; fourth, the training and skill required; fifth, the degree of responsibility; and sixth, the character and regularity of the employment. Can labor, the railroads or the public raise a valid objection to such eminently fair provision?
