MORGAN NAMED CLINIC DIRECTOR

Psychology Department and Psychopathic Hospital Call New Man

Dr. J. D. Morgan has been appointed as clinical psychologist to have charge of the psychology clinic in the department of philosophy and psychology and psychologist at the psychopathic hospital, according to official announcement from the president's office.

Dr. Morgan was graduated from Taylor University in 1911 and then took a theological course, graduating with the degree of B. D. at the Drew Theological Seminary in 1914. He then took up the study of psychology at Columbia University and received his doctorate in 1916 and was granted a Cutting traveling fellowship ($1000) for traveling abroad, but on account of the war situation, he was obliged to stay in this country, and spent the year in the John Hopkins University. From there he was selected to an instructorship in psychology but immediately resigned to enter army service where he remained until the Armistice.

Then, Dr. Morgan served as assistant professor of psychology in the university of Minnesota for one year but resigned to re-enter war service as chief of the reconstruction service at a base hospital. At present he is stationed in the Hawaiian Islands in this work and will continue there until in the spring when he will bring his family back to the states and settle down in Iowa City. Dr. Morgan's services will begin June, 1, 1921.

Dr. Morgan is the author of many publications and he has had hospital training under Dr. Hoch at Ward's Island and Dr. Adolph Meyer at John Hopkins.

According to Professor Carl E. Seashore, professor of psychology and philosophy, a happy coordination of the clinic with the hospital is effected by appointing Dr. Morgan for part time in the psychopathic hospital and the other half in the psychopathic clinic.

GRAMMAR AND HIGH SCHOOLS INTERESTED IN IOWA ATHLETICS

Iowa spirit has manifested itself in high school and the grade school enthusiasts who are scarcely able to wait until they can go to the University.

For instance, Mike Hyland, an Iowa football captain and end of eight or ten years ago has a six-year-old son whose greatest ambition is to be captain of a Hawkeye football team.

But one of Clarinda high school's crack football players who received honorable mention in the all-state high school and the grade school year has the real old pep. Frank Tate is only a sophomore, but in replying to a letter of congratulation from A. F. I. which felicitated him on receiving all-state mention he says:

"I was so pleased with your letter that I felt like I had to answer it and tell you that I will be at the University as soon as possible."

ANNOUNCEMENTS FOR 1921 COMMENCEMENT HAVE BEEN SELECTED

The senior class announcements, inviting friends and relatives of candidates for degrees to the June commencement exercises of the University of Iowa were selected at a meeting of the invitation committee last night.

The lowest estimate of the prices of the invitations will be fifty cents for the leather and twenty-five cents for the cardboard, although there may be an increase of five cents, according to the amount of composition.

LABOR SLUMP AT MICHIGAN

Ann Arbor, Mich.: At the present time a general lack of work prevails in most of the important industries of the city, but it is the belief here that conditions will be abated in two or three months.

SOCIAL DANCE STEPS TAUGHT TO WOMEN IN GYMNASIUM CLASSES

To teach social dance steps correctly is the plan being put in operation in physical training classes at the women's gymnasium. The last ten minutes of each physical training period is devoted to this instruction.

The instruction is given with a view of teaching how to do the steps correctly, assume the correct position on the floor, and dance with a becoming grace. So far the time has been entirely devoted to the two-step. Other dances will be taken up after the learning of this has been accomplished. The practice will be continued until all the dances have been learned.

The idea of the department is to eradicate all the alleged cruder steps such as shimmying and camel walking. The toddle has the sanction of the instructors if it is done correctly.

"The plan is being met with a great deal of enthusiasm on the part of the women students," said Miss Marion R. Lyon, acting head of the department of physical education for women. "A great many of the women have apparently not had an opportunity to learn the steps correctly, but have picked up dancing at public dances. They are welcoming the opportunity for this instruction," Miss Lyon added.

DRY LEADER TO LECTURE HERE

Warner to Come in Interest of Student Anti-Alcohol Campaign

Harry S. Warner, the American student "dry" will lecture in Iowa City, Wednesday evening, January 19, at 7:30 in the First Presbyterian church. The subject of his lecture will be "At Grips with World Problems".

Mr. Warner has spent the last eight months in Europe, at the request of European University leaders, interpreting American prohibition. He has, for twenty years, been secretary of the American student anti-alcohol movement, which was represented in the University of Iowa in 1913-15 by a local league of the Intercollegiate Prohibitive association. He is well known as an author and international lecturer.

The speaker was the American representative at the international conference at Karlstad, Sweden, last July, where student dry leaders from eight countries met to lay plans for the organization of a world student anti-alcohol federation. It is this world movement that Mr. Warner represents in coming to the University of Iowa.

Mr. Warner will give a part of his time on Wednesday afternoon to student interviews. Arrangements have been made for him to use a room at the Y. M. C. A. building. Those desiring to talk with Mr. Warner may make arrangements at the Y. M. C. A. office.

Don W. Harrison, instructor in the department of English left yesterday afternoon to take up his new position as professor of English at Ames. According to Professor Harrison, the only reason for his leaving is that he has been offered a considerable increase in salary at Ames.

Mr. Harrison was graduated from the liberal arts college of this University in 1916. The following year he was a reporter on the Des Moines Register. Afterwards he spent 29 months in the army, rising from private to second lieutenant. After the signing of the Armistice Mr. Harrison took graduate work for six months at the University of London. A SLIGHT MIS-NOMER

Approach of mid-year examinations has provoked a reconsideration of the old question of an honor system on a number of campuses. Ohio State University has held a big campaign for student honor, opened with a mass meeting, speeches and a wealth of publicity. A proposal of the student committee of Cornell University has gone to the faculty of that institution, asking for complete control of preliminary and final examinations. It seems unfortunate that such a term as the "Honor System" has sprung into common use. The point is, of course, that the student is on his honor to use no surreptitious source of information in writing his examination papers. (But why) in all good sense, is he not on his honor anyway? Distasteful as is the iron-clad surveillance in use in class rooms because of the suspicion that falls on certain undergraduates, it does not discount honor, or hope, is very fragile stuff. An unsupervised examination shows no more honor—it merely shows more confidence.

Honor's here or it's not, and the question is whether or not a system of unsupervised examinations would make more honor. Above all, if seems, such a system should be spontaneous. Confidence of faculty members in a student honor that can show itself in honest work, is all that is needed, and that cannot be built out of rules and regulations. An honest mind will never have to sign his paper with a have not cheated appendix.

A WORD ABOUT BUSINESS
Talking shop out of shop hours is considered to be poor social form and it is to forestall a possible inquiry as to the relative space given to advertising in the Daily Iowan, and for that matter in all college publications or all publications whatever during the 1921 year, that a few figures bearing on the situation may be presented.

To date the Daily Iowan has published 4,000 inches of news more than had been published at this time last year. Seven more six-page issues and eight more eight-page issues have been published to date than during all of the preceding University year. This has been done under a daily cost of publication which is sixty per cent higher than it has ever been.

BACK TO NORMALCY
A good authority claims to have perceived a spring hat a woman's straw, seen in actual use in the cold grey atmosphere of an ice-lined thoroughfare in January.

A straw hat! One drops another chunk of bituminous or hickory on the androns, and snuggles closer to its comfortable blaze. This is the middle of winter; time was when spring hats were worn in the spring; what vanity is here? But, as every Chautauqua speaker will admit, the future is clothed in the pink and lavender of contentment and happiness.

A few years more and the spring hat will solve a lot of Christmas shopping problems; soon after it will be the proper attire for Thanksgiving day ceremonies; again it will appear at the time that the straw of the stronger sex is kicked into oblivion at the last baseball game of the season; then under summer's baking sun; and ultimately back to soft and gentle spring, and all the world will be content.

SIDE LINES

Unable to withstand further insistence that we occasionally publish a "personal line" we throw discretion to the winds and, for this once, embark on the following:

Around And About Our Own Athens

Well it finally snowed yesterday. Arno Naeckel lost a game of billiards to Walt, Abernathy last evening. David L. Patrick was a pleasant caller at this office yesterday and said that his new book, "The Truth About Chicago" will be completed by the time the first robin makes his appearance. "Good luck Dave," say we.

Robert Hayes, the associate editor of this sheet, called in at the office yesterday to say hello to his many friends and well wishers here.

Ernest Henderson spent the afternoon and most of the evening yesterday calling on his many friends at the Delta Gamma house.

A new line of socks and overcoats at the Corner Clothiers.

A new fraternity was started on the campus yesterday and a shortage of restaurant help has ensued of course.

A lot of our brothers are leaving school along about the first of February for a visit of about four months with folks at home.

Those who rented dress suits from the Blue front Clothier will please return same before next Wednesday noon.

James Van Epps was a jovial visitor at this office yesterday to say that eight Sigma Chi freshmen fell down in their work last year on account of spending so much time directing bill collectors to the Phi Psi house. We sold to the Beta's in order to get out of the neighborhood, chortled Jimmy.

Miss "Biddy" Prentiss, the typical woman of these parts, had dinner at home Thursday evening.

Lawrence L. Carter was a pleasant caller at this office yesterday and said that if he were to pick an all University poetical team he would leave Pan, Pin-Hanger, and Pin-Wearer, right where they are—the sidelines.

Asta Boysen added 22 cents to Genevieve Holstrom's house bill yesterday. Genevieve having made candy for her company used up all the money.

The Shifters held a short meeting at the Delta Gamma house Thursday evening. The meeting was a local affair and the Shifters say they have changed their names but are keeping it a secret. No matter what they call themselves, we'll always be the Shifters to us.

Larry Williams was a pleasant caller at this office yesterday to talk about himself and renew his subscription for this sheet.

A professor called at this office yesterday and told our editor that he enjoyed Thursday's paper very much and wanted to know when the next one would be out.

INTERNATIONAL SPORTS
From the Daily Ilium)
The skies of the American athletic sphere will loom brighter, than ever, if the talk of the Cambridge and Oxford track teams paying our shores a visit materializes into a reality. Such a trip would be a big boost to intercollegiate sports and we dare to hope that there is some truth in the rumors that it will be made. We hope the London newspaper report that follows has some firm ground for the prediction that it contains.

Introduction of the English system of cross country running at Cornell university, with inclusion of similar water jumps, plowed lands, and hedges in the course will probably result from the visit to England of the Cornell cross country team, said Coach Jack Moakley, in charge of the American team, on the occasion of his departure from London.

"The creditable showing made by the Ithacans at Roehampton, where they were defeated last Thursday by an Oxford-Cambridge team 26 to 29, has given rise to the hope that the Americans would win a return match after training on courses similar to those used in England.

"Another probable result of the visit of the American team will be a trip to Ithaca, N. Y., next spring by complete track teams and boat crews from the English universities to meet Cornell. An invitation to this effect has been issued in the name of the undergraduates of the American institution."

WAY DOWN EAST

"Way Down East" will appear at the Englert theater Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

For about the first time in the history of moving pictures one can say of this film that it is a picture that one cannot afford to miss.

The price of admission is raised somewhat but not anything approaching the extent to which David Ward Griffith has raised the standard of what is called the moving picture art.

Lillian Gish stars in the production of this famous stage drama and if the words of hundreds of critics may be believed, she carries off the role in a manner to place among the world's best. Even John Barrymore, now considered our best actor, after witnessing her performance felt impelled to write to Mr. Griffith praising her work in what would ordinarily be considered highly extravagant terms.

Richard Barthelmé appears for the last time under the D. W. Griffith banner, since he will appear in pictures of his own production in the future.

In accordance with the usual Griffith scheme, a symphony orchestra will accompany the film with specially composed music. Mr. Griffith's idea of utilizing a musical motive to introduce and identify each character will be carried out.

Harvard—Harvard skaters are now interested in trying out for the freshman and university hockey teams. All of Harvard's hockey contests this winter are to be held in the new Boston arena which was opened on the evening of New Year's Day. A new record was established in the laying of a layer of ice on the arena floor. Just eight hours after the first few drops of water were sprinkled on the concrete floor the first layer of ice was complete. The best previous time was four days and was made at the Duquesne Gardens in Pittsburg.

Missouri—More than 120 students at the University of Missouri have been suspended for the winter term because of unsatisfactory grades.

About 400 will not return because of discouragement at their low standing. This figure does not include those who will be dropped from the schools of medicine and law. Students were notified of their suspension by telegrams in order that they might be saved the trouble of returning only to be sent away.

SNOW COMES TO SPOIL SKATING—SLIDING AND BOB PARTIES POPULAR

Isn't the old weather man good after all?

Of course he spoiled our prospects for more of those memorable hours we spent a few evenings ago when we threw our galoshes aside and donned our glistening new skates on the river bank.

The beauty of the three inch snow sheet now spread over the thin layer of ice on the Iowa river is not much appreciated by the fair young student who has just paid $10 out of her shrinking monthly allowance in order to buy those new skates. And just think of it, she has had them on her feet only once! You wouldn't blame her for calling the weather man "horrid."

But maybe he isn't so mean after all. Perhaps he wants to protect the bright new skates from the chilly ducking experienced by the three campus stalwarts Wednesday night.

Anyway the if students can't skate anymore for a while they can still slide on the Engineers' hill, and still have some bob parties. The weather man may be cold-hearted, but he isn't so cruel as one thinks.

MAT INTEREST IN 145, 158 CLASSES

Howery, Scott, and Smith Win Cahail Ineligible—Semi-Finals Today

Yesterday's tryouts in the wrestling squad centered about the 145 and the 158 pound classes. Bob Smith, J. W. Scott, Byerly, Fuller, Vedova, Roller, Cahail have all been working with the 145 pound class but only four of this number were present at the preliminaries.

The first match in the 145 pound class found J. W. Scott and Byerly battling for mat honors. Scott won the first seven minute period by a fall and claimed the second by decision, giving him the match. The second match in the same class between Bob Smith and Fuller resulted in a victory for Smith. Smith won the first seven minute period in 6 minutes 50 seconds with a half nelson and arm-lock. In the second period Smith pinned his opponent in 2 minutes and 35 seconds with a body scissors and reverse head lock.

H. D. Scott and Howrey of the 158 pound class waged the real battle of the evening. Although Howrey won the match by receiving the decision in both periods, the bout was the fastest and the best exhibition of the wrestling game that has been seen in the preliminary tryouts. Howrey will meet Glen Devine next week in the finals of the 158 pound class. Devine is expected back by Monday of next week.

P. O. D. Vedova, who has been working regularly with the squad, will not be able to tryout as he is working daily on the swimming team. Vedova was one of the principal performers on the varsity squad last year and showed promise for this year had not the swimming game taken all of his time. Robert M. Cahail, also of the 145 pound division and a member of last year's squad, will not be included in this year's squad because of ineligibility. Roller, another 145 pound man, was unable to compete yesterday because of other work at the time of the tryouts. He will wrestle tomorrow in the semi-finals of this class.

Finals in the 125 pound class and semi-finals in the 145 pound division will be held this afternoon at 3:30. There will also be some exhibition wrestling between the heavier weights according to E. G. Schroeder, who is acting as referee during Coach Parcaut's absence.
