SOUSA AND HIS BAND WILL GIVE CONCERT FRIDAY

Eleven Numbers Compose the Main Program — Encores From Sousa's Pieces

SOLOISTS PART OF COMPANY

Mary Baker, Soprano, Florence Hardman, Violinist, and John Dolan, Cornetists, Will Be Here Tomorrow — Tickets on Reserve at Dey Building Today

A program made up entirely of musical compositions of the highest rank will be given by Sousa's band at the armory tomorrow afternoon, according to Prof. Philip G. Clapp head of the department of music. The concert will start promptly at 2 o'clock.

Lieut.-commander John Philip Sousa, conductor of the band, will be assisted by the following soloists: Miss Mary Baker, soprano; Miss Florence Hardman, violinist; Mr. John Dolan, cornetist; and Mr. George J. Carey, xylophonist.

The program will consist of the following numbers: rhapsody "The American Indian," Oram, by the band; cornet solo "Scintilla" Perkins, by Mr. John Dolan; suite "Camera Studies" Sousa, by the band; vocal solo, "The Crystal Lute" by Miss Mary Baker; "Her Majesty at Westminster" from "The King's Court" and march, "Semper Fidelis" Sousa, by the band.

The second part of the program will be as follows: "A Study in Rhythms" Carey, by the band; xylophone solo "The March Wind" Carey, by Mr. George J. Carey; march "Comrades of the Legion" Sousa, by the band; violin solo "First Movement from F Sharp Minor Concerto" Vieuxtemps, by Miss Florence Hardman; "Dale Dances of Yorkshire" Wood, by the band and the national anthem. Encores will be selected from some of Lieut.-commander Sousa's own compositions.

"Sousa's band is the oldest established musical organization in the country," said Professor Clapp. It is known practically everywhere for the excellent programs it always gives. The band has a large reed section so that it has almost as much variety of tonal color as an orchestra. It is one of the few organizations, either orchestra or band, that has perfect precision of attack and purity of ensemble, according to Professor Clapp.

The price of tickets is $1.50. The sale of reserved seats will open this morning at the office of the school of music, room 206 Dey Building. The office will be open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. today and from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. tomorrow. After 1 p. m. tomorrow the tickets will be on sale at the box office at the men's gymnasium.

Immediately following the concert here the band will leave by special train for Davenport where they will play Friday evening.

TEAM WILL BE ON PLATFORM AT MEETING TOMORROW NIGHT

Judge R. P. Howell, of Iowa City, a former student of the University, will preside at the mass meeting to be held at the natural science auditorium at 7:30 Friday night after the barbecue.

One of the big features of the meeting will be that every member of the team will be on the platform and that every senior member of the team will give a short talk. President Walter A. Jessup will be present and will give a short talk to the team and rooters.

The mass meeting has been changed from the University armory to the auditorium, because of the fact that the chairs will all be in use at the barbecue and will not be available for the mass meeting.

NURSES PLAN DECORATIONS FOR HOSPITAL AND HOME

The nurses will decorate for Homecoming. As a special attraction the word "Welcome" will be in gold letters over the main entrance of the University hospital.

The alumni will register at home No. 1 on Iowa avenue. The house will be decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and the porch with yellow and purple bunting, according to Nettie Balkemo junior, of Orange City, president of the nurses student organization.

VESPER SERVICE WILL BE SUNDAY

New York Sociologist Will Talk On "Education For Citizenship" In Auditorium

Owen R. Lovejoy, prominent sociologist from New York City, will speak on the subject of "Education for Citizenship" at the vesper services to be held Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the natural science auditorium. Mr. Lovejoy comes very highly recommended as an authority on sociological questions, according to Prof. G. T. W. Patrick, chairman of the vesper committee.

Mr. Lovejoy has spoken at the University several times before, the last time being on February 18, 1918, when he spoke on the subject of "Safeguarding Children in War Times." At present Mr. Lovejoy is devoting a great deal of his time to lecturing. He is very much interested in the child labor question being general secretary of the National Child Labor committee, and president of the National Conference of social work.

Plans to have Mr. Lovejoy speak to sociology classes have been abandoned since word was received yesterday by Professor Patrick that Mr. Lovejoy would not arrive in Iowa City till Saturday morning because of a speaking engagement Friday evening in Omaha.

Mr. Lovejoy was graduated from Albion college, Michigan, in 1891 with an A. B. degree. He received his M. A. degree in 1894 and his LL. D. degree in 1914 from the same college. Since his graduation he has been very active in sociological work. He is a member of several national societies which are engaged in sociological work. Mr. Lovejoy is also a member of the Epison chapter of Delta Tau Delta.

Invocation will be by Reverend Ira J. Huston of the Congregational church of this city. Music will be furnished by the vesper choir, assisted by Mrs. Mildred B. Paddock of the department of music.

MORE ROOMS ARE NEEDED

Mumma Urges Available Rooms To Be Reported At Once

The presence of approximately 400 dental alumni, attending the alumni clinic of dentists, has created an unprecedented demand for rooms for home-comers. Reports from the office of the Alumni association late yesterday afternoon, show that only 150 persons have been accommodated with rooms.

"Unless each member of the staff of instruction helps the committee secure additional rooms, Iowa City's reputation for hospitality will be very much tarnished," is the statement of Lieut.-Col. Morton C. Mumma, chairman of the housing committee, concerning the situation.

He further suggested that anyone with a room to rent to homecomers should call 848, the office of the Alumni association.

WEATHER FORECAST

United States Department of Agriculture
November 11—Partly cloudy today. Colder this afternoon.

BARBECUE FEAST WILL BE SERVED TO 2200 GUESTS

New Armory Will Be Used for the First Time Tomorrow—Dinner at 5:30

ONLY FEW TICKETS ARE LEFT

University Women Will Serve Individual Dinner — Boxes to Each Person in Cafeteria Style — Armory Will Be Heated By Log Fire—Music and Toasts

Final plans have been completed for serving 2,200 people cafeteria style at the Homecoming barbecue to be held at the new armory across the river at 5:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, according to Prof. Stephen H. Bush, chairman of the barbecue committee. Eighty one women of the University will hand out individual boxes containing complete dinners as the people pass the serving tables. A military guard will be on hand to prevent any disturbance. A fire of huge logs in the middle of the armory will heat the building.

After the barbecue the crowd will be by Lieut.-Col. Morton C. Mumma past the bonfire into which they will throw their boxes, cups and plates. A short program consisting of music by the band and toasts by four alumni will follow the barbecue proper.

Prof. Forest C. Ensign, chairman of the Homecoming committee issued yesterday the following directions for reaching the barbecue. "Those crossing to the armory in automobiles should take the Burlington street bridge, follow the pavement to the top of the hill and there turn to the right into the armory grounds. Parking space will be provided just south of the building. Those going on foot should cross the Burlington street bridge and proceed straight west to the armory. However, in the case of heavy rains it would be better to cross on the Iowa avenue bridge, follow the walk to the Quadrangle and the pathway that will be provided there from the armory."

All women who are going to serve are asked to bring a sweater and a white apron, and report at the new armory to Miss Violet Blakely at 4 p. m. tomorrow.

A few additional tickets will be put on sale this morning at 10 a. m. at Whetstone's drug store and at the Alumni Association headquarters in the Y. M. C. A. building, according to Prof. Dayton Stoner who is in charge of the ticket sale.

CHURCH DINNERS TO BE SERVED TO HOMECOMERS

Chicken dinners will be served to the Homecoming crowd Saturday from 11 o'clock to 1 o'clock for seventy-five cents a plate by the following churches, English Lutheran, corner of Market and Dubuque streets; Christian, Iowa avenue; St. Mary's, northeast corner of Clinton and Jefferson streets; Congregational, southeast corner of Clinton and Jefferson streets. If the provisions hold out supper will also be served.

No Classes Saturday

Contradicting the rumor that has been circulating around the campus that for the first time in the history of the University, classes would be held on Homecoming day, comes the statement from the office of President Walter A. Jessup that all classes will be dismissed on Saturday, November 13.

The Statement is as follows: An action of the Board of Deans that all classes be dismissed Saturday, November 13th, has been approved.
—W. A. Jessup

NEXT EDITION OF IOWAN IS HOMECOMING SPECIAL

This is the last edition of The Daily Iowan until publication of the special Homecoming number Saturday morning, November 13.

Tickets for the special edition may be redeemed at a table on the corner of the campus at Clinton and Washington streets, only until noon. After noon they will be turned in for general sale.

CLASSES DISMISS TO OBSERVE DAY

Memorial Program Will Be Given in Auditorium This Morning At 10 O'clock

All classes of the University will be dismissed today in observance of the signing of the Armistice. At ten o'clock, a program, commemorating those who lost their lives in the war, will be given by the students of the University in the natural science auditorium.

The only official observance of the day in Iowa City outside of the program to be given by the students, will be the tolling of the city hall bell at at one minute to eleven this morning, according to Mayor Ingalls swisher. At the tolling of the bell it is requested that everyone stand silently for one moment and face the East. All merchants are requested to close their establishments for the entire day.

The program this morning will be as follows: Invocation by Rev. Walter Schaffer of the Congregational church; serenade by Czerworny will be given by Winifred Forbes, Helen Roberts, Geraldine Mars, Clarence Bennett, Finch Wagner, and Edward Risser; "A Tribute to the Red Cross" by Arthur Harris; "Rehabilitation" by Charles Glasgow; a selection by the University quartet, composed of Leslie Hays, Harold Thomas, Vernon Cone and Frederic Allebach; "Memories" by James E. Thomas.

Robert W. Service's poem, "Young Fellow My Lad," will be given by Helen Langworthy, and DeWayne Siliman will speak on "Dividends of War." The audience will then rise and sing the Star Spangled Banner.

W. A. A. SELLS "I" BUTTONS

Sororities Will Sell Badges to Guests Friday and Saturday

"I" buttons are now being sold on the campus by members of the women's athletic association. The sale of the buttons started yesterday and the proceeds will go to W. A. A. A. to partially defray expenses connected with women's athletics at the University, according to Claribel Wright A4 of Houghton, who has charge of the sale.

The sale is to last through Homecoming when old graduates and former students of the University will be asked to buy one. The buttons sell for 10 cents each.

During the Homecoming festivities the sororities will have charge of the sale. Alpha Delta Pi's will sell at Whetstone's, while Delta Delta Delta's and Alpha Chi Omega's are to have charge of the sale at the pushball contest on Iowa field. Kappa Kappa Gamma and Pi Beta Phi sororities will canvass the business men of the city, and the members of Iota Xi Epsilon and Chi Omega sororities will sell pins at the Iowa-Minnesota game.

DEAN RAYMOND TO ATTEND MEETING AT WASHINGTON

Dean William G. Raymond of the college of applied science left for Washington, D. C., Monday afternoon to attend a meeting of the National Association of State Universities which is to be held at the Hotel New Willard on November 12 and 13.

VARSITY NOT UP TO PAR IN LAST NIGHT'S CLASH

Several Backfield Men Nursing Injuries — Jaqua Still At Fullback Position

KAUFMANN INJURED AGAIN

Freshman Not Up to Usual Form—Injuries Probably Will Not Keep Any on Sidelines Next Saturday — Third Team and Freshmen To Battle Saturday Morning

The Hawkeye team was out of form last night in the scrimmage against the frosh which probably will be the last before meeting the Gophers. Practice was slow on both sides of the line, the freshmen not hitting as hard as the burly first year men usually do, and the varsity seeming to have a slump.

Kaufmann had to leave scrimmage when a twist of his leg sprained the ligament, which was already weak from a former injury. Rath and Ty Smith are also sporting limps while G. Devine stayed out of the rough stuff entirely on account of a bump on the shoulder in the game with the Purple.

Frosh Gains Short

Probably none of the players on the crippled list will be obliged to stay on the sidelines Saturday but even minor injuries in a game, which will be so evenly matched, might turn the luck the other way.

Jaqua started the scrimmage at full with Rath and Ty Smith at halves. Shuttleworth replaced Rath and Locke went in for Smith after a few minutes of grind. The first year men were not able to gain consecutively except once when a flip from Day to Sammons netted 20 yards. Miller managed to wiggle through for a yard or two occasionally.

Thompson finished the night for Kaufmann at right guard after the latter had gone in. The scrimmage was short as far as the varsity was concerned and they ended the workout by following the ghost ball up and down the north field a few times.

Saturday Morning Game

The freshmen got most of the grief last evening as they were obliged to scrap with the subs after the first team had had enough. They braced up considerably here and the subs had hard work to make progress especially with Linsey of Davenport frequently getting through the line and messing up Capt. Kelly's backfield.

The first year team nearly forced the seconds back to a safety but Jaqua and Rich managed to smash their way out of the danger zone, and a moment later Organ pranced through the line and got away free for a sprint the length of the field.

The third team and the freshmen will battle in a regular game Saturday morning after the pushball contest, according to Assistant Coach Albert P. Jenkins.

PRICE OF HAWKEYE TO BE $5

Selling Campaign Will Commence December 1

Five dollars will be the price of the 1922 Hawkeye, according to an announcement made yesterday by Dwight G. Rider LL of Waterloo, business manager of the annual. There will be but the one-priced volume.

The sales campaign will start December 1. The sale of twenty-five hundred volumes has been set as the aim of the campaign. A deposit of two dollars will be made at the time the subscription is taken, and the balance will be paid when the book is delivered on May 2, the business manager announced today.

WHAT IS THERE IN IT?

Since the end of the war with its fine flush of spirit, a sort of pestilential note has crept into affairs of a more or less public nature. It is the cry of those who base their value-received demands a crass notions of selfishness. It is the old, new wail, "What is there in it for me?"

This attitude is not entirely to be despised. Taken in its full sense it is not a bad standard of action. But those who work it hardest are the ones who see it only from a dim, self-centered corner.

Two years ago to-day some thousands of men of two continents quit a long, hard job of making war. They were a fair cross section of the strong manhood of Europe, America, and the provinces. What was there in it for them? One to four years from the best time of their lives, limited circumstances for the people in their homes, a dollar a day, canned meat, work, fear, insanity, wounds, disease, mud. That is one side.

What was there in it for them? The knowledge of having done a job and done it well; the happiness of having fought for the equal rights of all people under the sun; the relief of going back to the shade of the old tree by the front porch at home, with the moral satisfaction of having carried on like a man with other men.

Then there are those who didn't come back. What was there in it for them? A wooden cross with battered helmet and a little metal disc; a death a little earlier than the rest, touched with the greatest honor of a world of gain and loss; sacrifice of life for the happiness of others.

To-day, with its stamped reminder of that sacrifice, with its evidence on all hands of work to be done, to-day the whine of the little people who selfishly cry "What is there in it for me?" sounds like the wail of a thoughtless, pampered child.

CONTRIBUTORS' COLUMN

A MESSAGE FROM THE EAST

Not long ago I happened to board one of the transcontinental expresses that rush across Iowa on their way to the coast. The train was crowded and I had to share the seat of another young fellow whom I noticed wore the badge of a fraternity and as all university men have a sort of feeling in common we soon fell into conversation. It being election season, our discourse soon drifted into the field of politics, and he informed me that he was a newspaper correspondent, had received his degree from Princeton and was only then returning from a trip to Marion, Ohio, where he had called upon President-elect Harding with a group of newspaper men from all over the country. His story ran something like this:

"Eight years ago this week I stood with a group of undergraduates before the home of the governor of New Jersey, celebrating the victory that had come to Princeton's president. It scarcely seems possible that just eight years could have elapsed since that memorable evening and as I stood in the offices of the Marion Star, election night, and heard the wires give forth their atle of an avalanche that swept into power a new regime, spelling defeat for the present administration, I could not but recall that evening eight years before. How happy he and his family must have been—what must have been their prospects and plans—and then the realization—eight years of labor, war, and worry—then that "great and solemn referendum", condemning the greatest achievement of Mr. Wilson's life—his league of nations. What must have been his feelings as he read the verdict—What does the future hold for us—What—"

The train came to a sudden, jerky, grinding stop, interrupting his story. As I glanced through the smoke-begrimmed window onto the platform of that Iowa City, wet, soggy and dingy in the November drizzle, I caught a glimpse of a flag-draped, military guarded coffin—no doubt the body of some Iowa City boy on his way home, all that was mortal of him, to be laid at rest where beloved ones might watch and remember.

November eleventh is at hand. Once more our thoughts are turned to the East, and a great nation will pause in its onward rush, for a moment, to call to memory a field of crosses, White in November sunshine of sunny France. This thought accured to me and was reiterated by my friend: What did it matter who was president; wether the administration wiggled and wobbled or was proclaimed a success by party adherents; what mattered it if there existed "a" league of nations or "the" League of Nations; whether the whims and pet ideas of a president or party existed; be they republican or democratic? One thing is certain, only one—rank on rank of crosses, raised as a mark of distinction and a badge of honor to fifty thousand American boys, proclaim eternally that we are pledged to maintain some form of unselfish brotherhood for all mankind and for all peoples,—and what is more, those same crosses are a living memorial and an ever existing warning that, "If ye break faith which us who died We shall not sleep, though poppies grow In Flander's fields."

Saturday the more sentimental grad steals away from the boisterous group at "the house" for the purpose of going alone about the streets, where he may reconstruct in his memory the events that happened in his fussing days before "him" and "her" got together permanently. Front porches here and there about the town will recall the most minute detail of the first hanging of his "pin." Other porches, perhaps, will recall the second or even the third hanging with half of the cast slightly changed.

A Ten Thousand Dollar Book for Five Dollars

Did you ever stop to think that if the HAWKEYE was ever gotten out for you alone it would cost you over $10,000.00?

That is what it costs to engrave and print such a publication. As a matter of fact, the figures this year will run well above that sum. The 1922 HAWKEYE faces prices far higher than those of preceding issues. The contracts alone, devoid of extras and incidentals, show an increase of over two thousand dollars.

Have you ever thought what such a book would cost if purchased from some publishing company? Compare it with any ten or fifteen dollar book, and draw your own conclusions.

This year we are trying to put out a HAWKEYE which will be of and for Old Gold. An earnest effort is being made to make it a high class volume at the lowest possible price. We feel you realize the value of having one.

Decide NOW to OWN YOUR OWN HAWKEYE.

THE 1922 HAWKEYE

PUSHBALL TEAMS PROGRESS

Freshman and Sophomore Men Will Clash in Contest Saturday

Class rivalry will be given a chance to air itself when sophomores and freshman men mix in the annual pushball contest Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Clifford H. Anderson of West Branch has been appointed captain of the freshman team by Roy Bilney of Eagle Grove, president of the sophomores into the fray. Both captains are making every effort to perfect the organization of their teams before the day of battle. The first year men will roll the big ball out on Iowa field Friday night to see how it is done.

The freshmen will enter the contest with a slight advantage in organization and in fight spirit which may be attributed to the green caps thrust upon them. Anderson, the freshman captain, has selected his men from the freshmen football teams. This insures the freshmen team of men who have been hardened by football practice and men who will be able to co-operate with each other in pushing the big ball over the sophomore goal.

On the other hand, the sophomores have the advantage in the way of experience since many of their men were in the pushball contest last year. The second year men will probably be able to command as many men for the final period as the first year men and this is the period that usually decides the outcome of the contest.

The pushball will be tested today to see that it is in proper condition. The ball is six feet in diameter, made of six cow hides and requires a half hour to fill it.

Mr. E. G. Schroeder, director of physical training, is in charge of the preparations and will referee the game. A small admission price will be charged to defray the expenses of the game.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Staff and Circle, honor senior society for women, will hold its annual homecoming breakfast for former members Saturday morning at the Pagoda Tea Shop. All former members of Staff and Circle in the city are urged to attend.

Irving literary society will hold a meeting on Thursday night at 8 o'clock instead of Friday night it was announced today by Fred Steiner LI of Corydon, president.

The general library will be closed this afternoon and also during the armistice program. Books may be withdrawn at noon but must be returned Friday morning. On Saturday afternoon the library will also be closed during the football game.

Students who attend Sousa's concert Friday, November 12 are required to file regular excuse cards for absence from class the same as any other absence, according to Mrs. Adelaide L. Burge, assistant to the dean of women.
