IOWA TO MEET NORTHWESTERN ON MAT TODAY

Wrestlers With Parcaut and Schroeder Left Yesterday Afternoon

SIX MEN WILL PARTICIPATE

White, Hunter, Howrey, Smith, Sweeney, and Vana Make Trip—115 Pound Class Not Down to Weight—Schroeder Expects Close Match—Northwestern's Debut in Conference

Iowa's wrestling squad accompanied by Coach Ralph Parcaut and Ernest G. Schroeder, director of physical education, left yesterday afternoon on the Rock Island for Evanston where the opening matches of the 1921 wrestling season will open to-night against the Northwestern crew.

The six men who won the right to participate in the first match are: Captain Leland C. White, 175 pound class, Robert L. Hunter, heavy weight, Ben G. Howrey, of the 158 pound class, Robert T. Smith, 145 pound, Charles B. Sweeney, 135 pound and Edward Vana of the light weight class. The 115 pound class was not included on the trip due to the fact that none of the aspirants could come down to the prescribed weight.

Northwestern's First Appearance
All the men have been working hard ever since the season started and are in good condition for the meet. Mr. Schroeder, who has been keeping in close touch with the development of the team is hopeful of victory although anticipating a good battle. "This is Northwestern's first entrance into conference wrestling," said Mr. Schroeder, "but it does not mean that we will have anything soft. I expect that all the matches will be close and hard fought." Coach Parcaut was non-committal.

The Iowa wrestling fans are looking forward with keen interest to the meet. It is generally expected that Captain White and Hunter, both of whom have had considerable mat experience, should be able to handle their men in good shape. Sweeney is fast and is capable of using his head, which ought to give him straight falls. Vana and Smith will give a good account of themselves if up to the form they have been showing in their workouts. Howrey is an unknown quality but the color of his hair ought to give him plenty of fight.

Will Meet Minnesota Next

The Northwestern lineup is as follows: Penfield, heavyweight, Wynne, 175, Hathaway, 158, Mathews, 145, Bowman, 135, and Myers, 125. Bowman seems to be their best man and will likely give Sweeney considerable worry.

The next series of matches for the Iowa mat men will be with Minnesota on January the 29.

ZET DEBATERS CHOSEN

Will Debate Irving Team February 11—Prof. Horack to Coach

In the try-outs for the sophomore debating team of the Zetagathian literary society held Wednesday January 12, the following men were chosen for the team: Otto B. Laing A2 of Corydon, Vernon Sharp A2 of Rolfe and Glen Cray A2 of Marshalltown. Sherman J. McNally A2 of Marshalltown was chosen alternate. The question discussed was: "Resolved that Iowa City should adopt the city manager plan".

These men will represent the Zetagathians on the negative of the same question in the sophomore debate between the Irving and Zetagathian societies February 11. Prof. Frank E. Horack of the political science department, will coach the Zetagathians and Prof. Edward C. Mabie will coach the Irvings.

TAX COLLECTIONS FROM L. A. SENIORS WILL START TODAY

A movement to collect the senior tax will be started today in the college of liberal arts according to Edgar P. Hoffman A4 of Ida Grove. The collection will be in the hands of Helen Rolleston A4 of Perry, senior class treasurer in the college of liberal arts. She will be assisted in this college by Marquis M. Smith A4 of Winterset and Ada M. Yoder A4 of Iowa City.

According to the constitution of the senior class, a tax per person not to exceed $1 shall be levied upon all seniors in the University. Each class treasurer shall handle the collections from his own college and turn a list of the contributors together with the money contributed over to the treasurer of the Association.

This money is needed immediately in order that the senior play committee will have some funds with which to purchase some plays from which one is to be selected for presentation by the senior class early in the spring.

SCHOTTLE DIRECTS SINGERS

All-Minneapolis Choral Society To Give Music Festival

Prof. Gustav Schottle, a former musical director at the University, will direct the All-Minneapolis Choral society which was organized January 17 at Minneapolis, Minn., according to Frederick W. Mueller, president of the civic music league of that city.

This movement is regarded among the Minneapolis musicians as the most important musical event since the organization of the Symphony orchestra. In a short time the chorus expects to begin rehearsals for a big concert to be given in April. The plan of the society is to have 300 members to forward interests through a series of concerts to be offered during a spring musical festival.

Previous to this work in Minneapolis Professor Schottle was accompanied and assistant to Carl Bush who conducted the Spring Musical Festival in Kansas City, Mo. Later he was a director in the school of music and organized the University Choral society.

LATE TRAINS FATIGUE TEAM

Team Is Confident of Winning From Michigan and Chicago Fives

Iowa's basketball team left yesterday afternoon from the Rock Island station on a train that was three hours late, which brought them to Chicago about midnight, where a change was made to the Michigan Central railway.

This puts something of a handicap on the team at the beginning of the trip as a broken night's sleep is far from a good conditioner. Original plans were to leave Iowa City at 2:37 p. m. and arrive in Chicago early in the evening, as arrangements had been made to occupy the Pullman immediately upon their arrival there. The Michigan Central train leaves Chicago at 12:05 a. m.

President Walter A. Jessup left last night for Des Moines to attend a Bankers' convention. He expects to return Friday afternoon.

The team leaves confident of a victory over Michigan although there is no hint of overconfidence. A wish that Chicago could be played on the first leg of the trip was expressed by several, as the Maroon team is the hardest of the two. Michigan so far has been entirely unsuccessful in its conference schedule, although their preparatory series of games was finished without a defeat.

The game at Chicago Saturday night will be a hard trial, after play-

HEART FAILURE AFTER OPERATION CAUSE OF WOODBURY'S DEATH

Harold J. Woodbury M2 of Clinton died yesterday morning at the Mercy hospital. Woodbury had both his tonsils and adenoids removed under a local anaesthetic at the Mercy hospital Wednesday evening.

Dr. E. D. Risser, at the Mercy hospital, assistant to Dr. Lee Wallace Dean who operated on Woodbury said, "Woodbury had been suffering with chronic tonsillitis; however at the time of the operation there was no evidence of an acute attack. Following the operation Woodbury was given two hypodermics of one-twelfth grains of heroin one half hour apart."

Woodbury was conscious and apparently getting along all right until early yesterday morning when he suffered a depression and died at 7 o'clock of post-operative heart failure according to Dr. Risser.

Mr. Woodbury was twenty-three years old. He was graduated from the Clinton high school and studied at Grinnell for two years where he served in the S. A. T. C. In 1919 he entered the medical college of the University and attended the summer session.

His father and mother are Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Woodbury of Clinton. He has one brother, William Luoraine Woodbury of New York City.

The body was sent to Cedar Rapids on the 8 o'clock interurban then to Clinton. Mr. E. N. Woodbury who came yesterday afternoon said that no definite arrangements had been made but that the funeral would probably be at the Woodbury home on Saturday.

DEVOTIONAL MEETING IS HELD BY Y. W. MEMBERS

The Y. W. C. A. meeting held in the liberal arts drawing room Wednesday was a general devotional meeting on "Service".

The program consisted of songs by the group, reading, "The Legend of Service," by Marion H. Smith A3 of Independence; solo by Margaret Stotts A3 of Chicago; and a talk on "Service" by Eileen S. Young A4 of Cherokee. Tea was served after the meeting.

W. A. A. WILL MANAGE ROCOCO FRIVOL SALE WEDNESDAY, FEB. 2

The sale of the "Rococo" number of Frivol, university humorous publication will be handled by the Women's Athletic Association, according to Raymond Peterson A2 of Council Bluffs, circulation manager.

The W. A. A. has been considering cooperating with the Frivol publishers in placing the magazine on sale for some time, according to Jean Spiers A4 of Reinbeck, president, but no definite action was taken until the meeting of the association Wednesday night. By this arrangement a certain percentage of the proceeds of the sale will be turned into the treasury of the W. A. A.

This next issue of Frivol will be placed on sale Wednesday, February 2. According to present plans, the campus will be completely canvassed by members of W. A. A. Sale tables will be placed in the various buildings during the entire day.

"LOVE BROKER" IS MECCA PLAY

Plot Was Selected From Play Presented By Charles Toynbee

"The Love Broker" is the title selected for the annual engineers play which will be produced during Mecca week sometime in March. "The Love Broker" was selected out of three plays presented to a committee consisting of Martin E. Flentje S5 of Sheldon, Guido Wyland S4 of Iowa City, and Robert H. Luscombe S4 of Iowa City.

The plot of "The Love Broker" was selected from the play presented by Charles M. Toynbee S3 of Davenport and the music by Malcolm H. Dowell S4 of Washington. Dowell has written and composed a new Iowa song which will be introduced at that time. Vaudeville and feature parts were picked from a play written by Francis V. Morrison, Joseph M. Deem, and Alan C. Rockwood S3 of Iowa City, and a play written by Vern C. Price S3 of Corydon and Theodore Hartman S3.

The date for the play has been tentatively fixed for March 15 and 16.

GREAT SINGERS OF FUTURE TO BE AMERICAN TRAINED, BELIEVES HINKLE

"It is ridiculous for a singer to believe that it is necessary to receive training in Europe in order to become a finished artist," said Florence Hinkle in an interview yesterday afternoon.

"New York is today the center of the musical world and, in the future, instead of Americans going abroad to study music, foreigners will come to the United States to receive training," she continued in a quiet unassuming manner.

Miss Hinkle has been touring in the Middle West where she has given concerts in many college towns. She commends with enthusiasm the appreciation of the students of neighboring states for her programs which have been mainly in foreign languages.

"I have taught voice," said Miss

BUILDINGS GO UP SLOWLY

Lack of Funds Delays Work On New University Buildings

According to reports from J. M. Fisk's office, work on the Psychopathic hospital, Nurses home and new Armory is being carried on very slowly. No date can be set for their completion till some more money is allotted by the state, since the present funds permit only a small force of men to stay on the three jobs. It is not the plan at present to have basketball games in the armory next year, since the University will, beyond doubt, have a new gymnasium, in a few years.

The Right Reverend Bishop William P. Remington, Suffragan Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of South Dakota and the Rev. Paul B. James, rector of the Trinity Episcopal church of Iowa City will be guests of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity at dinner this evening.

A CASE FOR CURIOSITY

After the manner of Topsy, traditions seem to grow. Taking as good all of the stock arguments for university and college traditions, they seem hard stuff to build. Their inception appears to be more a matter of natural selection than of spontaneous creation. By the very nature of the term, a tradition is not made on paper or by organized agitation. They grow, and along with the good ones grow the bad ones.

One custom that threatens to become something of a tradition has established a more or less general taboo on attendance at public meetings held in the University. Men of national prominence come here with something to say, something that is the product of their application to current problems or questions of particular concern to educational centers.

President Cowling of Carleton college will speak here Sunday. His subject is, "A Personal Philosophy of Life." Here is a theme of enough universal intimacy to be of interest to anyone who understands the tongue and has registered a mental process in the field of reason.

Aside from this particular topic, however, the fact that a man who stands out somewhat from the level of humanity is to speak, is attractive. Here is a human individual, a personality, with something to say. The same curiosity that sets a book-lover's fingers itching for the cover of a book will prompt thinking souls to a desire to hear him.

EMBRYO BERLINS

When the University Players announced, some time ago, that they were offering a prize of $50 for the best one-act play submitted by any undergraduates in the university, considerable doubt was expressed as to whether the contest would interest enough students to make the contest a success or not. Now comes the announcement that twenty original plays were submitted, which indicates that the contest in this regard was a distinct success. Of course, the merit of the one-act plays submitted is yet to be decided.

Without resorting to throaty eulogy one cannot but applaud the campus organization or the individual, for that matter, who encourages artistic creation of any kind. Nothing can possibly deserve more praise than methods devised to foster talent which is latent in the student body.

It is almost platitudinous to point out that other organizations ought to direct their attention occasionally towards the encouragement of this sort of thing. And it follows that an opportunity will present itself with the advent of the sophomore cotillion, the junior prom, the Pan-Hellenic dance, and the senior hop. No dance committee is in a position to disregard the popularity which a contest of this nature would surely bring forth. On the other hand, they would not be doing anything distinctly original if they came out with the announcement that a prize of, say $20 or $25 would be given to the undergraduate who submitted the best original foxtrot, waltz, or one-step to be played at the big formals. Other party committees of other universities have done the same thing before with distinct success. Boy, page the dance committees. We're after Irving Berlins.

HOW ABOUT PARSIFAL?

The communication in yesterday morning's Daily Iowan about "Parsifal" and Dr. Van Doren's temerity in putting a "Parsifal" number on his band concert program seems to call for a word of protest. Possibly the writer was joking and wrote his article in order to advertise the concert. To the unsophisticated reader, the article sounds as if the writer may have gone to Bayreuth pitifully unprepared and have come away from hearing "Parsifal" with the sense of the "blooming buzz of confusion" that his article betrays. It is a not infrequent experience after the first hearing of so complex a drama as "Parsifal"—particularly if one fails to enter into the composers point of view. That the writer did fail to enter into Wagner's point of view, his article abundantly shows.

It is not necessary, however, to discuss Wagner's treatment of the entire drama in order to enjoy Dr. Van Doren's "Parsifal" march. Schaufler in his "Fiddler's Luck" paper in the Atlantic, describes his artistic joy when he was bedridden in a hospital in France, at hearing some other patient whistle some of the "Parsifal" music. That mere trifle was enough to establish a bond of musical understanding between them.

Many of us feel that we are all to be congratulated on being given this opportunity to enjoy some of this music at the forthcoming concert.

PLANS FOR 1921
SUMMER SESSION ARE ANNOUNCED

The summer session of the University will begin June 13, according to a bulletin just issued. The first session will close July 23 and the second will continue from July 25 to August 26.

Nearly all the departments of the colleges of liberal arts, education, and the graduate college, together with special courses in engineering and medicine will be represented in the summer session. Work in the schools of commerce, nursing, public health music, as well as the Iowa child welfare research station, Iowa Lakeside laboratory at Lake Okoboji and the school of library training are also included. All courses are of standard grade, and completed work receives proportionate college credit in the same way as during the rest of the year.

Beginning with the summer session of 1921, the University will devote itself specifically to progressive teachers who spend their summers in productive work. Special courses will be offered in cycles so that the student may continue his work for successive years. A series of departmental courses will also be offered in the methods of college teaching, and a new course will be given in the technical pedagogy of this line of work.

Ten days of the session will be devoted to a special conference for religious workers and there will also be a three day conference for librarians.

By special permission of the faculty, students who have attended the summer session and are regular matriculants of the University may continue their work at home under "Projected Registration."

CHARLES F. GLASSGOW
ELECTED PRESIDENT OF COMMERCE CLUB

The Commerce club at its regular meeting Wednesday night elected Charles F. Glasgow A4 of Shenandoah for president to succeed Clarence W. Greibling A4 of Newton who will be graduated from the University at the end of the semester.

Following the election, C. B. Hudson of Omaha, representative of the Western Union telegraph company in Iowa and Nebraska, addressed the club. Although his subject was announced as "Selling Telegraph Service," he dwelt largely in his speech upon manufacturing time. He illustrated this idea by showing that the university student is really engaged in manufacturing time, using as machinery the books and teaching in all branches of learning that have been gathered through many centuries.

Mr. Hudson termed the present economic condition as a high point of saturation but predicted a great relief in the situation within the next four or five months. He emphasized, however the great need of the present for manufacturing time because of the great building programs and trade programs which must be permitted in order to give this relief. The elimination of dead time by labor saving devices, he urged, is the great present need and he discussed this with its relation to the telegraph and its interests for university students.

January 31 has been set as the dead line for all pictures for the 1922 Hawkeye, according to an announcement made yesterday afternoon by A. Carlton Ernstone A3 of Nebraska City, Nebr., editor-in-chief of the Hawkeye. All pictures of sororities, clubs, literary societies, committees, and class groups must be taken by that time if they are to go in the Hawkeye, Ernstone said.

Work on the annual is progressing rapidly, and the book will be out on time, May 2, without fail, according to Ernstone. The Junior section has been completed and the pictures sent to the engravers. The entire section on colleges has also been finished, and the athletic and fraternity sections are nearly done. All fraternities have had their pictures taken and most of the cuts have been delivered to the Hawkeye editors.

The Iowa Girls will be chosen within the next two weeks, and the same system will be followed as last year, according to Paul W. Penningroth A3 of Tipton, in charge of that section. A number of faculty members have been asked to submit lists of University women who they consider to be representative of the student body, and from these names the Iowa Girls will be selected. The names of those selected will not be announced until the book comes out.

The second sales campaign for the Hawkeye will be conducted soon after the opening of the second semester, according to Dwight G. Rider L1 of Waterloo, business manager of the annual. "No extra books will be printed this year because of the unfavorable prices for printing and engraving," said Rider, "and it will be necessary for everyone desiring a Hawkeye to subscribe."
