ENGINEERS PLAN FOR BIG ANNUAL MECCA FESTIVAL

March 17 Set as Tentative Date for Big Day — Show to Be Given Twice

COMMITTEES ARE APPOINTED

Publicity, Banquet, Exhibition, and Parade are Four Committees Selected — Show to be Selected After Christmas — Six Manuscripts Are Being Written

March 17 was set as a tentative date for Mecca Day, the annual engineers' celebration, and committees were appointed at a meeting of the officers of the Associated Students of Applied Science held in room 108, engineering building, at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening. Six different manuscripts are now being written for the annual engineers' play which is always staged in connection with Mecca Day. "These manuscripts, which probably range from vaudeville to grand opera, will be judged, and one will be selected after Christmas," said Guido B. Wyland, president of the A. S. of A. S.

Four Each, Ticket Limit

Tickets for the show are to be given to all engineers who keep their dues paid up throughout the year. In addition, tickets will also be given to members of the faculty and alumni of the engineering college, as has always been the custom. "Last year each student received five tickets, but due to the increased enrollment in the college of applied science it will not be possible to give more than four tickets to each person," said Wyland. Present plans call for two performances of the show, probably on Friday and Saturday evenings, March 18 and 19.

The following are the committees which were appointed: Exhibition: Reinhold K. Klatt S4 of Sioux Falls, S. Dak., chairman, Francis V. Morrison S3 of Sioux City, Leonard J. Griffith S3 of Des Moines, and Elbert H. Geissinger S4 of Des Moines; parade: Dicken L. Schneck S4 of Iowa City, chairman, Charles M. Toynbee S3 of Davenport, Clinton H. Smoke S2 of Iowa City, and Clarence O. Sloan S1 of Fairfield; Dance: Orin D. Johnson S3 of New London, chairman, Robert H. Luscombe S4 of Iowa City and Harold E. Neville S2 of De Witt; Banquet: Gordon R. Lunt S3 of New Sharon, chairman, Edwin L. Paintin S3 of Coralville, John S. Holbrook S2 of Onawa, and Harold M. Gerard S1 of Brooks; Publicity: Allan C. Rockwood S3 of Iowa City, chairman, Lloyd W. Burns S2 of Osceola, Paul L. Mercer S4 of Iowa City, and Malcolm D. Eaton S3 of Des Moines.

VESPER SPEAKERS CHOSEN

Speaker For January and February Have Been Selected

The speakers for vesper service for January and February have been chosen, according to Prof. George T. W. Patrick. The speaker for January will be President Donald J. Cowling of Carlton College at Northfield, Minnesota, and for February, Rev. John Haynes Holmes of New York City will be the speaker. Rev. Holmes has spoken here once before. "He is a very fine speaker whom we cannot afford to miss," says Prof. Patrick.

W. A. A. CLEARS $152.58

Chrysanthamums and "I" buttons sales by the Womens Athletic Association during homecoming amounted to $152.58, according to Claribell Wright A4 of Houghton, Minn., chairman of the finance committee. The proceeds from the sale of the buttons were $107.06 and those from chrysanthamums $45.52. The money is to be kept in the treasury and used for improvements on the womens athletic field.

HIGH SCHOOL COACHES ARE NEEDED; SPECIAL CLASS TO OPEN HERE

A great demand for high school coaches and instructors in gymnastics has resulted in the inauguration of a special training class by the department of physical education.

The course includes lectures by E. G. Schroeder, Coach Howard H. Jones, Coach James Ashmore, Coach David A. Armbruster, Jack Watson, and Ralph Parcaut. All of the fundamental points in the different sports will be taught and the best ways of coaching high school athletics.

According to E. G. Schroeder, director of the department of physical training, a number of positions in high schools and Y. M. C. A.'s are open now for properly trained men. Salaries in this line of work range from $1800 to $3000 a year. "Several high schools will require work in physical training as a part of the prep school course and the men who will get these jobs must be trained now," Mr. Schroeder said.

Thirty men have been chosen to take this advanced work this year. Hereafter the men must pass special examinations to get in this class.

GLEE CLUB MEN TO TOUR STATE

Holiday Trip Arrangements Are Partly Made By Business Manager

Definite arrangements have been made in several cities of the state for concerts by the men's glee club while on its tour during the Christmas holidays, according to Holger N. Hoegh M3 of Clinton, business manager of the club.

Mr. Hoegh visited a number of the cities under consideration last weekend and, although the contracts have not yet been signed in most cases, the following is a list of those in which reasonably definite plans for concerts have been made: Cedar Rapids, December 18; Maquoketa, Marion or Dewitt, December 19; Clinton, December 20; Davenport, December 21; Washington, December 22; Burlington, December 23; Mt. Pleasant, December 24; Fairfield, December 25; Ottumwa, December 26; Chariton, December 27; Des Moines, December 28; and Perry or Indianola, December 29.

The remainder of the tour, which will probably extend to January 3, has not been definitely planned, but Mr. Hoegh and William A. Bockoven M4 of Cresco, president of the club, will visit this weekend those towns in which the club contemplates giving concerts, in order to complete the necessary arrangements.

The tour is being arranged by the aid of the Memorial Union through the members of the alumni association who live in the different towns. According to Mr. Hoegh, the alumni are highly enthusiastic over the idea and are giving a hearty support that indicates a very successful trip.

The glee club will have a list of patrons and patronesses in many of the towns and special rates are being made to members of high school glee clubs. "Dinners and arrangements for special entertainment of the members of the club have already been definitely planned," Mr. Hoegh said yesterday, "and we feel that the club may anticipate a hearty welcome in every town." A special feature of the concert will be a souvenir program containing pictures of the glee club and of the proposed Memorial Building to be distributed at the concerts.

Prof. William E. Hays, director of the glee club, said yesterday that he would probably announce the names of the sixteen men who will take the trip either today or tomorrow. He also added that a reader or entertainer may accompany the club although none has as yet been secured.

"THE PILGRIMS" TO BE SUBJECT OF FISH'S TALK

"The Pageant of the Pilgrims" Will Precede the Wisconsin Professor's Address

OCCASION IS INTERNATIONAL

Speaker is also an Author of Wide Reputation — Better Known Books Are "The Rise of American Nationality" and "American Diplomacy" — To Show Pilgrim Influence

Prof. Carl Russell Fish of the University of Wisconsin will deliver an address an "The Pilgrims" Monday night in the natural science auditorium to commemorate the 300th anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrims, and the address will be preceded by a pageant entitled "The Pageant of the Pilgrims", given by the university student members of the Congregational church.

Professor Fish has a national reputation as a writer of history and is favorably known as a speaker. Among his better know works are; "The Path of Empire", "American Diplomacy", and "The Rise of American Nationality". "In his address he will make the Pilgrims live again and will show their tremendous influence in shaping American ideals," said Prof. Arthur M. Schlesinger, head of the "Pilgrim Day" committee.

The celebration is the University's part in an international celebration which has been going on for several months. Every part of the Old World with which the Pilgrims were connected in any way has been paying tribute to these brave pioneers. In Holland special meetings were held at Amsterdam, Leyden and the Hague. In England elaborate programs were carried out at Plymouth, Southampton and elsewhere. Throughout New England and the western states to which the descendants of the Pilgrims and Puritans migrated the occasion is being observed with patriotic exercises, addresses, and pageants.

The pageant preceding the address was written by Esther Willard Bates and was presented last week at Grinnell as a part of the Pilgrim celebration there.

Students and townspeople are invited. There will be no admission charged.

PHI ALPHA DELTA HOLDS CONVENTION HERE THREE DAYS

Beginning to-day, the local chapter of Phi Alpha Delta will be host at a convention of the western district of the national fraternity. This convention will include representatives from about ten states. All chapters west of the Mississippi River will be in attendance at this convention.

Delegates of all the chapters of the fraternity in the western district will attend this convention. Arrangements have been made for the accomodation of about 100 guests. Nearly fifty are expected from out of town excluding the delegates. Thirty chapters will be represented.

H. W. Humble, supreme recorder and editor-in-chief of the P. A. D. quarterly, will be in attendance at this convention and will address the meeting which will be held on Saturday.

Friday evening a banquet and program will be held at the Jefferson hotel. All delegates and visitors will attend this banquet. Saturday a business meeting will be held at the Redman hall. This hall has been secured on account of the large number of delegates who will be in attendance at this meeting. The program for Sunday has not been definitely settled as yet but an entertainment of some kind is being planned.

MARCH 17, 18, 19 ARE DATES SET FOR HIGH SCHOOL TOURNAMENT

Dates for the 1921 state inter-high school basketball tournament were set for March 17, 18, and 19, at a meeting of the athletic board Wednesday night. The tournament will be held in the men's gymnasium.

Coaches Howard H. Jones, James N. Ashmore, and Albert P. Jenkins were appointed as a committee in charge of the tournament. Invitations will be sent to high schools in the state and cups, medals, basketballs and other prizes will be given to winners.

According to present plans the state will be divided into districts and a tournament of elimination played in each district to decide teams eligible to play here.

All expenses incurred by visiting teams will be paid by the board in control of athletics.

The inter high school basketball tournament was dropped during the war. It has been customary for Ames and Iowa to exchange dates for the tournament, conducting it on alternating years. Last year, however, through a misunderstanding, both institutions sent out invitations and held separate tournaments.

PAGEANT TO BE GIVEN MONDAY

Portrayal of Colonial Days Will Figure in Pilgrim Observance

"The Pageant of the Pilgrims", a pageant of colonial days, will be presented by the young people of the Congregational church at the celebration of the three-hundredth anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrims, Monday night at the natural science auditorium.

The play is being coached by Rev. Walter Schaefer, Congregational student pastor and Miss Arminda J. Mowre of the department of public speaking. Mrs. Lloyd W. Swords is in charge of costuming, and lighting effects are to be arranged by Corliss B. VanHansen S4 of Milford. Miss Miriam W. Taylor of the department of physical education for women is directing the dancing. This same pageant was given at Grinnell last Sunday and Monday evenings. Reverend Schaefer attended the production there and said that it was very successful.

About thirty-five students will take part in the pageant. The leading characters are: Governor Clay K. Risser A2 of Danville; Brewster, Robert A. Rockhill L1 of Larchwood; Miles Standish, Leo V. Collins L1 of Iowa City; Hopkins, Ronald B. Williams A3 of Clear Lake; John Billington, Robert H. Seashore A2 of Iowa City, Massasoit, George A. Brandt, A2 of Peterson; Cushman, Victor D. Peck A2 of Primghar; Priscilla, Leone E. Kaus A2 Hampton; Rose Standish, Helen Nicholson A4 of Iowa City; Mrs. Hopkins, Glenava F. Klopping A3 of Newton; and Questioner, Eileen S. Young A4 of Cherokee.

The pageant will be about forty minutes in length and will be given before the lecture by Prof. Carl Russell Fish.

ADDRESSES COMMERCE CLUB

Professor Knight Talks to Students On "Psychology of Advertising"

"Psychology of Advertising" was the subject of a talk given by Prof. Frank B. Knight to the Commerce Club at an open meeting held Wednesday night.

A large number of students interested in commercial work attended the meeting. Prof. Knight fittingly brought in appropriate instances of human life which illustrated that the fundamental principle of advertising was the getting at the roots of society, by appealing to the natural and human instincts of beauty, or by appealing to the instinct of the crowd, or by forming some fitting word associations.

FIRST DEBATE OF SEASON IS HELD TONIGHT

Iowa And Minnesota To Meet In Open Forum Discussion at 7:30

ORCHESTRA TO OPEN PROGRAM

The Japanese Question Is Subject Chosen—Iowa Negative Team Is Debating Same Question At University of Illinois—Minnesota Team Will Arrive This Morning

The first intercollegiate debate of the season will be held between Iowa and Minnesota in the natural science auditorium at 7:30 to-night. The University orchestra will give a recital before the debate opens. After the debaters have discussed the Japanese question, an open forum discussion will be held in which anyone in the audience may take part.

The question, "Resolved, that, Japan should be excluded from the United States by an Act of Congress similar in essential details to the Chinese Exclusion Act," is being discussed very likely in the newspapers and is now before Secretary of State Colby and the American ambassador to Japan. The open forum will give the audience an opportunity to question the debaters, and to take an active part in the discussion. The open forum Iowa-Nebraska debates of last year were found so successful that it was decided to conduct the I. M. I. debates on the open forum principle.

Negative Team At Illinois
The Iowa affirmative team composed of Carl B. Kreiner A3 of Ottumwa, Max A. Conrad L2 of Burlington, and James H. Van Law A3 of Marshalltown will debate the Minnesota negative team composed of Simon Greenburg, Max Shapiro, and Alexander Aas here to-night.

The Iowa negative team composed of Abram Devaul L1 of Fonda, William P. Berghuis A3 of Sioux Center and DeWitt H. Smith L1 of Clarence accompanied by Prof. Glenn N. Merry left Wednesday evening for Urbana where they will debate the Illinois affirmative.

Smoker After Debate
The Minnesota team accompanied by Prof. Charles F. Lindsley, of the public speaking department of the University of Minnesota, will arrive in Iowa City this morning.

The other debate of the I. M. I. between Minnesota and Illinois will be held at Minneapolis to-night.

After the debate, a smoker will be held in the literary society rooms at Close Hall in honor of the debaters. The members of Delta Sigma Rho, the forensic council, the presidents of the literary societies, and interested members of the faculty have been sent invitations, according to H. H. Mott L1 of Iowa City, chairman of the committee in charge of the smoker.

The Iowa debaters will receive the Lowden prize of $50.00 which will be divided among the six members of the teams. They will also be eligible to Delta Sigma Rho, honorary forensic fraternity.

MUMMA ATTENDED EIGHTH DISTRICT SCOUT MEETING

Lieut. Col. Morton C. Mumma returned yesterday from Omaha where he has been attending a meeting of representatives of all first class councils of Boy Scout organizations in the eighth district. The eighth district includes; Wyoming, Colorado, Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas, and Missouri.

In order to be represented as a first class council each Boy Scout organization must have a charter from the national organization, according to Colonel Mumma. "The attendance was exceptionally fine," said Colonel Mumma, "for out of the thirty-eight representatives that are in this district, thirty-six were present."

GULLIBILITY IN ART

Those of us who cling old-fashionedly to the notion that the painting of a human hand ought to suggest something more than an over-grown radish top, are having to face another distortion of our old concept of art in the most recent school of canvas decoration, the modernist.

It is more than a distortion. It is open rebellion to the old ideals of art. These modernist people have impossible anatomies: their necks are like sections of rickety stove pipe, and their hands like inflated gloves, their feet dwindle away to nothing, and their wardrobe lacks a suggestion of what is normally described as good taste.

The art critic of The Philadelphia Public Ledger hits it succinctly in a criticism directed at the work of C. R. W. Nevinson, an Englishman showing at the Burgeois galleries, New York, with the remark that his studies look like "the work of little Willy, aged six."

There seems to be no adequate reason for the public's swallowing this masquerade of art; no reason for one's not being his own critic. These modernist promoters are profiteering on popular gullibility in art. Nevinson reminds us:

I wish to be labelled as Nevinson, living artist, (with landlords to support with their stomachs to fill).

I aim to create paintings which shall be a vital dynamic force.

His plastic admirers hear this "vital and dynamic" line with a sob of admiration, and Nevinson pockets the money. We have been supporting landlords for fellows like Nevinson too long. Every thinking citizen forms his own judgments on religion and politics; why not on art? Why be duped by a parade of little-Willy-aged-six canvases?

We who are becoming bored and ennuied with all this noise about "incorrect dancing" can look forward with delight to one thing at any rate. Frivol will be out Monday.

The man who complains in his more pessimistic moments that he is without friends in this world always finds out that he is mistaken when he begins making out his Christmas list.

The only idea of the misery of life that some of our little sorority girls ever get is occasioned by the traditional probation week when they are compelled to scrub a window or wax a floor.

One way to beat the high cost of living is to cut down on your number of friends just a few months before Christmas.

When putting down on paper your ideas on the typical Iowa girl all one has to do from the esthetic standpoint is to get a picture of one of the winners in the beauty contest and describe how she looks. If you know nothing of her disposition you have your imagination to fall back on.

If you are not satisfied with "saying it with flowers" a local candy store can help you out. The store says: "Say it with candy." But that is going from the frying pan into the fire, isn't it?

SIDE LINES

Mrs. Deland contends that journalism and literature are distinct and separate and that the hurry and space pressure under which a journalist works are not conducive to the forming of the literary artist. Now since it is the dream of every reporter to write the great American play we hate to see his fond hopes dismissed so curtly and therefore presume to present the other side. . . . Mrs. Deland evidently has overlooked the fact that many of our great living writers received their early training in the newspaper field. We instance H. G. Wells, Arnold Bennett, Kipling, and above all the caustic Bernard Shaw. She says further, "It takes me months and months to write anything. I spend months on a short story and weeks on a column for a newspaper." On the other hand, one does not attain literary perfection during the composition of a single article or story. After a man has proven his literary perfection it is something that stays with him always. He has it when he sits down to write. That is why Wells writes column after column every day for the London papers on his interviews with Lenine and Trotsky as well as his personal views regarding soviet Russia. Wells has arrived." He has the "stuff" when he sits down to write, and he does not spend weeks and weeks on a column. Rather one might say that a single column in a newspaper is the work of a life time! Dream on brother cubs!

About this time of year little Johnny fails to complain when his face is scrubbed and he is sent off to Sunday school and mother observes that "her darling is getting sweeter every day." Then father looks over his paper and points out that Christmas is only a short time off.

If we continue to write paragraphs all the rest of our life about this time of the year we shall take the above time worn remark, scrub its face, brush its hair, send it to the printer and then reflect that Mark Twain was right when he said there were but seven jokes in the world. The above is not one of the seven.

A Kansas newspaper says it's harder to tell whether a shabbily dressed man is really poor or has a son in college.

President-elect Harding is a stand-patter and one of the old guard in everything but his choice of language. In that field he is always looking for something new. First he introduced the word, "normalcy," into polite society, and now we notice that he has sprung the word "bloviolate" on us. Boy, bring me my dictionary!

Here in the United States we speak of the presidents term of office as "expiring" but in Mexico they say the president himself did all the "expiring."

SEARCH FOR RADIUM
DROP IS GIVEN UP BY INSURANCE COMPANY

All attempts to locate the $2500 drop of radium, which was lost some time ago in the University Hospital, have been given up, according to Dr. Brendy Allen of the X-ray department.

The Loyd Insurance Company of London, have ceased their efforts to locate the missing radium by the use of delicate instruments and detectors, and will pay the University the amount of insurance as soon as the transaction can be completed.

"This is a most peculiar case," said Doctor Allen. "If a person lost a diamond he would have comparatively little or no chance to find it. But with this it is different. Of course it is possible that it could have gotten in the sewer or that some one could have appropriated it. We have used instruments that can detect the presence of radium fifty feet away. In practically no other case is it possible to detect such a presence.
