PURPLE TEAM POLISHES UP FOR OLD GOLD

Personnel of Northwestern Squad is Said to be in Good Shape and Working Well

TWO IOWA MEN ARE WEAK

Locke and Kaufmann Still Feel Results of Injuries — Both out Last Night — No Scrimmage for Hawk-eyes — Kadesky Probable End — Minick, Center—Work Light Today

Using Iowa formations the Purple year men were unable to gain on the varsity in scrimmage at the Methodist athletic field in their last night of practice before meeting the Hawk-eyes.

The varsity team tore off long passes and wide end runs while Grausnick and Szold plunged through the line for yardage for the Northwestern shift formations.

All the Northwestern men are apparently in good shape, although a few minor injuries are reported. The team will arrive in Iowa City some time today, probably at 7:45 in the morning. Coach McDevitt plans to put his team through a light signal drill this afternoon.

Breaks of Game to Fix Score

With the exception of Locke and Kaufmann the Iowa men are in fair shape. Both were out for a light signal practice last night and it is hoped that they will be back to normal by Saturday.

With two of the best men off their game tomorrow an advantage would be thrown Northwestern's way as the two teams would line up about equally. However, it must be remembered that the Evanston team has beaten Minnesota and lost to Indiana only by a drop kick. The breaks of the game will probably decide the battle Saturday.

Coach Jones did not scrimmage his team last night. All three teams ran signals for a part of the evening and the frosh team then came over to demonstrate plays and shifts.

Several Changes in Lineup

For the doubtful positions, Kadesky will probably stay at end, Minick at center, with the Devine brothers, Locke, and Rath in the backfield, as they lined up for signal practice last night.

The rooters who occupy the sidelines nights are not entertaining the best of hopes with several men in the lineup who have had little experience in big time athletics and two of the best men not up to normal.

A light signal practice for both teams this afternoon will complete all preparations for the game. Eighteen members of the Purple freshmen squads are making the trip to Iowa as a reward for their services.

If the Hawkeye squad puts itself across in football Saturday with the same degree of pep that it made music regarding the state of the showers in the dressing room last night they should win.

With plumbing somewhat out of order, there is only one shower in the locker room, which is not in a very good state of repair and thirty men are using it.

Ralph W. Hicks, A2 of Sheldon who suffered a bump on the nose Wednesday night which was at first thought not to be serious, was out for signal drill last night. Later developments showed it to be a severe bump and he is unable to breathe through the nostrils.

Hicks was given Ty White's berth on the seconds when the later dislocated his thumb and has given a good account of himself. White was out in uniform last night and in signal practice. His thumb is partly healed and it is expected that he will scrimmage next week.

SPONSOR'S WORK WILL NOT END UNTIL LATE MAY

Every freshman girl in the University will have a sponsor by the end of this week, according to Roberta Anderson A2 of Madrid who is chairman of the sponsor committee.

Contrary to the somewhat prevalent opinion, a sponsor's duty did not end when she had seen to it that the freshman woman in her charge was registered and settled. Throughout the year upperclass women will play the part of "Big Sister" to freshmen girls. To keep in touch with her sponsoree, to advise her, to see that she becomes interested and takes a part in the various campus activities and affairs is the duty of each sponsor.

"The sponsor system has been a decided success," said Miss Anderson "and all first year women are enthusiastic about it. Girls who had no sponsors at the first of the year asked that they might have them."

Upper class women who do not know who their sponsorees are may obtain this information from Miss Blakely, according to the sponsor committee.

PLAY TO BE ON NOV. 13, NOT 12

Date for "Her Husband's Wife," is Changed Because of Conflict With Theatre Bill

"Her Husband's Wife," the first University Players' production of the year, will be given on Saturday night November 13, instead of November 12 as was announced. The change in date was necessary because it was found impossible to secure the use of the Englert theatre on the night for which the play was planned.

Tickets for the play will be placed on sale this morning at 9 o'clock at Kirk's cigar store, Racine's No. 1, and at Whetstone's drug store. They will also be sold on the main floor of the liberal arts building on Wednesday and Thursday of next week and individual members of the Players club will solicit the students in order to promote the sale of tickets. These tickets may be exchanged for the reserved seats after 9 o'clock Friday morning, November 12. The price of admission will be $1.00.

"Her Husband's Wife," by A. E. Thomas, is essentially a comedy play and develops an amusing complication when the wife attempts to make provisions whereby, in case of her death, her husband may have a suitable wife. The cast of characters in the play are: Stuart Randolph, a good looking husband, Robert L. Block; Richard Belden, his brother-in-law, Lauren H. Smith; John Belden, the genial uncle of Irene and Richard, Charles B. Gould; Irene Randolph, wife of Stuart, Marion H. Smith; Emily Ladew, her friend, Eleanor Talley; and Nora, an elderly maid servant, Anne Rummelhart.

The University Players expect to give several other plays during the year but none of the titles have yet been announced.

MIX-UP EXISTS IN SOCIAL COMMITTEE REPRESENTATION

Failure of students in charge of the recent all-University election to submit names of student representatives on the social committee to Wilbur J. Teeters, dean of the college of Pharmacy and chairman of the social committee, is causing some misunderstanding as to whether committee representatives were actually elected.

Reports from the office of Dean Teeters are that no notice concerning the election has been received there. The student body was invited to select six representatives from junior and senior classes at the election of October 15.

PLURALITY FOR HARDING TO BE 401 OUT OF 531

Results of Election are Practically Complete — Three Votes in Dark in New Mexico

IOWA CLEAR FOR G. O. P.

Republican Increase in Both Houses of Congress Indicated by Last Returns — Border States Are For Harding — Democrats Win in Kentucky — Champ Clark Loses

That Harding will win 401 of the 531 electoral votes is the indication of practically complete returns reported last night. The result in New Mexico is still in doubt with three votes hanging in the balance. Harding seems to have carried the close race in Oklahoma and Tennessee according to unofficial but nearly complete returns. All the border states except Kentucky have reported large republican majorities. The entire West and all northern and eastern states have given Harding overwhelming majorities.

The republican lead in both houses of the next congress has been decidedly increased by the latest available returns. In the senate the republicans will have a majority of sixteen with a possibility of Oregon and Oklahoma raising it to twenty. In the house the republican majority is 134. A large number of house seats are still in doubt and indications point to still further additions to the republican lead. In Missouri, T. W. Hukreide, republican, has defeated Champ Clark, former speaker of the house, by a majority of nearly 6000 votes.

In Iowa the entire republican ticket has been swept to victory, according to nearly complete reports. Harding's final plurality will amount to between 425,000 and 450,000, judging by present indications. Cummins will have a plurality of nearly 150,000 over Porter, and Kendall will number about 200,000 over Herring at the present rate.

Over 800 precincts have reported the vote for offices below governor. Results point to the election of all republican candidates for state office.

QUADRANGLE WILL HOLD OPEN HOUSE HOMECOMING

The Quadrangle will hold an open house from 10 to 11:30 a. m. Saturday, November 13, for the Homecoming visitors, students and faculty members, according to Ben W. Robinson, president of the Quadrangle association. Ushers will be provided to show the visitors around the building, and souvenirs containing a new aeroplane picture of the Quadrangle will be given to all visitors. The rooms will be open to the public, and as far as possible, the men will be in their rooms to welcome the visitors. Ralph L. Reed, manager of the University cafeteria, announces that arrangements will be made to care for additional numbers at the noon hour, so that all who desire, may be accommodated.

Last year at Homecoming, the Quadrangle held an open house, although at that time the building was incomplete in many details.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB ELECTED OFFICERS AT LAST REHEARSAL

The following officers of the woman's glee club were elected at the regular rehearsal yesterday afternoon: Ruth Rowland A3 of Iowa City, president; Alleen Davis A4 of Sutherland, vice-president; secretary-treasurer, Margaret Stotts A3 of Chicago, Ill.; and business manager, Margaret Brady A3 of Fort Dodge. Lucille Reynolds A4 of Oskaloosa and Margaret Moore A3 of Harlan were appointed members of the executive committee to co-operate with the business manager.

TONIGHT'S GATHERING TO OUT-HEROD HEROD

GLEE CLUB MAY GO ON CONCERT TOUR THIS YEAR

The men's glee club elected these officers Wednesday night: William A. Bockoven M4, president; Vernon Thomas A2, vice-president; Leslie M. Hays A4, secretary-treasurer; and Holger N. Hoegh M3, business manager. Immediately following his election Mr. Bockoven appointed on his executive committee, Robert A. Rockhill A4, Robert L. Hunter A3, and S. L. Bickal P2.

Mr. Hoegh was business manager for the club last year and will try to put last year's plans for a concert trip into operation this year. A concert tour was impossible last year because of the coal shortage, but the club hopes to complete arrangements for a trip during the coming Christmas holidays.

CROSS COUNTRY RUN TOMORROW

Iowa and Cornell to Meet in First Clash of Season — Race to be Held In Morning

The cross country team will run at Cornell Saturday morning at ten-thirty o'clock. The team will leave in cars at eight o'clock and will return after the race in time to see the Iowa Northwestern football game. The personell of the team is not certain owing to the possibility that Peterman's injured foot may keep him out of the running. If he runs, the team will be composed of Benjegerdes, Brandenburg, Miller, Murray, Peterman, and Ristine. If Peterman is out his place will be taken by Mabec.

Cornell has always had strong cross country teams, and can be counted upon to put up a great race. For Iowa Ristine and Peterman are unusually strong runners and if the latter is able to run and to do himself justice, both of them will give any man that Cornell has, an argument. With Peterman out, or unable to run to do his best, for the two have worked together and know each other's style of running.

The race will be scored on the same system as all Conference cross country races. Each man will count for his team the number of points corresponding to the place in which he finishes. The score of the first five men on each team will be added together and the team making the lowest number of points will win. In case the score of the first five men to finish for each team is even, the team whose sixth man finishes first shall be counted the winner.

"It loks like an even thing to me. The men have worked steadily and should be at their best. I shall be surprised by a victory or a defeat by more than half a dozen points," said Coach M. F. Carpenter.

LAW COLLEGE WITH-HOLDS SPECIAL HOMECOMING PLANS

The college of law will not make any special plans for Homecoming according to an announcement made yesterday by Dean D. O. McGovney. The building and class rooms will be open for visitors and sightseers but no special meetings will be held. The reason for not holding any program is that it tends to detract from the enjoyment of the big affairs during Homecoming.

MASS. MEETING TO BETTER PEP OF OLD TIMERS

Northwestern Will Have Representative on Speech Program in N. S. Auditorium

O. I. C. WILL MAKE DEBUT

Howling 300 Reception Committee Meets Northwestern Team This Morning — Transport Visitors in Army Trucks — May Make Tour This Afternoon

With the engineers and dents trying to outyell each other in true old time fashion an effort will be made to out do one of the old indoor mass meetings at the natural science auditorium tonight. "A real, live, peppy old time mass meeting will be the initial step in getting up pep for the Northwestern game," said Barney Dondore, "and we want everybody out for the meeting tonight."

One of the features of the meeting will be a speech by one of the members of the visiting team, and possibly a talk by Coach McDevitt, of Northwestern. Assitant Coach Ronald Reed '19 of Iowa, all-American end in 1917-1918, will be there to give the boys a boost, and Al Fisher, '10, an old yell leader and sometimes called the "father of Iowa yells," will show some of the pep that used to be still exists. Prof. E. H. Lauer, head of the German department, and some of the members of the athletic board are going to be present to instill some of the pre-war enthusiasm into the gathering.

Women Also to Howl

Tonight will be the first appearance of the O. I. C., women's pep club at a mass meeting and they are expected to be out in force. Jean Speers A3, of Reinbeck, president of the organization, will give a talk on the pep that the new organization has generated. The O. I. C. club is to have an entire section of the main floor of the auditorium and is expected to give an exhibition of some of its yelling during the meeting.

The Howling 300 reception committee will be at the Rock Island station to meet the Northwestern team when it arrives this morning and will take them up to the Jefferson hotel in one of the big army trucks that has been borrowed for the occasion. One man from the committee will be in attendance upon the visitors all day to see that their wants are filled and that they are made to feel at home. An auto trip around Iowa City and vicinity is being planned for this afternoon if the visitors are at liberty to make the trip.

The Howling 300 is to meet at the southeast corner of the campus at 1:15 p. m. Saturday to make up the big parade down to Iowa field.

WHY NOT SPILL SOME BEANS OURSELVES?

Gloom prevades the Iowa football squad. Since the Chicago game gloom has engulfed the fifteen or twenty young men who weekly battle on the chalk lined field for the glory and honor of their alma mater. The gloom right now is thicker than ever.

The loss of two contests to teams little if any better than ours and the awful fear, "What if we should drop another game?" no doubt accounts for this widespread lack of joy. Isn't it silly?

Repining over spilled beans gets not even an all-American football player anywhere except nearer the psychopathic ward. Fear of Northwestern, Minnesota, or Ames is just as absurd. Why not forget the past and stop worrying about the future?

The question in regard to Northwestern, Minnesota, and Ames is not, "Can we win?" but "How close can they hold us?"

It is freely believed in Daily Iowan editorial circles that any sporting expert if compelled to be definite today about the matter would concede Iowa victories over our next three opponents by a margin for the three games of from fifteen to forty points.

Now, dope is made to be upset, and all the world loves the upsetter thereof. Fifteen points; pooh, pooh! Forty points; bah! Sixty points each is more like it. Score a touchdown on every play. Prove to the comparative score hounds that Cornell is the second best team west of the Mississippi this year. It can be done. All it takes is a change in the point of view.

Gloom, begone.

ECONOMY

What people talk about is an old and interesting study, and so also is the study of the way that people say things. Dialects, colloquialisms, idioms, and vernaculars seems to have found a comfortable nest in the conversational dictum of the average American.

A considerable number of stories and anecdotes of a humorous nature might be collected on this subject. Normally they begin with "An Englishman and an American.... etc." Whether all of this responsibility justly falls on "The States" is perhaps a point in question—anyone who has attempted to converse with an Englishman, particularly one of the typical Tommy Atkins variety, can testify to the existence of rather mystifying terms in the trend of Tommy's conversation.

It seems undoubtedly true, however, that we of the western hemisphere, speak a little language of our own. Perhaps the authors of those blue-backed grammars that one used in the grades would turn nervously in their graves at the sound of some of the customary combinations in vogue, or perhaps they did it themselves once. Sometimes it acts like this:

"Who's the little friend, Charlie?" "Been datin' her to varsity some." "Cute kid." "Pretty good waggon. Nice to play around with." And occasionally it takes this form: "How much did they stick you for the lid?" "Twelve bucks and a half." "Pretty steep."

"I'll say." "The bird's ridin' a horse." "You tell 'em."

One of the unsung virtues of the slang method of social intercourse is that of economy. A saving is accomplished in substituting "Cute kid" for "attractive young lady," and "pretty steep" is a great conservation over "rather expensive," and in these days print paper is at a premium.

EDWARD MISSED SOME THINGS

When one reads that a lad named Edward Rochie Hardy Jr., of New York City is, at the age of twelve, enrolled as a freshman at Columbia University, the youngest freshman that has ever entered that institution, he begins to turn back the old calendar and review his own status in the educational world at the period of his twelfth year.

In most cases he finds himself not much beyond the stage at which ear-washing was considered an easily dispensable part of the toilet, paper cried out to be folded up neatly and shot at exasperated school teachers, and the chief value of the old geography was as a bulwark behind which to retire and eat apples during study periods.

And here is Edward Hardy at that same age, versed in twelve languages, well schooled in history and mathematics, and fairly proficient in reading Assyrian tablets, taking his place in the intellectual world of a big university.

Edward Hardy deserves a lot of credit. It is reported that he was a leader in social and scholastic activities in his high school and that he is interested in athletics, but he must have missed a lot that the norm of young America enjoys.

He can hardly have had those long summer afternoons down on the creek with a "slipper-slide," and a spring board and blistered shoulders, or lazy spring days catching bull-heads and lying under a tree on the bank watching white clouds pass by the opening in the leaves; and wintry days scaring rabbits from brush piles and coasting down the hill.

With due regard for Edward's very remarkable intellect, perhaps some of us would rather have the old creek than the twelve languages, or better yet, no doubt, a smattering of both.

THE SOCIAL COMMITTEE

Misunderstanding exists among members of the University social committee as to whether there has been a regular election of student representatives to that body. The student body has been invited to select six members from the junior and senior classes of the different colleges, these members to act with the regular committee of the administration in fixing rules regarding social affairs of the students.

If it is true that no students have been regularly elected to sit with the social committee then it seems logical that student council should make arrangements for a special election for this purpose. The social committee of the University is the one organization on the campus which comes nearest to affecting the student's every-day activities and through the administration may rule as it seems fit regarding social affairs, never the less, there should be the closest co-operation between students and faculty for a proper understanding of means governing social activities.

Wilber J. Teeters, dean of the college of pharmacy, is chairman of the social committee and according to information from his office no notice has been given him that any students are supposed to act with that committee. N. V. S.

THE FOOTBALL SITUATION

Everybody likes a good loser, particularly those who have won. It is not the spirit of carping criticism which inspires these remarks on the conduct and attitude of the Old C'd eleven but rather a desire to see the team come back and make good with their loyal supporters.

Probably no sane person seriously expects a team, however good, to win all the games in their schedule. Such would be more of a hope than an expectation. Most of the football supporters who witnessed the Illinois fracas came back disappointed but not discouraged. They realized the strength of the Zupke aggregation lay in several things beside their mere football ability. But the Chicago game was almost a fiasco. It was lost because of an inability to successfully perform the rudimentary details of the art, such as handling punts, recovering fumbles; details which are considered primary requisites of a high school player.

There is a tendency, which it is rumored is not confined exclusively to the student body, to criticize the coach because the eleven has not been coached in these fundamentals of the game. As far as the players are concerned, such comment is distinctly out of place. If at any time it is in order, the time would be when the team was garnering victories instead of collecting defeats.

Nothing less than a distinct stiffening of the team and an unbroken series of victories will serve to put the team back into the good graces of the student body. This year a sneer before the students have backed the team for all it was worth. The fact that some games were lost has not dampened in any way their enthusiasm. However, the knowledge that some of the first string men have skipped practice without proper excuse has not raised these same members in the estimation of those who aren't blind to the fallibility of even a gridiron star.

Any student who seeks in any way to represent the University automatically place himself under the heavy responsibility of always doing his utmost to carry on. There should not even be a whisper of lying down on the part of anyone. The best game and a little more is expected of every player; and the harder the game the harder the man is expected to exert himself to measure up.

We beat Cornell so bad that when people saw the figures of the score they thought it was a laundry bill it was so high. What the Old Gold team should do is to make the defeat of Ames so evident that everyone will think Cornell has the best team in Iowa outside of this University.

Anything but clean-cue victories over Northwestern and Minnesota would be out of the question. Our desire ought to be to defeat Minnesota so disastrously that the old grads who are watching our team at work for the first time will never be able to understand why it was that Illinois and Chicago took us in. B. G.

HERE'S PEP!

We are glad that some of the "old timers" are interested in us here at the University and we feel bound to answer their inquiry concerning pep. All right, gang. Have we got the pep? "Yea Bo!"

S. A. T. C. days were a knockout and the old fashioned pep received quite a blow, but it's back stronger than ever now. In the old days the spirit was great, no doubt, but now the Howling 300 howls the Mysterious 300 shrieks, and the rest of us—well, we just make noise and lots of it.

But that isn't the best of the story.

We are trying to make this enthusiasm the right kind. We're in dead earnest. Men are out for the athletic teams, dramatic are coming to the front, the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. are claiming their fields, and it is all in a business-like manner. We would like to say also that we are breaking away from bolshevistic tendencies. If the "gang" that sent our team to the Illinois and Chicago games had been inclined to pull the dynamite act Iowa City would be in ruins, but we are trying to keep the slate clean. This year we send our team off with a "whoop", and meet them, victors or victims, with a "yell" and we don't bother the theatres between times.

Who put the FIGHT in IOWA? The old timers, and we gratefully admit it, but the new school is keeping it there, and while we're on the job we propose to make it grow.

We suggest that the old sports who are fearful about the present college spirit at Iowa come and spend a few days with us during the Homecoming season and see for themselves. C. K. H.

Now that the liquor question is dead

we intend to initiate a custom of using a dead language when occasion demands that we employ the use of such obsolete words as wine, whiskey, etc. . . . Boy! Bring me my Latin Dictionary.

Speaking of earthquakes, an instructor in the department of geology has this to say: "The surface of the earth is not the same two consecutive days. Earthquakes, eruptions, etc. . . are but two of the many forces affecting this constant and continual change. . . . In fact there are disturbances and jars in the life of the earth just as there are disturbances and jars in the life of man."

Our little Innocent, who is always asking the why of things wants to know where the botom drops when the botom drops out of prices.

When a politician hears the phrase "front porch" he thinks of the G. O. P. elephant; but when a fusser hears the same phrase an animal that flourishes on corn always comes into his mind.

The "stew bum" of the old days was a shiftless good-for-nothing individual and was considered a blight on the community in which he lived. He left the greater part of his weekly earnings in a corner saloon every Saturday, staggered home about midnight, beat his wife, kicked his mother, and then went to bed with absolutely no thought to his prayers. Nowadays, however, it is different. The drinker is envied and respected. It is impossible to be an alcohol absorber without being a man of affluence, wealth, and energy. . . . The modern drunkard gets his stuff in Canada and brings it home by way of aeroplane. Sometimes he runs down to Cuba where he enjoys being boiled for two or three days. Then he buys his friends several boxes of Havana cigars, returns home, and all the reformed stews gaze upon him with infinite admiration. He is a great man.

SWEATER RUSE FAILS

Imitation Pigskin on Jerseys Useless With White Football

Dallas, Tex.:—The time honored ruse of wearing jerseys with imitation pigskins sewed on the chest, brought into prominence years ago by the Carlisle Indians, lost its effectiveness in the game between Trinity university and the Texas Christian university. The camouflage has been ruled out in a number of conferences for several years. When Coach Goodman of the Trinity eleven saw the uniforms of the opposing team, he smiled and made no protests. A few minutes later he chuckled as he tossed the ball on to the gridiron for the kickoff. It had been painted snow white.

JAZZ MUSIC BL WIRELESS IS TRICK AT CHICAGO PARTY

Chicago, Ill.:—Vigilant deans at the university have been outwitted by science. The deans are not strong for jazz music, the whining saxophones, and the sobbing violins and that sort of thing, but the Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity had that sort of music at its Hallowe'en party tonight and the deans are not yet quite certain how the trick was turned.

A member of the fraternity, who is also a wizard in electricity, installed a special apparatus connected with an orchestra several blocks distant. Amplifiers were installed at the source and around the walls of the dance hall and the music came through without the loss of a note.

13 GAMES ON IOWA SCHEDULE

Hawkeye's Will Play Six Basket Ball Games on Home Floor

Thirteen games appear on the schedule for the Iowa basketball team for the coming season. Six of these games are to be held here on the home floor.

A special practice trip for the Hawkeye basketball team during Christmas vacation including Millikin college of Decatur, Ill., and an independent team consisting of college stars at Bloomington, Ill., was announced by the athletic board last night. The games will be played about January 1, according to Rudolph A. Kuever, secretary of the athletic board. Coach Jimmie Ashmore will have charge of the players on the trip but the number of men that will make the trip has not yet been decided.

Capt. Nicolaus and Worth, Iowa's lengthy center, are the only men of last year's team that are not reporting for practice on the Hawkeye quintet this year. The following men of last year's squad are again in line for positions: Shimek, Kaufmann, Finlayson, Aubrey Devine, Lohman, Ehresman, Kadesky, Newcomb, Olson, Prentiss, and Frohwein. In addition to these veterans there are 25 men who are being drilled daily by Coach Ashmore and coached in the arts of the game. "Some of the men are showing exceptional skill and look to be good material for the coming season," said Coach Ashmore.

The basketball schedule for this year follows:

- January 15—Minnesota at Minneapolis
- January 21—Michigan at Ann Arbor
- January 22—Chicago at Chicago
- January 31—Chicago at Iowa City
- February 7—Minnesota at Iowa City
- February 15—Ames at Iowa City
- February 19—Purdue at Iowa City
- February 21—Indiana at Iowa City
- February 26—Indiana at Bloomington
- February 28—Northwestern at Evanston
- March 5—Purdue at Lafayette
- March 11—Ames at Ames
- March 14—Northwestern at Iowa City.

CHANEY TO STUDY IN EAST

Will Examine Fossil Plant Collections of Many Universities

Prof. Ralph W. Chaney of the geology department, has recently been informed that an appropriation has been made by Carnegie Institute at Washington, which will permit him to visit some of the leading institutions in the United States, for the study of collections of fossil plants. Professor Chaney expects to leave in the early part of December and will return shortly after the Christmas vacation.

During the past summer Professor Chaney was engaged in field work for the University of California, under John C. Merriam who was recently elected president of Carnegie Institute.

Professor Chaney expects to visit Johns Hopkins University where he will do most of his work, going from there to Columbia, Yale, and Princeton. He will visit the botanical gardens at New York for the purpose of seeing the famous collections of fossil plants there.

In speaking of the proposed trip Professor Chaney said, "At Princeton, Yale, and Columbia I shall see fossil plants collected as much as forty years ago in the John Day basin where I worked last summer. Many of these are of special interest from a scientific standpoint."

FRESHMAN WOMEN ELECT OFFICERS FOR COMING YEAR

The following were elected officers of the freshman commission at the meeting yesterday: president, Margaret Wilson of Iowa City, vice-president, Marion Rummel of Independence secretary-treasurer, Melba Carpenter, of Iowa City. Madelene Donnelly of Mason City was elected delegate to the woman's association, and Gladys Hamilton of Tipton was elected new members of the commission.

OLD MAN FROST USHERS IN REGIME OF FUR APPAREL

By L. G. M.

Jack Frost is here and with him he brings fur coats. Fur coats are everywhere, long ones, short ones, thin ones and fat ones in every fur from tiger to the choicest mink.

If you want to be unique don't wear a fur coat. A stranger on the campus might mistake our University women for a peculiar type of Eskimo, for every one seems to be wearing them. The girl with the original ideas will brave the wintry blasts in a coat trimmed in anything but fur: "just to be different".

Why should the smart set travel to Chicago for the newest fashions?

They need only be observing and they will see right here on the campus an array of complete styles exhibited on living models. "Chique" completely describes the befurred student wearing a squirrel outfit. The squirrel coat is short and flaring with a big cape collar. A jaunty duvetyn hat with the brim of squirrel completes the outfit and adds to its effectiveness.

Then there is the girl garbed in seal and martin. The full length seal coat has martin bands around the bottom, martin collar, and huge fur cuffs. She wears a seal turban with martin trimming.

DRAMA LEAGUE TO MEET

"The Sidhe of Ben-Mor," a short Irish play of the famine period, by Ruth Sawyer, will be read by Miss Ramola Latchem. Plans for the coming year's activities will be discussed it is announced. The meeting will be open to visitors interested in drama league work.

Hoegh was business manager of the club last year and expects to put last year's plans for a concert trip, which were spoiled by the coal shortage, into effect this year so that the club can make a concert trip during the Christmas holidays.

Dean of Liberal Arts Mentions Nov. 2 as Big Day for America

Women's entrance into politics was the subject of an address by George F. Kay, dean of the college of liberal arts before the Y. W. C. A. Wednesday afternoon.

"November 2, 1920 is the most significant day in the history of America and perhaps in the history of the world," he said.

Dean Kay explained that Tuesday will be famous in our history as the day when the women of America, for the first time, cast their ballots for a president of the United States. He concluded his talk by saying that the University, twenty-five years hence, will look back and ask what the women of the University did during the reconstruction period.

WIRELESS CONNECTION MADE

University of Nebraska Gets Radio Messages from Colleges

Lincoln, Neb.: The university of Nebraska will soon be in wireless communication with other schools in the Missouri valley. The electrical engineering department of the college of engineering has completed the first steps in the installation of an aerial apparatus and plan to have the project finished within the next month. An antennae made up of four strands of wire 200 feet long has been strung from the tower of U hall to the roof of the electrical engineering building. The work of leading the wires down into the building is now under way.

The senior electrical engineering class is constructing the apparatus. When the wireless was in use before the war its main purpose was sending and receiving football scores. This will probably be taken up again along with experiments in radio telephony.

WRESTLING TEAM HAS NEW COACH

Ralph Parcout, Champion of Middle Weights, Is Here to Develop Mat Aspirants

Ralph Parcout, champion middle weight wrestler of the world, arrived in Iowa City yesterday morning to take charge of the Iowa wrestling squad. Last evening Mr. Parcout gave the mat aspirants a light workout in the wrestling room at the armory and took the opportunity of looking over the material on hand. Mr. Parcout did not commit himself as to the prospects of Iowa putting out a winning squad this year, but from all appearances he seemed well pleased and is already laying plans on beating Illinois.

Parcout, together with his manager and trainer, J. A. Teng, left for Chicago early this morning where he is scheduled to meet Benny Reuben on Saturday. He will return to Iowa on Sunday and assume his duties as one of the varsity coaches.

Mr. Parcout was born and raised on a farm near Royal, Iowa, and is entirely an Iowa product. While his wrestling career does not extend over a great number of years, he has to his credit a remarkable list of victories. He has never been thrown and now holds the world's belt for middle weight wrestling, having recently won over Miller, the former world champion.

Parcout succeeded in getting two falls from Jack Matsuda the touted Japanese champion in his match with him at Spencer, Iowa, two months ago. Walter Luther, the Canadian champion, was also defeated with two falls in 38 minutes.

COMMERCE MEN REORGANIZE

Club Raises Standards of Grades For Basis of Membership

Reorganization on a higher scholarship basis was effected by the Commerce club of the University at a meeting in room 206, liberal arts building, Tuesday evening. This reorganization will place membership on a higher basis, requiring better standing in scholarship, according to Clarence W. Greibling, president of the Commerce club. The new club is to be a closely organized body that can produce ideas that will boost the school of commerce.

Prof. C. O. Ruggles, director of the school of commerce, gave a short sketch of the future requirements to secure a degree in commerce. "It is my purpose to place the school of commerce on a higher standing by making it more practical and more efficient," Prof. Ruggles said.

RESEARCH FELLOWSHIP OFFERED BOTANY STUDENTS

A research fellowship with a stipend of $1200 a year is offered through the University of Hawaii by the Hawaiian Pineapple Packer's association.

The problems for investigation are concerned with the physiology and pathology of the pineapple plant. The work will require a knowledge of the plant physiology, physiological chemistry, and plant pathology. Applications will be received from men holding a B. A. degree.

The applications will be made for one year, subject to renewal for a period not to exceed three years in all. The holders of the fellowship will register as a graduate student at the University and work under the direction of the members of its faculty.

Students interested in the fellowship should see Prof. R. B. Wylie, of the morphological botany department.

200 UNIVERSITY WOMEN WILL SERVE AT BARBECUE

Two hundred University women will serve at the barbecue Friday November 12. Each sorority will furnish eight; the O. I. C., fifty; the Staff and Circle, twelve; Currier hall, fifty; the literary societies, twenty-five; and the Y. W. C. A. cabinet, twenty-five. Those on the Freshman commission who do not belong to any of the other organizations, and a few who have signed up will also serve.

INVITATIONS TO VISIT HOSPITAL ARE EXTENDED

All students of the University, and other people who are interested in the work that the state is doing for the crippled children at the Perkins hospital across the river have been invited by the authorities in charge to visit the hospital and see what service the state is offering to the crippled children of Iowa.

The purpose of this invitation is to gain publicity for the work being done, and to spread the reports through those who visit the hospital for the benefit of those who are not aware of the advantages and services that the state has to offer. Foreign students are especially invited to make this visit in order that they may agitate such a service in their own country.

The authorities in charge state that many children come to the hospital a year or two too late to get satisfactory service, and there are also many people in the state who never know of the advantages and service at their disposal.

Every organization on the campus is invited to make this visit in a body. Appointments for a visit may be made by seeing Miss Etta M. Myrick, supervisor of the hospital, or F. T. Gilbert A2 of Estherville, who is chairman of the Y. M. C. A. service committee which is assisting in carrying on the visiting program. Organizations are asked to go through in a body in order that a guide may go with them and explain the work that is being done.

Arrangements have been made for the men of the Quadrangle to visit Sunday. The Christian Endeavor of the Lutheran church made a group visit last Sunday.

DOCTOR ATWOOD TO VISIT HERE

Dr. Atwood was graduated and received his Ph. D. degree from the University of Chicago. We was an associate and later a professor of geology Chicago University. In 1913 he was appointed professor of geology at Harvard following the retirement of President-emeritus W. M. Davis. He has done important work in the field and in publications in United States geological survey. Last spring Dr. Atwood was appointed president of Clark University at Worcester, Massachusetts.

On Saturday at 5 o'clock Dean Kay has arranged to have Dr. Atwood meet the members of the staff of instructors of the department of geology, the graduate students in geology, and students who are majoring in geology.

NEW SIGN SAYS "SHOVE NORTHWESTERN SOUTHEAST"

The engineers newest slogan for the Northwestern game, "Shove Northwestern Southeast," appeared late Wednesday evening. Saturday's game is getting a double dose from the engineers, since this is the second sign that has appeared this week.

From the signs submitted by the junior engineers the one which suggests the best play in words is selected, Rufus V. Morse, president of the junior class, said.

COUNCIL WAITS TO ELECT HEAD

Doolittle Presents Resignation But Successor is Not Named at Meeting Last Night

Lack of full attendance of the members of the student council caused the election of a president to fill the position of Clyde H. Doolittle who has presented his resignation to be postponed until the next meeting of that organization. A special attempt will be made to secure complete attendance at the next meeting in order that a new president may be elected to succeed Doolittle who is anxious to be relieved of his duties.

The green cap question was discussed and it was decided to leave entire authority in the matter to the Howling 300 with whatever assistance the Howling 300 should desire from the student council.

A committee was appointed to draw up some of by-laws to the constitution of the student council with the idea of holding meetings every two weeks. It was also proposed to investigate advisability of levying an assessment on each class of each college represented in the council. The purpose is to raise sufficient money to cover the expenses of the council. Last year the council gave dances to raise funds to cover expenses but it was not considered advisable to employ that plan this year.

Another committee was appointed to confer with the University librarian, Miss Jane Roberts, to try to secure the removal of the new restriction which prohibits students from entering the stack rooms of the library. It was the general opinion of the members of the council that this new plan made it very inconvenient to the student, and a plan will be proposed whereby a desk will be placed at the entrance of the stack rooms at which desks students will be required to check out any material which they desire to use. In this way it is believed that the difficulty of losing books will be overcome.

WOMEN ELECT TWO

Florence Barnes and Julia Darrow go to Athletic Association

Two new class representatives were elected to fill vacancies at a meeting of the board of the women's athletic association, Wednesday, November 3, at the women's gymnasium. They are: Florence Barnes A3 as Junior representative and Julia Darrow A2 as Sophomore representative.

At this meeting also the committees were appointed to make arrangements for initiation which will take place Wednesday, November 17. It is planned that there will be two days of probation for the new members before they are initiated.

Plans were discussed for a vaudeville stunt of musical comedy which the association will present sometime in the spring.

JESSUP GUEST AT LUNCHEON

President Walter A. Jessup was a guest yesterday noon at the Iowa alumni association luncheon at Omaha, Neb. Following the luncheon he will return to Des Moines to the Iowa Teachers State meeting.

150 WOMEN WILL BE TAKEN INTO ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Iowa Women's Athletic Association is to have 150 new members this year. This is an unusually large number in view of the fact that there are only about 100 old members. The number of new members usually numbers about forty. Upper class women are well represented in the applicants for membership.

The requirements of the association must be completed before initiation, which is to be held at the women's gymnasium on Wednesday evening, November 17. Each girl must make five points either by swimming twelve times, by taking hikes which will amount to twenty-five miles in all, or by taking work in any elective class in the department for six weeks. The constitution of the association must be learned before the day of initiation.

All of the girls are required to meet at the women's gymnasium next Tuesday evening, November 9, at 7 o'clock. Lorna Ludwig, vice-president of the association will have charge of the meeting. Copies of the constitution will be given out and the stunts for probation days, November 16 and 17, will be assigned.

FRESHMAN WOMEN TO NAME NEW ORGAIZATION

Names suitable for the new social organization of freshmen women, of which Miss Helen Starbuck of Iowa City is president, are to be submitted to the Freshman Commission which will choose the name some time in December.

The organization is planning a mixer for all freshmen women soon. During the year the members expect to encourage friendship among freshmen women by various social gatherings. They will try to preserve the unity of this organization throughout their sophomore and junior years. A historian has been elected for this purpose. The next freshman class will be encouraged to form a similar organization.

Nellie S. Aurner, dean of women, approves this movement. "Frequently students do not really know each other until senior week, and we expect a closer friendship to be established among the members of the class by this organization," said Dean Aurner.

Will the following persons please call at the business office of The Daily Iowan, 115 So. Clinton St., sometime between 1 and 5 p. m.? Ask for Davis he has something that will undoubtedly be of interest to you.

DATE SET FOR HAWKEYE SALE

Subscription Campaign to Open December 1—Price of Book to Be Announced Later

December 1 has been set as the date for the subscription campaign of the 1922 Hawkeye, the official year book of the University according to Dwight G. Rider LL, business manager of the annual. "The price will be announced within a week," said Mr. Rider. "There has been very marked increase in printing and engraving rates since the contracts for last year's Hawkeye were signed; and although we will keep the price as low as possible, there will be an increase over last year."

The 1922 Hawkeye will have 475 pages and will cover all phases of University activities, according to Alton Ernestine A3, editor-in-chief. There will be no advertising in the book.

This year the Hawkeye will be published in only one style of binding instead of the three bindings used for the last two years. The binding to be used will be similar to the wokide binding used last year, according to Mr. Ernestine. The cover design has been prepared by Joseph B. Bengé A4 of Winterset.

As in former annuals there will be an Iowa girl section in the 1922 Hawkeye. The representative women will be selected from lists that certain professors will be asked to submit of whom they consider to be Iowa girls in the junior and senior classes, is the plan of the management.

PRIZES OFFERED FOR SONGS AT UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA

Lincoln, Nebraska—The University of Nebraska is planning a song book! The long-felt need for such a publication has finally crystallized into a determination to put Nebraska on a par with such schools as Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, and other large institutions along this line. This is the first time anything of this kind has been attempted.

The chief purpose of the book is to publish original songs written by students, alumni and others interested in the University, as well as the best songs of other schools with a few songs arranged for quartet; to become an important element in the traditions and life of students. Prizes of $25, $15 and $10 will be offered by the committee for the three best songs submitted by students and prizes of the same amounts will be given for songs submitted by other interested parties.
