Pep Meet Puts Keener Edge on Student's Hopes

"There ain't no game," said Al Welsch last night, "and we're going to show the platform to explore the second stick of dynamite which is hanging in the N. S. auditorium.

All parties are expected to have a novel feature of the game, and partially filled with students there was lots of pep for band to run and get well was the peepiest moment of the program.

Robert R. Azner started the meeting off with the remark that the Northwestern game would make or break the Iowa football team in the percentage column of the big ten conf., and then, introduced Coach Donald Rodd. "The team is going in to play football. We've been preparing our team for this game, and we are going to win this game and the other two games of the season."

Al Fisher, king of yell leaders, then presented the team in an individual student of the University for the purpose of strengthening the same.

Jeff Smith, president of the Student Council, said briefly, "The game is coming. The personnel of the team is not final yet, but indications are that Illinois' senior from his college, and these are the head of the."

Bob Clarke To Go on Body of Northwestern's pop organization, will meet at the University at 1:15 p.m. today and march to the southeast corner of the campus where the games will be played.

The Howling Wolf has arranged with Dick Brooks to have his novelty on the play which is sure to be a hit at the games.

An interesting feature of the game, that Coach McLachlin was a sub, will be the number of the latest game.

The present of the sale of the new Iowa song will be conducted with much vigor. The songs are sold for 25 cents each.

CALL FOR YOUR TICKETS TODAY

Reservations for Minnesota Game Will Go On General Sale This Noon

Persons who made reservations for tickets for the Minnesota game and have not called for them as yet will be given until 11 o'clock today to get them, according to James H. Briggs. These tickets are being held at What-stone's and may be obtained there.

Over 4,000 tickets have been sold for the Minnesota game, according to Coach Howard B. Jones. Arrangements have been made to accommodate 11,800 fans by the erection of additional bleachers on either end of the field. The entire east and west grandstands have been sold out. All late applicants will have to be content with end seats.

"We expect to accommodate the largest crowd that ever attended a football game on Iowa field," said Coach Jones.

The approach of the big game shows that the sale of 2 tickets is over 2,500.

The Bowling 300 is going to share section C with the O. L. C. members at the Minnesota game. Members of the O. L. C. should take their membership card and 1 ticket down to What-stone's before 11 p.m. today and reserve their seats if they expect to ask in Section C on Bowling day.

"Only about twenty of the girls have made their reservations so far," said Barry Donors, yesterday afternoon, "and tomorrow is the last chance to get seats in this section."

"Members of the Bowling 300 who write an extra seat can get one by applying at the Bowling 300 desk at What-stone's," said Barry. "Persons still have quite a few extra seats."

DOOLITTLE WINS CHAIR OF STATE REPRESENTATIVE

Clay H. Doollittle of Dubuque, Iowa, has been elected to represent his district as state representative at the next general assembly of the state of Iowa. Doollittle has now, and is believed to be the first, or at least one of the first men to be elected to the Iowa legislature while still attending college.

In the primaries last spring, Doollittle won the republican nomination over two opponents, and was elected in the past general election unopposed. Among the 25th and 30th General Assemblies, Doollittle acted as private secretary to Senator Perkins.

The next session of the legislature is slated for about January 15, and will probably continue up to the first of May. It will be necessary for Doollittle to be away from school during these sessions, but he will be able to return in time to graduate with his class in June.

In regard to the probable stand of the assembly in a program of assistance for the University, Doollittle said, that although the students' union bill, which we doubt became uniatl, will drain the state of approximately $300,000, but if the University of Iowa is to keep pace with the rest of the state, much more money will need to be expended for improvements, during the next two years than during the past.

Doollittle is very active on the campus. He is a member of the Chi social fraternity, Phi Alpha Delta fraternity, and the law society for senior men. He is president of the Student's Senate, and the University of Iowa is to keep pace with the rest of the state, much more money will need to be expended for improvements, during the next two years than during the past.

COLD WEATHER FAILS TO STOP MADISON SWIMMERS

"We would have sold 1000 more tickets easily," said Professor Sumer, "if only we could announce that Madison will be given a chance to secure tickets if they desire."

A system is being worked out in the ticket sale. All solicitors have not yet been heard from, and it is estimated that 120 tickets are yet to be turned into the ticket committee.

"We could have sold 1000 more tickets easily," said Professor Sumer.

HAWKEYE TEAM LOOKS LIKE WINNER TODAY

It is true that the Hawkeyes were the best in the West. But ever since 1919, when Michigan severed relations with Notre Dame because of the playing of Ditzler and Pinkus, whose points were thrown off the Conference track meet the following spring, thus taking the most votes away from Notre Dame, none of the stronger Conference teams has scheduled games with the South Bend university. Whether this amounted to more than a prejudice on the part of the other universities is hard to say. But an elevens that plays only Indiana, Northwestern, and Purdue, in the Conference does not get a fair chance to show its real strength compared with that of other Western teams.

Indiana Beats a Weak

Indiana has another day of rest to prepare for its game with Notre Dame. Indiana has a team this year that ranks well in the Conference and with a week to straighten out its line-up it should be able to do well against even an strong eleven as its opponents.

Annis plays Croghan at Omaha and should keep on winning now that it has started. Croghan has been beaten by Des Moines College 23 to 0 and does not have anything like the team that it had last year. Annis must be near in full strength by this time, and should not lose to a team that did not win from Des Moines.
