PRACTICE SLOW AS FIRST TEAM MEN CUT WORK

Some Veterans Fail to Turn Out For Football Drill — Part Without Permission

SUBS ANXIOUS FOR WORK

Jones' Rules on Cuts Are Strict — Workout Limited to Demonstration Plays and Run With Signals — Ty White Gets Compound Dislocation of Thumb — Up for One Week

With several of Iowa's football aces cutting practice last evening, part of them without permission, practice on the athletic field was something of a farce.

Whether these stars are resting on their laurels, or individual accomplishments, is not known. There were subs out galore, willing and anxious for a chance to get into some rough stuff, but the practice was limited to some demonstration plays and a gambol up and down the field in answer to the pilot's signals.

Ty White, who is one of the best and consistent fighters on the squad had the bad luck to receive a compound dislocation of his right thumb which will put him on the injured list for at least a week. White was playing on the defensive while the varsity team was practicing charging. There was a chance for him to get into at least a part of the Homecoming game with the Purple.

The flock of aspirants for the open berths were out strong and there is a possibility that some of the players who have been occupying a lower bunk will be obliged to flop into a lowly upper when the team goes traveling again. It is the custom for first team men to occupy the lower berth when on a trip.

Coach Jones will not tolerate cutting practice without an excuse and his permission, and the mentor is wise to the 347 methods of playing horse.

There will probably be no real practice today although those players who stayed in town for the weekend will be out for a little development. A game between the frosh and second string of the varsity has been planned for this morning but this set-to will probably not take place with so many men away.

The freshmen were not out at all, as their time was occupied in the cadet corps. University high was administered a few finishing touches for the mixup with the Parlor City high school team tomorrow afternoon.

EHRSMAN WILL BE JUNIOR PROM HEAD THIS YEAR

Alvin H. Ehresman, of Lisbon, was named chairman of the Junior prom committee by Guerdon D. Parker, of Des Moines, president of the junior class. The date of the prom has not been decided upon but the committee wants to get the plans drawn up so that there may not be a conflict like there was last year," said Parker.

The following men were appointed upon the committee: Douglass F. Boynton, Cedar Rapids; William O. Moore, Seymour; Selid Overland, Story City; Walter E. Harney, Sheldon; David B. Mitchell, What Cheer and Phillip N. Peterson, Linn Grove.

TRACK MEN WILL HAVE FINAL TRYOUTS TODAY

Captain Arthur G. Kruse and Coach M. F. Carpenter are making preparations for the final tryouts this afternoon at 4:30. Lester V. Peterman, L. F. Ristine, Theodore Bensigerdes, Harold Murray, Harold Brandenburg, Arthur G. Kruse, F. M. Miller, Donald Mabec, O. K. Burrell, and Harold Parks will compete. Coach Carpenter will coach the six first men to place on the difficulties of the Cornell course following his visit there.

O. I. C. CLUB TO BE IN SECTION AT LAST GAME

O. I. C., the women's new pep organization, signed up 200 members yesterday at their table in liberal arts hall. Of this number approximately three fourths have I tickets. Next year an I ticket will be required for membership. Membership is still open to every woman on the campus interested in athletics. The membership fee is twenty-five cents.

A special section of the bleachers has been reserved for O. I. C. and the Howling 300 for the Minnesota game November 13. The members of O. I. C. will wear small three cornered, old gold caps, which are the gift of Coach Howard H. Jones.

The next meeting of the organization will be held in the liberal arts assembly hall November 5 at 6:45. Roll call will be answered.

The officers of the organization are: President, Jean Spiers A4 of Rembrandt; vice-president, Dorothy Brooks A2 of Tiffin; secretary and treasurer, Esther E. Butler A2 of Fort Dodge. Cheer leaders are Josephine Thielen A2 of Grundy Center, Lue Prentiss A3 of Iowa City, Helen Evans A4 of Ottumwa, and Ada Yoder A4 of Iowa City.

VESPER SERVICE IS TOMORROW

Willett Will Speak on the Subject of "Nation's New Program" Choir Will Sing

The program announced last night for the Vesper services to be held tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock in the natural science auditorium will include two musical numbers in addition to the principle address by the Reverend Herbert L. Willett of Chicago. The opening hymn will be, "The Son of God Goes Forth to War", and the vesper choir will sing, "O, Praise the Lord," an anthem by Mallard.

Reverend Willett will speak on "The Nation's New Program." Invocation and scripture reading will be by Reverend Irving E. Wade of the Christian church of this city.

Reverend Willett is the pastor of the Memorial Church of Christ in Chicago. He is also professor of Semetic languages at the University of Chicago, and since 1906 has been dean of the Disciples' Divinity house in Chicago. Reverend Willett is associate editor of the Christian Century and author of nearly a dozen books on religious subjects. He received his A. B. degree at Bethany college in 1886; his A. M. degree at the same college in 1887; and his Ph. D. degree at the University of Chicago in 1896. While at Bethany college Reverend Willett affiliated with the Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

Professor G. T. W. Patrick, chairman of the Vesper's committee said, "Reverend Willett is a very pleasing speaker, a genial man, and should give a worth while lecture." Professor Ellsworth Farris of the University of Chicago has also recommended Reverend Willett very highly.

Y. W. ENTERTAINS CHILDREN

Social Service Department Holds Programs at Hospital

The social service department of the Y. W. C. A. has organized committees of University women who will visit the children's ward at the University hospital twice a week. The children will be entertained with stories and acting folk songs.

Under the same department a program was given yesterday afternoon at 4:30 at the Old Ladies' Home on Clarke street. Several familiar songs were sung. Two readings were given by Persus Carney A1 and Betty Brown A2 sang a solo. Luville Colony U was in charge of the program.

Arrangements are being made by the department to visit all University women in the hospital.

FIFTY CENTS TO BE PLATE PRICE AT OXEN ROAST

Tickets for Homecoming Barbecue, November 12, Go On Sale Monday Morning

2,000 READY FOR THE BUYERS

Military Police to Guard Big Beef—Crowds to be Seated at Tables — Menu Includes Meat or Fish, and Other Dishes—Plans Made to Prevent Any Possible Roughness

The price of the tickets for the Homecoming barbecue to be held at the new armory across the river at 5:30 o'clock Friday, November 12, will be fifty cents, according to an announcement made last night by Prof. Stephen H. Bush in charge of the feast. Two thousand tickets will be placed on sale Monday morning, November 1, at the University book store, Ries' book store, Wieneke's book store, Whetstone's, Kirk's, and Racine's. This will be the first time that the new armory has been used.

At the Ohio barbecue held a short time ago, the system for serving that had been worked out proved incompetent and a disaster resulted. As soon as the serving began the waiting people crowded about the carving blocks, wrecked the tables, and rushed the ovens and overturned them. Many people were injured and thousands were turned away without having eaten.

However, the management predicts that nothing of like nature will happen at the Iowa barbecue. Plans have been made for a company of military police to stand guard over the big Hawkeye beehives with fixed bayonets if necessary. The crowd will be seated at long tables and will be served in orderly fashion. The menu will be meat or fish as preferred, buttered buns, baked beans, pickles, pie, and coffee.

RULINGS MADE ON PROBATION

Action Affects Amount of Work to Be Carried and Registration Kept Up

New regulations relating to scholarship and probation have been drawn up by the faculty of the college of liberal arts, and are announced by George F. Kay, dean of the college.

1. Any upper classman who has not passed either ten hours, or two-thirds of the hours for which he is registered shall be dropped but he may be reinstated on probation by special administrative action. If he has not maintained at least two-thirds of his work at D or above, he shall be placed on probation for the next succeeding semester. Failure to maintain the prescribed standard for the probation period may at any time be cause for cancellation of registration.

2. Any freshman who fails to pass one-half the hours for which he is registered shall be dropped unless permitted to continue on probation by special administrative action. If he passes one-half, but fails to pass two-thirds of the hours for which he is registered with all grades above E, he shall be placed on probation for the next succeeding semester.

CURRIER BALLOT FAVORS G.O.P.

Harding won out by a large majority in a straw vote taken at Currier hall Tuesday evening. The republicans cast ninety-five votes for their favorite, while the feminine democrats were only able to get thirty-eight supporters. Debbs received one vote. If Currier can be taken as a representative of the student women, the G. O. P. will win in a walk.

A. F. I. WILL HELP ASSOCIATION AT SATURDAY DANCE

To raise the standards of dancing and promote friendship among the students, is the aim of the Womens Association which gives dances at the Co. A. hall every Saturday afternoon.

Escorts to these informal dances are not necessary, for there are hostesses who introduce the students. Today the members of the A. F. I., the honorary senior men's society, will assist. The average attendance at these dances has been about 275. Only University students are admitted.

The Woman's Association is composed of every girl who has registered in the University. The purpose of this association as stated in the constitution is "to further in every way the spirit of unity and fellowship among the women of the University, and to cooperate with other women's organizations; to promote and maintain high standards of living and scholarship; to regulate all matters of the student council not falling under the jurisdiction of the faculty." Representatives from Staff and Circle, W. A. A., Y. W., Panhellenic, Forensic Council, Freshman Commission and nurses associations, are inculcated in the executive council of the Woman's Association.

PLAY WRITERS OFFERED PRIZE

University Players Will Conduct a Contest For Best Play By Iowa Students

A play writing contest open to any student registered in the University will be conducted by the University Players, according to plans outlined at a meeting held in the little theatre Thursday evening. The prize to be given to the student who submits the best one act play has not been definitely decided upon but suggestions have been made that it be ten dollars in cash and a membership in the club.

The contest will close Thursday, December 16. Any one act play will be accepted.

In speaking of the contest E. J. Goodrich L3, president of the University Players said, "We will produce the winning play and give the author the privilege of playing the leading role. We are anxious to have the students take an interest in this contest, and we are looking for a number of good plays."

TWENTY WOMEN HIKERS TO TRAMP TOMORROW MORNING

The Women's Athletic Association hike Sunday morning, October 30, at 7 o'clock will be led by Eleanor Williams A3 of Clear Lake. Twenty women have signed up to go.

The hikers will meet at the interurban station at 7 o'clock and ride to Coralville where breakfast will be cooked on bonfires. From there they will hike to Tiffin and then take the passenger train to Iowa City, arriving here at 10 a. m.

More than sixty women have taken one of their five hikes compulsory for membership in I. W. A. A. according to Eleanor Williams in charge of the hiking.

NUTTING'S ADDRESS FAVORED BY BENEDICT COLLEGE MAN

Fifty copies of Professor Nutting's address on "Values", delivered at the first summer session convocation, have been asked for by Rev. B. W. Valentine, president of Benedict College, at Columbia, S. C.

"I personally want to thank you for the inspiration of the address and to express appreciation of your timely advice to our present day young people," says President Valentine in his letter requesting copies of the address.

IOWA FANS TURN ANXIOUS GLANCE TO INDIANAPOLIS

Indiana-Northwestern Game is Expected to Give Indication of Hawkeye Fate

MINNESOTA MEETS ILLINOIS

Zuppke's Men Have Good Chance of Victory — Chicago-Ohio Contest Will Shatter One Clean Slate—Michigan Plays Tulane — Ames Will Probably Beat Washington

By M. F. Carpenter

Of the three games between Conference teams played today, one will have an important affect on the championship situation; one may probably have something to do with the race; and the third hardly counts. It is, however, in this third game, that between Indiana and Northwestern at Indianapolis, that Iowa students are most concerned for that will give them some idea of the strength of the eleven that Iowa plays this coming Saturday. Next in interest for Iowa students is the game between Illinois and Minnesota at Urbana, which can influence the championship only in the unlikely case that Minnesota wins. The third game, in which Chicago and Ohio come together, will reduce by one the number of teams that have a clean record.

Indiana and Northwestern are very nearly even on paper. Both won from Minnesota by a safe margin. Both have been beaten by other conference teams. Neither one is at present a contender for the championship. Both have had a week's rest in which to get their men into condition and to reduce the hospital list. Neither one has had any exceptional hard luck in the matter of injuries, and there is no reason to believe that both will not be at their best.

Gopher Chance Only Fair

As far as Iowa is concerned, the omens for the game next Saturday will be better if Indiana wins. Iowa won from the Hoosiers by a safe enough margin to make it reasonable that no team which Indiana defeats can defeat Iowa. At the same time, the general sympathy is probably with Northwestern, which had hard luck last year and which has not been fortunate as a rule. It would probably be a good thing for the game in the West if there were a reasonably successful team at Northwestern this fall. But that team has no business to be successful at the expense of Iowa next Saturday.

Minnesota might possibly win from Illinois; almost anything is possible in football. But the chance is a slim one. It is a safe guess that Dr. Williams does not expect to lose all his games except the North Dakota one, and that he is bending every effort to get his team into shape to make a strong finish. He must have a better eleven than he had when he went to Evanston, but it does not seem possible that he can have worked his men into shape to defeat the team that now looks like conference winner.

Chicago and Ohio Even

Nevertheless, the reports that come from Minneapolis are quite optimistic. Why they are is impossible to guess. During the past week, Oss was again sent to the hospital, where he has been rather more often than on the football field. Perhaps his loss hardly worries Minnesota any longer. It would seem that, as things are now, it really makes little difference who plays for Minnesota against Illinois, since the game seems so clearly to belong to Mr. Zuppke's team.

Still, the reports from Minneapolis are very optimistic, as they have been all fall.

On previous records, there is no choice between Chicago and Ohio. Both won from Purdue by about the same score, but neither looked very good against that team. Both played

OUR DAY OFF

Today we are bystanders. While the other universities of the Big Ten and scattering neighbor colleges are scrapping over title bunting on a dozen or so football fields and giving their own college yells, and sitting humped up in cold bleachers wrapped in blankets and more or less oblivious to the weather, Iowa undergraduates sit comfortably in their rooms or stand less comfortably on the corner waiting for reports to come in.

A rest is a good thing for more persons than wear mole-skin outfits on the days of the games. A rest is a good thing for the fans. After a day off, Iowa rooters can expect to come back with a storm of enthusiasm over the pig skin sport that will jar the cloudy sky when the team trots on the field, November 6. Aside from the normal anxiety as to the outcome, football is a great game to enjoy from the sidelines, hot or cold, rain or shine, and the fans that will fill the bleachers for the game with Northwestern will probably be glad to get back into the old pews after a vacation.

THE LAST DAY

Failure to send in an absent voter's application for ballot today, means loss of a chance to vote. This is the last day. A presidential election comes once in four years. In spite of all of the talking that some men do about the campaign, and the talking that some men do not do about it, each man has one vote. Robert Burn's little line, "A man's a man for a' That," is never more true than on election day. Your ballot counts as much as William Howard Taft's or William Jennings Bryan's. Your obligation is as great. This is the last day.

The First Year Is the Hardest!

It is platitudinous to say that the life of a freshman in the University of Iowa, or, for that matter, in any University, is an easy and delightful one. Freshmen have always been razed and without any doubt, they always will be razed. However a word of praise for him now and then, surely would not do any harm. We champion the idea that a little consideration would go a long way in forming the correct attitudes of the embryo upper-classman. For instance a great avalanche of glib and shallow drivel has been heaped upon the head of the freshmen this year, since the introduction of the green cap. Just for a moment let us bottle the venom and congratulate the man who has the courage to shelve a twenty dollar Borsalino and don an absurd seventy-five cent green chapeau. If you think he is doing so because he has to you are mistaken. He has the spirit, he believes that a university without tradition is like a barber shop without the characteristic little candy-colored pole! Thank you frosh!

There are two sides to everything: for instance a man may stand on one side of a soda fountain utterly dissatisfied with the price he is paying for his soft drink, but the man on the other side is quite satisfied.

IOWA FANS TURN ANXIOUS GLANCE TO INDIANAPOLIS

(Continued from page 1) risky football last Saturday and got away with it. Neither one has demonstrated by its work to date that it is anything else than lucky. The majority of Iowa students doubtless think that Ohio will have little difficulty. The chances are that the majority of Wisconsin students think the same thing of Chicago.

Cold is Against Tulane Chicago is probably distinctly stronger this Saturday than was the case last week. Ohio has probably got into shape with less difficulty than its opponents and has had a better opportunity to work on the finer points. Both teams are supposed to use the forward pass attack to win with; both are supposed to have a strong defense against such attack. In other words, nobody yet has any reason to say that one is better than the other.

Michigan plays Tulane, which is a fairly strong Southern eleven. Its chances are not improved by the present cold snap, and were probably never very good to start with. The team is coached by a former Michigan star, which is doubtless the reason why the game was scheduled. Furthermore, it fits in well between the Illinois game last week and the Ohio game next week, both of which are hard enough for Mr. Yost's team.

Iowa Rest an Advantage Purdue, which rested last week, plays Wabash. If the showing against Chicago is a fair test, Purdue should have no trouble winning. This game, like the Tulane game for Michigan, gives Purdue a chance to develop strength for harder contests. Notre Dame comes to Lafayette next Saturday and will keep the Boilermakers busy.

Iowa and Wisconsin rest this week. This is of advantage to Iowa in preparation for the Northwestern contest, for the Purple can hardly come out of the Indiana game without some hard knocks which will take more than a week to disappear. This is bound to show on November 6, when Iowa will start to improve its standing.

Ames on Winning Streak Wisconsin has Minnesota next on its schedule, and, on present showing should be able to win from that team with some of its men absent. It will, however, take all of Wisconsin's strength to win from Illinois on November 13. Some people have guessed that Wisconsin will keep some of its stars out of the game at Minneapolis in order to have them in the best of shape for the big game the following week. There are teams that have done this and still won, thanks to their good horseshoes, but the chance is a long one.

Ames plays Washington, and it looks as if, with this game, Dr. Paine's team would come out of the woods. The Cyclones may think that by now they have lost their last game of this fall with the exception of that with Iowa, and they are probably right. Their next three games are with

Washington, Creighton, and Kansas State college, none of which have been going well this season. Washington played a messy game against Grinnell and lost to Oklahoma. Creighton was tied by Yankton and lost to Des Moines by a one-sided score. Kansas State was tied by Emporia Normal and defeated Creighton by a lone drop (Continued on page 4)

SUCCESS

That's why you're here at Iowa; it's what we are all looking for.

The 1922 HAWKEYE is looking for ideas and material,—for new and daring plans and features, for striking color schemes and novel ideas in art,—the kind that will make the 1922 HAWKEYE stand forth and be absolutely distinctive.

Every member of the staff will have the widest scope for the exercise of individual talent, but the 1922 HAWKEYE must be of and for the University, in every sense of the word.

We want it to be something more than a mere record; we want it to be an inspiration,—a SUCCESS. We want it to show the High School boy and girl what Iowa means to every one of us; we want it to revive the days of real sport in the mind of the old "Grad," and bring back tender memories of days beneath the Old Gold.

Five years from now, as you look at this book, you will say, "Those were the real days." You will value it because you had a hand in its making. Is it too much, then, to ask you to take a part in creating a HAWKEYE which will bring greater glory for IOWA?

kick. Ames ought to beat all three.
In the Kansas game, according to reports, Ames stopped going crazy with the forward pass, and played good steady football. This means that its coach has decided that it no longer needs to play wildly in order to have a chance but that it has found itself. It is a triumph for Dr. Paine to have got his team this far after the fizzle against Coe. At that, he probably owes a vote of thanks to the Grinnell team for going out of its way to help Ames win its second game. If Grinnell had played the football of which it was capable, Ames might have been in a distinctly disorganized state of mind to-day. As it was, the team that played Kansas was miles ahead of the team that lost to Coe.

Ames is, however, still, on paper at least, weaker than Drake, and that means distinctly weaker than Iowa.
